Item 2. Acquisition or Disposition of Assets

As reported on Form 8-K dated April 13, 2001, filed April 27, 2001, Group Long Distance, Inc. ("the Company") and Quentra Networks, Inc., as debtor in possession ("Quentra") entered into a Stock Purchase agreement dated February 20, 2001, and approved by the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Central District of California on March 8, 2001. Pursuant to the Stock Purchase Agreement, the Company acquired all the outstanding common stock of HomeAccess Microweb, Inc. ("HomeAccess") in exchange for (i) cash in the amount of $100,000 and (ii) 200,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock. In addition, on April 13, 2001 the Company acquired 80% of the outstanding common stock of HA Technology, Inc ("HAT") in exchange for 7,800,000 shares of Common Stock. Simultaneously with the acquisition of the 80% of HAT, the Company agreed to acquire the remaining 20% of HAT in exchange for 2,200,000 shares of Common Stock. The acquisition of the remaining 20% of HAT was subject to certain conditions.

Edgar Filing: GROUP LONG DISTANCE INC - Form 8-K/A

On July 20, 2001 the Company acquired the remaining 20% of HAT in exchange for 2,200,000 shares of Common Stock.

This Form 8-K/A includes the financial statements and pro forma financial information required by Items 7(a) and 7(b) to Form 8-K.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

Edgar Filing: GROUP LONG DISTANCE INC - Form 8-K/A

To the Board of Directors and Shareholder
HomeAccess MicroWeb, Inc.

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of HomeAccess MicroWeb, Inc. as of December 31, 2000 and 1999, and the related statements of operations, shareholder's equity, and cash flows for the year ended December 31, 2000, and for the period from January 19, 1999 (inception) to December 31, 1999. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of HomeAccess MicroWeb, Inc. as of December 31, 2000 and 1999, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year ended December 31, 2000, and for the period from January 19, 1999 (inception) to December 31, 1999 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. The Company has an accumulated deficit of $12,842,759 at December 31, 2000 and has been dependent on revenues generated from affiliates to fund its operations to date. In addition, future revenue and profitability are dependent upon the success in marketing HomeAccess Technology. These factors, among other as discussed in Note 2 to the financial statements, raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plans in regard to these matters are also described in Note 2. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

NOTE 1 - BUSINESS

Nature of Business and Organization

In 1999, HomeAccess MicroWeb, Inc. (the "Company") started focusing primarily on continuing the development of certain technology known as "HomeAccess," a technology that has been in a development stage since 1995. This technology was acquired from Quantitative Data Systems, Inc.

Edgar Filing: GROUP LONG DISTANCE INC - Form 8-K/A

an affiliate through common ownership and management. HomeAccess Technology consists of code, programs, software, hardware, and other inventions relating to a system designed for use on screen telephones or other communication devices which would allow consumers to shop, pay bills, and find information online. The Company believes that once this technology is successfully marketed, it will be the source of substantially all of the Company's revenues.

During 1999, the Company was primarily engaged in the development of a software program and business method known as "DepositSaver" for an affiliate under the terms of a development, license, and technology agreement (see Note 3). This agreement was assigned to another related party in April 2000.

The Company also had engaged in software maintenance and system and network maintenance services in 2000 and 1999 for Predictive Data, Inc. and non-affiliated companies as well. Revenues from these services for the year ended December 31, 2000 and for the period from January 19, 1999 (inception) to December 31, 1999 aggregated to $122,900 and $192,900, respectively. The Company discontinued these services during the year ended December 31, 2000.

In October 2000, the Company licensed its HomeAccess Technology for all states, excluding Washington, Nevada, Oregon, and Pennsylvania, to HA Technology, Inc., a company affiliated through common management and ownership (see Note 6).

The Company, which was incorporated in the state of California on January 19, 1999 as Predictive Data, Inc., changed its name to Primary Knowledge, Inc. on February 25, 1999, and then changed its name again on June 12, 2000 to HomeAccess MicroWeb, Inc.

