ITEM 1 - FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Board of Directors

Force Protection, Inc. and Subsidiary

We have reviewed the accompanying consolidated balance sheet of Force Protection, Inc., and Subsidiary as of September 30, 2005, and the related consolidated statement of operations for the three month and nine month periods ended September 30, 2005 and consolidated statement of cash flows for the nine month period ended September 30, 2005. These financial statements are the responsibility of the company's management.

We conducted our review in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). A review of interim financial information consists principally of applying analytical procedures and making inquiries of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters. It is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States), the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Based on our review, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying interim financial statements referred to above for them to be in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in Note 18, conditions exist which raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

We have previously audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States), the balance sheet as of December 31, 2004, and the related statements of operations, stockholders' equity and cash flows for the period January 1, 2004 to December 31, 2004 (not presented herein). In our report dated March 18, 2005, we expressed an unqualified opinion on those financial statements. In our opinion, the information set forth in the accompanying balance sheet as of September 30, 2005 is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the balance sheet from which it has been derived.

The Company only recognizes revenue from the sales of our vehicles to our US Government customers upon formal acceptance by the customer, however the Company does receive performance based payments in accordance with agreed milestones under our government contracts. The Company records such performance based payments as deferred revenue and carries them on our balance sheet until formal acceptance by the customer. As of September 30, 2005, the Company had $1,533,264 as deferred revenue resulting from three contracts, one from the U.S. Army for our Buffalo vehicle, one from the U.S. Marine Corps for our Cougar (HEV) vehicles and one from a joint Department of Defense contract for our Cougar (JERRV) vehicles.

NOTE 13 - DEBT

As of September 30, 2005, the Company had $3,145,084 total long-term debt, which includes long-term payables with no effective or stated interest or maturity dates, and includes $3,000,000 outstanding balance due under the Bridge Facility with GC Financial Services, Inc.

NOTE 14 - CERTAIN RELATIONSHIPS AND RELATED TRANSACTIONS

Our Chief Executive Officer, Mr. McGilton, is a principle of APT Leadership, a consulting firm the Company has hired to provide various business consulting services and certain business software. As of September 30, 2005 APT Leadership has billed the Company $209,948 for such services and software.

NOTE 15 BUSINESS SEGMENT ANALYSIS

NOTE 16 STOCK OPTIONS

We have issued options to purchase 647,833 shares of our unregistered common stock to certain employees at a purchase price of $1.50 per share.

NOTE 17 GOVERNMENT AUDIT LIABILITY

The Company receives revenue from various federal agencies under sales contracts. Such contracts are subject to audit by the U.S. Government, which could lead to requests for reimbursement to the purchaser for expenditures not in compliance with the terms of the contract. Based on Federal Accounting Regulations (FAR) we may be subject to reductions in overall contract award pricing due to potential rate changes in manufacturing overhead, G&A, and margin. On September 9, 2005 the U.S. Army issued a unilateral modification to our Contract W909MY-05-C-0001 as part of the definitization of such contract, resulting in a contract price which was $1,300,000 less than the amount requested by the Company. The Company intends to appeal such decision.

NOTE 18 GOING CONCERN

Our financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which contemplates continuity of operations, realization of assets and liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business. The Company had recurring losses of $31,961,186 at December 31, 2004 and negative cash flows during the nine month period ending September 30, 2005 of $1,015,718. The ability of the Company to operate as a going concern depends upon its ability to obtain outside sources of working capital and/or generate positive cash flow from operations. Management is aware of these requirements and is implementing plans to secure sources of long term financing, increase sales revenues and optimize our operating margins. Notwithstanding the foregoing, there can be no assurance that the Company will be successful in obtaining such financing, that it will have sufficient funds to execute its business plan or that it will generate positive operating results. The financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability and classification of asset carrying amounts or the amount and classification of liabilities that might result should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

NOTE 19 RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT COST

Research and development (R&D) cost are expensed as incurred. During the period ending September 30, 2005 we incurred $403,923 in R&D expenses.

