CADE REVOKED RESTRICTIONS FOR THE ACQUISITION OF IPIRANGA BY BRASKEM

São Paulo, Brazil, April 25, 2007 --- Braskem (BOVESPA: BRKM5; NYSE: BAK; LATIBEX: XBRK), leader in the thermoplastic resins segment in Latin America and second largest Brazilian industrial company owned by the private sector, announces that the plenary session of the Administrative Council for Economic Defense – CADE revoked the writ of prevention for the acquisition of Ipiranga Petroquímica and Ipiranga Química businesses by Braskem.

The decision was based on the Transaction Reversibility Preservation Agreement (APRO) proposed by Braskem. Through this agreement all assets acquired before CADE’s judgment are preserved and, on the other hand, Braskem may fully exercise the possession and management of those assets.

In light of CADE’s recent decisions, in which the international market is considered as the relevant market as far as petrochemical companies are concerned, the process is expected to be judged and approved shortly. Braskem understands that the transaction is pro-competitive and shall provide a new cycle of investment and growth in the petrochemical complex located in the southern region of Brazil.

The agreement preserves acquired assets, ensures to Braskem the full management of the business and indicates a fast decision aligned to the development and strengthening of the Brazilian petrochemical industry, said Marcelo Lyra, Braskem’s Institutional Relations Vice President.

Braskem, a world-class Brazilian petrochemical company, is the leader in the thermoplastic resins segment in Latin America, and is the second largest Brazilian industrial company owned by the private sector. The company operates 18 manufacturing plants located throughout Brazil, and has an annual production capacity of 10 million tons of petrochemical and chemical products.