The Company was formed to develop the DepositSaver software program for Predictive Data, Inc. ("Predictive Data"), which is affiliated with the Company through common management. (Predictive Data was formerly known as E-Commerce Access, Inc., Predictive Data, Inc., and Insurance Masters Agency, Inc.) The Company is affiliated with Object Development Corporation ("ODC"), Primary Knowledge, Inc. ("Primary Knowledge"), and HA Technology, Inc. through common ownership and management. (Primary Knowledge was incorporated in March 2000 under the name of HomeAccess MicroWeb, Inc., but its name was changed in June 2000). On October 19, 2000, the Company was acquired by Quentra Networks, Inc. ("Quentra"), a publicly traded company.

Assignment of Assets and Liabilities

On April 30, 2000, the Company assigned certain assets and liabilities unrelated to HomeAccess Technology to Primary Knowledge for $7,500 and the assumption of certain liabilities. These assets and liabilities consisted of the following:

Edgar Filing: GROUP LONG DISTANCE INC - Form 8-K/A

- o The Development Agreement (see Note 3)
- o Any receivables, unpaid earnings, and claims, up to $600,000, and any right to future earnings on the Development Agreement
- o The Sharing Agreement (see Note 8)
- o Computer hardware and software of approximately $15,000
- o A receivable from the then President of the Company of $12,000
- o All liabilities incurred in connection with the assigned assets, including but not limited to, obligations under the Development Agreement and a payable owed to Predictive Data of $156,098
- o Any and all liability for any federal, state, or local taxes incurred by the Company through April 30, 2000
- o Other trade payables, which aggregated to approximately $6,640

Merger with Quentra

On October 5, 2000, the Company entered into an Amended and Restated Agreement and Plan of Merger (the "Merger Agreement") with Quentra, DQE Enterprises, Inc., ("DQE," a shareholder of Predictive Data), the spouse of the Company's Chairman of the Board (and also the shareholder of the Company), and the Company's Chairman of the Board. The Merger Agreement amended prior merger agreements between the parties that were entered into in May 2000 and July 2000. Under the Merger Agreement, HomeAccess became Quentra's wholly owned subsidiary on October 19, 2000 through the merger of HomeAccess Acquisition Corp., a wholly owned subsidiary of Quentra. The transaction has been accounted for on a pushdown basis, which requires the allocation of the consideration paid over the respective net assets (see Note 6).

NOTE 2 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Going Concern and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, which contemplate continuation of the Company as a going concern. However, future revenue and profitability are dependent upon the success in marketing HomeAccess Technology. In addition, revenues from software development and computer maintenance accounted for 64% and 71% of the Company's revenues during the year ended December 31, 2000 and for the period from January 19, 1999 (inception) to December 31, 1999, respectively.

HOMEACCESS MICROWEB, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
December 31, 2000

Going Concern and Basis of Presentation (Continued)

Further, the only software development agreement as of April 30, 2000 was assigned to an affiliate, for which the Company no longer performs software development or computer maintenance services. The Company's ability to remain as a going concern is dependent upon obtaining adequate financing to fulfill its marketing and developmental activities and achieving sufficient revenues from the sale of its HomeAccess Technology to adequately support its cost structure. These factors raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

Management continues to look for strategic partners and additional sources of capital to fund its operations, to which there can be no assurance that such capital will be obtained.

The financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts or amounts and classifications of liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue its existence. The recovery of the Company's assets is dependent upon continued operations of the Company.

Revenue Recognition

As described in Note 1, during 1999, the Company had a software development contract with Predictive Data, an affiliate. Revenue on the contract is recognized in accordance with Statement of Position ("SOP") 97-2, "Software Revenue Recognition," which was issued by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, and Accounting Research Bulletin No. 45, "Long-Term Construction-Type Contracts," using relevant guidance from SOP 81-1, "Accounting for Performance of Construction-Type and Certain Production-Type Contracts." Accordingly, the Company recognizes revenue on its software development agreement with Predictive Data on the percentage-of-completion method of accounting, using the achievement of certain milestones as the measurement towards progress.

