Item 2. Acquisition or Disposition of Assets

On May 24, 2004, ADC Telecommunications, Inc. (ADC) entered into an agreement to sell the business related to its Cuda cable modem termination system and FastFlow® Broadband Provisioning Manager software (the Cuda Business) to BigBand Networks (BigBand). On June 29, 2004, the transaction closed. Under the terms of the divestiture agreement, attached hereto as Exhibit 2.1, in connection with the closing, BigBand acquired certain assets and liabilities of the Cuda Business. In addition, ADC extended a $12.0 million line of credit to BigBand. As of June 29, 2004, $7.0 million was drawn on the line of credit. Approximately 190 Cuda Business employees transferred to BigBand. As consideration for the divestiture, ADC acquired a minority interest in BigBand valued at zero.

ADC's Cuda Business includes the Cuda 12000 and 3000 offerings of next-generation IP access switches with integrated CMTS and routing capabilities. The Cuda Business also includes the FastFlow Broadband Provisioning Manager, a carrier-class provisioning solution that automates the configuration and activation of DOCSIS/EuroDOCSIS® Cable Modems, PacketCable/EuroPacketCable, Multimedia Terminal Adapters, and CableHome Residential Gateways for the delivery of advanced cable-based services such as tiered high-speed data, voice, video, and gaming.

Prior to the completion of the sale, no known material relationship existed between ADC and BigBand, or any of BigBand's affiliates, directors or officers, or any associate of such directors or officers.
