4. Risk factors

4.1 - Description of risk factors

Macroeconomic risks

Our business and results from operations are substantially affected by conditions on global financial markets.

Global capital and credit markets recent turbulence led to a liquidity crunch and higher credit risk premiums for various market participants, which led to less availability of funding and/or increased costs for both financial institutions and their customers. Rising or high interest rates and/or higher levels of spreads on credit created a less favorable environment for most of our business dealings and may impair customers' ability to repay their debts, reducing our flexibility in terms of planning or reacting to changes in its operations and the financial industry in general. So even with the Brazilian and world economies starting to pick up in the first half of 2009, results from operations may still be affected by adverse conditions in global financial markets for as long as they remain volatile and subject to turbulence and uncertainty.

Since 2008, the continuation of the economic crisis in Europe, particularly in Greece, Spain, Italy, Ireland and Portugal, has continued to reduce investor confidence globally, as has the earthquake in Japan last year and Standard & Poor's downgrading of the USA's long-term sovereign credit rating on August 6, 2011. These events could negatively affect our ability and that of other Brazilian financial institutions to obtain financing from global capital markets, to the extent that they weaken recovery and growth of the Brazilian and/or foreign economies and give rise to volatility in Brazilian capital markets.

The Brazilian government has influence on the Brazilian economy and local political and economic conditions have a direct impact on our business.

Our financial conditions and results from operations depend substantially on the Brazilian economy, which in the past has been characterized by frequent and occasionally drastic intervention by the Brazilian government and by volatile economic cycles.

In the past, the Brazilian government has often changed monetary, fiscal and taxation policies in order to influence the course of the Brazilian economy. We have no means of controlling or predicting which measures or policies the Brazilian government may take in response to current or future economic situations or how the government's policies or intervention will affect the economy and directly or indirectly affect our operations and revenues.

Our business, our financial situation, and the market value of our preferred and common shares may be adversely affected by alterations in these policies involving currency controls, taxes and other factors such as the following:

- fluctuating exchange rates;

- fluctuating benchmark interest rates;
- domestic economic growth;
- political, social or economic instability;
- monetary policy;
- fiscal policy factors and alterations to the taxation system;
- currency exchange controls policy;
- liquidity of domestic credit, capital and financial markets;
- the ability of our customers to fulfill their obligations to us;
- reductions in wages or income levels;
- rising rates of unemployment;
- changes in credit regulations;
- inflation; and

16– Reference Form – 2012

4. Risk factors

- other political, diplomatic, social or economic developments in Brazil or internationally, that may affect Brazil.

Exchange rate variations may negatively affect the Brazilian economy, and our earnings and financial situation.

Our business is impacted by variations in the value of the Brazilian real. Since October 2002 and more intensively since June 2004, the Brazilian real has appreciated against the US dollar, with a few periods of depreciation (reaching R$ 1.5593 per US$ 1.00 on August 1, 2008). In 2009, the real was again appreciating against the dollar (reaching R$ 1.7412 per US$ 1.00 at the end of the year). In 2010, the real continued its appreciation against the dollar (reaching R$ 1.6662 per US$ 1.00 at the end of the year). The real continued to appreciate against the US dollar during the first half of 2011 and reached R$ 1.5345 per dollar on July 26, 2011. After that, due to deteriorating global economic conditions and the decision by Brazil's Monetary Policy Committee (COPOM), to ease monetary policy, the real began to depreciate and fell to R$ 1.8758 per dollar by December 31, 2011. However, macroeconomic fundamentals and the current global situation (abundant liquidity, high risk appetite and rising commodity prices) suggest that signs of a tendency for the real to appreciate are still there.

On December 31, 2011, the net balance of our assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies, or indexed to them (US dollars in particular) was 1.2% of our total assets. When the Brazilian currency is devalued or depreciates, we incur losses on our liabilities denominated in foreign currencies, or indexed to them. For example, our long-term debt denominated in dollars, loans in foreign currencies and gains on monetary assets denominated in foreign currencies or indexed to them, since such liabilities and assets are converted into Brazilian reais. Therefore, if our liabilities denominated in foreign currency, or indexed to it, significantly exceed our assets denominated in foreign currency or indexed to it, including any financial instruments used for hedging purposes, major depreciation or devaluation of the Brazilian currency could substantially and adversely affect its financial results and the market price of preferred and common shares, even though the value of its liabilities had not altered in their original currency. Furthermore, our loans depend significantly on our ability to match the cost of dollar-indexed funds with rates charged to our customers. A significant depreciation or devaluation of the US dollar may affect our ability to attract customers on these terms or charge fees pegged to the US dollar.

On the other hand, when Brazil's currency appreciates, we incur losses on our monetary assets denominated in, or indexed to, foreign currencies such as the US dollar, and our liabilities denominated, in or indexed to, foreign currency are reduced since liabilities and assets are converted into reais. Therefore, if our monetary assets denominated in or indexed to foreign currency significantly exceed our liabilities denominated in or indexed to foreign currency, including any financial instruments used for hedging purposes, major appreciation of Brazil's currency could substantially and adversely affect our financial performance, even if the monetary value of such an asset remains unchanged in its original currency.

If Brazil experiences substantial inflation in the future, our revenues and ability to access foreign financial markets will be diminished.

In the past, Brazil has experienced extremely high rates of inflation. According to the Consumer Price Index - Domestic Availability (or IGP-DI), inflation rates in Brazil reached (1.4)%, 11.3% and 5.0% on December 31, 2009, 2010 and 2011 respectively. Government measures to curb inflation and public speculation in relation to possible government measures had a negative effect on the economy and added to economic uncertainty in Brazil and heightened volatility in the Brazilian securities market, which may have a negative effect for Bradesco.

Government's measures to combat inflation have often included tight monetary policy with high interest rates, thus restricting the availability of credit and reducing economic growth. As a result, interest rates have fluctuated significantly. Increases in the rate of the Special Settlement and Custody System, known as the "SELIC" rate, and the benchmark interest rate set by COPOM may negatively affect Bradesco by reducing demand for credit and raising funding costs, the cost of domestic debt, and the risk of customer default. SELIC rate cuts may also have a negative effect on us by reducing the interest income we earn on our interest-earning assets and reducing our revenues and margins.

Future actions of the Brazilian government – including interest rate cuts, foreign exchange market interventions, or steps to adjust or fix the value of the Brazilian real – may lead to rising inflation. As an example of government intervention to keep inflation rates under control, in early 2011 credit regulations were amended to include restrictions on certain types of personal loans, loans for purchasing vehicles and payroll-deduct loans. Most of these measures were withdrawn in late 2011, as an incentive to boost the economy. If Brazil is affected by fluctuating inflation rates in the future, our costs and net margins may be affected. If there is a lack of investor confidence, the price of our securities may fall. Inflationary pressures may also affect our ability to access financial markets abroad and may lead to counter-inflationary policies that may have adverse effects on our business, financial situation, results from operations and market value of our preferred and common shares.

Alterations of the benchmark interest rate made by the Central Bank's monetary policy committee (COPOM) may substantially and adversely affect our margins and results from operations.

COPOM sets basic interest rates for the Brazilian banking system. Basic interest rates were 8.75%, 10.75% and 11.0% per annum on December 31, 2009, 2010 and 2011, respectively. Variations in the basic interest rate may substantially and adversely affect our results from operations for these reasons:

- high basic interest rates raise our domestic debt costs and may increase the probability of customer default; and
- low basic interest rates may reduce our net financial income.

The monetary policy committee (COPOM) sets the benchmark interest rate to manage certain aspects of the Brazilian economy, including hedge capital reserves and flows. The basic interest rates set by COPOM or the frequency at which these rates are adjusted are not controlled.

Events and perception of risk in Brazil and in other countries, specially other emerging markets, may negatively affect the market value of Brazilian securities, including our preferred and common shares.

The market value of securities issued by Brazilian companies is affected to varying degrees by economic and market conditions in other countries including other Latin American countries, and other emerging countries. Although economic conditions in these countries may differ significantly from economic conditions in Brazil, investors' reaction to events in these countries can have an adverse effect on the market value of securities of Brazilian issuers. Crises in other emerging countries may reduce investor appetite for securities from Brazilian issuers, including the ones issued by Bradesco, which might negatively affect the market value of our preferred and common shares.

The recent global financial crisis had a significant impact around the world, including Brazil, such as volatility on capital markets, the credit crunch, higher interest rates, a slowdown in the world economy, volatile exchange rates, and inflationary pressure, among other factors that have had and may continue to have, directly or indirectly, a negative impact on our business, financial condition, results of operations, the market value of Brazilian issuers' securities, including ours, and our ability to fund our operations .

Risks related to Bradesco and the Brazilian banking sector

We may be faced with a high level of arrears in repayment of loans, to the extent that our loans and advances portfolio matures.

Our loans and advances portfolio has grown substantially since 2004, mainly due to Brazil's economic growth. Any corresponding increase in our level of borrowing taking an abnormal course may lead to a slower pace than the ratio of growth of non-performing loans and advances, since the latter are not normally repayable within a short period of their origination. Levels of past-due loans for our individual customers are higher than for corporate clients. From 2009 to 2011, our portfolio of loans and advances to customers grew 39.3% and our level of past-due loans rose 31.3%, due to the increase in the numbers of individual clients.

The weakening of economic conditions in Brazil, which began in mid-2008, resulted in higher unemployment, which in turn led to increases in our levels of non-performing loans, especially for personal customers' portfolio. This trend towards higher levels of non-performing loans deteriorated in 2009. In 2010, there was an improvement in our customers' delinquency indicators as a result of economic recovery in Brazil, reflected in a reduction of expense due to impairment of loans and advances. Our level of past-due loans and advances rose in 2011, and our impairment of loans and advances rose 14.9% on 2010, while our loans and advances rose 16.8% in the same period. However, if economic conditions deteriorate in Brazil, we may have to increase our impairment of loans and advances in the future.

Rapid growth of loans may also reduce the ratio of non-performing loans compared to total loans, until the rate of growth slackens or the portfolio becomes more mature. Adverse economic conditions and a lower rate of growth of loans and advances to customers may result in an increase in our loss on impaired loans and advances, writedowns, and ratio of past-due loans to total loans, which may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Adverse conditions in credit and capital markets may adversely affect our ability to obtain timely access to funds at reduced costs.

The recent volatility, disruption and uncertainty in credit and capital markets generally have lowered liquidity and led to higher funding costs for financial and non-financial institutions. These conditions may impact our ability to rollover obligations that are maturing at low cost and/or our ability to obtain timely access to funds in order to execute our growth strategy. If we are forced to postpone capital increases or pay unattractive interest rates in order to obtain capital, our financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected.

The increasingly competitive environment in banking and insurance in Brazil may adversely affect our business prospects.

The Brazilian markets for financial, banking and insurance services are highly competitive. We face significant competition from other large Brazilian and foreign banks and insurance companies, both public and private, in all the key segments of its operations.

Competition has grown as a result of recent consolidations among financial institutions in Brazil and regulations of the National Monetary Council, which we call "CMN", which made it easier for customers to switch their banking funds/business. Heightened competition may significantly and adversely affect us, and among other effects, may limit our ability to retain and grow our existing customer base and expand our operations, and reduce our profit margins on banking products, thus restricting investment opportunities to some extent.

Moreover, Brazilian regulations create barriers to entry and make no distinction between foreign and Brazilian commercial and investment banks or between Brazilian and foreign insurance companies and insurers. Consequently, increased presence of foreign banks and insurance companies in Brazil, some with more resources than us, has heightened competitiveness in the banking and insurance markets in general and for certain products in particular. Privatization of public (government controlled) banks has also made the Brazilian banking and other financial services markets more competitive.

A higher level of competition may adversely affect our results and potential business, and may among other factors:

- restrict our ability to build our customer base and expand our operations;
- lower our profit margins on banking products and services, and insurance, leasing and other services and products offered by us; and
- lead to more competition for foreign investment opportunities.

Losses on investments in securities may have a significant impact on our results from operations and are unpredictable.

The value of some of our investments in financial assets may fall significantly due to disruption in financial markets, and they may vary over short periods. On December 31, 2011, investments in financial assets accounted for 20.2% of our assets, and gains and losses from investments have had and continue to have a significant impact on results of our operations. The amounts of these gains and losses, which are journalized as investments in financial assets are sold, or in certain circumstances in which they are marked to market or recognized at fair value, may fluctuate substantially from one period to another. The extent of fluctuation depends partly on our investment policies and the market value of financial assets, which in turn may vary considerably. It is not possible to predict the amount of gains or losses realized in a certain future period and our management believes that variations from one period to another are of no practical value for the purposes of analysis. In addition, any income on our investment portfolio may no longer contribute to net interest income at the same levels as in recent periods, and we may not be able to show the gains currently made on our consolidated investment portfolio, or any portion of such gains.

We may suffer losses associated with exposure to counterparties.

