Investment commentary

Economic review

The U.S. economy expanded moderately during the six months ended April 30, 2015 (the reporting period ). The U.S. Department of Commerce reported that third quarter 2014 U.S. gross domestic product ( GDP growth was 5.0%, its strongest reading since the third quarter of 2003. However, fourth quarter 2014 GDP growth slowed to a modest 2.2%. The deceleration in growth primarily reflected an upturn in imports, a downturn in federal government spending and moderating nonresidential fixed investment. After the reporting period ended, the U.S. Department of Commerce reported that its second estimate for first quarter 2015 GDP was -0.7%. This downturn was attributed to a number of factors, including negative contributions from exports, nonresidential fixed investment, and state and local government spending.

Activity in the U.S. manufacturing sector also moderated during the reporting period. Based on the Institute for Supply Management s Purchasing Managers Index ( PÄIIU)S. manufacturing expanded during all six months of the reporting period (a reading below 50 indicates a contraction, whereas a reading above 50 indicates an expansion). After a reading of 57.6 in November 2014, the PMI generally decelerated over much of the reporting period and the PMI was 51.5 in April 2015.

The labor market was largely a tailwind for the economy during the reporting period. When the period began, unemployment was 5.8%, as reported by the U.S. Department of Labor. Unemployment generally declined during the reporting period and was 5.4% in April 2015, its lowest level since May 2008.

Growth outside the U.S. was mixed. In its April 2015 World Economic Outlook Update, released after the reporting period ended, the International Monetary Fund (IMF) said: Global growth remains moderate, with uneven prospects across the main countries and regions. Relative to last year, the outlook for advanced economies is improving, while growth in emerging market and developing economies is projected to be lower, primarily reflecting weaker prospects for some large emerging market economies and oil-exporting countries. From a regional perspective, the IMF projects that 2015 growth in the Eurozone will be 1.5%, versus 0.9% in 2014. Japan s economy is expected to expand 1.0% in 2015, compared to -0.1% in 2014. Elsewhere, the IMF said that overall growth in emerging market countries will decelerate in 2015, with growth of 4.3% versus 4.6% in 2014.

Market review

Q. How did the Federal Reserve Board ( Fed<sup>ii</sup> respond to the economic environment?

A. The Fed took a number of actions as it sought to meet its dual mandate of fostering maximum employment and price stability. As it has since December 2008, the Fed kept the federal funds rate<sup>iv</sup> at a historically low range between zero and 0.25%. The Fed ended its asset purchase program that was announced in December 2012. In December 2014, the Fed said that it can be patient in beginning to normalize the stance of monetary policy. Finally, at its meeting that ended on April 29, 2015, the Fed said, economic growth slowed during the winter months, in part reflecting transitory factors The Committee currently anticipates that, even after employment and inflation are near mandate-consistent levels, economic conditions may, for some time, warrant keeping the target federal funds rate below levels the Committee views as normal in the longer run.

Q. What actions did international central banks take during the reporting period?

A. Given the economic challenges in the Eurozone, the European Central Bank ( ECB took a number of actions to stimulate growth and ward off deflation. On June 5, 2014, before the beginning of the reporting period, the ECB reduced rates to a new low of 0.15% and announced it would charge commercial banks 0.10% to keep money at the ECB. This negative deposit rate was aimed at encouraging commercial banks to lend some of their incremental cash which, in turn, could help to spur growth. On September 4, 2014, the ECB reduced rates to yet another record low of 0.05% and it began charging commercial banks 0.20% to keep money at the ECB. Furthermore, the ECB started purchasing securitized loans and covered bonds in October 2014. Finally, on January 22, 2015, the ECB announced that beginning in March 2015 it would start a 60 billion-a-month bond buying program that is expected to run until September 2016. In other developed countries, the Bank of England kept rates on hold at 0.50% during the reporting period, as did Japan at a range of zero to 0.10%, its lowest level since 2006. At the end of October 2014, the Bank of Japan announced that it would increase its asset purchases between 10 trillion yen and 20 trillion yen ($90.7 billion to $181.3 billion) to approximately 80 trillion yen ($725 billion) annually, in an attempt to stimulate growth. Elsewhere, after holding rates steady at 6.0% since July 2012, the People s Bank of China cut the rate to 5.60% on November 21, 2014 and to 5.35% on February 28, 2015. Finally, on May 11, 2015, after the reporting period ended, China s central bank cut the rate to 5.10% in an effort to stimulate growth.

Q. Did Treasury yields trend higher or lower during the six months ended April 30, 2015?

A. Short-term Treasury yields moved higher, whereas long-term Treasury yields declined during the reporting period. When the reporting period began, the yield on the two-year Treasury was 0.50%. It was as high as 0.73% towards the end of December 2014 and again on March 6, 2015, and fell as low as 0.44% on January 15, 2015, before ending the period at 0.58%. The yield on the ten-year Treasury began the period at 2.35% and its peak of 2.39% occurred on November 6, 2014. The yield on the ten-year Treasury was as low as 1.68% in late January/early February 2015 and concluded the period at 2.05%.

IV Legg Mason BW Global Income Opportunities Fund Inc.

Q. What factors impacted the spread sectors (non-Treasuries) during the reporting period?

A. The spread sectors largely posted positive returns during the reporting period. Performance fluctuated with investor sentiment given uncertainties regarding future Fed monetary policy, concerns over global growth and geopolitical issues. The overall U.S. bond market, as measured by the Barclays U.S. Aggregate Index<sup>vi</sup>, gained 2.06% during the six months ended April 30, 2015.

Q. How did the emerging markets debt asset class perform over the reporting period?

A. The JPMorgan Emerging Markets Bond Index Global ( EMBI Global<sup>ii</sup>) eturned 0.70% during the six months ended April 30, 2015. While the asset class rose during much of the reporting period, those gains were largely offset by a sharp decline in December 2014. This setback was triggered by a number of factors, including expectations for future Fed rate hikes, concerns over global growth, declining oil prices and weak investor demand.

RISKS: The Fund is non-diversified and may be more susceptible to economic, political or regulatory events than a diversified fund. The Fund s common stock is traded on the New York Stock Exchange. Similar to stocks, the Fund s share price will fluctuate with market conditions and, at the time of sale, may be worth more or less than the original investment. Shares of closed-end funds often trade at a discount to their net asset value.

All investments are subject to risk, including the risk of loss. Fixed income securities are subject to various risks, including but not limited to, credit, inflation, income, prepayment and interest rate risks. As interest rates increase, the value of fixed income securities decrease. High yield securities are subject to greater liquidity and credit risks (risk of default) than higher-rated securities. International investments involve certain risks not associated with domestic investing, such as currency fluctuations, and changes in political and economic conditions. These risks are magnified in emerging or developing markets. Mortgage-backed securities are subject to additional risks, including prepayment risk, which can limit the potential gains in a declining interest rate environment. The Fund may invest in foreign currencies or currency derivatives which may increase the risk and volatility of the Fund. The Fund may invest in illiquid securities and securities/investments that have a leveraging effect on the portfolio which will increase the risks of the Fund. The Fund s use of leverage may result in greater volatility of NAV and the market price of common shares and increases a shareholder s risk of loss. The Fund may make significant investments in derivative instruments. Derivative instruments can be illiquid, may disproportionately increase losses and have a potentially large impact on Fund performance.

All investments are subject to risk including the possible loss of principal. Past performance is no
