MARKET ENVIRONMENT

The fiscal year ended March 31, 2013, saw moderate economic performance, but stronger financial markets. The political issues, such as the elections or the Fiscal Cliff now, seem like a distant memory, but late night heroics over the New Year reduced significant uncertainty within the marketplace, and continued a rally in risk assets. The next negative uncertainty was the concern over the payroll tax increase and its potentially negative impact on the economy. However, three months later, expectations of a 3% economic expansion for the first quarter alleviated that concern.

One of the biggest surprises of the year was the depth of the slowdown in Europe, led by Southern Europe following their introduction of austerity programs in the previous year. This led the European Central Bank in late August to send a signal to the markets that it would do whatever it takes to maintain the Euro. At the same time, U.S. economic growth began to slow leading the Federal Reserve (Fed) to embark on yet another quantitative easing program. This monetary policy intervention led to stabilization within the marketplace, as witnessed by sovereign yields falling dramatically and keeping an underpinning of support for risk assets within the U.S.

Growth continued to be difficult to achieve around the world as China wrestled with a downshift in growth, and Japan, after a long decade of little or no growth, has decided to enter the race for currency depreciation in hopes of stimulating its economic growth rate. From a more positive perspective, housing and autos continued their turnaround during the year in the U.S.

PERFORMANCE

For the year ended March 31, 2013, Transamerica Income Shares, Inc. returned 10.74% on a net asset value basis and 4.78% on a market price basis. By comparison its benchmark, the Barclays U.S. Aggregate Bond Index (BAB), returned 3.77%.

STRATEGY REVIEW

Transamerica Income Shares, Inc. maintained an overweight position to spread products and a shorter duration than that of the BAB, generating a positive return in excess of the BAB. Our duration positioning modestly hurt performance as interest rates fell and the curve flattened.

Spread product helped to drive performance as the bonds generated more yield than the benchmark. The outperformance was primarily driven by an overweight to corporate credit (investment grade and high yield) and non-agency mortgage backed securities as the excess spread and spread tightening drove excess returns. The reduction in tail risk given different moves by policy makers helped improve the environment for risky assets.

The finance sector outperformed the other sectors in the Corporate universe with overweight positions to banking, real estate investment trusts (REITs), and insurance bonds helping performance. The portfolio's allocation in non-agency MBS has benefited from the turn in the housing market as well as positive technicals within the sector. Within the Emerging Markets sectors, local currency positions benefited from better growth dynamics and disinflation in the markets.

UNDERSTANDING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES

SHAREHOLDER EXPENSES

Fund shareholders may incur ongoing costs, including management and advisory fees, distribution and service fees, and other fund expenses.

The following example is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars and cents) of investing in the fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other funds.

The example is based on an investment of $1,000 invested at October 1, 2012, and held for the entire period until March 31, 2013.

ACTUAL EXPENSES

The information in the table under the heading Actual Expenses provides information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use the information in these columns, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = $8.60), then multiply the result by the number in the appropriate column for your share class titled Expenses Paid During Period to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period. If your account is an IRA, you expenses could have included a $15 annual fee. The amount of any fee paid during the period can decrease your ending account value.

HYPOTHETICAL EXAMPLE FOR COMPARISON PURPOSES

The information in the table under the heading Hypothetical Expenses provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the fund's actual expense ratio and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the fund's actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in your fund versus other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of the other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs. Therefore, the information under the heading Hypothetical Expenses is useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transaction costs were included, your costs would have been higher. The expenses shown in the table do not reflect any fees that may be charged to you by brokers, financial intermediaries or other financial institutions.

Expense ratios may vary period to period because of various factors, such as an increase in expenses that are not covered by the advisory and administrative fees, such as fees and expenses of the directors and their counsel, extraordinary expenses and interest expense.

Fund Name	Beginning Account Value	Ending Account Value	Actual Expenses ^(C)	Hypothetical Expenses ^(A)	Annualized Expense Ratio
			Expenses Paid During Period ^(B)	Expenses Paid During Period ^(B)
Transamerica Income Shares, Inc.	$1,000.00	$1,047.90	$3.68	$1,021.34	0.72%

^(A) 5% return per year before expenses.

^(B) Expenses are calculated using the Fund's annualized expense ratio (as disclosed in the table), multiplied by the average account value for the period, multiplied by the number of days in the period (182 days), and divided by the number of days in the year (365 days).