19– Reference Form – 2012

4. Risk factors

We are subject to the possibility of a counterparty not honoring its contractual obligations. Counterparties default may be due to bankruptcy, lack of liquidity, operational failure, or other reasons. This risk may arise, for example, with swaps or other derivatives in which counterparties have an obligation to pay or execute currencies or other trades that do not occur when required due to inability to make delivery or system failures affecting clearing agents, currency exchange, clearing houses or other financial intermediaries. This counterparty risk is more pronounced in complex markets, on which there is greater risk of counterparty failure.

Our trading in derivatives and related transactions may cause substantial losses.

We are actively engaged in trading securities, and in buying fixed-income securities and equity shares, in particular, to sell them in the short-term with the aim of profiting from short-term price differentials. These investments may expose Bradesco to substantial financial losses in the future, since securities are subject to fluctuations in value and may lead to losses. In addition, we enter into derivative transactions to manage our exposure to currency risk and interest-rate risk. The purpose of these derivative transactions is to protect Bradesco against increases or decreases in exchange rates or interest rates, but not in both cases. For example, we may buy derivatives to hedge against reductions in the rate of the Brazilian real or a lower interest rate; if the Brazilian real appreciates, or interest rates rise, we may incur financial losses. Such losses could significantly and adversely affect our cash flow and future results of operations.

The Brazilian government regulates operations of local financial institutions and insurance companies, and changes in existing regulations and laws or new laws or regulations may adversely affect our operations and revenues.

Brazilian banks and insurance companies, including our banking and insurance operations, are subject to extensive and ongoing regulatory supervision by the Brazilian government. We have no control over government regulation, which governs all aspects of our operations, including the imposition of:

- minimum capital requirements;
- compulsory deposits/reserves;
- requirements for investment in fixed assets;
- lending limits and other credit restrictions;
- accounting and statistical requirements;
- solvency margins;
- minimum coverage levels; and
- mandatory policies for provisioning.

The regulatory framework for banks and insurance companies in Brazil is constantly evolving. Existing laws and regulations may be altered, or the ways in which the laws and regulations are implemented or interpreted may change, and new laws and new regulations may be introduced. These changes may adversely affect our operations and revenues.

The Brazilian government, in particular, has historically promulgated regulations affecting financial institutions in an attempt to implement its economic policies. These regulations aim to control the availability of credit and boost or lower consumption in Brazil. These alterations may adversely affect us since our returns on compulsory deposits are lower than those on our other investments.

Part of our business currently not subject to government regulations may be regulated in the future. For example, various legislative proposals to regulate the credit card sector are now being discussed in Brazil's Congress. Some of these proposals aim to increase competitiveness in the sector and restrict tariffs charged by credit card companies. On November 25, 2010, for example, the Central Bank issued new rules on tariff charges for financial institutions, and even set criteria for calculating minimum amounts to be paid on credit card invoices. These rules, which came into effect on June 1, 2011, for contracts signed after that date (and which will come into effect on June 1, 2012 for contracts signed before June 1, 2011), determine, among other things, that only five types of service fees may be charged, including annuities, fees for issuing duplicate drafts, withdrawals, bill payments and emergency requests for credit reviews, and the minimum amount to be paid on each invoice must be not less than 20.0% of the total. New regulations affecting the credit card industry may have a material negative effect on our revenues from credit card business. Such regulations and regulatory changes affecting other business dealings in which we are involved, including leasing and brokerage, may have a negative effect on our operations and revenues.

Most of our common shares are owned by a shareholder whose interests may conflict with those of other investors.

On December 31, 2011, the Bradesco Foundation (Fundação Bradesco) directly or indirectly owned 56.49% of our shares. As a result, Bradesco Foundation may, among other things, avoid a change in control of our company, even if a transaction of this nature would be beneficial to our other shareholders. It also has the power to approve transactions between related parties or corporate reorganizations. Under the terms of the Bradesco Foundation's bylaws, all members of the executive board, and departmental directors working in the Organization for over ten years are members of the Bradesco Foundation's governing body. The governing body does not have other members. Decisions on our policy in relation to acquisitions, disposals of equity investments, loans or other transactions taken by Bradesco Foundation may be contrary to the interests of holders of common shares and have a negative impact on the interests of holders of common shares.

Changes in regulations relating to reserve requirements and compulsory deposits and taxes may reduce operating margins.

The Central Bank has periodically altered the levels of compulsory deposits that financial institutions in Brazil are required to keep at the Central Bank. For example, in February 2010, the Central Bank increased compulsory deposit requirements on time deposits. In June 2010, compulsory deposit requirements on demand deposits were raised. In December 2010, compulsory deposits on time deposits and additional compulsory deposit requirements were raised.

In January 2011, the Central Bank also introduced compulsory deposits and obligatory cash reserves on foreign-currency short positions. Some of the rules relating to compulsory deposits were altered by the Central Bank in March 2011 mainly in order to encourage mid-sized banks to increase their capital using profits earned in 2010. In July 2011, the CMN consolidated and redefined rules for compulsory deposit requirements on short positions in foreign currency.

In December 2011, Central Bank Circular 3569 consolidated and redefined certain rules governing the use of compulsory deposit requirements on time deposits. Standouts among the principal alterations were the inclusion of financial notes in the list of assets eligible for deduction from compulsory deposits requirements for time deposits. Some of the provisions relating to compulsory deposit requirements on time deposits were again altered by the Central Bank in February 2012 in order to stimulate the acquisition of loan portfolios of smaller banks by larger banks, thus allowing a certain part of the funds that would be held without remuneration to be invested in these new portfolios. Through this measure, the Central Bank expected to create more liquidity for smaller institutions. In March 2012, the Central Bank allowed deduction of agricultural loans from compulsory deposit requirements against time deposits. The Central Bank expected this measure to result in R$ 3.0 billion in additional funding for loans and investments in agriculture and livestock.

The Central Bank may raise reserve requirements and compulsory deposits in the future or may introduce new reserve requirements and compulsory deposits.

Compulsory deposits generally earn lower returns than other investments and deposits, since:

- part of our compulsory deposits do not receive remuneration from the Central Bank; and
- part of our compulsory deposits must be used to finance the federal housing program, Brazil's agricultural sector, low-income customers and small businesses through what is known as a "microcredit program."

Our compulsory deposit requirements for demand deposits, savings and time accounts and additional compulsory deposits amounted to R$ 71.2 billion at December 31, 2011. Reserve requirements have been used by the Central Bank to control liquidity as part of its monetary policy in the past, and Bradesco has no control over these requirements. Any increase in compulsory deposit requirements may reduce its ability to make loans and other investments and may thus negatively affect Bradesco.

Changes in taxes and other fiscal initiatives may adversely affect us.

The Brazilian government regularly changes tax regimes and takes other fiscal initiatives that affect us and our customers. The latter include changes in tax rates and occasionally temporary taxes, the proceeds from which are used for the government's purposes. The effects of these changes and other changes resulting from additional tax initiatives have not been, and cannot be quantified and there is no guarantee that these laws, once implemented, will not have a negative effect on our business dealings. Furthermore, such changes may lead to uncertainties for the financial system, raise the cost of loans and contribute to an increase in the non-performing loans and advances portfolio.

Brazil's Constitution set a ceiling for interest rates on loans, including interest rates on bank loans, and the impact of subsequent legislation containing regulations on this matter is uncertain.

The Brazilian constitution's Article 192, promulgated in 1988, set a 12% per annum cap for interest rates charged on bank loans. However, after promulgation of the constitution, this rate was not put into practice since the regulatory aspects for the cap were still pending. The interpretation that this ceiling has not yet come into force was recently confirmed by Binding Precedent No. 7, a final decision and binding precedent promulgated by Federal Supreme Court in 2008, confirming the court's previous view on this issue. Since 1988, several attempts have been made to adjust lending rates, particularly interest rates on bank loans, but none have been implemented or upheld by higher courts in Brazil.

On May 29, 2003, Constitutional Amendment No. 40 (locally known as EC 40/03) was enacted to repeal all paragraphs and subparagraphs of Article 192 of Brazil's constitution. This amendment allows the Brazilian financial system, also known as "SFB", to be regulated by specific laws for each system sector rather than a single law for the system as a whole.

Under the new Civil Code (Law 10406 of January 10, 2002), in its current wording, unless parties to a loan agreement have agreed on a different rate, the interest rate was capped at the basic interest rate charged by the National Treasury. This basic rate is now the SELIC rate, which stood at 9.0% per annum on April 19, 2012. However, there is some uncertainty as to whether this applicable base rate would be the SELIC rate or the 12% per annum interest rate stipulated in the Tax Code (Código Tributário).

The impacts of EC 40/03 and the determinations of the new Civil Code are uncertain at the moment, but any substantial increase or decrease in the interest rate may have a material effect on the financial conditions, results from operations or prospects of Brazilian financial institutions, including Bradesco.

Furthermore, some Brazilian courts have, in the past, issued rulings restricting interest rates on consumer financing transactions that are regarded as unfair or excessive in comparison with market practices. Future decisions by Brazilian courts, or changes in legislation and regulations restricting interest rates charged by financial institutions may have a negative effect on our business.

Our losses relating to insurance claims may vary from time to time and differences between losses on actual claims and underwriting assumptions and actuarial reserves may have an adverse effect on us.

Our result from operations depends significantly on the extent to which our actual level of claims is consistent with assumptions we used when valuing our obligations related to current and future claims and setting prices for our insurance products. We attempt to limit our liability and price our insurance products, based on expected payments of benefits calculated using several factors such as: assumptions for returns on investments, mortality and disability expenses, continuity and certain macroeconomic factors such as inflation and interest rates. These assumptions may deviate from our previous experience, due to factors beyond our control, such as natural disasters (floods, fires and explosions), human disasters (protests, terrorist or gang attacks) and changes in mortality and incapacity rates as a result of advances in medicine and increased longevity, among other factors. Therefore, we are unable to accurately determine the values that will ultimately be paid to settle these obligations, or when these payments will have to be made, or if the assets guaranteeing our insurance obligations, together with future premiums, will be sufficient to cover payments against these obligations. These values may vary in relation to estimates, especially when payments do not occur until the distant future, as is the case with some of our life insurance products. To the extent that the actual experience of loss events and claims is less favorable than the underlying assumptions used to calculate obligations, we may be required to increase our reserves, which may adversely affect our cash flow.

If our actual losses exceed our reserves for the risks we underwrite, we may be adversely affected.

Our results from operations and financial condition depend on our ability to accurately assess actual losses associated with the risks that we have underwritten. Our current reserves are based on estimates that rely on available information and involve many factors, including experiences of recent losses, current economic conditions, internal risk ratings, actuarial and statistical projections of expected costs of settling future claims, such as estimates of future trends for the severity and frequency of claims, legal theories concerning liability, levels and/or time of receipt or payment of premiums and retirement, mortality and incapacity rates, continuity, among others. Consequently, calculating reserves is inherently uncertain and our actual losses are often different from such estimates, sometimes by a substantial margin. Deviations occur for several reasons. For example: since we recognize our impaired loans and advances losses based on estimates of losses incurred, this amount may not be sufficient to cover losses; we have a larger number of claims; or our costs may be higher than our estimates. If actual losses significantly exceed our reserves, we may be adversely affected.

We are jointly liable for our customers' losses if our reinsurers fail to meet their obligations under reinsurance contracts.

Purchasing reinsurance does not exempt us from liability to our customers if a reinsurer fails to comply with its obligations under reinsurance contracts. Consequently, the reinsurer's insolvency or failure to make timely payments as described in the contracts could have an adverse effect on us, since we continue to be liable to our insured persons.

Our strategy of marketing and expanding Internet Banking in Brazil may not be well received or may be more costly than profitable.

We have aggressively insisted on using the Internet for banking and other services to our customers and we expect to continue to do so. However, the market for our Internet products is evolving rapidly and becoming increasingly competitive. We cannot predict whether this market will grow or how fast it may grow. Additionally, should we fail to effectively adapt to growth and new developments in the Internet and technology market, our business, competitiveness or results from operations could be adversely affected.

The Internet may not prove to be a viable retail market in Brazil for a number of reasons, including lack of acceptable security technology, potentially inadequate development of the required infrastructure, lack of marketing and development required for improved performance, or visible lack of customer trust in our systems.

A fault in our operational or security systems, or a breach of these systems, may temporarily disrupt our business, increase our costs and lead to losses.

Although we have ostensible information security controls, continuous investments in infrastructure, operations and crisis management in good order, our data processing, business, financial, and accounting systems, or other operational systems or instruments may cease to function correctly for a limited period of time or become temporarily disabled or damaged due to a number of factors, including events that are wholly or partly beyond our control, such as: electrical or telecommunications faults; breakdowns; system failures or other events affecting third parties with whom we do business, or in our tools for business activities, including currency exchange, clearinghouses, financial intermediaries or service providers; and large-scale local political events, or social problems, or cyber attacks.

Cyber attacks and temporary interruptions or failures in our physical structure, operational systems supporting our business and customers, may result in friction with customers, regulatory fines, penalties or intervention, refunds or other compensation costs.

4.2 - Comments on expected alterations of exposure to risk factors

No reduction or increase in the issuer's exposure is expected in relation to risks mentioned in item 4.1.