Revenue from software maintenance and system and network maintenance are recognized over the period in which the services are performed.

Comprehensive Income

The Company has adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 130, "Reporting Comprehensive Income." This statement establishes standards for reporting comprehensive income and its components in a financial statement. Comprehensive income as defined includes all changes in equity (net assets) during a period from non-owner sources. Examples of items to be included in comprehensive income, which are excluded from net income, include foreign currency translation adjustments and unrealized gains and losses on available-for-sale securities. Comprehensive income is not presented in the Company's financial statements as the Company did not have any of the items of comprehensive income in any period presented.

Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the statements of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid investments purchased with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Edgar Filing: GROUP LONG DISTANCE INC - Form 8-K/A

Software Development Costs

Software development costs are capitalized in accordance with SFAS No. 86, "Accounting for the Costs of Computer Software to Be Sold, Leased, or Otherwise Marketed." Capitalization of software development costs begins upon the establishment of technological feasibility and is discontinued when the product is available for sale. The establishment of technological feasibility requires considerable judgment by management. Amortization of capitalized software development costs is provided on a product-by-product basis on the straight-line method over the estimated economic life of the products (not to exceed five years).

At December 31, 2000, the Company did not have any capitalized software costs as its HomeAccess Program, the only software program that it had any right, title, or interest in, had not yet met the criteria specified in SFAS No. 86 to require capitalization.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost. Depreciation is provided on a straight-line basis over an estimated useful life of three years.

Restricted Cash

On December 31, 2000, the Company had $204,201 of restricted cash securing 100% of a letter of credit for the purchase of screen phones.

Goodwill

Goodwill is amortized on a straight-line basis over an estimated life of five years. Goodwill at December 31, 2000 is summarized as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Description and Amount. Rows include: Goodwill recognized upon acquisition by Quentra ($ 13,755,077), Less impairment loss recognized (11,930,077), Less accumulated amortization (1,825,000), and Total ($ 1,733,750).

On October 19, 2000, the Company was acquired for the cancellation of $450,000 owed to Quentra and Quentra stock valued at $14,361,773, which resulted in goodwill of $13,755,077. Subsequently, Quentra filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy, and the Company was sold to Group Long Distance, Inc. ("GLDI") on April 12, 2001 for $1,825,000 comprised of GLDI's stock and cash. For the year ended December 31, 2000, the Company recognized an impairment loss on goodwill of $11,930,077, which was based upon the sale price of HomeAccess to GLDI that occurred in April 2001.

Uninsured Cash

The Company maintains cash balances, including its restricted cash, at two financial institutions. Accounts at these institutions are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation up to $100,000. The Company had $266,527 and $0 of uninsured cash at December 31, 2000 and 1999, respectively.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The Company measures its financial assets and liabilities in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. For certain of the Company's financial instruments, including cash, accounts receivable, and accounts payable and accrued expenses, the carrying amounts approximate fair value due to their short maturities.

HOMEACCESS MICROWEB, INC.

Income Taxes

The Company utilizes SFAS No. 109, "Accounting for Income Taxes," which requires the recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences of events that have been included in the financial statements or tax returns. Under this method, deferred income taxes are recognized for the tax consequences in future years of differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their financial reporting amounts at each year-end based on enacted tax laws and statutory tax rates applicable to the periods in which the differences are expected to affect taxable income. Valuation allowances are established, when necessary, to reduce deferred tax assets to the amount expected to be realized. The provision for income taxes represents the tax payable for the period and the change during the period in deferred tax assets and liabilities.

Concentrations

For the year ended December 31, 2000, all of the Company's revenues were from affiliates. For the period of January 19, 1999 (inception) through December 31, 1999, 71% of the Company's revenues were from affiliates.

