Dear Fellow Shareholders,

After a robust start to 2003, the stock market quickly gave in to the continuing pressures that plagued it throughout 2002. A weak economy, rising oil prices and concerns about corporate earnings combined with uncertainties about the war in Iraq to produce volatility. Once the war began in mid-March, it dominated investors' thinking, and the financial markets moved largely based on war-related emotions. The result was a sideways market that produced slight losses for two of the major indexes in the first three months of 2003. The Dow Jones Industrial Average returned -3.57%, the Standard & Poor's 500 Index returned -3.15% and the Nasdaq Composite Index was relatively flat, at 0.42%. Bonds advanced in the same period as investors sought safety.

The market's results in the first quarter of 2003 seem fairly tame after the jarring losses of the last three years, in which stock mutual funds lost ground every year as the economy stalled, corporate spending and profits were lackluster and investor confidence plunged amid corporate scandals. Bonds, on the other hand, have continued to outperform stocks and produced positive results in 2002, while 96% of U.S. diversified stock mutual funds lost money.

Edgar Filing: HANCOCK JOHN PATRIOT PREMIUM DIVIDEND FUND I - Form N-30D

These results only confirm the importance of having a portfolio well diversified among stocks, bonds and cash.

In fact, the disparity between stock and bond results over the last three years means that many investors' portfolios may have shifted substantially in their mix between stocks and bonds. We recommend working with your investment professional to rebalance your assets according to your long-term goals.

After three down years, no one can predict when the bear market cycle will turn. Currently, uncertainties abound, with ongoing concerns about the economy, corporate profits and geopolitical issues.

While all these factors are beyond our control, investors can take charge of how they maneuver through the inevitable bull and bear market cycles. We've said it before, but it bears repeating: the key is to keep a long-term perspective and work with your investment professional to develop and maintain a properly diversified portfolio. We believe this offers the best protection in the tough times and the best means to reach your long-term goals.

Sincerely,

/s/Maureen R. Ford

Over the last six months

- o Preferred stocks performed relatively well as interest rates fell.
- o The Fund benefited from its oil- and natural gas-related holdings.
- o Utility common stocks stumbled early, but showed strength in spring 2003.

Dividend Fund I

MANAGERS' REPORT

Preferred stocks -- which make up the bulk of John Hancock Patriot Premium Dividend Fund I -- performed reasonably well during the six months ended March 31, 2003. Falling interest rates, punctuated by a surprise half-percentage-point rate cut by the Federal Reserve Board in November 2002, provided some of the fuel powering preferred stocks' gains. Because preferreds pay dividends at a fixed rate, like the interest on a bond, preferred stocks tend to rally when interest rates drop, just as bonds do. Another factor that helped was stronger demand from income-seeking investors looking for significantly higher yields than what companies paid on their bonds and common stocks. Many preferred stocks continued to yield between 7% and 9%, outstripping by a fairly wide margin the yields available on Treasury and corporate bonds, as well as the dividends paid on common stocks. Demand also strengthened in response to President Bush's proposed dividend tax-cut package, which is designed to eliminate taxes that individuals pay on most stock dividends. Even though the proposal had not been approved by Congress by the end of March 2003, the anticipation that at least some form of dividend tax relief ultimately would be adopted was enough for investors to bid preferred stock prices higher. And even though the types of preferred stocks that are the Fund's focus -- those that pay dividends in pretax dollars -- won't benefit from tax relief, their prices tended to be lifted by the development as well.

"Preferred stocks...performed reasonably well during the six months ended March 31, 2003."

Utility common stocks -- the Fund's other primary area of emphasis -- were still mired in the remnants of the Enron debacle when the period began and their performance was quite disappointing. But conditions began to improve in early 2003, and by mid-February, utility stocks staged a heartening rally through the end of the period. Some of the improvement was due to investors' recognition that the sector had become undervalued relative to the market as a whole and relative to its historic value. Also aiding the group was the dividend tax-relief proposal. Through the years, utilities have offered consistently high dividends and are poised to benefit if tax relief is enacted. Finally, the utility companies did their part to boost confidence. They began to face reality, cleaning up their balance sheets and ridding themselves of the types of unregulated subsidiaries --such as energy trading -- that caused them the most pain in the post-Enron environment.