4.3 - Non-confidential significant judicial, administrative or arbitration proceedings

In terms of assessing materiality, Bradesco has found that there are no cases that could materially damage its image or pose legal risks. Cases relating to this item were obtained from a materiality of R$ 359 million, which represents 0.5% of the issuer's capital base (R$ 71,746 million). Therefore, we selected cases whose financial impacts exceed this material amount. Any differences between the cases shown below and the values shown in Notes refer to processes that individually involve amounts below the level we consider material.

Bradesco is a party in judicial proceedings involving labor, civil-liability and tax claims arising in the normal course of its business.

Provisions were made taking into account: the opinion of legal advisors, the nature of the actions, similarity with previous cases, complexity and positioning of the courts, whenever loss is rated "probable".

Management believes that provision is sufficient to cover any losses arising from these cases.

Liabilities related to legal obligation currently in litigation is maintained until as case is conclusively won, which means favorable legal decisions that may no longer be appealed, or falls due to prescription.

Labor contingency

Currently we are defendants in labor proceedings or actions brought by former employees, claiming in particular "overtime payments". In cases in which judicial deposit is required, the amount of the labor contingency is made presuming loss of these deposits. For the other cases, provision is based on the average value of payments made in cases judged in the last 12 months.

Time-clocks were introduced to control actual hours worked in 1992, and overtime is paid in the ordinary course of the employment contract. Therefore, labor claims brought after 1997 individually involve much smaller amounts.

On December 31, 2011, our provision for labor-claim related liabilities rated "probable" reached R$ 2,311,160 thousand.

There are no individually material cases based on the above-mentioned criterion.

Civil-liability contingency

These claims for moral and property damages mostly relate to protests for non-payment, returned checks, debtor details recorded in credit restriction databases, and repayment of amounts reduced by inflation rate adjustments resulting from economic plans. These actions are controlled individually through our computerized system and provisioned whenever loss is rated "probable", based on the opinions of legal advisors, the nature of actions, similarity with previous cases, complexity and positioning of the courts.

Most of these actions involve petty claims courts, or Special Civil Courts (JECs), in which claims are limited to 40 times the minimum monthly wage, and are not events that could significantly impact our financial result.

Note the existence of a substantial number of legal actions claiming reimbursement of amounts adjusted by inflation indices when balances held in savings accounts were reduced under economic plans as part of federal government economic policy for combating inflation in the past. Although the Organization complied with the legislation in force at the time, these cases are being provisioned in light of the actions notified so far and the corresponding perspective of loss analyzed from the point of view the current jurisprudence of the Higher Court of Justice (STJ).

Two points should be noted in relation to litigation concerning economic plans: a) there is no significant potential liability, since the right to new claims has been prescribed, and b) the Supreme Court suspended analysis of all appeals lodged until its final ruling.

24– Reference Form – 2012

4.Risk factors

On December 31, 2011, our provision for liabilities relating to civil-law actions rated "probable" reached R$ 3,338,400 thousand.

There are no individually material cases based on the above-mentioned criterion.

Note that repetitive or related civil liability cases based on similar facts or causes, which are considered material as a whole, are listed in item 4.6.

Tax and social-insurance/pension contingencies

The Bradesco Organization has brought legal actions challenging the constitutionality of certain taxes and social contributions, which are fully provisioned despite good chances of success in the medium and long term, in the opinion of our legal advisors.

On December 31, 2011, our provision for tax and social security contingencies totaled R$ 12,276,890 thousand.

Based on our assessment of materiality, the cases shown below involve tax and social security issues and the chances of losing were rated "remote or possible":

Below, we highlight cases no longer included in this item, compared with the 2011 Reference Form (base date 12/31/2010), and the reasons for their exclusion:

- Administrative proceedings No. 16327.001557/2010-03 - Notification of assessment in relation to social security contributions (INSS) charged on private pension fund contributions that the tax authorities classed as remuneration subject to this contribution and on values of transportation vouchers paid in cash.

Date brought: 12/10/2010.

Case excluded for not reaching the criterion used for materiality.

- Administrative proceedings 12267.000211/2008-66 - Originating from NFLD 37.107.894-6, issued to avoid lapse of deferred tax assets challenged in court - INSS on individual taxpayers (Apr/2000 - Sept/2006).

Date brought: 09/27/2007.

Case excluded for not reaching the criterion used for materiality.

4.4 - Non-confidential judicial, administrative or arbitration proceedings in which the other parties are officers, former officers, controlling companies, former controlling companies, or investors

We are not involved in any case covered by the conditions mentioned in item 4.4.

4.5 - Significant confidential cases

We are not involved in any case covered by the conditions mentioned in item 4.5.

4.6 - Repeated or related significant and non-confidential judicial, administrative or arbitration proceedings, as a whole

Civil liability action in which customers who had amounts invested in savings accounts when government economic plans were introduced (“Bresser Plan”, “Summer Plan” and the “Collor Plan”) claim that they were adversely affected by altered indices used to adjust savings.

31– Reference Form – 2012

4. Risk factors

We are not involved in any case covered by the conditions mentioned in item 4.5.

- a) amounts involved: R$ 1,494,280,636.09
- b) amount provisioned (if applicable): R$ 1,494,280,636.09
- c) practice of the issuer or its subsidiary that gave rise to this contingency: Like all the other financial institutions, the issuer complied with legislative programs designed to control inflation in 1987, 1989 and 1990, which were known as the "Bresser Plan", "Summer Plan" and "Collor Plan" respectively. These "Plans" modified indices used for inflation adjustment of amounts in savings accounts. Now, some 20 years later, account holders alleging losses due to these alterations are asking the courts to order financial institutions to use the previous indices.

Individually none of these cases involve significant amounts.

4.7 - Other material contingencies

There are no significant contingencies other than those covered in previous items.

4.8 - Rules of the country of origin or country in which securities are custodied

Not applicable as Bradesco is not classed as a foreign issuer.

5. Market Risk

5.1 - Description of principal market risks

Bradesco is exposed to market risks inherent to its business, such as currency risk and interest rate risk, since its role as financial intermediary involves borrowing and lending/financing using various types of indexers.

As good governance practice for its risk management, Bradesco has an ongoing process for managing its positions, which includes control of all positions exposed to market risk using measures consistent with best practices internationally and the New Capital Accord – Basel II. There is an area monitoring and controlling limits for market risk exposure independently of trading business areas.

Proposed risk limits are validated by specific business committees and ratified by the Risk and Capital Allocation Integrated Management committee, to be submitted for approval by the Board of Directors, depending on the characteristics of transactions, which are separated into the following portfolios:

Trading Portfolio: consists of all transactions with financial instruments, including derivatives, held with the intention of trading or to hedge other trading portfolio assets, and not subject to restrictions on their tradability. Transaction held for trading are those intended for resale, to obtain arbitrage benefits from actual or expected prices.

Banking Portfolio: transactions not classified in the Trading Portfolio. Consist of structural transactions derived from the Organization's different lines of business and its respective hedging transactions.

Market Risk Measurement Models

Market risk is measured and controlled using Value at Risk (VaR), Economic Value Equity (EVE), stress testing and sensitivity analysis, in addition to limits of management of results and financial exposure.

Trading Portfolio and Banking Portfolio Equity Risk

Although controlled separately, risks relating to the Trading and Banking portfolio equity positions are measured using the Delta-Normal VaR methodology for one-day horizons, with a confidence level of 99%, and volatility and correlation levels are calculated using statistical methods that give higher weightings to recent returns.

Trading portfolio risk is also controlled by stress testing to quantify the negative impact of economic shocks and events that are financially unfavorable for our positions. Analysis uses stress scenarios prepared by our Market Risk and Economic units, based on historical and prospective data for risk factors affecting Trading portfolio positions.

Banking Portfolio – Interest Rate Risk

Measurement and control of interest rate risk for the Banking portfolio uses EVE methodology, which measures economic impact on positions arising from scenarios prepared by our Economics units, which chart any positive or negative changes in yield curves affecting our investments and funding efforts.

EVE methodology consists of re-pricing the portfolio subject to interest-rate variation taking into account increases or decreases in the rates used for calculating present value and total tenor/expiration of assets and liabilities. On this basis, the portfolio's economic value is calculated for interest rates on the date of the analysis and for scenarios projected over a one-year horizon. Any difference between the values obtained for the portfolio will be the EVE, or interest-rate risk attributed to the portfolio.

Evolution of Exposure to Risk

VaR Internal Model – Trading Portfolio

Total value at risk at the end of 2011 showed an increase compared to 2010, as shown in the table below:

Stress Analysis – Trading Portfolio

To estimate any loss not covered by VaR, the organization conducts daily assessments of any impacts on positions in stress scenarios for 20-day horizons. Taking into account the effect of diversification across risk factors, the estimated medium possibility of loss in stress situations would be R$ 1,530 million in December 2011, while estimated maximum loss would be R$ 2,267 million.

Sensitivity analysis

The Trading portfolio is also monitored by daily sensitivity analysis, which measures the effect of varying market curves and prices on our positions. In addition, we run a quarterly sensitivity analysis of our financial exposure (Trading and Banking portfolios) in compliance with CVM Instruction No. 475/08. However, note that the impacts of the Banking portfolio's financial exposure (particularly the interest rate and price indices factors) do not necessarily represent potential accounting losses for the Organization. This is because some Banking portfolio loans are financed by sight deposits and/or savings, which are natural hedges against any interest-rate fluctuations; interest-rate fluctuations do not have a material impact on our earnings, since securities are intended to be held to maturity.

5. Market Risk

The sensitivity analysis shown below applies exclusively to the Trading portfolio and shows exposures that may have significant impacts on the Organization's results. Note that the results show impacts for each scenario in a static portfolio position. Given the dynamic nature of the market, these positions are continuously changing and do not necessarily reflect the position here stated. In addition, as mentioned previously, the Bank is continuously managing market risk, and constantly analyzing the market's dynamism to find ways of mitigating/minimizing associated risks in accordance with strategy determined by senior management. Therefore, in cases of signs of deterioration of a certain position, we take proactive initiatives to minimize possible negative impacts and maximize risk-return ratios for the Organization.

Sensitivity analyses were performed using scenarios prepared for the respective dates, in all cases using market information data for the periods and scenarios that would adversely affect our positions.

Scenario 1: Based on market information (BM&FBovespa, Anbima, etc.), shocks were applied for a 1 basis point interest rate hike and 1% price variation. For example: in the scenario applied to positions as of 12.31.2011, the dollar was quoted at R$ 1.88. For the interest-rate scenario, the 1-year fixed rate applied to positions as of 12.31.2011 was 10.06% per annum.

Scenario 2: 25% shocks were determined based on the market. For example: in the scenario applied to positions as of 12.31.2011, the dollar was quoted at R$ 2.33. For the interest-rate scenario, the 1-year fixed rate applied to positions as of 12.31.2011 was 12.56% per annum. The scenarios for the other risk factors also accounts for 25% shocks in their yield curves or prices.

Scenario 3: 50% shocks were determined based on the market. For example: in the scenario applied to positions as of 12.31.2011, the dollar was quoted at R$ 2.80. For the interest-rate scenario, the 1-year fixed rate applied to positions as of 12.31.2011 was 15.07% per annum. The scenarios for the other risk factors also accounts for 50% shocks in their yield curves or prices.

5.2 - Description of market risk management policy

a) risks for which hedging is sought

The Treasury Department is the only unit in the organization with a mandate to assume risks in the trading portfolio. In addition, Treasury is responsible for decisions to mitigate risk in the financial conglomerate's commercial portfolio, which involves volatility, currency, liquidity, share price and interest rate risk.

All Organization's exposures to market risk are admitted up to the limits established by the board of directors, which are reviewed at least annually.

b) asset protection strategy (hedging)

The Organization's Treasury has a hedging policy determining that its hedging transactions must necessarily cancel out or mitigate risks of mismatch in quantities, terms, currencies and indexes, and be within the limits of risk exposure approved by the board of directors.

c) instruments used for asset protection (hedging)

Given the characteristics of its business and its international operations, the Organization uses a number of financial instruments for hedging, including trading in securities issued by governments or private companies, as well as exchange-traded or OTC derivatives.

d) Parameters used for managing these risks

Proposed risk limits are validated by specific business committees and ratified by the Risk and Capital Allocation Integrated Management committee, then submitted for approval by the Board of Directors, depending on the characteristics of Trading and Banking portfolio transactions.

The Integrated Risk Control Department acts separately from business management to monitor compliance with limits set and produces management reports to control positions that are sent to business areas and Senior Management, in addition to weekly reports and periodic presentations to the Board of Directors.

The following Trading Portfolio limits are monitored:

- Risk;
- Stress;
- Results; and
- Financial exposure.

The following Banking Portfolio limits are monitored:

- Interest Rate Risk; and
- S
- tock portfolio.

In addition to the above-mentioned limits, there are specific limits for each Treasury Department trader.

e) whether issuer trades in financial instruments for purposes other than asset protection (hedging) and what these purposes are

As part of its proposal as a financial institution, the Organization meets customer demand for swaps, term and other transactions, as well as proprietary treasury trades within the limits of market risk exposure set by the board of directors.

f) organizational structure for controlling risk management

The Organization aims to be aligned with international best practices in the market, local regulations and recommendations of the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision. Therefore it applied to the Central Bank of Brazil, June 30, 2010, for authorization to use its own internal risk models for market risk measurement and capital allocation in compliance with the Bank's requirements and thus with those of the New Basel Capital Accord too.

