Item 8.01 Other Events

In September 2009, Neurovision Medical Products, Inc. ( NMP ) filed suit against NuVasive, Inc. ( NuVasive ) in the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California (the District Court ) alleging trademark infringement and unfair competition. NMP sought cancellation of NuVasive s NeuroVision trademark registrations, injunctive relief and damages based on NMP s common law use of the Neurovision mark. After trial of the matter, on October 25, 2010 an unfavorable jury verdict was delivered against NuVasive relating to its use of the NeuroVision trade name. On January 3, 2011, the District Court ordered a judgment be entered in the case in the amount of $60.0 million plus attorney fees and costs, and granted a permanent injunction prohibiting NuVasive s use of the NeuroVision name for marketing purposes. NuVasive promptly appealed the verdict to the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals (the Circuit Court ) and on February 3, 2011, the Circuit Court stayed enforcement of the injunction.

On June 16, 2011, NuVasive entered into an escrow arrangement and transferred $62.5 million of cash and investments into a restricted escrow account to secure the judgment.

On September 10, 2012, the Circuit Court reversed and vacated the District Court s judgment against NuVasive, and also reversed and vacated the injunction and the award of attorney fees and costs. The Circuit Court remanded the case for a new trial and instructed the District Court to assign the case to a different judge.

NMP s right to appeal the Circuit Court s reversal and vacation of the judgment expired on December 10, 2012 and NMP stipulated to the release of the $62.5 million from the restricted escrow account on December 11, 2012. As a result, the full $62.5 million was released from escrow and returned to NuVasive.

A retrial on the matter is currently scheduled to begin in front of a new judge in the District Court on June 4, 2013.