NOTE 20 - COMMON STOCK WARRANTS

As of September 30, 2005 the following warrants to purchase shares of the Company's common stock are outstanding:

Edgar Filing: FORCE PROTECTION INC - Form 10QSB

warrants to purchase 6,250 shares of unregistered common stock at $2.40/share expiring April 1, 2006

warrants to purchase 67,709 shares of unregistered common stock at $4.80/share expiring May 20, 2006

warrants to purchase 284,376 shares of common stock at $3.75/share expiring January 19, 2007

warrants to purchase 322,918 shares of unregistered common stock at $0.84/share expiring through November 15, 2008

warrants to purchase 2,633,333 shares of common stock at $3.75/share expiring January 19, 2008

warrants to purchase 20,000 shares of unregistered common stock at $1.20/share expiring September 23, 2008

All of the foregoing warrants are immediately exercisable. The fair value of all these warrants was insignificant at the issuance date.

ITEM 2 - MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Cautionary Statement Concerning Forward-Looking Statements

This Report contains forward-looking statements, including, without limitation, statements concerning possible or assumed future results of operations and those preceded by, followed by or that include the words believes, could, expects, intends, anticipates, or similar expressions. Our actual results could differ materially from these anticipated in the forward-looking statements for many reasons including our ability to raise capital when necessary; availability of parts and raw materials for our products; continued customer acceptance of our products; on-going success of our research and development efforts and other risks described in our annual report on Form 10-KSB filed with the SEC and elsewhere in this report. Although we believe the expectations reflected in the forward-looking statements are reasonable, they relate only to events as of the date on which the statements are made, and our future results, levels of activity, performance or achievements may not meet these expectations. We do not intend to update any of the forward-looking statements after the date of this document to conform these statements to actual results or to changes in our expectations, except as required by law.

Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The Securities and Exchange Commission, or SEC, issued Financial Reporting release No. 60, Cautionary Advice Regarding Disclosure About Critical Accounting Policies, or FRR 60, suggesting companies provide additional disclosure and commentary on their most critical accounting policies. In FRR 60, the SEC defined the most critical accounting policies as the ones that are most important to the portrayal of a company's financial condition and operating results, and require management to make its most difficult and subjective judgments, often as a result of the need to make estimates of matters that are inherently uncertain. The methods, estimates and judgments we use in applying these most critical accounting policies have a significant impact on the results we report in our financial statements.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, as well as the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

As a general rule, financial information is accounted for and based on cost, not current market value. Revenues and gains should be matched using the accrual method with the expenses giving rise to the revenues and gains to determine earnings for the period. Expenses are necessarily incurred to produce revenue. Expenses are then matched in the same accounting period against the revenue generated. Revenues are recognized when they are earned and expenses are recognized in the same period as the related revenue (matching or using a systematic and rational allocation or expensing in the period in which they expire), not necessarily in the period in which we receive or expend cash.

We believe the following critical accounting policies and procedures, among others, affect our more significant judgments and estimates used in the preparation of our consolidated financial statements:

Revenue recognition;

Inventory cost & Associated Reserves; and

Allocation of direct & indirect cost of sales.

We recognize revenue upon formal acceptance of vehicles by customers. We receive performance based payments from the U.S. Army and U.S. Marines and record such payments as deferred revenue, carrying them on our balance sheet as such until acceptance by the customer.

Edgar Filing: FORCE PROTECTION INC - Form 10QSB

In December 2004, FASB issued Statement No. 123(R), Share-Based Payment, which establishes accounting standards for transactions in which an entity receives employee services in exchange for (a) equity instruments of the entity or (b) liabilities that are based on the fair value of the entity's equity instruments or that may be settled by the issuance of equity instruments. Effective in the third quarter of 2005, SFAS 123(R) will require us to recognize the grant-date fair value of stock options and equity based compensation issued to employees in the statement of operations. The statement also requires that such transactions be accounted for using the fair-value-based method, thereby eliminating use of the intrinsic method of accounting in APB No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, which was permitted under Statement 123, as originally issued. To date, we have expensed stock based compensation on the intrinsic method. We are currently evaluating the impact of Statement No. 123 (R) on our financial condition and results of operations.