5. Market Risk

The Integrated Risk Control Department's mission is to foster and facilitate control of the Organization's risk and capital allocation activities independently, consistently, and transparently on an integrated basis, and it has the responsibility to:

- Propose methods for measuring risks;
- Detect, calculate, and report risks;
- Control calculated risks in relation to limits set;
- Calculate capital allocation;
- Propose and decide policies and revisions, rules and procedures relating to market and liquidity risk management.

Macro-process for market risk management

- (1) Planning, Budget and Control Department (“DPOC”);
- (2) Integrated Risk Control Department (“DCIR”);–
- (3) Internal Controls and Compliance Department (“DCIC”);
- (4) Economic Research and Studies Department (“DEPEC”); and
- (5) Market Relations Department (“DRM”).

Market risk is monitored by meetings of the Treasury's executive committees, and Market and Liquidity Risk management departments. In addition, monitoring is also carried out by the Integrated Risk Management and Capital Allocation Committee, which is also responsible for holding special meetings to review positions and situations in which risk exposure limits may be exceeded, thus prompting the Board to take measures and adopt strategies for validation as required.

The Integrated Risk Management and Capital Allocation Committee have the following responsibilities:

- ensure compliance with the Organization's risk management policies;
- ensure the efficacy of the risk management process;
- adopt exposure limits by type of risk, depending on risk appetite approved by the Board of Directors;
- validate and submit to the board of directors:

I. - policies for risk and capital management;

5. Market Risk

II. - proposals for risk appetite and exposure limits by type of risks; and

III. - the results of reviews of risk and capital management policies and structures at intervals stated in regulations, or more often;

- report to the board of directors on risk management, capital requirements and adequacy, any material alterations of strategies adopted, and the status of business continuity plans;
- be informed of internal and external audit reports pertaining to risk management and results relating to Independent Model Validation;
- regularly inform the board of directors of the Committee's activities;
- review and propose to the Board of Directors updates to the Risk Management Executive Committee's rules and regulations when necessary; and
- provide the board of directors with comprehensive and integrated overviews of risks and their impacts on capital.

Market and Liquidity Risk executive committee has the following responsibilities:

- ensure compliance with the Organization's Risk Management and Market Liquidity policies;
- ensure the efficacy of market and liquidity risk management processes in the ambit of the Organization;
- adopt and revise, in relation to management of market and liquidity risks:

I. - definitions, criteria and tools; and

II. - measure(s) adopted for statistics, econometrics, and mathematical modeling methods;

- evaluate and submit policy structure, roles, responsibilities and procedures of the dependencies involved in market and liquidity risk management for validation by Bradesco's Integrated Risk Management and Capital Allocation Committee, as well as reviews conducted annually or more often;
- validate results from backtesting models and other matters deemed pertinent;
- create conditions for reviews by the Independent Models Validation unit and by internal and independent auditors; and
- delegate responsibilities to technical committees involved in market and liquidity risk management.

Finally, the Treasury Executive Committee's responsibilities are:

- reporting and monitoring performance, behavior and risks of different portfolios and benchmarks maintained by the Organization, including liquidity reserves;
- defining Treasury's strategies to optimize results, based on analyzing political-economic scenarios locally and internationally;
- validating proposed risk exposure tolerance limits for Treasury to be submitted for approval by the Integrated Risk Management and Capital Allocation Committee;

- validating proposed liquidity policy, to be subject to approval by the Integrated Risk Management and Capital Allocation Committee;
- holding special meetings to review positions and situations in which risk exposure and tolerance limits are exceeded; and
- discuss and decide in relation to new products traded on financial markets.

g) adequacy of operational structure and internal controls for verifying the effectiveness of policy adopted

The Organization has its specific Internal Controls and Compliance Department (locally DCIC) which is segregated from those running trading business and corporate risk management, and runs a unit focusing on internal controls and compliance. This department also has a unit tasked with independently validating models and gauging the adherence and adequacy of models used for risk management. Additionally, all the Organization's departments and companies have persons responsible for introducing, appraising and deploying controls, and applicable adherence tests.

There is also the General Inspection Department, which is responsible for the Organization's internal auditing.

5.3 - Significant alterations of principal market risks

In relation to risk management policy, an annual review is conducted by the Board of Directors, and it has not been materially altered in the period.

5. Market Risk

As shown in item 5.1, there were no alterations in means used for mitigating risks, thus upholding the institution's conservative profile. The bank's risk levels have historically been related to the yield curve of both nominal and real interest rates.

Bradesco forwards daily reports to the Central Bank showing the market risk of its trading portfolio, with its exposures to foreign currency and commodities. In this case, the reported risk is calculated based on the standard model established by the Central Bank and is used to measure the regulatory capital the Organization must hold to support risks involved in its activities. Therefore, like other financial institutions, the Bradesco Organization operates in accordance with Central Bank rules, and its risks are subject to the Basel index, which determines an institution's maximum leverage depending on its reference equity.

5.4 - Other material information

Bradesco supplies weekly reports to its Senior Management, its Board of Directors and the Central Bank of Brazil showing interest rate risk for its Banking Portfolio, which include all the financial conglomerate's companies.

6.3 - Brief history

Banco Bradesco S.A. was founded in 1943 as a commercial bank under the name of Banco Brasileiro de Descontos S.A. In 1948, we embarked on a period of intensive growth to become the largest private-sector commercial bank in Brazil by the late 1960s. We expanded our activities all over Brazil in the 1970s, and gained new urban and rural markets.

In 1988, as authorized by the Central Bank of Brazil, Bradesco was reorganized as a "multiple bank" or "universal bank"; the housing finance company was absorbed in order to operate commercial and real estate portfolios, and its business name was altered to Bradesco S.A. – Banco Comercial e de Crédito Imobiliário and on 01.13.1989, it was again changed to Banco Bradesco S.A., as the current name of Banco Brasileiro de Descontos S.A.

In 1989, the company known as Financiadora Bradesco S.A. Crédito, Financiamento e Investimentos altered its business name and its business purpose, which led to the Central Bank of Brazil canceling its authorization to operate as a financial institution, and its Credit, Financing and Investment Portfolio was then constituted, and in 1992 Banco Bradesco de Investimento S.A. (BBI) was absorbed by Bradesco, when the Investment Portfolio was assembled.

We are one of Brazil's largest private-sector banks in terms of total assets. We provide a wide range of banking products and financial services in Brazil and internationally for individuals and business (small, mid-size and large companies). We have the most extensive private sector branch and service network in Brazil, allowing us to reach a diverse client base. Loans and advances to consumers

Our significant volume of individual loans enables us to reduce the impact of single individual loans on the performance of our portfolio and helps build customer loyalty. They consist primarily of:

- short-term loans, extended through our branches to checking account holders and, within certain limits, through our ATM network. These short-term loans are on average repaid in four months with an average interest rate of 7.1% per month as of December 31, 2011;
- vehicle financings are on average repaid in sixteen months with an average interest rate of 2.1% per month as of December 31, 2011; and

7. Issuer business activities

- overdraft loans on checking accounts (which we call “Cheque Especial”), which are on average repaid in one month, at interest rates varying from 8.2% to 8.9% per month as of December 31, 2011.

We also provide revolving credit facilities and traditional term loans. As of December 31, 2011, we had outstanding advances, vehicle financings, consumer loans and revolving credit totaling R$58.0 billion, or 22.0% of our portfolio of loans and advances as of that date. On the basis of loans outstanding on that date, we had a 12.1% share of the Brazilian consumer loan market, according to information published by the Central Bank.

Banco Bradesco Financiamentos offers direct-to-consumer credit and leasing for the acquisition of vehicles and payroll-deductible loans to the public and private sectors in Brazil.

Supported by BF Promotora de Vendas Ltda., and using the “Bradesco Financiamentos” brand, the Bank operates through its extensive network of correspondents in Brazil, consisting of retailers and dealers selling light vehicles, trucks and motorcycles, to offer financing and/or leasing for vehicles.

With support from BP Promotora de Vendas Ltda., and the “Bradesco Promotora” brand, we offer payroll-deductible loans to social security retirees and pensioners, public-sector employees, military personnel and private-sector companies sponsoring plans, and other aggregated products (insurance, capitalization bonds, cards, purchasing consortiums, and others). With correspondents, we also work in partnership with “Bradesco Varejo” branches to prospect business for this segment.

Real estate financing

As of December 31, 2011, we had 63,156 outstanding real estate loans. We financed 30.6% of the financial sector lending for civil construction in Brazil as of November, 2011 according to data published by the Central Bank. As of December 31, 2011, the aggregate outstanding amount of our real estate loans amounted to R$15.9 billion, representing 6.0% of our portfolio of loans and advances.

Real estate financing is made through the Housing Finance System - SFH (Sistema Financeiro Habitacional), by the Housing Mortgage Portfolio - CHF (Carteira Hipotecária Habitacional) or by the Commercial Mortgage Portfolio - CHC - (Carteira Hipotecária Comercial). Loans from SFH or CHH feature variable-installment repayments and annual interest rates ranging from 7.8% to 11.5% plus TR, or 13.0% from CHC. Loans from SFH with pre-fixed installment repayment are made at annual interest rates of 13.2% for properties valued at no more than R$150,000.

Residential SFH and CHH loans are for repayment within thirty years and commercial loans within ten years.

Our individual loans made for construction purposes are repaid within 30 years, with 24 months to finish construction, a 2-month grace period and the remainder for repaying the loan. The annual interest rate on these loans is TR plus 10.5% for the SFH loans, or a fixed 13.2% for homes valued at R$150,000 or less.

We also extend corporate financing for builders under the SFH. These loans are for construction purposes and typically specify 36 months for completion of construction work and repayments starting within 36 months after official registration of the building. These loans are based on the variation of Brazil's reference rate (TR) and interest rates of 10% to 12% per annum during construction under official Housing Finance System (SFH) programs, or TR plus 14% per annum under Hypothecated Loan Portfolio (CHH) programs.

Central Bank regulations require us to provide real estate financing in the amount of at least 65% of the balance of our savings accounts. In addition to real estate financing, mortgage notes, charged-off real estate financing, and other financings can be used to satisfy this requirement. We generally do not finance more than 80% of the purchase price or the market value of a property, whichever is lower.

Microcredit

We extend microcredit to low-income individuals and small companies, in accordance with Central Bank regulations requiring banks to use 2% of their cash deposits to provide microcredit loans. We started providing microcredit loans in August 2003. As of December 31, 2011, we had 69,491 microcredit loans outstanding, totaling R$62.8 million.

In accordance with Central Bank regulations, most microcredit loans are charged at a maximum effective interest rate of 2% per month. However, microcredit loans for certain types of business or specific production have a maximum effective interest rate of 4%. The CMN requires that the maximum amount loaned to a borrower be limited to (i) R$2,000 for individuals in general, (ii) R$5,000 for individuals developing certain professional, commercial or industrial activities or for micro companies, and (iii) R$15,000 for microcredit loans in certain segments. In addition, microcredit loans must be not for less than 120 days, and origination fee must be 2% to 3% of the loan value.

BNDES onlending

The Brazilian government has a program to provide government-funded long-term loans with below-market interest rates to sectors of the economy that it has targeted for development. We borrow funds under this program from either (i) BNDES, the federal government's development bank, or (ii) Agência Especial de Financiamento Industrial (Finame), or "Finame," the equipment financing subsidiary of BNDES. We then on-lend these funds to borrowers in targeted sectors of the economy. We determine the spread on the loans based on the borrowers' credit. Although we bear the risk for these BNDES and Finame onlending transactions, they are always secured.

According to BNDES, we disbursed R$15.5 billion, 65.5% of which was loaned to micro-, small- and medium-sized companies in 2011. Our BNDES onlending portfolio totaled R$35.4 billion as of December 31, 2011, and accounted for 13.4% of our portfolio of loans and advances at that date.

Other local commercial loans

We provide traditional loans for the ongoing needs of our corporate customers. We had R$85.8 billion of outstanding other local commercial loans, accounting for 32.5% of our portfolio of loans and advances as of December 31, 2011. We offer a range of loans to our Brazilian corporate customers, including:

- short-term loans of twenty nine days or less;
- working capital loans to cover our customers' cash needs;
- guaranteed checking accounts and corporate overdraft loans;
- discounting trade receivables, promissory notes, checks, credit card and supplier receivables, and a number of other receivables;
- financing for purchase and sale of goods and services;
- corporate real estate financing;
- investment lines for acquisition of assets and machinery; and
- guarantees.

These lending products generally bear an interest rate of 1.9% to 8.4% per month.

Rural Loans

We extend loans to the agricultural sector by financing demand deposits, BNDES onlendings and our own funds, in accordance with Central Bank regulations. As of December 31, 2011, we had R$11.0 billion in outstanding rural loans, representing 4.2% of our portfolio of loans and advances.