FUND PERFORMANCE

For the six months ended March 31, 2003, John Hancock Patriot Premium Dividend Fund I returned -0.07% at net asset value. By comparison, the average income and preferred stock closed end fund returned 4.70%, according to Lipper, Inc. The Fund's relative underperformance stemmed from its relatively large weighting in utility common stocks. The Dow Jones Utility Average, which tracks the performance of 15 electric and natural gas utilities, returned -0.81%. Even though our stake in utility common stocks didn't reward us as we had hoped during the period, we continued to maintain it based on our view that the sector is undervalued and that over the longer term the group is poised to outperform once more investors recognize its value.

"...the run-up in oil prices... helped boost our preferred-stock holdings whose issuers are involved in the production and distribution of oil and natural gas."

LEADERS AND LAGGARDS

The run-up in oil prices -- which also helped pump up natural gas prices -- helped boost our preferred-stock holdings whose issuers are involved in the production and distribution of oil and natural gas. Energy prices climbed steadily in response to concerns about disrupted oil supplies stemming from the oil strike in Venezuela, the escalation of tensions in the Middle East and, ultimately, the U.S. war on Iraq. Some standout holdings included Anadarko Petroleum and Devon Energy.

Despite the utility common stock sector's overall disappointing returns for the period, we did benefit from our continued emphasis on companies that transmit and distribute electricity located in states with favorable regulatory environments, and from our avoidance of companies with large energy trading operations. Two good examples were NSTAR and CH Energy, both of which outperformed the overall utility group during the period.

Our single biggest disappointment during the period was El Paso Tennessee Pipeline. That stock came under pressure when a judge ruled that the company had manipulated pipeline capacity during the 2001 California power crisis. In late March, the company settled those allegations out of court. In our view, this was a positive, albeit costly, development because it allows the company to put some lingering problems behind it and move ahead with its business plan. We also like the fact that the company has made a series of other positive moves, including sales of assets and securing bank financings.

OUTLOOK

Our outlook calls for continued lackluster economic growth, which we believe will preclude the need for interest-rate hikes for the foreseeable future. Low interest rates should continue to prompt strong demand for preferred stocks. If some form of dividend tax relief is enacted by Congress, that, too, could help preferreds. As for utility common stocks, we're encouraged that many companies spent the last year reducing debt, which could foster more stable rating-agency outlooks and, potentially, a continued rebound in their stock prices. Furthermore, utility common stocks remain attractively valued relative to the stock market overall. And given the colder-than-normal winter, we would expect utilities' year-over-year earnings comparisons to improve. Further positives for the group include the potential enactment of dividend tax relief and the possible elimination of an anachronistic law limiting utility mergers.

"Low interest rates should continue to prompt strong demand for preferred stocks."

This commentary reflects the views of the portfolio management team through the end of the Fund's period discussed in this report. Of course, the team's views are subject to change as market and other conditions warrant.

Valuation of investments

Edgar Filing: HANCOCK JOHN PATRIOT PREMIUM DIVIDEND FUND I - Form N-30D

Securities in the Fund's portfolio are valued on the basis of market quotations, valuations provided by independent pricing services or at fair value as determined in good faith in accordance with procedures approved by the Trustees. Short-term debt investments maturing within 60 days are valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value. The Fund determines the net asset value of the common shares each business day.

Investment transactions

Investment transactions are recorded as of the date of purchase, sale or maturity. Net realized gains and losses on sales of investments are determined on the identified cost basis.

Expenses

The majority of the expenses are directly identifiable to an individual fund. Expenses that are not readily identifiable to a specific fund will be allocated in such a manner as deemed equitable, taking into consideration, among other things, the nature and type of expense and the relative sizes of the funds.

