On January 10, 2008, Luby's, Inc. released the following open letter to its shareholders:

January 10, 2008

AN OPEN LETTER TO LUBY'S SHAREHOLDERS

We felt it was important to communicate to you in response to the recommendations by Glass Lewis & Co. and RiskMetrics ISS Governance Services unit regarding the election of directors at the Company's Annual Meeting of Shareholders on Tuesday, January 15, 2007.

These two advisory firms have failed to recognize that all of Luby's directors who are up for re-election – Dr. Judith B. Craven, Arthur R. Emerson, Frank Markantonis and Gasper Mir, III – are experienced, qualified and have relevant and critical expertise in areas that are necessary to Luby's future growth and success. Luby's Board is independent, engaged, and committed to creating long-term value for all Luby's shareholders. The independent directors have worked diligently to supervise the efforts of management in turning the Company around and developing its strategic growth plan.

We believe that Ramius nominees lack the necessary experience in the made-from-scratch, casual dining sector to contribute any useful new ideas to Luby's. In particular, we believe that these advisory firms have failed to recognize that the restaurant experience of Ramius nominees features failed strategies and poor execution at a number of restaurants. We believe that Ramius nominees will add nothing to the Luby's Board, and will act as Ramius agents to pursue its misguided plan to sell and leaseback the company's owned real estate, thereby depleting Luby's assets and disrupting future profitable growth.

While Ramius would like shareholders to believe otherwise, Chris and Harris Pappas – and all of the board and management – have delivered significant value to all Luby's shareholders. When the Pappases joined Luby's in 2001, making a substantial investment in the company, they initiated a turnaround process that saved what was then a struggling company. In the face of a challenging restaurant environment, Luby's has returned to profitability and sales growth, eliminated more than $120 million of debt and outperformed its competitors. As a result, during the past five years, Luby's shareholders have enjoyed a total return of nearly 150%, significantly outperforming the S&P 600 Restaurant Index, and the company is now poised for growth.

Despite Ramius claims, no proxy advisor has recommended that Luby's shareholders support the full Ramius slate, while leading independent proxy voting and corporate governance advisory firm Egan-Jones Proxy Services has endorsed Luby's four director slate in total. Egan-Jones recognized that Luby's has the right Board to oversee the continued execution of Luby's strategic growth plan, and recommended that Luby's shareholders vote FOR all four Luby's directors. William Hamilton, the research analyst for SMH Capital who covers Luby's and is very familiar with the company and industry, says that, "Luby's is also led by a very experienced management team that is implementing the right strategy to enhance shareholder value, in our opinion, and has the talent to execute" (12/12/07 SMH Research Report)*. We urge all shareholders to follow the Egan-Jones recommendation, reject the Ramius nominees, and vote for the Luby's directors on the WHITE proxy card.

If you have any questions or need assistance voting your WHITE proxy card, please contact the Company's investor relations department at (713) 329-6808 or investors@lubys.com, or MacKenzie Partners, Inc. which is assisting the Company in this matter, toll-free at (800) 322-2885.

* Permission to use quotation neither sought nor obtained.

On behalf of your Board of Directors,

Sincerely,

Gaspar Mir, III
Chairman of the Board