In accordance with Central Bank regulations, loans arising from compulsory deposits are paid a fixed rate. The annual fixed rate was 6.75% as of December 31, 2011. Repayment of these loans generally coincides with agricultural harvest and principal is due when a crop is sold. Under BNDES onlending programs for investment in agriculture, we offer loans for up to 5 years with semiannual or annual repayments. As security for such loans, we generally obtain a mortgage on the land where the agricultural activities being financed are conducted.

Since July 2011, Central Bank regulations require us to use at least 28% of our checking account deposits to provide loans to the agricultural sector. If we do not reach 28%, we must deposit the unused amount in a non-interest-bearing account with the Central Bank.

Leasing

According to ABEL, as of December 31, 2011, our leasing companies were among the sector leaders, with an 18.5% market share. According to this source, the aggregate discounted present value of the leasing portfolios in Brazil as of December 31, 2011 was R$62.4 billion.

As of December 31, 2011, we had 423,800 outstanding leasing agreements totaling R$11.6 billion, representing 4.4% of our portfolio of loans and advances.

The Brazilian leasing market is dominated by large banks and both domestic- and foreign-owned companies affiliated with vehicle manufacturers. Brazilian lease contracts generally relate to motor vehicles, computers, industrial machinery and other equipment.

Most of our leases are financial (as opposed to operational). Our leasing operations primarily involve the leasing of trucks, cranes, aircraft and heavy machinery. As of December 31, 2011, 75.1% of our outstanding leases were vehicle leases, compared with 67.1% in the Brazilian leasing market as a whole.

We conduct our leasing operations through our primary leasing subsidiary, Bradesco Leasing and also through Bradesco Financiamentos.

We obtain funding for our leasing operations primarily by issuing debentures and other securities in the domestic market.

As of December 31, 2011, Bradesco Leasing had R$63.1 billion of debentures outstanding in the domestic market. These debentures will mature in 2028 and bear monthly interests at the CDI rate.

For companies with employees working in Brazil, this card will avoid currency exchange charges, enable them to manage expenses and ensure direct communication with corporate accounts. Through this partnership, Bradesco is expanding its presence in the corporate credit card business, thus enabling it to offer customized products for each segment.

We earn revenues from our credit card operations through:

- fees on purchases carried out in commercial establishments;
- issuance fees and annual fees;
- interest on credit card balances;
- interest and fees on cash withdrawals through ATMs;

- interest on cash advances to cover future payments owed to establishments that accept credit cards; and
- several fees charged cardholders and affiliated commercial establishments.

- in Mexico, our subsidiary Ibi Services, Sociedad de Responsabilidad Limitada, or “Ibi Mexico.”

Our Bradesco Nassau branch in the Bahamas closed on January 11, 2011.

Our international transactions are coordinated by our foreign exchange department in Brazil with support from 26 operational units specializing in foreign exchange businesses located at major exporting and importing areas nationwide.

Foreign branches and subsidiaries

Our foreign branches and subsidiaries are principally engaged in trade finance for Brazilian companies. Bradesco Europe also provides additional services to the private banking segment. With the exception of Bradesco Services Japan and Bradesco Trade Services, our branches abroad are allowed to receive deposits in foreign currency from corporate and individual customers and extend financing to Brazilian and non-Brazilian customers. Total assets of the foreign branches, excluding transactions between related parties, were R$99.4 billion, as of December 31, 2011, denominated in currencies other than the real.

Funding for import and export finance is obtained from the international financial community by means of credit lines granted by correspondent banks abroad. In addition to this traditional source of correspondent banks, our funding from public and private issues of debt securities on international capital markets amounted to US$11.1 billion during 2011.

Bradesco Argentina - To expand our operations in Latin America, in December 1999, we established our subsidiary in Argentina, Bradesco Argentina, the general purpose of which is to extend financing, largely to Brazilian companies established locally and, to a lesser extent, to Argentinean companies doing business with Brazil. In order to start its operations, we capitalized Bradesco Argentina with R$54.0 million from March 1998 to February 1999, and a further R$27.2 million in May 2007. In October 2011, we made another capital injection in the amount of R$70.1 million. As of December 31, 2011, Bradesco Argentina recorded R$139.8 million of total assets.

Bradesco Europe (Bradesco Luxembourg's current business name). In April 2002, we acquired full control of Banque Banespa International S.A. in Luxembourg and changed its name to Banco Bradesco Luxembourg S.A. In September 2003, Mercantil Luxembourg was merged into Banco Bradesco Luxembourg and the surviving entity was named Banco Bradesco Luxembourg. In January 2011, there was a capital injection of US$200 million. As of December 31, 2011, its total assets were R$3.6 billion.

Bradesco North America LLC was incorporated in August 2011 and will be used as a holding company focused on Bradesco's investments in non-bank business in the United States, with a capital increase of US$5.0 million in November 2011.

Banking operations in the United States

In January 2004, the United States Federal Reserve Bank authorized us to operate as a financial holding company in the United States. As a result, we may do business in the United States directly or through a subsidiary, and, among other lines, may sell insurance and certificates of deposit, provide underwriting services, act as advisors for private placements, provide portfolio management and merchant banking services and manage mutual fund portfolios.

Import and export finance

Our Brazilian foreign-trade related business basically consists of export and import finance.

We provide foreign currency payments directly to foreign exporters on behalf of Brazilian importers, attached to receipt of local currency payment by the importers. In export finance, exporters obtain advances in reais on closing an export forex contract for future receipt of foreign currency on the contract due date. Export finance arrangements prior to shipment of goods are known locally as Advances on Exchange Contracts or "ACCs," and the sums advanced are used to manufacture goods or provide services for export. If advances are paid after goods or services have been delivered, they are referred to as Advances on Export Contracts, or "ACEs."

Other types of export finance include export prepayment, onlending from BNDES-EXIM funds, export credit notes and bills (referred to locally as "NCEs" and "CCEs"), and the PROEX rate equalization program.

Our foreign trade portfolio is funded primarily by credit lines from correspondent banks. We maintain relations with various American, European, Asian and Latin American financial institutions for this purpose, using our network of approximately 1,000 correspondent banks abroad, 92 of which extended lines of credit as of December 31, 2011.

As of December 31, 2011, our international unit had a balance of R$27.5 billion in export financing and R$7.8 billion in import financing and international finance. In volume terms, Bradesco's export finance contracts totaled US$ 53.1 billion in 2011, which was 16.4% up on the previous year. In 2011, the volume of our foreign exchange contracts for imports reached US$36.2 billion, a 4.3% rise on 2010. In 2011, based on Central Bank data, we reached a 20.4% market share of trade finance for Brazilian exports and 17.6% for imports.

Foreign exchange products

In addition to import and export finance, our customers have access to a range of services and foreign exchange products such as:

- purchasing and selling travelers checks and foreign currency paper money;
- cross border money transfers;
- advance payment for exports;
- accounts abroad in foreign currency;
- domestic currency accounts for foreign domiciled customers;
- cash holding in other countries;
- collecting import and export receivables;
- cashing checks denominated in foreign currency;
- foreign loans to customers (Decree-Law No. 4,131/62);
- service agreements – receiving funds from individuals abroad via money orders;
- prepaid cards with foreign currency (individual); and
- structured foreign currency transactions through our foreign units.

Purchasing consortiums

In Brazil, persons or entities that wish to acquire certain goods may set up a group known as a “consortium,” in which members pool their resources to facilitate the purchase of certain consumer goods. The purpose of a consortium is to acquire goods, and Brazilian law forbids the formation of consortiums for investment purposes.

7. Issuer business activities

Our purchasing consortium company (Bradesco Consórcios) manages plans for groups of purchasers buying real estate, automobiles, and trucks/tractors. In January 2003, our subsidiary Bradesco Consórcios initiated the sale of consortium memberships, known as “quotas,” to our customers. Since May 2004, Bradesco Consórcios has been the leader in the real estate segment and, since December 2004, it has also been the leader in the vehicle segment. In October 2008, Bradesco Consórcios became leader in the truck/tractor segment. As of December 31, 2011, Bradesco Consórcios registered total sales of over 625,763 active quotas in the three segments, with total revenues of over R$26.1 billion and net income of R$339.4 million.

The health insurance policies cover medical/hospital expenses. We offer health insurance policies through Bradesco Saúde and its subsidiaries for small, medium or large companies wishing to provide benefits for their staff.

On December 31, 2011, Bradesco Saúde and its subsidiary Mediservice Administradora de Planos de Saúde S.A had more than 3.4 million beneficiaries covered by company plans and individual/family plans. Approximately 41,000 companies in Brazil pay into plans provided by Bradesco Saúde and its subsidiaries, including 45 of the top 100.

Bradesco Saúde currently has one of the largest networks of providers of health services in Brazil. As of December 31, 2011, it included 10,835 laboratories, 13,006 specialized clinics, 17,157 physicians, 3,315 hospitals located throughout the country.

Automobiles, property/casualty and liability insurance

We provide automobile, property/casualty and liability products through our subsidiary Bradesco Auto/RE. Our automobile insurance covers losses arising from vehicle theft and damage, passenger and third-party injury. Retail property/casualty insurance is for individuals, particularly those with residential and/or equipment related risks and small- and medium-sized companies whose assets are covered by multi-risk business insurance.

Of the mass property/casualty lines for individuals, our residential note (“Bilhete Residencial”) is a relatively affordable and highly profitable product. For corporate customers, Bradesco Auto/RE offers Bradesco Seguro Empresarial (business insurance), which is adapted to meet our customers’ and business needs. For corporate property/casualty and liability insurance, Bradesco Auto/RE has an exclusive highly specialized team that provides large business groups with services and products tailor-made to the specific needs of each policyholder. Top sellers in this segment are insurance policies for transportation, engineering and operational and oil risks.

As of December 31, 2011, Bradesco Auto/RE had 1.6 million insured automobiles and 2.1 million property/casualty policies and notes, making it one of Brazil’s main insurers.

Pension plans

We have managed individual and corporate pension plans since 1981 through our wholly owned subsidiary Bradesco Vida e Previdência, which is now the leading pension plan manager in Brazil, as measured by pension plan contributions, investment portfolio and technical provisions, based on information published by Fenaprevi and SUSEP.

Bradesco Vida e Previdência offers and manages a range of individual and group pension plans. Our largest individual plans in terms of contributions known as VGBL and PGBL are exempted from withholding taxes on income generated by the fund portfolio.

As of December 31, 2011, Bradesco Vida e Previdência accounted for 33.2% of the pension plan and VGBL market in terms of contributions, according to Fenaprevi. Also according to the same source, managed pension funds accounted for 34.0% of VGBL, 26.1% of PGBL and 38.5% of traditional pension plans in Brazil. As of December 31, 2011, Bradesco Vida e Previdência accounted for 33.5% of all supplementary pension plan assets under management, 33.1% of VGBL, 23.6% of PGBL and 49.2% of traditional private pension plans, according to Fenaprevi.

Brazilian law currently permits the existence of both “open” and “closed” private pension entities. “Open” private pension entities are those available to all individuals and legal entities wishing to join a benefit plan by making regular contributions. “Closed” private pension entities are those available to discrete groups of people such as employees of a specific company or a group of companies in the same sector, professionals in the same field, or members of a union. Private pension entities grant benefits on the basis of periodic contributions from their members, or their employers, or both.

7. Issuer business activities

We manage pension and VGBL plans covering more than 2.2 million participants, 65.7% of whom have individual plans, and the remainder individuals covered by company plans. The Company's plans account for approximately 34.3% of our technical reserves.

Under VGBL, PGBL and FAPI plans, participants are allowed to make contributions either in installments or in lump-sum payments. Participants in pension plans may deduct the amounts contributed to PGBL up to 12% of the participant's taxable income when making their annual tax declaration. Under current legislation, redemptions and benefits are subject to withholding tax. VGBL plan participants may not deduct their contributions when declaring income tax. At the time of redemption, and/or when benefits are paid out, tax will be levied on these benefits, pursuant to current legislation.

VGBL and PGBL plans, and individual retirement fund plans (referred to as "FAPI") may be acquired by companies in Brazil for the benefit of their employees. In 2011, Bradesco Vida e Previdência managed R$52.8 billion in VGBL and R$15.5 billion in PGBL plans. Bradesco Vida e Previdência also managed R$21.5 billion in private pension plans.

Bradesco Vida e Previdência also offers pension plans for corporate customers that are in most cases negotiated and adapted to specific needs of the corporate customer.

Bradesco Vida e Previdência earns revenues primarily from:

- Pension and PGBL plan contributions, life insurance and personal accidents premiums and VGBL premiums; and
- revenues from management fees charged participants in accordance with mathematical provisions.