Federal income taxes

The Fund qualifies as a "regulated investment company" by complying with the applicable provisions of the Internal Revenue Code and will not be subject to federal income tax on taxable income that is distributed to shareholders. Therefore, no federal income tax provision is required. For federal income tax purposes, the Fund has $188,602 of a capital loss carry-forward available, to the extent provided by regulations, to offset future net realized capital gains. To the extent that such carryforward is used by the Fund, no capital gain distributions will be made. The entire amount of loss carryforward expires September 30, 2010.

NOTES TO STATEMENTS

Unaudited

Dividends, interest and distributions

Dividend income on investment securities is recorded on the ex-dividend date or, in the case of some foreign securities, on the date thereafter when the Fund identifies the dividend. Interest income on investment securities is recorded on the accrual basis. Foreign income may be subject to foreign withholding taxes, which are accrued as applicable.

The Fund records distributions to shareholders from net investment income and realized gains on the ex-dividend date. Such distributions, on a tax basis, are determined in conformity with income tax regulations, which may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Distributions in excess of tax basis earnings and profits, if any, are reported in the Fund's financial statements as a return of capital.

Use of estimates

The preparation of these financial statements, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, incorporates estimates made by management in determining the reported amount of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses of the Fund. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

NOTE B

Management fee and transactions with affiliates and others

The Fund has an investment management contract with John Hancock Advisers, LLC (the "Adviser"), a wholly owned subsidiary of The Berkeley Financial Group, LLC. Under the investment management contract, the Fund pays a monthly management fee to the Adviser at an annual rate of 0.50% of the Fund's average weekly net assets and the value attributable to the DARTS, plus 5.00% of the Fund's weekly gross income. The Adviser's total fee is limited to a maximum amount equal to 1.00% annually of the Fund's average weekly net assets and the value attributable to the DARTS. For the period ended March 31, 2003, the advisory fee incurred did not exceed the maximum advisory fee allowed.

The Fund has an administrative agreement with the Adviser under which the Adviser oversees the custodial, auditing, valuation, accounting, legal, stock transfer and dividend disbursing services and maintains Fund communications with the shareholders. The Fund pays the Adviser a monthly administration fee at an annual rate of approximately 0.10% of the Fund's average weekly net assets plus the value attributable to the DARTS.

Ms. Maureen R. Ford and Mr. John M. DeCiccio are directors and/or officers of the Adviser and/or its affiliates, as well as Trustees of the Fund. The compensation of unaffiliated Trustees is borne by the Fund. The unaffiliated Trustees may elect to defer for tax purposes their receipt of this compensation under the John Hancock Group of Funds Deferred Compensation Plan. The Fund makes investments into other John Hancock funds, as applicable, to cover its liability for the deferred compensation. Investments to cover the Fund's deferred compensation liability are recorded on the Fund's books as an other asset. The deferred compensation liability and the related other asset are always equal and are marked to market on a periodic basis to reflect any income earned by the investment as well as any unrealized gains or losses. The Deferred Compensation Plan investments had no impact on the operations of the Fund.

(1) Semiannual period from 10-01-02 through 3-31-03. Unaudited.

Dutch Auction Rate Transferable Securities preferred shares Series A

The Fund issued 685 shares of Dutch Auction Rate Transferable Securities preferred shares Series A ("DARTS") in a public offering. The underwriting discount was recorded as a reduction of the capital of common shares.

Dividends on the DARTS, which accrue daily, are cumulative at a rate that was established at the offering of the DARTS and has been reset every 49 days thereafter by an auction. Dividend rates on DARTS ranged from 1.19% to 1.86% during the period ended March 31, 2003. Accrued dividends on DARTS are included in the value of DARTS on the Fund's statement of assets and liabilities.