Estimates

In preparing financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, management makes estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, as well as the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements

In December 1999, the Securities and Exchange Commission staff released Staff Accounting Bulletin ("SAB") No. 101, "Revenue Recognition in Financial Statements," to provide guidance on the recognition, presentation, and disclosure of revenue in financial statements. Changes in accounting to apply the guidance in SAB No. 101 may be accounted for as a change in accounting principle effective January 1, 2000. Management does not expect that application of SAB No. 101 will have a material effect on the Company's revenue recognition and results of operations.

In March 2000, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued FASB Interpretation No. 44, "Accounting for Certain Transactions Involving Stock Compensation," (an Interpretation of Accounting Principles Bulletin Opinion No. 25 ("APB 25")) ("FIN 44"). FIN 44 provides guidance on the application of APB 25, particularly as it relates to options. The effective date of FIN 44 is July 1, 2000, and the Company has adopted FIN 44 as of that date.

In June 2000, the FASB issued SFAS No. 138, "Accounting for Certain Instruments and Certain Hedging Activities." This statement is not applicable to the Company.

In June 2000, the FASB issued SFAS No. 139, "Rescission of FASB Statement No. 53 and Amendments to Statements No. 63, 89, and 121." This statement is not applicable to the Company.

In September 2000, the FASB issued SFAS No. 140, "Accounting for Transfers and Servicing of Financial Assets and Extinguishments of Liabilities, a replacement of FASB Statement No. 125." This statement is not applicable to the Company.

NOTE 3 - DEVELOPMENT, LICENSE, AND TECHNOLOGY AGREEMENTS WITH AFFILIATE

In January 1999, Predictive Data contracted with the Company for the purpose of developing the DepositSaver software program. In September 1999, the Company, Predictive Data, and ODC entered into a Technology Transfer Agreement and a Software Development and License Agreement (the "Development Agreement"). Under the terms of the Technology Transfer Agreement, the Company and ODC irrevocably assigned and transferred all right, title, and interest in the DepositSaver Program to Predictive Data.

The Development Agreement memorialized the parties' prior understandings in a formal agreement in connection with the development of the DepositSaver Program. Under the terms of the agreement, the Company would continue to develop the DepositSaver Program. The agreement specified a total development fee for the Company and ODC of $2,900,000, plus additional amounts at a rate of $180 per hour for services on the DepositSaver program beyond the "Statement of Work" as defined in the Development Agreement. Prior to the execution of the agreement, the Company and ODC had acknowledged payment for services on the DepositSaver program of $2,100,000.

As of December 31, 1999, the Company and ODC had recognized $738,700 and $1,681,300, respectively, on the Development Agreement. Included in the $738,700 of revenue recognized by the Company was $120,000 of charges that represented additional services that were not part of the base contract amount. Therefore, the backlog on the agreement at December 31, 1999, which is the amount of revenue that the Company expected to realize from work to be performed on the agreement, was $600,000. However, as described in Note 1, on April 30, 2000, the Company assigned any receivables, unpaid earnings, and claims, up to $600,000, and any future earnings on the Development Agreement to Primary Knowledge, an affiliated Company.

Leases

During 1999, the Company assumed 10 capital leases for computer equipment with a finance company from an unaffiliated company. The capital leases have been discounted to the present value of the future minimum lease payments at rates between 17% and 31%. The leases terminate through 2001 and require aggregate monthly payments of $2,459.

amount of $204,201 for the purposes of acquiring inventory. The trade letter of credit is secured by cash.

NOTE 6 - SHAREHOLDER'S EQUITY AND ACQUISITION BY QUENTRA

Prior to the closing of the merger with Quentra, DQE exercised a warrant to acquire 333,333 shares of convertible preferred stock for an aggregate investment of $1,750,000, including the cancellation of a promissory note issued by HomeAccess in the amount of $500,000.

In addition, prior to the merger, in October 2000, the Company licensed its HomeAccess Technology for all states, excluding Washington, Nevada, Oregon, and Pennsylvania, to HA Technology, Inc., a company affiliated through common management and ownership, for $250,000. For accounting purposes, because the Company and HA Technology were affiliated, the $250,000 for license fees was recorded as a contribution of capital.