Certificated savings plans

Bradesco Capitalização offers its clients certificated savings plans with the option of a lump-sum or monthly contributions. Plans vary in value (from R$8 to R$50,000.00), form of payment, contribution period, and periodicity of draws for cash prizes of up to R$2.0 million (gross premiums). Clients' contributions earn interest at a rate of TR plus 0.5% per month over the value of the mathematical provision. Certificated savings plans may be redeemed after a 12-month grace period. As of December 31, 2011, we had around 7.2 million "traditional" capitalization bonds and around 13.0 million incentive capitalization bonds. Given that the purpose of the incentive capitalization bonds is to add value to the products of a partner company or even to provide an incentive for its customer to avoid delinquency, the plans are for short terms and grace periods with low unit sales value. As of December 31, 2011, Bradesco Capitalização had approximately 20.2 million capitalization bonds and 3.1 million customers.

Bradesco Capitalização is the first and only Brazilian capitalization bonds company to be awarded ISO certification. In 2009, it was certified ISO 9001:2008 for the scope of management of plans. This certification awarded by Fundação Vanzolini attests to the quality of its internal processes and confirms the principle seen in the origin of Bradesco's plans: good products and services and continuous improvement.

Bradesco Capitalização S.A. currently has a 'brAAA/Stable' rating from Standard & Poor's and remains the only company in the segment to earn this rating. The robust level of financial and property protection Bradesco Capitalização assures its customers contributed to this result.

b) Characteristics of the distribution process

Bradesco's self-service network and Banco24horas ATMs executed 2.0 billion transactions in 2011.

Bradesco led banks in Brazil in the use of biometric reading systems. Our system is known as "Segurança Bradesco na Palma da Mão" (Bradesco security in the palm of your hand) and it can identify clients by scanning their hand's vascular pattern as an alternative password for ATM users. This technology is available on 24,119 ATMs and has been used 304.1 million times as of December 31, 2011.

Telephone services - Fone Fácil

Our "Easy Phone" (Fone Fácil) facility may be accessed 24/7. Its personalized electronic responses enable customers to obtain information, make transactions and purchase products and services related to their checking or savings accounts and credit cards. To access Fone Fácil, customers use their four-digit passwords and Bradesco security code numbers.

Customers and users use specific numbers to access a number of call centers, in particular internet banking, our network for businesses, purchaser consortiums, private pension plans, and Bradesco financing.

Hearing impaired clients have separate telephone services using digital language technology so they can inquire about products and services provided by Bradesco.

During 2011, 352.2 million calls were registered, and 364.5 million transactions completed.

Internet

"Portal Bradesco" consists of 87 websites, of which 60 host institutional content and 27 for transactions. Corporate or individual customers may access a range of banking products and services, and make transactions using Chave de Segurança Bradesco (Bradesco's security code number) in card or electronic form, or mobile-phone integrated.

Users of our institutional websites, whether customers or not, may access information about the Organization's products and services, reports on our social and environmental initiatives, and specific publications for investors, among other items. Highlights include specific websites for capitalization bonds, purchaser consortiums, insurance, investor relations, social and environmental responsibility and our Retail, Prime, Private, Corporate and Business segments.

Our transactional websites enable individual and corporate customers to complete easy, convenient and secure banking transactions. The sites hosted 3.0 billion transactions in 2011.

In 2011, Bradesco's new version of Internet Banking enhanced the user experience with more than 50 innovative features such as the quick access "A" key, the Smart Payment functionality that automatically recognizes bar codes for each type of payment, and search windows on all pages.

Bradesco Celular

Customers may use mobile phones, conveniently and securely, to obtain the balance of their account, get statements, make payments, buy prepaid mobile phone credits, transfer money, apply for loans, obtain share quotations and track buy and sell orders, among other transactions. Our website www.bradescocelular.com.br carries detailed information about the channel's products and services.

Through our text message authorized direct-debit service, pre-registered customers are sent interactive messages and may schedule or pay banking invoices/payment slips registered for automatic direct debit, using text messages to authorize payments.

Bradesco Celular enables customers to reload credits for prepaid cell phones from the phone itself, even if it has no credit.

Using Infocelular, registered clients with mobile phones may be sent SMS messages relating to various types of banking transactions on their account quickly and securely, sorting by period and amount.

Customers choosing a package of services known as "Bradesco Mobile Bonus Account" get access to various financial services and the cost of the package earns bonus points for prepaid mobile phones. When bonus points are available on a registered mobile phone number, the network operator itself sends a text message showing the credit.

This channel was used to complete 99.1 million transactions during 2011.

Mail services

On December 2011, we ceased our partnership with Empresa Brasileira de Correios e Telégrafos, or ECT, (the government owned postal company) and will not continue with the Postal Bank in 2012.

However, customers who used the services of the Postal Bank remain Bradesco clients, and will be supported by its extensive network of branches and service centers. The clients have complete and quality service wherever they are.

Banking units in retail chains

We have also entered into partnership agreements with retail chains, supermarkets, drugstores, grocery stores, etc., to provide correspondent banking services (mostly to pay bills, withdraw cash from checking and savings accounts, and receive pension payments). i) Participation in each market:

The following table shows our market share of banking, insurance and service network.

ii) Competitive conditions in markets

We face significant competition in all of our principal areas of operation, since the Brazilian financial and banking services market are highly competitive and have been through an intensive consolidation process in the past few years.

As of December 31, 2011, publicly owned financial institutions held 42.7% of the national financial system's assets, followed by private sector locally owned financial institutions (taking into consideration financial conglomerates) with a 38.8% share and foreign-controlled financial institutions, with a 18.5% share.

Public-sector financial institutions play an important role in the banking sector in Brazil. Essentially, they operate within the same legal and regulatory framework as private-sector financial institutions, except that certain banking transactions involving public entities must be made exclusively through public-sector financial institutions (including, but not limited to, depositing federal government funds or judicial deposits).

As of December 31, 2011, according to the Central Bank, there were 178 financial conglomerates providing a wide full range of services including: (i) 139 multiple banks; (ii) 20 commercial banks; (iii) 14 investment banks; (iv) 4 development banks; and (v) 1 savings bank (namely Caixa Econômica Federal).

Credit cards

The Brazilian credit card market is highly competitive, with approximately 173.3 million credit cards issued as of December 31, 2011, according to ABECS. Our primary competitors are Banco do Brasil, Banco Itaú Unibanco, and Santander Brasil. Management believes that the primary competitive factors in this area are interest rates, annual fees, card distribution network and benefits offered.

Leasing

In general, the Brazilian leasing market is dominated by companies affiliated with vehicle and equipment producers and large banks. We currently enjoy certain competitive advantages, as we have a larger service network than any of our private sector competitors.

Asset Management

Brazil's asset management industry ended 2011 with R$1.9 trillion under management, thus showing nominal growth of 13.3% on 2010, according to ANBIMA. The variation was mainly due to:

- significant net inflow of R$80 billion in fixed-income funds largely due to migration from hedge funds, from which investors had redeemed R$47 billion by year-end;

- growth over the years of contributions to open pension funds, which ended 2011 with a net funding inflow of R$25 billion; and
- consolidation of the structured investment fund market, including receivables funds, or “FIDCs” (R$8 billion), private equity funds (R$17 billion), and real estate funds (R$4 billion).

BRAM is one of the major industry players in Brazil's fund management industry with an 11.0% market share according to Anbima's December 2011 Global Fund Management ranking. Our primary competitors are Banco do Brasil and Banco Itaú Unibanco.

BRAM's strategy in relation to the competition is to strengthen its asset management leadership in fixed-income and equity, leveraging its experience and success with a fundamentalist approach built up by a strong group of analysts and a team of independent macroeconomists.

In 2011, BRAM advanced its internationalization goal by launching a fund for small- and medium-cap Brazilian stocks. This new fund is part of Bradesco Global Funds, which was launched by Bradesco in September 2009 and currently has four different strategies. These funds are domiciled in Luxembourg and target exclusively foreign investors.

In addition to its own platform, BRAM has strong partnerships with The Bank of Tokyo-Mitsubishi UFJ (Japan) and Banchile (Chile).

Insurance, pension plans and capitalization bonds

Insurance sector

In December 2011, Grupo Bradesco Seguros, the leading insurance company in the Brazilian market with a 25.6% market share of insurance premiums, pension plans and capitalization bonds faces increased competition from a number of Brazilian and multinational corporations in all types of insurance business.

As of December 31, 2011, our principal competitors were Banco do Brasil, Itaú Unibanco Seguros S.A., Sul América Cia. Nacional de Seguros, Porto Seguros Cia.de Seguros Gerais, Caixa Seguros, Santander Seguros and HSBC Seguros, which accounted for a combined total of approximately 55.8% of all premiums generated in the market, as reported by SUSEP. Although nationwide companies underwrite the majority most insurance business, we also face competition from local and regional companies, particularly in the health insurance segment, where they are able to operate at lower cost, or specialize in providing coverage for specific risk groups.

7. Issuer business activities

Competition in the Brazilian insurance industry changed in the past few years as foreign companies started to form joint ventures with Brazilian insurance companies with more experience in the local market. For example, the Dutch Group ING acquired an interest in one of the Sul América Group companies. Hartford has been operating in Brazil for years through a joint venture with the Icatu Group. AXA, Allianz, ACE, Generali, Tokio Marine, Zurich acquired associations with the Minas Brasil and Santander groups. Other international insurers offer products in Brazil through their own local facilities.

We believe that the principal competitive factors in this area are price, financial stability, name recognition and services. At the branch level, we believe competition is primarily based on the level of services, including the handling of claims, level of automation and development of long-term relationships with individual customers. We believe that our ability to distribute insurance products through our branch network gives us a competitive advantage over most other insurance companies. Because most of our insurance products are offered through our retail banking branches, we benefit from certain cost savings and marketing synergies compared with our competitors. This cost advantage could become less significant over time, however, as other large private banks begin using their own branch networks to offer insurance products through exclusive agents.

Pension plan sector

The monetary stabilization brought by the Real Plan stimulated the pension plan sector and the Brazilian market attracted new international players, such as Principal, which created Brasilprev in association with Banco do Brasil; Hartford, through a joint venture with the Icatu Group; ING, through a partnership with Sul América; MetLife; Nationwide and others.

In addition to monetary stability, factors contributing to heightened competition were favorable tax treatment and the prospects of more far-reaching reform of Brazil's social security system.

Bradesco Vida e Previdência is currently the pension plan market leader with 33.5% of total assets under management in the sector, according to Fenaprevi.

We believe that the Bradesco brand name, together with our extensive branch network, strategy, our record of being in the forefront and our product innovation, are our competitive advantages.

Capitalization bonds sector

The certificated bonds plans market has been competitive since 1994, when exchange rates became more stable and inflation came under control. As of December 31, 2011, Bradesco Capitalização was second in the industry ranking with 21.6% of revenues from certificated bonds plans and 23.1% in terms of technical provisions, according to SUSEP.

Our principal competitors in the capitalization bonds sector are: Brasilcap Capitalização, Itaú Unibanco Capitalização, Caixa Capitalização, Sul América Captalização, Santander Capitalização, Aplub Capitalização and Icatu Seguros.

The principal competitive factors in this industry are offering low-cost products with more frequent prize draws, security, financial stability and brand recognition.

d) Seasonality

Due to the specific characteristics of some products and services of the issuer, such as consumer finance segment, particularly credit card, in general, they are impacted by the effect of seasonality at certain periods or circumstances, such as final year. Other factors such as number of weekdays in the month, holidays, vacation periods, tax payments or receive of 13th bonus, can influence products and services such as loans, use of credit cards and/or demand for investments. It is noteworthy that despite this influence, these factors have no significant impact on the income of the issuer.

e) Main raw materials, stating:

i) description of relationships with suppliers, including whether they are subject to governmental control or regulation, with agencies and applicable legislation:

Bradesco hires suppliers and establish business relationships with partners that operate with ethical standards compatible with the Organization, through a strict selection process and not negotiate with those who, verifiably, disrespect the provision of its Code of Ethical Conduct, and also guided its business relationship by the Sectorial Code of Ethical Conduct for the Purchasing Professional.

The Bank also has a program relationship with strategic suppliers to discuss about revaluation of the supply chain of the total acquisition cost, optimization of products, innovation and sustainability. There are regular meetings with executives of the Bank and suppliers, which established objectives and monitoring the results of actions taken.

ii) Any dependence on a small number of suppliers:

Not applicable. Bradesco has no dependence on suppliers to perform its activities.

iii) Possible volatility affecting its prices:

The prices volatility, as resources for loans, interest rates charged on products, among others, rely on macroeconomic conditions and market rates.

If there is expected growth rate of inflation, the Central Bank may increase the base interest rate, increasing, consequently, interest rates for loans. Another factor that can enhance loans is the increase in delinquency rate for customers. Moreover, variations in tax rates on loans also make these operations more expensive.

7.4 - Customers accounting for more than 10% of total net revenues

Bradesco does not have any customers that account for more than 10% of the institution's total net revenues.

7.5 - Material effects of state regulation for the business

a) need of governmental for the exercise of activities and historical relation with the public administration in order to obtain such autorizations.

The basic institutional framework of the Brazilian Financial System was established in 1964 by Law No. 4,595/64, known as the "Banking Reform Law." The Banking Reform Law dealt with monetary, banking and credit policies and institutions, and created the Brazilian Monetary Council (CMN).