Edgar Filing: FORCE PROTECTION INC - Form 10QSB

In November 2004, the FASB issued Statement No. 151, Inventory Costs, to amend the guidance in Chapter 4, Inventory Pricing, of the FASB Accounting Research Bulletin No. 43, Restatement and Revision of Accounting Research Bulletins, which will become effective for us in fiscal year 2006. Statement No. 151 clarifies the accounting for abnormal amounts of idle facility expense, freight, handling costs, and wasted materials. The Statement requires that those items be recognized as current-period charges. Additionally, Statement No. 151 requires that allocation of fixed production overhead to the costs of conversion be based on normal capacity of the production facility. We are currently following Statement No. 151 and do not believe that Statement No. 151 will have a significant impact on our financial condition and results of operations.

Principles of Consolidation: The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Force Protection, Inc., and our two wholly owned subsidiaries, Force Protection Industries, Inc. (formerly Technical Solutions Group, Inc.) and TSG International, Inc. for the quarter ended September 30, 2005. All inter-company balances and transactions are eliminated in consolidation.

Matching Principle: As a general rule, financial information is accounted for and based on cost, not current market value. Revenues and gains should be matched using the accrual method with the expenses giving rise to the revenues and gains to determine earnings for the period. Expenses are necessarily incurred to produce revenue. Expenses are then matched in the same accounting period against the revenue generated. Revenues are recognized when they are earned and expenses are recognized in the same period as the related revenue (matching or using a systematic and rational allocation or expensing in the period in which they expire), not necessarily in the period in which we receive or expend the cash.

Cash Equivalents: For purposes of reporting cash flows, we consider all highly liquid debt instruments purchased with maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents. Cash equivalents consist primarily of United States government securities.

Inventories: Inventories are stated at the lower of cost or market. The cost is determined under the first-in, first-out, or FIFO, base valuation method.

Property, Plant and Equipment: Property and equipment are stated at cost or at the value of the operating agreement. We capitalize additions and improvements which include all material, labor and engineering cost to design, install or improve the asset. Routine repairs and maintenance are expensed as incurred. The capitalization threshold is $2,000 and a useful life greater than one year. Depreciation and amortization are computed using the straight-line method over the following estimated useful lives:

Building and improvements	20 years
Furniture and fixtures	3 years
Machinery and equipment	7 years
Tooling and molds	7 years
Vehicles	5 years

Goodwill: Under SFAS No. 142, Goodwill and other Intangible Assets, all goodwill amortization ceased effective January 1, 2002. Rather, goodwill is now subject to only impairment reviews. A fair-value based test is applied at the reporting level. This test requires various judgments and estimates. A goodwill impairment loss will be recorded for any goodwill that is determined to be impaired. We follow SFAS 142, Goodwill and Intangible Assets, which requires us to test goodwill for potential impairment annually. When the carrying value exceeds fair value, the impairment is the difference between the carrying value of goodwill and the implied value. The implied value of goodwill is the difference between the fair value for the unit as a whole and the value of individual assets and liabilities using an as-if purchase price.

Gain/Loss per Share: We utilize SFAS No. 128, Earnings per Share. Basic gain/loss per share is computed by dividing gain/loss available to common stockholders by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding. Diluted gain/loss per share is computed similar to basic gain/loss per share except that the denominator is increased to include the number of additional common shares that would have been outstanding if the potential common shares had been issued and if the additional common shares were dilutive.

Estimates: The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, as well as the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Revenue Recognition: Our revenue is derived principally from the sale of our vehicles and associated spare parts and training services. Revenue from products and services is recognized at the time goods are shipped or services are provided to the customer, with an appropriate provision for returns and allowances. We receive performance based payments based on completion of specific milestones. These payments are recorded as Deferred Revenue and recognized on the profit and loss statement upon customer acceptance of the completed vehicle. It is our policy to not recognize revenue until customer acceptance. All advance payments are treated as deferred revenue .