Acquisition by Quentra

On October 19, 2000, 100% of the Company's outstanding preferred and common stock was acquired by Quentra, a publicly traded company, in exchange for the cancellation of a $450,000 debt owed to Quentra and the issuance of Quentra's common stock valued at $14,361,773 for an aggregate purchase price of $14,811,773. As part of the acquisition, 1,000 shares of a new class of common stock were authorized and issued to Quentra, which owned 100% of the Company on December 31, 2000, while existing preferred and common shares were retired. Quentra has pushed down the effects of the transaction into the financial statements of the Company. Any excess of consideration over the fair market value of the assets has been allocated to goodwill and capitalized in the accompanying financial statements.

A summary of the assets purchased and liabilities assumed by Quentra at October 19, 2000 is as follows:

Cash	$	1,458,059
Property and equipment		19,455
Goodwill		13,755,077
Other assets		32,933
Liabilities		(453,751)

Total	$	14,811,773

As discussed above, the transaction has been accounted for on the pushdown basis, and the equity accounts of the Company have been updated to reflect the investment in the Company by Quentra. In addition, the accumulated deficit has been restated to $0 as of the date of the transaction. As such, the accumulated deficit at December 31, 2000 reflects only those losses incurred since the change of control.

NOTE 7 - INCOME TAXES

In 1999, the Company had elected to be taxed under provisions of subchapter "S" of the Internal Revenue Code. Under these provisions, the Company was not liable for federal corporate income taxes on its taxable income. Instead, the sole shareholder was liable for individual income taxes of the Company's taxable income, except for minimum state taxes. However, upon merger with Quentra, a new legal corporation was formed, and the surviving corporation did not have "S" corporation status.

NOTE 8 - OTHER RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

As described in Note 1, the Company is affiliated with Predictive Data, Primary Knowledge, and ODC. Further, software development revenues from Predictive Data accounted for $738,700, or 64% of the Company's revenues for the period from January 19, 1999 (inception) to December 31, 1999.

During 2000, as described in Note 1, the Company licensed HomeAccess Technology to HA Technology, Inc. for all states excluding Washington, Nevada, Oregon, and Pennsylvania for $250,000.

During 2000, the Company provided consulting services valued at $70,000 to DQE.

During 2000 and 1999, prior to the merger with Quentra, the Company's Chairman of the Board was the spouse of the shareholder.

The Company also entered into a maintenance agreement (the "Maintenance Agreement") with Predictive Data, whereby the Company would provide Predictive Data software maintenance, system and network maintenance, and administration services for $26,000 per month. During 2000 and 1999, the Company charged Predictive Data $122,900 and $78,000, respectively, under this agreement.

As described in Note 1, in April 2000, the Company assigned certain assets and liabilities unrelated to the HomeAccess Technology to Primary Knowledge.

During 2000, the Company acquired property and equipment from a subsidiary of Quentra for $287,332.

During 2000, the Company paid to Predictive Data, Primary Knowledge, and ODC $85,115, $181,182, and $21,073, respectively, for personnel and administrative expenses. During 2000, rent expense paid to Predictive Data and Roswell Property, which is partially owned by family members of the Chief Executive Officer of the Company, totaled $32,143 and

Edgar Filing: GROUP LONG DISTANCE INC - Form 8-K/A

$10,000, respectively. On December 31, 2000, due to related parties consisted of $31,194 and $27,315 due to Predictive Data and Primary Knowledge, respectively.

During 1999, the Company paid to Predictive Data and ODC $211,472 and $5,564, respectively, for personnel and administrative expenses. During 1999, rent expense paid to Predictive Data totaled $71,846. On December 31, 1999, $4,927 was due to Predictive Data.

NOTE 8 - OTHER RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS (Continued)

During 1999, the Company and Predictive Data entered into an agreement (the "Sharing Agreement"), whereby they agreed to share certain employees, facilities, equipment, and administrative services and that these costs would be allocated to each of the companies. Under the agreement, the Company would have been charged $149,498 during 1999 in addition to the $211,472 of other expenses paid to Predictive Data. However, Predictive Data agreed not to charge the Company for costs under this Sharing Agreement. Therefore, certain overhead costs were absorbed by Predictive Data on behalf of the Company.