Principal regulatory agencies

CMN

CMN, currently the highest authority responsible for Brazilian monetary and financial policy, is responsible for overall supervision of monetary, credit, budgetary, fiscal and public debt policies. CMN has the following functions:

- regulating loans and advances by Brazilian financial institutions;

- regulating Brazilian currency issue;
- supervising Brazil's reserves of gold and foreign exchange;
- determining savings, foreign exchange and investment policies in Brazil; and
- regulating capital markets in Brazil.

In December 2006, CMN asked the CVM to devise a new "Risk-Bases Supervision System" ("SBR") in order to: (i) identify risks to which the market is exposed; (ii) rank these risks by their potential for harm; (iii) establish mechanisms for mitigating these risks and the losses they might cause; and (iv) control and monitor the occurrence of risk events. Among other effects, this system enables fast-track reviewing for the process of issuing securities.

Central Bank

The Central Bank is responsible for:

- implementing currency and credit policies established by the CMN;
- regulating and supervising public and private sector Brazilian financial institutions;
- controlling and monitoring the flow of foreign currency to and from Brazil; and
- overseeing the Brazilian financial markets.

The Central Bank's chairperson is appointed by the president of Brazil for an indefinite term of office, subject to approval by the Brazilian Senate.

The Central Bank supervises financial institutions by:

- setting minimum capital requirements, compulsory reserve requirements and operational limits;
- authorizing corporate documents, capital increases, acquisition of interest in new companies and the establishment or transfer of principal places of business or branches (in Brazil or abroad);
- authorizing changes in shareholder control of financial institutions;
- requiring the submission of annual and semiannual audited financial statements, quarterly revised financial statements and monthly unaudited financial statements; and
- requiring full disclosure of loans and advances and foreign exchange transactions, import and export transactions and other directly related economic activities.

7. Issuer business activities

CVM

The CVM is responsible for regulating the Brazilian securities markets in accordance with securities and capital-market policies established by CMN.

The CVM is responsible for the supervision and regulation of equity funds. In addition, since November 2004, the CVM has had authority to regulate and supervise fixed-income asset funds.

Banking regulations

Principal limitations and restrictions on activities of financial institutions

Under applicable laws and regulations, a financial institution operating in Brazil:

- may not operate without the prior approval of the Central Bank and in the case of foreign banks, authorization by presidential decree;
- may not invest in the equity of any other company beyond regulatory limits;
- may not lend more than 25.0% of its reference equity to any single person or group;
- may not own real estate, except for its own use; and
- may not provide loans or guarantees to: any person who is part of the controlling block of the institution, or who directly or indirectly holds more than 10.0% of its share capital;
 - any individual that controls the institution or holds, directly or indirectly, more than 10.0% of its share capital;
 - any entity that controls the institution or with which it is under common control, or any officer, director or member of the Fiscal Council and Audit Committee of such entity, or any immediate family member of such individuals;
 - any entity that, directly or indirectly, holds more than 10.0% of its shares (with certain exceptions);
 - any entity that it controls or of which it directly or indirectly holds more than 10.0% of the share capital;
 - any entity whose management consists of the same or substantially the same members as its own executive committee; or
 - its executive officers and directors (including their immediate families) or any company controlled by its executive officers and directors or their immediate families or in which any of them, directly or indirectly, holds more than 10.0% of share capital.

The restrictions with respect to related party transactions do not apply to transactions entered into by financial institutions in the interbank market.

Capital adequacy and leverage

Brazilian financial institutions are subject to a capital measurement and standards based on a weighted risk-asset ratio. The parameters of this methodology resemble the international framework for minimum capital measurements adopted for the Basel Accord. The Basel Accord requires banks to have a capital to risk-weighted assets ratio of at least 8.0%. At least half of total capital must consist of Tier I capital. Tier I, or core, capital corresponds to shareholders' equity less certain intangibles. Tier II capital includes asset revaluation reserves, and contingency reserves and subordinated debt, subject to certain restrictions. Tier II capital must not exceed Tier I capital.

CMN requirements differ from the Basel Accord in some respects. Among other differences, the CMN:

- requires minimum capital of 11.0% of risk-weighted assets;
- does not permit contingency reserves to be considered as capital;
- requires fixed assets in excess of limits imposed by the Central Bank to be deducted from capital;
- requires additional capital in relation to off-balance-sheet interest rate and foreign currency swap transactions and for certain loans and advances utilizing third party funds;
- when determining shareholders' equity, financial institutions may deduct costs, including taxes, incurred in connection with swap transactions used to hedge short positions associated with investments outside Brazil; and
- assigns different risk weightings to certain assets and credit conversion values, including a risk weighting of 300.0% on deferred tax asset for income and social contribution taxes but not for those arising from other temporary differences which have a weighting of 100.0%.

In October 2009, the Central Bank reduced minimum capital requirements from 11% to 5.5% on loans to micro and small companies that are backed by one of the two guarantee funds created by the government in 2009 with a R$4.0 billion budget.

Financial institutions are also required to maintain their reference shareholders' equity at a certain level. A financial institution's reference shareholders' equity is the sum of its Tier I and Tier II capital and is used to determine its operational limits. For purposes of CMN adjustments, financial institutions may deduct costs, including taxes, incurred in connection with swap transactions to hedge short positions associated with investments abroad. In July 2008, the Central Bank issued certain rules to include the operational risk of financial institutions amongst the factors to be considered in the calculation of reference shareholders' equity. In December 2009, the Central Bank established a single indicator for calculating the portion of capital to be maintained by financial institutions to cover, when needed, the operational risk for a non-financial company belonging to the conglomerate. In June 2010, the Central Bank issued rules amending the formula used to calculate required reference shareholders' equity, which in practice led to higher levels of net equity being required of financial institutions and this will be in force as of 2012. The Central Bank says the purposes of this change include bolstering the robustness of financial institutions in terms of their ability to weather a global crisis. In February 2011, the Central Bank issued guidelines and a timetable for implementing the recommendations of the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision concerning capital structure and liquidity requirements (Basel III), including an initial timetable to implement recommendations regarding liquidity requirements.

Prudential rules in Brazil are generally more conservative than international ones, so adapting to Basel III will be less complicated for Brazilian banks than for institutions in other countries. Under draft rules that the Central Bank submitted to public consultation in February 2012, Brazil will follow the agreed international schedule to gradually adopt capital definitions and requirements over the coming years, starting January 1, 2013 and concluding January 1, 2019. Under international recommendations, and in line with current practices, the minimum capital level will be stated as a percentage of risk weighted assets. The draft rule proposes three independent requirements to be met by financial institutions: (i) Principal Capital, consisting mainly of stocks, shares and retained earnings; (ii) Tier I Capital, consisting of principal capital plus other instruments capable of absorbing losses when the institution is a going concern; and (iii) Reference Equity, consisting of Tier I Capital and other instruments to absorb losses in the case of an institution in liquidation.

In addition, the standard being discussed is also likely to include Additional Principal Capital, which will act as the prudential buffer or "cushion" referred to in Basel III. By the end of the transitional period, in 2019, Additional Principal Capital will have to be 2.5 - 5% of risk weighted assets. The amount will be determined by the Central Bank depending on economic conditions. Under normal market conditions, financial institutions are expected to hold surplus capital in relation to minimum requirements in an amount exceeding Additional Principal Capital as defined. Failure to comply with Additional Principal Capital rules will lead to restrictions affecting distribution of bonuses, profit sharing and compensation incentives associated with performance of managers of institutions.

Financial institutions, excepting credit cooperatives, must keep consolidated accounting records (for calculating their capital requirements) of their investments in companies whenever they hold, directly or indirectly, individually or together with partners, a controlling interest in the investee companies. If their interest does not result in control of a company, financial institutions may choose to recognize the interest as equity in the earnings of unconsolidated companies instead of consolidating.

Under certain conditions and within certain limits, financial institutions may include subordinated debt when determining their capital requirements in order to calculate their operational limits, provided that this subordinated debt complies fulfills the following requirements:

- it must be previously approved by the Central Bank;
- it must not be secured by any type of guarantee;
- its payment must be subordinated to the payment of other liabilities of the issuer in the event of dissolution;
- it cannot be redeemed by act of the holder;
- it must have a clause allowing postponement of the payment of interest or redemption if this would cause the issuer to fail to comply with minimum levels of reference shareholders' equity or other operational requirements;
- it must be nominative if issued in Brazil, and if issued abroad may be in any other form permitted by local legislation;
- if issued abroad, it must contain a clause for elected jurisdiction;
- it must have a minimum term of five years before redemption or amortization;
- it must be paid in cash; and
- its payment cannot be secured by any type of insurance any instrument that requires or permits payments between the issuer and the borrowing institution or that affects the subordinated status of the debt.

7. Issuer business activities

Brazilian financial institutions may elect to calculate their capital requirements on either a consolidated or an unconsolidated basis.

In June 2011, the CMN determined that financial institutions and other Central Bank authorized institutions required to calculate “reference equity” requirements must implement a capital management structure compatible with the nature of their operations, complexity of products and services offered, and the scale of their risk exposure.

Additionally, in September 2011, the CMN issued a rule which determines that the Central Bank may undertake a discretionary assessment of the circumstances in each case and require a series of preventive prudential measures to be taken if it finds situations that compromise or may compromise the proper functioning of the financial system or its institutions, or other Central Bank authorized institutions.

Risk Weighting

In October 2010, the Central Bank issued instructions consolidating risk factor weightings applied to different exposure levels, for the purposes of calculating reference shareholders’ equity required. Under these rules, the following factors must be applied:

- (i) 0% to amounts held in cash or securities issued by Brazil’s Treasury or the Central Bank, except for those related to repurchase agreements;
- (ii) 20% to demand deposits held in banking institutions, rights related to certain transactions with cooperatives, and repurchase agreements for securities issued by the Treasury or the Central Bank;
- (iii) 50% to time deposits in financial institutions not subject to special arrangements, exposures for which underlying assets are securities issued by them, interbank deposits and credit commitments undertaken;
- (iv) 100% to investments in shares of investment funds, other securities in repurchase agreements, sureties, guarantees, co-obligations and collaterals provided, and transactions for which there is no specific weighting factor; and
- (v) 300% to exposures related to tax credits not excluded for purposes of calculating reference shareholders’ equity (except for deferred tax assets arising from temporary differences), for which a 100% weighting factor applies.

In December 2010 and November 2011, the Central Bank issued instructions applying a 150% risk weighting factor to exposures relating to loans and advances and financial leasing agreements for individuals as of December 6, 2010, or renegotiated as of November 11, 2011, with certain exceptions to this rule (including rural credit, payroll-deductible loans, certain financing or leasing agreements for vehicles or homes). A 300% weighting was applied as of November 2011 for exposures relating to personal loans for unspecified uses, including payroll-deductible loans, made or renegotiated with individuals as of November 11, 2011, for contractual terms of over sixty months.

Reserve requirements

The Central Bank periodically sets compulsory reserve and related requirements for Brazilian financial institutions. The Central Bank uses reserve requirements as a mechanism to control liquidity in the Brazilian Financial System. Historically, the reserves against demand deposits, savings deposits and time deposits have accounted for almost all amounts required to be deposited with the Central Bank. In December 2010, the Central Bank raised compulsory deposit and reserve requirements, and reduced any deductions applicable. In addition, the Central Bank introduced higher compulsory deposits and reserve requirements for savings, demand, and time deposits. Some of these rules were amended by the Central Bank in March 2011. In July 2011, the CMN consolidated and redefined rules for compulsory deposit requirements against short positions in foreign currency.

In December 2011, the Central Bank approved a circular consolidating and redefining certain rules for compulsory reserve requirements for time deposits. Chief among these alterations was the inclusion of Brazilian Treasuries in the list of assets eligible for deduction from compulsory reserves for time deposits. Some provisions relating to compulsory reserve requirements against time deposits were again altered by the Central Bank in February 2012.

The total consolidated exposure of a financial institution in foreign currencies and gold cannot exceed 30.0% of its reference shareholders' equity. In addition, if its exposure is greater than 5.0% of its reference shareholders' equity, the financial institution must hold additional capital at least equivalent to 100.0% of its exposure. Since July 2, 2007, the amount internationally offset in opposite exposures (purchases and sales) in Brazil and abroad by institutions of the same conglomerate is required to be added to the respective conglomerate's net consolidated exposure.

In the past, the Central Bank has imposed restrictions on other types of financial transactions. These compulsory deposit requirements are no longer in effect, but they may be re-imposed in the future, or similar restrictions may be instituted. At the beginning of 2008, the Central Bank determined a new compulsory deposit requirement relating to deposits of leasing companies. Our leasing company invests most of its cash available for immediate investment in interbank deposit accounts with us.

Asset composition requirements

Brazilian financial institutions may not allocate more than 25.0% of their reference equity to loans and advances (including guarantees) to the same customer (including customer's parent, affiliates and subsidiaries) or in securities of any one issuer, and may not act as underwriter (excluding best efforts underwriting) of securities issued by any one issuer representing more than 25.0% of their reference equity.

Permanent assets (defined as property and equipment other than commercial leasing operations, unconsolidated investments and deferred assets) of Brazilian financial institutions may not exceed 50.0% of their reference shareholders' equity.