Dividend Policy: We have never declared or paid a cash dividend on our common stock, and we do not anticipate paying any cash dividends on our common stock in the foreseeable future. Any future determination to pay cash dividends on our common stock will be at the discretion of our board of directors and will depend upon our financial condition, operating results, capital requirements, restrictions contained in our agreements and other factors which our board of directors deems relevant. Under the terms of the Certificate of Designation for our Series D Convertible Preferred stock, we are obligated to pay a semi-annual 6% dividend in cash or shares of common stock on the outstanding shares of Series D stock.

Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Overview: Our third quarter financial results for 2005 show a net loss from operations, caused by a temporary decline in vehicle deliveries during this period. We expected this decline to occur, as we finished production of the backlog from our 2004 contracts and continue to ramp up our processes to undertake production and delivery of the new JERRV vehicles under our Contract M67854-05-D-5091 with the United States Marine Corps. During the quarter ending September 30, 2005, vehicle sales together with associated spare parts, service, and training generated gross revenue of $9,303,526, against which we incurred total costs and expenses of $14,908,737, resulting in a net loss from operations of $5,605,211. The expenses incurred during this period, which include substantial amounts for materials and parts to support the JERRV contract and expenses associated with our infra-structure build up, will help us achieve our estimated production capacity of up to two vehicles per day by early 2006.

During this three month period we also announced a new order received from the U.S. Marine Corps for the purchase of four Buffalo vehicles (with associated spares, service and training) for a total contract price of $3,852,026. We expect to deliver two of the Buffalo vehicles under such contract during 2005 and the remaining two in early 2006.

The following table sets forth our consolidated statements of operations for the three month period ended September 30 for the years 2004 and 2005. The discussion and analysis that follows should be read in conjunction with our consolidated financial statements and related notes Revenue: Revenue for the three month period ended September 30, 2005 was $9,303,526, representing an increase of $9,209,799 compared to the same period in 2004. The increase during this period was mainly due to the increased level of vehicle production we have achieved compared with last year. Our revenue is derived from the sale of our Buffalo and Cougar vehicles and the sale of spare parts and other support services, however we do not record any income until our products are formally accepted by our customers. The revenue we received during this three month period thus reflects amounts we previously carried on our balance sheet as deferred revenue pending acceptance of the final products by the U.S. Army and the U.S. Marines. During the three month period ending September 30, 2005, we received $8,168,355 from vehicle sales and $1,135,171 from the sale of spare parts and other support services. As predicted, the revenue from the sale of spare parts continues to increase, driven by the increasing number of our vehicles delivered and deployed to areas of operations. We intend to continue to develop this spare parts business as an increasingly important part of our revenue base.

Cost of Sales: Cost of sales (including vehicles and spare parts) for the three month period ended September 30, 2005 was $7,770,078 representing an increase of $7,012,619 compared to the same period in 2004. The increase during this period was mainly due to the increased level of vehicle production, and the corresponding increased cost of labor and material associated with our manufacturing activities. The cost of sales for the three month period ending September 30, 2005 was 84% of gross revenues for such month period, compared with 808% for the same period in 2004, representing an 89% decrease in our gross margin. This decrease in our gross margin is the result in part of increasing efficiency of our manufacturing operations. Cost of sales for our spare parts was 57% of gross revenues for the three month period ended September 30, 2005 compared to 57% for the same period in 2004. As we continue to expand our production capacity, we expect to achieve increased cost efficiency from volume purchasing, improvements in our manufacturing processes and the allocation of indirect costs across a broader production base, resulting in a projected decrease in the cost of sales as a percentage of gross revenues.

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses: Selling, General and Administrative expenses for the three months ended September 30, 2005 were $4,780,232 representing an increase of $2,373,330 compared to the same period in 2004. This increase included $403,923 research & development expenditures, $156,915 commission and settlement related expenses, $263,635 attributable to relocation and recruiting costs for new employees, $116,430 for employee training and $125,984 associated with the cost of maintaining our Field Service Representatives in Iraq to ensure the highest level of support for our vehicles deployed with the U.S. Marine Corps. We expect our Selling, General and Administrative expenses to increase over time as we continue to expand our production capacity to meet increasing sales demand, however we expect the percentage of our Selling, General and Administrative expenses in relation to gross revenues to decrease as we achieve greater efficiencies in our operations.