^(C) Based on net asset value return.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

At March 31, 2013

NOTE 1. ORGANIZATION AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Transamerica Income Shares, Inc. (the Fund) is a diversified closed-end management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the 1940 Act).

The Fund's primary investment objective is to seek as high a level of current income as is consistent with prudent investment, with capital appreciation as only a secondary objective.

In the normal course of business, the Fund enters into contracts that contain a variety of representations that provide general indemnifications. The Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund and/or its affiliates that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Fund expects the risk of loss to be remote.

In preparing the Fund's financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP), estimates or assumptions (which could differ from actual results) may be used that affect reported amounts and disclosures. The following is a summary of significant accounting policies followed by the Fund.

Securities lending: Securities are lent to qualified financial institutions and brokers. The lending of securities exposes the Fund to risks such as the following: (i) the borrowers may fail to return the loaned securities; (ii) the borrowers may not be able to provide additional collateral; (iii) the Fund may experience delays in recovery of the loaned securities or delays in access to collateral; or (iv) the Fund may experience losses related to the investment collateral. To minimize certain risks, loan counterparties pledge cash collateral equal to at least the market value of the securities loaned.

Cash collateral received is invested in the State Street Navigator Securities Lending Trust-Prime Portfolio (Navigator), a money market mutual fund registered under the 1940 Act. The Transamerica Asset Management family of mutual funds is a significant shareholder of the Navigator as of March 31, 2013. The Fund does not have a significant holding in the Navigator.

By lending such securities, the Fund seeks to increase its net investment income through the receipt of interest and fees.

Such income is reflected separately in the Statement of Operations. The value of loaned securities and related collateral outstanding at March 31, 2013 are shown in the Schedule of Investments and Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

Income from loaned securities in the Statement of Operations is net of fees earned by the lending agent for its services.

Repurchase agreements: Securities purchased subject to a repurchase agreement are held at the Fund's custodian, or designated sub-custodian related to tri-party repurchase agreements, and, pursuant to the terms of the repurchase agreement, must be collateralized by securities with an aggregate market value greater than or equal to 100% of the resale price. The Fund will bear the risk of value fluctuations until the securities can be sold and may encounter delays and incur costs in liquidating the securities. In the event of bankruptcy or insolvency of the seller, delays and costs may be incurred.

Foreign currency denominated investments: The accounting records of the Fund are maintained in U.S. dollars. Securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars at the closing exchange rate each day. The cost of foreign securities is translated at the exchange rates in effect when the investment was acquired. The Fund combines fluctuations from currency exchange rates and fluctuations in value when computing net realized and unrealized gains or losses from investments.

Net foreign currency gains and losses resulting from changes in exchange rates include: 1) foreign currency fluctuations between trade date and settlement date of investment security transactions; 2) gains and losses on forward foreign currency contracts; and 3) the difference between the receivable amounts of interest and dividends recorded in the accounting records in U.S. dollars and the amounts actually received.

Foreign currency denominated assets may involve risks not typically associated with domestic transactions. These risks include revaluation of currencies, adverse fluctuations in foreign currency values, and possible adverse political, social, and economic developments, including those particular to a specific industry, country or region.

Foreign taxes: The Fund may be subjected to taxes imposed by the countries in which they invest, with respect to its investments in issuers existing or operating in such countries. The Fund may be subject to foreign taxes on income, gains on investments, or currency repatriation, a portion of which may be recoverable. The Fund accrues such taxes and recoveries as applicable when the related income or capital gains are earned, and based upon the current interpretation of tax rules and regulations that exist in the markets in which the Fund invests. Some countries require governmental approval for the repatriation of investment income, capital, or the proceeds of sales earned by foreign investors. In addition, if there is deterioration in a country's balance of payments or for other reasons, a country may impose temporary restrictions of foreign capital remittances abroad.

When-Issued, forward delivery securities and Delayed Delivery Settlements: The Fund may purchase or sell securities on a when-issued, forward (delayed) delivery basis or delayed settlement. When-issued and forward delivery transactions are made conditionally because a security, although authorized, has not yet been issued in the market. Settlement of such transactions normally occurs within a month or more after the purchase or sale commitment is made. The Fund engages in when-issued transactions to obtain an advantageous price and yield at the time of the transaction. The Fund engages in when-issued and forward delivery transactions for the purpose of acquiring securities, but may enter into a separate agreement to sell the securities before the settlement date. Since the value of securities purchased may fluctuate prior to settlement, the Fund may be required to pay more at settlement than the security is worth. In addition, the Fund is not entitled to any of the interest earned prior to settlement.