NOTE 9 - 401(K) AND PROFIT SHARING PLAN

The Company has a 401(k) plan for the benefit of qualified employees. Under the terms of the plan, matching contributions, if any, are at the discretion of the Company. Pension plan expense for the years ended December 31, 2000 and the period of January 19, 1999 (inception) through December 31, 1999 was $3,069 and $3,550, respectively.

NOTE 10 - SUBSEQUENT EVENT

On April 13, 2001, 100% of the outstanding shares of common stock were acquired from Quentra by GLDI in exchange for 200,000 shares of Series A preferred stock of GLDI, which is convertible into 2,000,000 shares of GLDI's common stock. GLDI's common stock price was $0.55 per share on April 13, 2001. In addition, GLDI paid $100,000 in cash and forgave a $625,000 loan granted to the Company subsequent to December 31, 2000. The spouse of the Chairman of the Board of the Company has a controlling ownership interest in GLDI.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

Board of Directors and Shareholder
HA Technology, Inc.

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet of HA Technology, Inc. (a development stage company) as of December 31, 2000, and the related statements of operations, shareholder's equity, and cash flows for the period from September 29, 2000 (inception) to December 31, 2000. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of HA Technology, Inc. as of December 31, 2000, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the period from September 29, 2000 (inception) to December 31, 2000 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. The Company is dependent on revenues generated from affiliates to fund its operations. In addition, future revenue and profitability are dependent upon obtaining financing and successfully marketing HomeAccess Technology. These factors, among others as discussed in Note 2 to the financial statements, raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plans in regard to these matters are also described in Note 2. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

HA TECHNOLOGY, INC.
(A DEVELOPMENT STAGE COMPANY)
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
December 31, 2000

NOTE 1 - ORGANIZATION AND LINE OF BUSINESS

HA Technology, Inc. (the "Company") was incorporated on September 29, 2000 in the state of Delaware. In October 2000, the Company purchased a license from HomeAccess MicroWeb, Inc., an affiliate, to market certain technology known as "HomeAccess Technology," for all states, excluding Washington, Nevada, Oregon, and Pennsylvania. The HomeAccess Technology consists of code, programs, software, hardware, and other inventions relating to a system designed for use on screen telephones or other communication devices, which would allow consumers to shop, pay bills, and find information online.

The Company is a development stage company and has not had any significant business activity to date.

NOTE 2 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, which contemplate continuation of the Company as a going concern. However, future revenue and profitability are dependent upon the success of marketing HomeAccess Technology. Furthermore, the Company will need to obtain additional financing in order to market HomeAccess Technology.

Management continues to look for strategic partners and additional sources of capital to fund its operations, to which there can be no assurance that such capital will be obtained.

Cash Equivalents

For the purpose of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid investments purchased with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

The Company reviews its long-lived assets for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Recoverability of assets to be held and used is measured by a comparison of the carrying amount of the assets to future net cash flows expected to be generated by the assets. If the assets are considered to be impaired, the impairment to be recognized is measured by the amount by which the carrying amount exceeds the fair value of the assets. To date, no such impairment has occurred.

32

HA TECHNOLOGY, INC.
(A DEVELOPMENT STAGE COMPANY)
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
December 31, 2000

Start-Up Costs

Start-up costs include legal and professional fees. In accordance with Statement of Position 98-5, "Costs of Start-Up Activities," these costs have been expensed as incurred.

Income Taxes

The Company uses the asset and liability method of accounting for income taxes. The asset and liability method accounts for deferred income taxes by applying enacted statutory rates in effect for periods in which the difference between the book value and the tax bases of assets and liabilities are scheduled to reverse. The resulting deferred tax asset or liability is adjusted to reflect changes in tax laws or rates. Because the Company's net loss for federal and state income tax purposes was comparable with its net loss of $2,000 for the period from September 29, 2000 (inception) to December 31, 2000, the Company did not have any significant deferred tax assets or liabilities at December 31, 2000, and its provision for income taxes for the period from September 29, 2000 (inception) to December 31, 2000 was $0.