Non-recurring Warranty Expense: During the period ending September 30, 2005 the Company booked a non-recurring warranty expense of $2,012,989 for the cost of rework to certain Cougar HEV vehicles delivered under Contract M67854-04-D-5099. This rework is being undertaken to ensure the highest level of operational readiness of our Cougar HEV vehicles currently deployed in Iraq, and reflects our commitment to providing the best possible product to our customers, however such one time expense has contributed to our predicted net loss for the three month period ending September 30, 2005.

Net Gain/(Loss): Net Loss for the three months ended September 30, 2005 was $5,605,211 representing an increase of $2,368,419 as compared to the net loss of $3,236,792 incurred during the same period in 2004. This increase reflects our expected temporary decline in production and delivery levels resulting from the completion of our prior contract backlog and our continuing build-up of materials and parts needed to support the JERRV program. This increase also includes the non-recurring expense of $2,012,989 for the cost of rework to certain Cougar HEV vehicles discussed above. During this period, we continued to incur expenses associated with our infrastructure expansion but have not been in a position to fully realize revenue from new contract vehicle deliveries. As such, we do not believe that the financial results for this period are representative of our projected future results.

Backlog: On April 23, 2004 we announced a contract award to deliver Cougar Hardened Engineer Vehicles (HEV) to the United States Marine Corps, of which fourteen were initially funded under the contract. On March 8, 2005 the US Marine Corp exercised its option to increase the number of HEV vehicles by fourteen, for a total of twenty-eight vehicles. As of September 30, 2005 we have delivered a total of twenty-three HEV vehicles, and have a remaining backlog of five Cougar HEV vehicles to be delivered under this contract. On May 17, 2004 we announced the award of a contract to deliver twenty-one Buffalo vehicles to the U.S. Army and in October 2004 we were awarded a separate contract by the U.S. Army for an additional fifteen Buffalo vehicles. Initial deliveries under these contracts began during the fourth quarter of 2004, and as of September 30, 2005 we have delivered all thirty-six Buffalo vehicles, leaving no backlog under these two contracts with the US Army. As of September 30, 2005 the value of our sales backlog for the five Cougar HEV vehicles is approximately $2,000,000. During the second quarter of 2005 we announced the award of a new contract by the U.S. Marine Corps for delivery of up to one hundred twenty two Cougar Joint EOD Rapid Response Vehicles (JERRV) to be delivered during 2005 and 2006, with a total value (with associated spares parts and training) of approximately $93,000,000. As of September 30, 2005 we have delivered two JERRV vehicles and have a remaining backlog of one hundred twenty vehicles under the JERRV contract. During this three month period ending September 30, 2005 we also announced a new order from the US Marine Corps for the purchase of four Buffalo vehicles (with associated spares, service and training) for a total contract price of $3,852,026.00.

Future Results: During the upcoming three month period ending December 31, 2005 we expect to have incurred the majority of our presently anticipated infra-structure expansion costs and to achieve a substantially increased level of vehicle production capacity, resulting in increased revenues and a return to profitability for that period. Set out below is a table showing actual and projected deliveries of our vehicles during 2004 and 2005, based on our internal estimates although our actual results may vary depending upon parts and material availability, actual production schedules, production efficiencies and other contingencies discussed in this report.

Trends, Risks and Uncertainties

The results of our operations for the period ended September 30, 2005 reflect the expected temporary decline in revenues as part of the predicted growth of our Company. During 2004 we were awarded contracts by the US Army for a total of thirty six Buffalos and by the US Marines for twenty eight Cougars. We commenced production during 2004 (delivering fourteen of these vehicles) and as of September 30, 2005 we have produced and delivered all remaining Buffalos and the majority of the outstanding Cougar (HEV) vehicles. As we completed this backlog, we have also undertaken to build substantially greater production capacity to meet the expected demand for our vehicles under the JERRV contract for one hundred twenty-two Cougars (and for potential follow on orders). While the JERRV contract reflects a broader, growing demand for our vehicles, we continue to face the challenge of expanding our manufacturing capacity to fully exploit this opportunity. During the third quarter of 2005 we have moved aggressively to meet this challenge, hiring additional workforce, expanding our facilities, improving our operating systems and refining our manufacturing processes. These activities have required a significant commitment of short term resources, but we expect the long term benefits will be substantial.