Delayed Delivery transactions involve a commitment by the Fund to purchase or sell securities for a predetermined price or yield, with payment and delivery taking place beyond the customary settlement period. When delayed-delivery transactions are outstanding, the Fund will segregate with its custodian cash, U.S. Government securities or other liquid assets at least equal to the value or purchase commitments until payment is made. When purchasing a security on a delayed delivery basis, the Fund assumes the rights and risks of ownership of the security, including the risk of price and yield fluctuations. These transactions also involve a risk to the Fund if the other party to the transaction defaults on its obligation to make payment or delivery, and the Fund is delayed or prevented from completing the transaction. The Fund may dispose of or renegotiate a delayed delivery transaction after it is entered into which may result in a realized gain or loss. When the Fund sells a security on a delayed delivery basis, the Fund does not participate in future gains and losses on the security.

Treasury inflation-protected securities (TIPS): The Fund invests in TIPS, specially structured bonds in which the principal amount is adjusted daily to keep pace with inflation. The adjustments to principal due to inflation/deflation are reflected as increases/decreases to interest income in the Statement of Operations with a corresponding adjustment to cost.

Payment in-kind securities (PIKs): PIKs give the issuer the option at each interest payment date of making interest payments in either cash or additional debt securities. Those additional debt securities usually have the same terms, including maturity dates and interest rates, and associated risks as the original bonds. The daily market quotations of the original bonds may include the accrued interest (referred to as a "dirty price") and require a pro-rata adjustment from unrealized appreciation or depreciation on investments to interest receivable in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

The PIKs at March 31, 2013 are listed in the Schedule of Investments.

Restricted and illiquid securities: The Fund may invest in unregulated or otherwise restricted securities. Restricted and illiquid securities are subject to legal or contractual restrictions on resale or are illiquid. Restricted securities generally may be resold in transactions exempt from registration. A security may be considered illiquid if it lacks a readily available market or if its valuation has not changed for a certain period of time. Disposal of these securities may involve time-consuming negotiations and expense, and prompt sale at the current valuation may be difficult.

The restricted and illiquid securities at March 31, 2013 are listed in the Schedule of Investments.

Security transactions and investment income: Security transactions are recorded on the trade date. Security gains and losses are calculated on the specific identification basis. Dividend income, if any, is recorded on the ex-dividend date or, in the case of foreign securities, as soon as the Fund is informed of the ex-dividend date, net of foreign taxes. Interest income, including accretion of discounts and amortization of premiums, is recorded on the accrual basis commencing on the settlement date.

Dividend distributions: Dividend distributions are declared monthly. Capital gains distributions are declared annually. Distributions are generally paid in the month following the ex-date, on or about the fifteenth calendar day. Distributions to shareholders are determined in accordance with federal income tax regulations, which may differ from GAAP. See Automatic Reinvestment Plan on page 19 for an opportunity to reinvest distributions in shares of the Fund's common stock.

NOTE 2. SECURITY VALUATIONS

All investments in securities are recorded at their estimated fair value. The Fund values its investments at the close of the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE), normally 4 p.m. Eastern Time, each day the NYSE is open for business. The Fund utilizes various methods to measure the fair value of its investments on a recurring basis. GAAP establishes a hierarchy that prioritizes inputs to valuation methods. The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities. The three Levels of inputs of the fair value hierarchy are defined as follows:

Transamerica Income Shares, Inc.

Level 1 Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical securities.

Level 2 Inputs, other than quoted prices included in Level 1, that are observable, either directly or indirectly. These inputs may include quoted prices for the identical instrument on an inactive market, prices for similar instruments, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, yield curves, default rates, and similar data.

Level 3 Unobservable inputs, which may include Transamerica Asset Management, Inc.'s (TAM) internal valuation committee's (the Valuation Committee) own assumptions in determining the fair value of investments. Factors considered in making this determination may include, but are not limited to, information obtained by contacting the sub-adviser, issuer, analysts, or the appropriate stock exchange (for exchange-traded securities), analysis of the issuer's financial statements or other available documents and, if necessary, available information concerning other securities in similar circumstances.