Estimates

The preparation of the Company's financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires the Company's management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in these financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements

In December 1999, the Securities and Exchange Commission staff released Staff Accounting Bulletin ("SAB") No. 101, "Revenue Recognition in Financial Statements," to provide guidance on the recognition, presentation, and disclosure of revenue in financial statements. Changes in accounting to apply the guidance in SAB No. 101 may be accounted for as a change in accounting principle effective January 1, 2000. Management has not yet determined the complete impact of SAB No. 101 on the Company; however, management does not expect that application of SAB No. 101 will have a material effect on the Company's revenue recognition and results of operations.

In March 2000, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued FASB Interpretation No. 44, "Accounting for Certain Transactions Involving Stock Compensation," (an Interpretation of Accounting Principles Bulletin Opinion No. 25 ("APB 25")) ("FIN 44"). FIN 44 provides guidance on the application of APB 25, particularly as it relates to options. The effective date of FIN 44 is July 1, 2000, and the Company has adopted FIN 44 as of that date.

In June 2000, the FASB issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 138, "Accounting for Certain Instruments and Certain Hedging Activities." This statement is not applicable to the Company.

In June 2000, the FASB issued SFAS No. 139, "Rescission of FASB Statement No. 53 and Amendments to Statements No. 63, 89, and 121." This statement is not applicable to the Company.

In September 2000, the FASB issued SFAS No. 140, "Accounting for Transfers and Servicing of Financial Assets and Extinguishments of Liabilities, a replacement of FASB Statement No. 125." This statement is not applicable to the Company.

NOTE 3 - INVESTMENT IN LICENSE AGREEMENT

On October 19, 2000, the Company acquired a license for HomeAccess Technology from a related party for $250,000 (see Note 1). The Company did not amortize the cost of the license since the Company did not have any significant business activity.

NOTE 4 - SHAREHOLDER'S EQUITY

Preferred Stock

Dividends

The holders of Series A convertible preferred stock are entitled to receive quarterly dividends, out of any assets legally available, prior and in preference to, any declaration or payment of any dividend on the common stock of the Company at the rate of $1.44 per share per year. Such dividends are payable when, as, and if declared by the Board of Directors and are cumulative. As of December 31, 2000, no dividends have been declared.

Liquidation

In the event of any liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Company, either voluntary or involuntary, the holders of Series A convertible preferred stock are entitled to receive, prior and in preference to, any distribution of any assets of the Company to the holders of common stock by reason of their ownership, an amount equal to the sum of the original issuance price for each outstanding share of Series A convertible preferred stock, as adjusted for any stock dividends, combinations, or splits, plus any declared but unpaid dividends on such shares. Any remaining assets will be distributed ratably to the holders of common stock based on the number of shares held by each shareholder.

Edgar Filing: GROUP LONG DISTANCE INC - Form 8-K/A

NOTE 4 - SHAREHOLDER'S EQUITY (Continued)

Voting

The holder of each share of Series A convertible preferred stock is entitled to vote as though each share of the Series A convertible preferred stock were converted into one share of common stock.

Conversion

At the option of the holder, each share of Series A convertible preferred stock is convertible into one share of common stock. The conversion rate is adjustable so that the holder of preferred stock will acquire 40% of the outstanding common stock at the time of conversion.

Warrants

In October 2000, the Company sold 333,333 Series A convertible preferred stock purchase warrants to DQE Enterprises ("DQE") in exchange for $250,000. The warrants are exercisable at $24 per share, subject to certain adjustments. The conversion rate of the warrants is adjustable so that, upon exercise of all of the warrants, DQE will own 40% of the common stock equivalents of the Company. The warrants expire October 19, 2003.