We recognize there are risks associated with our on-going expansion activities. In the event we are delayed in meeting the delivery schedule under the JERRV contract, we may be obligated to pay liquidated damages for any delayed vehicle, and in the event of any substantial failure to perform, the customer could cancel the contract and/or claim additional damages. Payment of liquidated damages could negatively impact our future liquidity, and since we are incurring significant costs associated with our expansion program based on the expectation of future contract revenues, loss of the JERRV contract would have a dramatic impact on both our liquidity and our financial performance. We currently do not have reason to expect such outcome.

In the past, we have encountered some difficulties in securing the necessary components for our vehicles, for example steel, truck chassis, axle sets and ballistic glass. To mitigate this risk, we have identified multiple vendors for certain components to ensure we have alternate sources of supply if necessary. Additionally, we have implemented a program of advance purchasing and stockpiling critical materials. For example, we currently have pre-purchased steel and truck parts to ensure availability of material needed for current and potential future orders. While we do not currently expect the potential non-availability of parts or raw materials to materially affect our operations, there is a possibility that delays or increased costs could negatively impact our financial performance if circumstances change. Apart from the foregoing, the main uncertainty about our future operations is whether we will continue to receive additional orders for our vehicles. It is impossible to predict with certainty whether such future orders will be placed by existing or new customers. If we do not receive future orders, it is unlikely that our business will continue. However, we believe our vehicles provide proven blast and ballistic protection, and that for so long as there is a risk of bodily harm to service personnel from explosive blasts, there will be a market for our products.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Current Liquidity: For the nine month period ending September 30, 2005, we had a starting cash balance of $2,264,406 and an ending cash balance of $1,248,688, representing a decrease in our cash of $1,015,718. During the nine month period ended September 30, 2005, we incurred a net cash loss from operations of $9,450,901 (mostly the result of inventory purchases and operational costs associated with our internal growth), we paid down $4,000,000 in short term debt outstanding under our credit facility, and we invested $1,471,347 in equipment relating to our infrastructure expansion. To meet our cash needs during this period, we sold 15,800 shares of our Series D Convertible Preferred Stock for $15,800,000 and we exercised the balance of $445,985 remaining under our Equity Line of Credit facility originally entered into on September 20, 2003 with Dutchess Private Equities Fund. In July 2005 we entered into a secured Bridge Facility Agreement with GC Financial Services, Inc. to provide short term financing up to a maximum amount of $5,000,000 (which amount may be increased at the Lender's option to $7,000,000). As of September 30, 2005 the outstanding balance under such Facility was $3,000,000 leaving an unused balance of $2,000,000.

Future Liquidity: Our Current Assets exceed our Current Liabilities by $10,666,483 and we have $3,145,084 in long-term debt, however, we continue to be reliant on outside sources of capital and the receivables from our vehicle sales to generate continuing cash flow to meet our operating requirements. The ability to factor our U.S. Government receivables under the Purchase & Sale Agreement with GC Financial Services, Inc. allows us to receive payment within 24-48 hours of vehicle delivery and reduces the impact of the government contract payment cycle on our short term liquidity. However, we need to regularly manage our cash resources to maintain our liquidity and it is likely that we will need to secure additional sources of financing to ensure adequate cash for operations during the upcoming fourth quarter. During the period ending December 31, 2005 we expect the infra-structure expenses we have incurred in connection with our production ramp-up will begin to level off or decline and our vehicle and spare parts sales revenues to increase as we increase vehicle deliveries under the JERRV contract. As our expenses level out and our revenues increase, we expect to achieve positive cash flow by the end of the fourth quarter of 2005 or early in the first quarter of 2006.