The Fund's Board of Directors has delegated the valuation functions on a day-to-day basis to TAM, subject to board oversight. TAM formed the Valuation Committee to monitor and implement the fair valuation policies and procedures as approved by the Board of Directors. These policies and procedures are reviewed at least annually by the Board of Directors. The Valuation Committee, among other tasks, monitors for when market quotations are not readily available or are unreliable and determines in good faith the fair value of portfolio investments. For instances in which daily market quotes are not readily available, securities may be valued, pursuant to procedures adopted by the Board of Directors, with reference to other instruments or indices. Depending on the relative significance of valuation inputs, these instruments may be classified in either Level 2 or Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy. The Valuation Committee may employ a market-based approach which may use related or comparable assets or liabilities, recent transactions, market multiples, book values, and other relevant information for the security to determine the fair value of the security. An income-based valuation approach may also be used in which the anticipated future cash flows of the security are discounted to calculate fair value. Discounts may also be applied due to the nature or duration of any restrictions on the disposition of securities. When the Portfolio uses fair value methods that rely on significant unobservable inputs to determine a security's value, the Valuation Committee will choose the method that is believed to accurately reflect fair market value. These securities are categorized as Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy. The Valuation Committee reviews fair value measurements on a regular and ad hoc basis and may, as deemed appropriate, update the security valuations as well as the fair valuation guidelines.

The availability of observable inputs can vary from security to security and is affected by a wide variety of factors, including, but not limited to, the type of security, whether the security is new and not yet established in the marketplace, the liquidity of markets, and other characteristics particular to the security. To the extent that valuation is based on models or inputs that are less observable or unobservable in the market, the determination of fair value requires more judgment. Accordingly, the degree of judgment exercised in determining fair value is generally greatest for instruments categorized in Level 3. Due to the inherent uncertainty of valuation, TAM's Valuation Committee's determination of values may differ significantly from values that would have been realized had a ready market for investments existed, and the differences could be material. The Valuation Committee employs various methods for calibrating these valuation approaches including a regular review of valuation methodologies, key inputs and assumptions, transactional back-testing and reviews of any market related activity.

The inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different Levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, for disclosure purposes, the Level in the fair value hierarchy that is assigned to the fair value measurement of a security is determined based on the lowest Level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety.

Fair value measurements: Descriptions of the valuation techniques applied to the Fund's major categories of assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis are as follows:

Equity securities (common and preferred stocks): Securities are stated at the last reported sales price or closing price on the day of valuation taken from the primary exchange where the security is principally traded. To the extent these securities are actively traded and valuation adjustments are not applied, they are categorized in Level 1 of the fair value hierarchy.

Foreign securities, in which the primary trading market closes at the same time or after the NYSE, are valued based on quotations from the primary market in which they are traded and are categorized in Level 1. Because many foreign securities markets and exchanges close prior to the close of the NYSE, closing prices for foreign securities in those markets or on those exchanges do not reflect the events that occur after that close. Certain foreign securities may be fair valued using a pricing service that considers the correlation of the trading patterns of the foreign security to the intraday trading in the U.S. markets for investments such as American Depositary

Receipts, financial futures, Exchange Traded Funds, and the movement of the certain indices of securities based on a statistical analysis of their historical relationship; such valuations generally are categorized in Level 2.

Preferred stock and other equities traded on inactive markets or valued by reference to similar instruments are also generally categorized in Level 2 or Level 3 if inputs are unobservable.

Securities lending collateral: Securities lending collateral is invested in a money market fund which is valued at the net asset value of the underlying securities and no valuation adjustments are applied. It is categorized in Level 1 of the fair value hierarchy.

Repurchase Agreements: Repurchase agreements are traded on inactive markets or valued by reference to similar instruments and are generally categorized as Level 2.

Corporate bonds: The fair value of corporate bonds is estimated using various techniques, which consider recently executed transactions in securities of the issuer or comparable issuers, market price quotations (where observable), bond spreads, fundamental data relating to the issuer, and credit default swap spreads adjusted for any basis difference between cash and derivative instruments. While most corporate bonds are categorized in Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy, in instances where lower relative weight is placed on transaction prices, quotations, or similar observable inputs, they are categorized in Level 3.

Asset backed securities: The fair value of asset backed securities is estimated based on models that consider the estimated cash flows of each tranche of the entity, establish a benchmark yield, and develop an estimated tranche specific spread to the benchmark yield based on the unique attributes of the tranche. To the extent the inputs are observable and timely, the values would generally be categorized in Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy; otherwise they would be categorized as Level 3.

Short-term notes: Short-term notes are valued using amortized cost, which approximates fair value. To the extent the inputs are observable and timely, the values would be generally categorized in Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy; otherwise they would be categorized in Level 3.