The DARTS are redeemable at the option of the Fund, at a redemption price equal to $100,000 per share, plus accumulated and unpaid dividends on any dividend payment date. The DARTS are also subject to mandatory redemption at a redemption price equal to $100,000 per share, plus accumulated and unpaid dividends, if the Fund is in default on its asset coverage requirements with respect to the DARTS, as defined in the Fund's by-laws. If the dividends on the DARTS shall remain unpaid in an amount equal to two full years' dividends, the holders of the DARTS, as a class, have the right to elect a majority of the Board of Trustees. In general, the holders of the DARTS and the common shareholders have equal voting rights of one vote per share, except that the holders of the DARTS, as a class, vote to elect two members of the Board of Trustees, and separate class votes are required on certain matters that affect the respective interests of the DARTS and common shareholders.

NOTE D

Investment transactions

Purchases and proceeds from sales of securities, other than short-term securities and obligations of the U.S. government, during the period ended March 31, 2003, aggregated $5,306,081 and $5,721,594, respectively.

The cost of investments owned on March 31, 2003, including short-term investments, for federal income tax purposes was $212,562,743. Gross unrealized appreciation and depreciation of investments aggregated $9,106,662 and $33,191,359, respectively, resulting in net unrealized depreciation of $24,084,697. The difference between book basis and tax basis net unrealized depreciation of investments is attributable primarily to the tax deferral of losses on wash sales.

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND POLICY

The Fund's investment objective is to provide a high current income, consistent with modest growth of capital, for holders of its common shares of beneficial interest. The Fund will pursue its objective by investing in a diversified portfolio of dividend-paying preferred and common stocks.

The Fund's nonfundamental investment policy, with respect to the quality of ratings of its portfolio investments, was changed by a vote of the Fund's Trustees on September 13, 1994. The new policy, which became effective October 15, 1994, stipulates that preferred stocks and debt obligations in which the Fund will invest will be rated investment grade (at least "BBB" by S&P or "Baa" by Moody's) at the time of investment or will be preferred stocks of issuers of investment-grade senior debt, some of which may have speculative characteristics, or, if not rated, will be of comparable quality as determined by the Adviser. The Fund will invest in common stocks of issuers whose senior debt is rated investment grade or, in the case of issuers that have no rated senior debt outstanding, whose senior debt is considered by the Adviser to be of comparable quality. The new policy supersedes the requirement that at least 80% of the Fund's total assets consist of preferred stocks and debt obligations rated "A" or higher and dividend-paying common stocks whose issuers have senior debt rated "A" or higher.

On November 20, 2001, the Fund's Trustees approved the following investment policy investment restriction change, which became effective December 15, 2001. Under normal circumstances the Fund will invest at least 80% of its assets in dividend-paying securities. The "Assets" are defined as net assets including the liquidation preference amount of the DARTS plus borrowings for investment purposes. The Fund will notify shareholders at least 60 days prior to any change in this 80% investment policy.

In November 2002, the Board of Trustees adopted several amendments to the Fund's by-laws, including provisions relating to the calling of a special meeting and requiring advance notice of shareholder proposals or nominees for Trustee. The advance notice provisions in the by-laws require shareholders to notify the Fund in writing of any proposal that they intend to present at an annual meeting of shareholders, including any nominations for Trustee, between 90 and 120 days prior to the first anniversary of the mailing date of the notice from the prior year's annual meeting of shareholders. The notification must be in the form prescribed by the by-laws. The advance notice provisions provide the Fund and its Trustees with the opportunity to thoughtfully consider and address the matters proposed before the Fund prepares and mails its proxy statement to shareholders. Other amendments set forth the procedures that must be followed in order for a shareholder to call a special meeting of shareholders. Please contact the Secretary of the Fund for additional information about the advance notice requirements or the other amendments to the by-laws.