Uncertainties: The amount of working capital that we will require depends on several factors, including without limitation, the extent and timing of sales of our products, future inventory costs, the timing and costs associated with the expansion of our manufacturing, development, engineering and customer support capabilities, the timing and cost of our product development and enhancement activities and our operating results. The realization of a major portion of the assets shown on our balance sheet is dependent upon the success of such future operations. By early 2006 we expect to be able to generate cash flows from operations sufficient to satisfy our cash requirements, but if we were unable to do so, we may need to seek alternative sources of cash. Potential sources of such cash could include leasing capital equipment, securing lines of credit, or making additional sales of our securities. If we raise funds through the sale of securities, the common stock currently outstanding could be diluted. There is a risk that such additional financing may not be available, or may not be available on acceptable terms, and the inability to obtain additional financing or generate sufficient cash from operations could require us to reduce or eliminate expenditures for capital equipment, research and development, production, or marketing of our products, or otherwise curtail or discontinue our operations, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

On October 18, 2005 our former Chief Financial Officer resigned from the Company. We have continued our search for a new Chief Financial Officer and will take the time necessary to ensure we hire a candidate qualified to meet the demands of our continued growth and expanded activities. We do not currently anticipate that the resignation of our former Chief Financial Officer will have a material impact upon our operations.

Inflation & Material Cost

We do not believe that inflation has had or is likely to have any significant impact on our revenues, and we currently are not facing any material shortages of material or parts. We currently have enough steel on hand or on order to manufacture our existing contracts, and we continue to purchase steel anticipating future requirements. If the price of steel increases significantly, the cost of our products could increase, and we may not be able to pass on this cost under our current contracts. As a result, if the cost of our raw materials increases our profitability on such current contracts, if any, could decrease.

ITEM 3 - CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

Disclosure Controls and Procedures

Our management evaluated, with the participation of our Chief Executive Officer and our Interim Chief Financial Officer, the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures as of the end of the period covered by this Quarterly Report on Form 10-QSB. Based on this evaluation, our Chief Executive Officer and our Interim Chief Financial Officer have concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures are effective to ensure that information we are required to disclose in reports that we file or submit under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (i) is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in Securities and Exchange Commission rules and forms, and (ii) is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and our Interim Chief Financial Officer, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. Our disclosure controls and procedures are designed to provide reasonable assurance that such information is accumulated and communicated to our management. Our disclosure controls and procedures include components of our internal control over financial reporting. Management's assessment of the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting is expressed at the level of reasonable assurance that the control system, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that the control system's objectives will be met.

Changes in Internal Controls over Financial Reporting

There were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting that occurred during our last fiscal quarter that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

NOTE REGARDING OUR AUDITORS

During 2004, the accounting firm of Jaspers and Hall, PC purchased the assets of Michael Johnson and Company, LLC - our former independent auditors. To maintain continuity in the audit procedure, we chose to use the services of Jaspers and Hall after such purchase, as the preceding company was familiar with our financial records. Our Board of Directors has confirmed the withdrawal of Michael Johnson & Co., LLC as our principal accountants and has ratified the appointment of Messrs Jaspers + Hall, PC to serve as our independent public accountants for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2005.

There have been no disagreements with Michael Johnson & Co. on any matter of accounting principles or practices, financial statement disclosure, or auditing scope or procedure which, if not resolved to Michael Johnson & Co.'s satisfaction, would have caused them to make reference to the subject matter of such disagreements in connection with their report on our consolidated financial statements for such year. Michael Johnson & Co.'s report on our consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2004 did not contain an adverse opinion or disclaimer of opinion, or was modified as to uncertainty, audit scope or accounting principles, however, they were modified to include an explanatory paragraph wherein they expressed substantial doubt about our ability to continue as a going concern.

Edgar Filing: FORCE PROTECTION INC - Form 10QSB

During the year ended December 31, 2004 and through the date hereof, we did not consult with Jaspers + Hall, PC with respect to the application of accounting principles to a specified transaction, either completed or proposed, or the type of audit opinion that might be rendered on our financial statements.
