Nokia financial reporting structure and historical results information

After receiving shareholder approval of the pending sale of substantially all of its Devices & Services business at our Extraordinary General Meeting in November last year, Nokia is reporting substantially all of its Devices & Services business as discontinued operations in its fourth quarter 2013 and full year 2013 results report.

Edgar Filing: NOKIA CORP - Form 6-K

Nokia currently has three continuing businesses: Nokia Solutions & Networks (NSN), HERE and Advanced Technologies. Reflecting this composition, Nokia will publish financial information for all three businesses in next week's report. Specifically, Nokia will report financial information for a total of four reportable segments - Mobile Broadband and Global Services within NSN, HERE, and Advanced Technologies and, additionally, separate information for Discontinued Operations.

In advance of January 23, 2014, Nokia plans to publish a stock exchange release which contains, for comparability purposes, certain historical results (on an unaudited basis) reflecting the new reporting structure. We intend to provide this information at least 24 hours before the results announcement. We intend to provide quarterly information for the fourth quarter 2012 through the third quarter 2013, as well as annual information for the full year 2012.

As previously announced, as a result of the debt securities NSN issued in March 2013, NSN is committed to making certain financial data publicly available through its standalone reporting format as long as the notes are outstanding. In line with this obligation, the NSN standalone report will be made publicly available for the first, second and third quarter of the fiscal year within 60 days following the end of respective quarter and for the full year within 120 days after the end of the fiscal year. Therefore, no NSN standalone interim report will be published with respect to the fourth quarter 2013.