Common Stock

At December 31, 2000, the Company had 500,000 shares of outstanding common stock that are restricted securities pursuant to the Securities and Exchange Commission's Rule 144, which significantly limits the timing and procedures of selling such stock. Each share of common stock is entitled to one vote. The holders of common stock are also entitled to receive dividends whenever funds are legally available and when declared by the Board of Directors, subject to the prior rights of holders of all classes of stock outstanding. The 333,333 shares of unissued common stock are reserved for issuance upon conversion of the Series A convertible preferred stock.

Option Agreement

Quentra Networks, Inc. ("Quentra") obtained an option to purchase all of the capital stock of the Company in exchange for 9,000,000 shares of Quentra's common stock and warrants to purchase 3,800,000 shares of Quentra's common stock at $8.64 per share. The option was to expire in April 2002. However, as described in Note 6, the option agreement was canceled subsequent to December 31, 2000.

PRO FORMA CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
UNAUDITED

The unaudited pro forma financial statements gives effect to the stock purchase by the Company of HomeAccess for $100,000 and 200,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock and the stock purchase of HAT for 7,800,000 shares of Common Stock. On July 20, 2001, the Company acquired the remaining 20% of HAT in exchange for 2,200,000 shares of Common Stock. The unaudited pro forma consolidated Balance Sheet as of January 31, 2001 and the unaudited pro forma consolidated Statement of Operations for year ended April 30, 2000 and the nine months ended January 31, 2001, give effect to the transaction discussed above as if such transaction had been consummated at January 31, 2001, or at the beginning of the period presented. The acquisition has been accounted for under the purchase method of accounting. The amounts included for HomeAccess and HAT, in the pro forma balance sheet are as of December 31, 2000. Any differences between the December 31, 2000 and a January 31, 2001 balance sheet are immaterial.

The unaudited pro forma financial statements may not necessarily be indicative of the results that would actually have been obtained had the transactions occurred on the date indicated or which may be obtained in the future. NOTES TO THE UNAUDITED PRO FORMA CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AS OF JANUARY 31, 2001 AND THE RESULTS OF OPERATIONS FOR THE YEAR ENDED APRIL 30, 2000 AND THE NINE MONTHS ENDED JANUARY 31, 2001.

- A. On April 13, 2001, the Company acquired all the outstanding common stock of HomeAccess in exchange for (i) cash in the amount of $100,000 and (ii) 200,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock. Each share of series A Preferred Stock has no par value, has a liquidation preference of $20.00 per share, does not have a dividend preference and does not pay dividends, does not have any voting rights, except as otherwise provided by law, and, commencing on April 13, 2002, is convertible into ten shares of Common Stock. The Company also agreed to convert all loans made to HomeAccess prior to closing into capital. Such loans totaled $625,000.

Simultaneously with the HomeAccess acquisition, the Company entered into an agreement to acquire 80% of the outstanding shares of common stock of HAT, an affiliate through common ownership and management, in exchange for 7,800,000 shares of Common Stock. On July 20, 2001 the Company acquired the remaining 20% of HAT in exchange for 2,200,000 shares of Common Stock.

The acquisition of HomeAccess and HAT resulted in the recognition of $6,561,314 of intangible assets when recorded on April 13, 2001. In July 2001 the Company recorded an additional $1.2 million to intangible assets to reflect the acquisition of the remaining 20% of HAT. In the pro forma January 31, 2001 balance sheet, the acquisition is recorded using an average share price for the end of January 2001. The Company is amortizing the intangible assets over five years. The pro forma adjustment is to record the acquisition and the amortization of the intangible assets as if the acquisition occurred on the first day of the periods presented.

The adjustment to income tax expense is to reflect the tax benefit of HomeAccess's operating losses. The tax adjustment is limited to the extent that the Company had taxable income.

- B. This accrual relates to expenses incurred in the acquisition of HomeAccess and HAT and comprises of legal fees, fees paid to an investment banking firm and travel and related expenditure. The investment in license agreement is eliminated, since Group Long Distance, Inc now controls both affiliated companies.