DIVIDEND REINVESTMENT PLAN

The Fund offers its shareholders a Dividend Reinvestment Plan (the "Plan"), which offers the opportunity to earn compounded yields. Each holder of common shares will automatically have all distributions of dividends and capital gains reinvested by Mellon Investor Services, as Plan agent for the common shareholders (the "Plan Agent"), unless an election is made to receive cash. Holders of common shares who elect not to participate in the Plan will receive all distributions in cash, paid by check mailed directly to the shareholder of record (or if the common shares are held in street or other nominee name, then to the nominee) by the Plan Agent, as dividend disbursing agent. Shareholders whose shares are held in the name of a broker or a nominee should contact the broker or nominee to determine whether and how they may participate in the Plan.

If the Fund declares a dividend payable either in common shares or in cash, nonparticipants will receive cash and participants in the Plan will receive the equivalent in common shares. If the market price of the common shares on the payment date of the dividend is equal to or exceeds their net asset value as determined on the payment date, participants will be issued common shares (out of authorized but unissued shares) at a value equal to the higher of net asset value or 95% of the market price. If the net asset value exceeds the market price of the common shares at such time, or if the Board of Trustees declares a dividend payable only in cash, the Plan Agent will, as agent for Plan participants, buy shares in the open market, on the New York Stock Exchange or elsewhere, for the participants' accounts. Such purchases will be made promptly after the payable date for such dividend and, in any event, prior to the next ex-dividend date after such date, except where necessary to comply with federal securities laws. If, before the Plan Agent has completed its purchases, the market price exceeds the net asset value of the common shares, the average per share purchase price paid by the Plan Agent may exceed the net asset value of the common shares, resulting in the acquisition of fewer shares than if the dividend had been paid in shares issued by the Fund.

Each participant will pay a pro rata share of brokerage commissions incurred with respect to the Plan Agent's open market purchases in connection with the reinvestment of dividends and distributions. In each case, the cost per share of the shares purchased for each participant's account will be the average cost, including brokerage commissions, of any shares purchased on the open market plus the cost of any shares issued by the Fund. There will be no brokerage charges with respect to common shares issued directly by the Fund. There are no other charges to participants for reinvesting dividends or capital gain distributions.

Participants in the Plan may withdraw from the Plan at any time by contacting the Plan Agent by telephone, in writing or by visiting the Plan Agent's Web site at www.melloninvestor.com. Such withdrawal will be effective immediately if received prior to a dividend record date; otherwise, it will be effective for all subsequent dividend record dates. When a participant withdraws from the Plan or upon termination of the Plan, as provided below, certificates for whole common shares credited to his or her account under the Plan will be issued and a cash payment will be made for any fraction of a share credited to such account.

The Plan Agent maintains each shareholder's account in the Plan and furnishes monthly written confirmations of all transactions in the accounts, including information needed by the shareholders for personal and tax records. The Plan Agent will hold common shares in the account of each Plan participant in non-certificated form in the name of the participant. Proxy material relating to the shareholders' meetings of the Fund will include those shares purchased as well as shares held pursuant to the Plan.

The reinvestment of dividends and distributions will not relieve participants of any federal income tax that may be payable or required to be withheld on such dividends or distributions. Participants under the Plan will receive tax information annually. The amount of dividend to be reported on 1099-DIV should be (1) in the case of shares issued by the Fund, the fair market value of such shares on the dividend payment date and (2) in the case of shares purchased by the Plan Agent in the open market, the amount of cash used by the Plan Agent to purchase shares in the open market, including the amount of cash allocated to brokerage commissions paid on such purchases.

Experience under the Plan may indicate that changes are desirable. Accordingly, the Fund reserves the right to amend or terminate the Plan as applied to any dividend or distribution paid subsequent to written notice of the change sent to all shareholders of the Fund at least 90 days before the record date for the dividend or distribution. The Plan may be amended or terminated by the Plan Agent after at least 90 days' written notice to all shareholders of the Fund. All correspondence or additional information concerning the Plan should be directed to the Plan Agent, Mellon Bank, N.A., c/o Mellon Investor Services, P.O. Box 3338, South Hackensack, NJ 07606-1938 (telephone 1-800-852-0218).