Government securities: Government securities are normally valued using a model that incorporates market observable data such as reported sales of similar securities, broker quotes, yields, bids, offers, and reference data. Certain securities are valued by principally using dealer quotations. Government securities generally are categorized in Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy or Level 3 if inputs are unobservable.

U.S. government agency securities: U.S. government agency securities are comprised of two main categories consisting of agency issued debt and mortgage pass-throughs. Generally, agency issued debt securities are valued in a manner similar to U.S. government securities. Mortgage pass-throughs include to be announced (TBA) securities and mortgage pass-through certificates. Generally, TBA securities and mortgage pass-throughs are valued using dealer quotations. Depending on market activity levels and whether quotations or other observable data are used, these securities are typically categorized in Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy; otherwise they would be categorized in Level 3.

Restricted securities (equity and debt): Restricted securities for which quotations are not readily available are valued at fair value as determined in good faith by TAM's Valuation Committee under the supervision of the Fund's Board of Directors. Restricted securities issued by publicly traded companies are generally valued at a discount to similar publicly traded securities. Restricted securities issued by nonpublic entities may be valued by reference to comparable public entities and/or fundamental data relating to the issuer. Depending on the relative significance of valuation inputs, these instruments may be classified in either Level 2 or Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy.

The hierarchy classification of inputs used to value the Fund's investments at March 31, 2013, is disclosed in the Valuation Summary of the Schedule of Investments.

NOTE 5. FEDERAL INCOME TAX MATTERS

The Fund has not made any provision for federal income or excise taxes due to its policy to distribute all of its taxable income and capital gains to its shareholders and otherwise qualify as a regulated investment company under Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code. The Fund recognizes the tax benefits of uncertain tax positions only where the position is more likely than not to be sustained assuming examination by tax authorities. Management has evaluated the Fund's tax provisions taken for all open tax years 2008-2011, and has concluded that no provision for income tax is required in the Fund's financial statements. If applicable, the Fund recognizes interest accrued related to unrecognized tax benefits in interest and penalties expense in Other on the Statement of Operations. The Fund identifies its major tax jurisdictions as U.S. Federal, the state of Florida, and foreign jurisdictions where the Fund makes significant investments; however, the Fund is not aware of any tax positions for which it is reasonably possible that the total amounts of unrecognized tax benefits will change materially in the next twelve months. Income and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, which may differ from GAAP. These differences are primarily due to differing treatment for items including, but not limited to, foreign bonds, foreign currency transactions, capital loss carryforwards, dividends payable, paydowns, and bond premium amortization.

Therefore, distributions determined in accordance with tax regulations may differ significantly in amount or character from net investment income and realized gains for financial reporting purposes. Financial reporting records are adjusted for permanent book/tax differences to reflect tax character. These reclassifications have no impact on net assets or results of operations. Financial records are not adjusted for temporary differences. These reclassifications are as follows:

II. Delegation of Proxy Voting/Adoption of Adviser and Sub-Adviser Policies

Each Fund delegates the authority to vote proxies related to portfolio securities to Transamerica Asset Management, Inc. (the Adviser), as investment adviser to each Fund, which in turn delegates proxy voting authority for most portfolios of the Fund to the Sub-Adviser retained to provide day-to-day portfolio management for that portfolio. The Board of Trustees/Directors of each Fund adopts the proxy voting policies and procedures of the Adviser and Sub-Advisers as the proxy voting policies and procedures (each a Proxy Voting Policy) that will be used by each of these respective entities when exercising voting authority on behalf of the Fund. These policies and procedures are attached hereto.

III. Annual Review of Proxy Voting Policies of Adviser and Sub-Advisers

No less frequently than once each calendar year, the Proxy Voting Administrator will request each Sub-Adviser to provide a current copy of its Proxy Voting Policy, or certify that there have been no material changes to its Proxy Voting Policy or that all material changes have been previously provided for review, and verify that such Proxy Voting Policy is consistent with those of the Funds and Adviser. Any inconsistency between the Sub-Adviser's Proxy Voting Policy and that of the Funds or Adviser shall be reconciled by the Proxy Voting Administrator before presentation for approval by the Board.

The Proxy Voting Administrator will provide an electronic copy of each Board approved Proxy Voting Policy to Legal department for inclusion in applicable SEC filings.

Compensation

As of March 31, 2013, each portfolio manager's compensation is provided by the portfolio's sub-adviser and not by the portfolio. The portfolio manager's compensation consists of a fixed base salary and a variable performance incentive.
