CANADIAN SUPERIOR BELIEVES CANADA SOUTHERN PETROLEUM'S BOARD OF DIRECTORS & ADVISERS

INCAPABLE OF EVALUATING OFFERS FOR CANADA SOUTHERN

CALGARY, ALBERTA (CCNMatthews July 28, 2006) In response to Canada Southern's press release earlier today, Canadian Superior Energy Inc. (Canadian Superior) (TSX:SNG) (AMEX:SNG) of Calgary, Alberta, Canada announced today that it is of the opinion that Canada Southern Petroleum Ltd.'s (Canada Southern) (NASDAQ:CSPLF/TSX:CSW) Board of Directors and Advisers are incapable of evaluating recent bids for Canada Southern. Earlier this week, Canadian Superior extended its previous offer for Canada Southern and is in the process of amending its bid for the takeover of the Company. As announced on July 26, 2006, Canadian Superior is amending its offer for Canada Southern with a new bid that is estimated to be worth Cdn $17.10 per share (US $14.97) for Canada Southern. The revised bid is comprised of 2.0 shares of Canadian Superior, Cdn $2.50 cash and a 25% net profit interest in approximately 927 bcf of natural gas, being the estimated net amount of natural gas Canada Southern attributes to its interest in the Canadian Arctic Islands.

Canadian Oil Sands Limited's (Canadian Oil Sands) (TSX:COS.UN) is currently offering Canada Southern shareholders US $13.10 (approximately Cdn $14.81) and their bids expires 8:00 a.m. (MST) on August 1, 2006. Speaking today in Calgary, Canadian Superior Chairman, Greg Noval, said, "Based on the comments of the Chairman of Canada Southern earlier today, it is clear in Canadian Superior's opinion that the Directors and Advisers are incapable of evaluating bids for Canada Southern. The Chairman of Canada Southern said today, "That Canadian Superior's offer appears to be highly speculative, lacking in clarity, certainty and credibility and by its very nature impossible to value. It is obvious and it will certainly be obvious to Canada Southern shareholders that Canada Southern and its directors, advisers and management are incapable of evaluating their own company; let alone Canadian Superior's offer," Mr. Noval said in Calgary today.

The cash component of Canadian Superior's bid is very easy to evaluate, as is the stock price of Canadian Superior's shares, and the value Canadian Superior places on Canada Southern's Canadian Arctic assets is very conservative compared to transactions currently being consummated across North America. If Canada Southern and its advisers are incapable of evaluating our offer, Canada Southern shareholders should be very concerned and question the parameters used by Canada Southern's directors and advisers in valuing Canada Southern's and all bids for Canada Southern and the recommendations they have made to their shareholders.

Also commenting today in Calgary, Canadian Superior stated that ever since it was asked to submit a bid for Canada Southern in writing over a month ago, Canada Southern and its advisers have not even contacted Canadian Superior for any details or information regarding Canadian Superior or its bid or regarding Canadian Superior's July 26, 2006 press release extending its offer and announcing the new amended offer estimated to be Cdn $17.10 (US $14.97). Canadian Superior estimates the value of the net profit interest to be approximately Cdn $10.00 per Canada Southern share based on a value of approximately Cdn $0.65 per MCF of natural gas in place compared to the Western Canada sedimentary basin where natural gas is being sold for over Cdn $2.00 per MCF of natural gas in place. Accordingly, Canadian Superior estimates that the value of this alternate bid, which includes the 25% net profit interest and 2.0 Canadian Superior common shares and Cdn $2.50 cash, equates to approximately Cdn $17.10 per Canada Southern share (US $14.97).

If Canada Southern shareholders accepts Canadian Superior's amended revised offering which we are confident they will do, they will own approximately 20% of the combined Canadian Superior and Canada Southern entity and they will receive a cash component plus they will effectively have a royalty trust equal to 25% of Canada Southern's estimated 927 bcfe of natural gas and long term upside through its Canadian Arctic assets. The combined company will also have expanded its production base in Western Canada and the shareholders will have tremendous immediate upside including drilling opportunities slated for later this year where Canadian Superior is involved in one of the biggest natural gas plays in the world located in Trinidad and Tobago. Accordingly, both Canada Southern and Canadian Superior shareholders will benefit from the business combination of these two companies as a result of Canadian Superior's superior top offer for Canada Southern which we are confident that Canada Southern's shareholders will appreciate, Canadian Superior's Chairman, Greg Noval, said today.

Canadian Superior is a Calgary, Alberta, Canada based oil and gas exploration and production company with operations in Western Canada, offshore Trinidad and Tobago and offshore Nova Scotia.