CMN issued rules in October 2008 requiring financial institutions to record: (i) rights on assets used for maintaining the institution's activities, including rights resulting from transactions that have transferred the benefit, risks and control of these assets to the institution, except for those covered by leasing agreements, in fixed assets; and (ii) restructuring expenses that effectively result in an increase in income of more than one fiscal year and do not constitute merely a reduction in costs or greater operational efficiency, in deferred assets. A subsequent rule further defined intangible assets, such as vested rights on non-material assets used for maintaining the institution's activities, including those corresponding to payroll services, income, salary, wages and retirement and pension payments, among others.

As of January 2012, a rule issued by the CMN came into effect in line with IASB, which states different accounting criteria in cases of assignment of receivables or other financial assets depending on whether or not there is retention or transfer of risks and benefits in conjunction with the assigned asset.

In July 2011, the CMN published a rule requiring registration of assigned receivables and financial settlement of assets authorized by the Central Bank.

Repurchase transactions

Repurchase transactions are subject to operational capital limits based on the financial institution's shareholders' equity, as adjusted in accordance with Central Bank regulations. A financial institution may only hold repurchase transactions in an amount up to 30 times its reference shareholders' equity. Within that limit, repurchase operations involving private securities may not exceed five times the amount of the financial institution's reference shareholders' equity. Limits on repurchase operations involving securities backed by Brazilian governmental authorities vary in accordance with the type of security involved in the transaction and the perceived risk of the issuer as established by the Central Bank.

Onlending of funds borrowed abroad

Financial institutions and leasing companies are permitted to borrow foreign currency-denominated funds in the international markets (through direct loans or the issuance of debt securities) in order to on-lend such funds in Brazil. These onlendings take the form of loans denominated in reais but indexed to the U.S. dollar. The terms of the onlending transaction must mirror the terms of the original transaction. The interest rate charged on the underlying foreign loan must also conform to international market practices. In addition to the original cost of the transaction, the financial institution may charge onlending commission only.

Furthermore, the amount of the loan in foreign currency should be limited to the sum of foreign transactions undertaken by the financial institution to which loan funds are to be directed. Lastly, pursuant to the Central Bank's Circular 3,434/09, the total of loans and advances made against these funds must be delivered to the Central Bank as collateral, as a condition for the release of the amount to the financial institution.

Foreign currency position

Transactions in Brazil involving the sale and purchase of foreign currency may be conducted only by institutions authorized by the Central Bank to operate in the foreign exchange market.

As of March 2005, the previously existing "Commercial" and "Floating" were unified under a single foreign currency exchange regime ("Exchange Market"), in which all foreign exchange currency transactions are concentrated. The unified Exchange Market provides for settlement in foreign currency of any commitments in reais contracted between individuals and/or legal entities resident in Brazil and individuals or legal entities resident abroad, by submitting the relevant documentation.

Access to the Exchange Market may be granted by the Central Bank to multiple banks, commercial banks, savings banks, investment banks, development banks, foreign exchange banks, savings and loans entities, development agencies, financing and investment associations, brokerage firms, securities dealers and currency-broker firms. Some foreign-exchange transactions may also be carried out by travel agencies and tourist hospitality organizations accepting foreign currency. The Central Bank currently does not impose limits on long positions in forex (i.e., in which the aggregate amount of foreign currency purchases exceeds sales) of banks authorized to operate in the Exchange Market. As of December 2005, the Central Bank no longer limited short positions in forex (i.e., in which the aggregate amount of foreign currency purchases is less than sales) for banks authorized to operate in the Exchange Market.

Pursuant to CMN regulations of November 2011, the investment abroad of available funds in foreign currency must be limited to (i) securities issued by the Brazilian government; (ii) sovereign debt issued by foreign governments; (iii) securities issued by financial institutions, or entities under their responsibility; and (iv) time deposits in financial institutions. In February 2011, the Central Bank adopted new rules for investments by Brazilian entities or individuals in non-Brazilian companies. For the purposes of this rule, foreign currency holdings includes: (i) the institution's own foreign currency position; (ii) foreign currency balances in current accounts in Brazil, that have been opened and transacted in accordance with laws and regulations; and (iii) the institution's other foreign currency held in foreign accounts, including funds received to pay for Brazilian exports.

In March 2010, the Central Bank continued with the process of simplifying foreign exchange rules by consolidating existing rules and revoking others. These changes were designed to provide further transparency and standards for cross-border foreign exchange transactions, and may be divided into three main categories:

- (i) Consolidation of rules for foreign capital: registration of foreign direct investment, foreign credits, royalties, transfer of technology and leasing. Financial transfers from and to foreign countries will follow the general rules applicable to the Brazilian foreign exchange market, including the principles of legality, economic rationale and supporting documentation. These rules were amended several times in 2011. Additionally, the need for specific authorizations or prior statements from the Central Bank has been eliminated and there is no need to provide information that the Central Bank may obtain elsewhere;
- (ii) Rules for sale of depositary receipts abroad: companies that issue depositary receipts have the option of keeping the proceeds abroad. This option, however, does not apply to financial institutions. Therefore, our procedures in this respect remain unchanged; and
- (iii) Simplification of foreign exchange rules: several changes have been implemented to boost competition in the international transfer of funds and offer of banking services.

Registration of cross-border derivatives and hedging transactions and information on derivatives

In December 2009, the Central Bank issued specific rules that became effective on February 1, 2010, requiring Brazilian financial institutions to register their cross-border derivative transactions with a clearing house regulated by the Central Bank and by the CVM. Specifically, cross-border derivative transactions must: (i) be registered within 2 business days and (ii) cover details of underlying assets, values, currencies involved, terms, counterparties, means of settlement and parameters used.

In February 2010, registration rules were extended to cover hedging transactions in foreign OTC markets or exchanges.

In November 2010, to facilitate management of derivatives-related risk incurred by financial institutions, the CVM stipulated that market participants should create mechanisms in order to share information on derivatives contracts traded or registered in their systems, subject to banking confidentiality rules.

Treatment of credit operations

According to the Central Bank, financial institutions are required to classify their loans and advances into nine categories, ranging from AA to H, based on their risk. These credit classifications are determined in accordance with Central Bank criteria relating to:

- the conditions of the debtor and the guarantor, such as their economic and financial situation, level of indebtedness, capacity for generating profits, cash flow, delay in payments, contingencies and credit limits; and
- the conditions of the transaction, such as its nature and purpose, the type, the level of liquidity, the sufficiency of the collateral and the total amount of the credit.

In the case of corporate borrowers, the nine categories that we use are as follows:

A loan and advance operation may be upgraded if it has credit support or downgraded if in default.

Doubtful loans are classified according to the loss perspective, as shown below:

In the case of transactions with individuals, we have a similar nine-category ranking system. We grade credit based on data including the individual's income, net worth and credit history, as well as other personal data.

Financial institutions should maintain a credit risk management structure compatible with the nature of their transactions and with the complexity of products and services offered, which should also be proportional to the institution's credit risk exposure.

For regulatory purposes, financial institutions are required to classify the level of risk of their loan operations according to Central Bank criteria, taking into consideration both the borrower and guarantors' characteristics and the nature and value of the operation, among others, in order to identify potential provision for loan losses.

This risk evaluation must be reviewed at least every six months for loans extended to a single customer or economic group whose aggregate loan amount exceeds 5.0% of the financial institution's reference equity, and once each twelve months for all loan operations, with certain exceptions. Non performing loans and advances must be reviewed monthly. For this type of loan, regulatory provisions set the following maximum risk classifications:

Financial institutions are required to determine, whether any loans must be reclassified as a result of these maximum classifications. If so, they must adjust their regulated accounting provisions accordingly.

The regulations specify a minimum provision for each category of loan, which is measured as a percentage of the total amount of the loan and advance operation, as follows:

79- Reference Form – 2012

7. Issuer business activities

Loans and advances of up to R$50,000 may be classified by the method used by the financial institution itself or the arrears criteria described above.

Financial institutions must make their lending and loan classification policies available to the Central Bank and to their independent accountants. They are also required to submit information relating to their loan portfolio to the Central Bank, together with their financial statements. This information must include:

- a breakdown of the business activities and nature of borrowers;
- maturities of their loans;
- amounts of rescheduled, written-off and recovered loans;
- loan portfolio diversification by the loan classification; and
- non-performing loans.

The Central Bank requires authorized financial institutions to compile and submit their loans and advances portfolio data in accordance with several requirements. The Central Bank may admit discrepancies in these statements of up to 5.0% per risk level and 2.5% in the reconciled total.

Exclusivity in loans and advances to customers

In January 2011, Central Bank Circular No. 3,522/11 prohibited financial institutions that provide services and loan transactions from entering into agreements, contracts or other arrangements that prevent or restrict the ability of their customers to access loans and advances offered by other institutions, including payroll-deductible loans. The purpose of this rule is to increase competition among credit providers and prevent exclusivity agreements between state-owned banks and government bodies with respect to payroll-deductible loans. While there is some uncertainty as to whether the new rules affect existing contracts, all new contracts are covered under the new regulations, allowing market competition and enabling employees in the public and private sectors to obtain payroll-deductible loans from any authorized financial institution.

Brazilian clearing system

The Brazilian clearing system was regulated and restructured under legislation enacted in 2001. These regulations are intended to streamline the system by adopting multilateral clearing and boost security and solidity by reducing systemic default risk and financial institutions' credit and liquidity risks.

The subsystems in the Brazilian clearing system are responsible for maintaining security mechanisms and rules for controlling risks and contingencies, loss sharing among market participants and direct execution of custody positions of contracts and collateral by participants. In addition, clearing houses and settlement service providers, as important components to the system, set aside a portion of their assets as an additional guarantee for settlement of transactions.

Currently, responsibility for settlement of a transaction has been assigned to the clearinghouses or service providers responsible for it. Once a financial transaction has been submitted for clearing and settlement, it generally becomes obligation of the relevant clearinghouse and/or settlement service provider to clear and settle, and it is no longer subject to the risk of bankruptcy or insolvency on the part of the market participant that submitted it for clearing and settlement.

7. Issuer business activities

Financial institutions and other institutions authorized by the Central Bank are also required under the new rules to create mechanisms to identify and avoid liquidity risks, in accordance with certain procedures established by the Central Bank. Under these procedures, institutions are required to:

- maintain and document criteria for measuring liquidity risks and risk management procedures;
- analyze economic and financial data to evaluate the impact of different market scenarios on the institution's liquidity and cash flow;
- prepare reports to enable the institution to monitor liquidity risks;
- identify and evaluate mechanisms for unwinding positions that could threaten the institution economically or financially and for obtaining the resources necessary to carry out such unwinds;
- adopt system controls and test them periodically;
- promptly provide the institution's management information and analysis for any liquidity risk identified, including any conclusions or measures taken; and
- develop contingency plans for handling liquidity crisis situations.

Financial institutions were positively affected by the restructuring of the Brazilian clearing system. Under the old system, in which transactions were processed at the end of the day, an institution could carry a balance, positive or negative, a situation which is no longer allowed. Payments must now be processed in real time, and amounts over R$5,000 may be covered by electronic transfers between institutions with funds available immediately. If a transaction is made using checks, an additional bank fee will be charged.

After a period of tests and gradual implementation, the new Brazilian clearing system started operating in April 2002. The Central Bank and CVM have the power to regulate and supervise the Brazilian payments and clearing system.

Liquidation of financial institutions

In February 2005, the "New Bankruptcy Law" was approved, replacing the previous legislation that had been in effect since 1945. The main goal of the "New Bankruptcy Law" is to avoid viable companies being unable to honor their debt obligations. The New Bankruptcy Law seeks to do this by providing greater flexibility in plan reorganization strategies while giving creditors more guarantees. It also seeks to improve creditors' ability to recover through the judiciary system by promoting an agreement between the company and a commission comprised of creditors. The New Bankruptcy Law is not currently applicable to financial institutions, and, accordingly, Law No. 6,024/74 governing intervention in and administrative liquidation of financial institutions is still applicable to us.

Intervention

The Central Bank will intervene in the operations and management of any financial institution not controlled by the federal government if the institution:

- suffers losses due to mismanagement, putting creditors at risk;
- repeatedly violates banking regulations; or
- is insolvent.

Intervention may also be ordered upon the request of a financial institution's management.

Intervention may not exceed twelve months. During the intervention period, the institution's liabilities are suspended in relation to overdue obligations, maturity dates for pending obligations contracted prior to intervention, and liabilities for deposits in the institution existing on the date intervention was ordered.

Administrative liquidation

The Central Bank will liquidate a financial institution if:

- the institution's economic or financial situation is at risk, particularly when the institution ceases to meet its obligations as they fall due, or upon the occurrence of an event that could indicate a state of bankruptcy;
- management commits a material violation of banking laws, regulations or rulings;

81– Reference Form – 2012

7. Issuer business activities

- the institution suffers a loss which subjects its unsecured creditors to severe risk; or
- if, upon revocation of the authorization to operate, the institution does not initiate ordinary liquidation proceedings within 90 days, or, if initiated, the Central Bank determines that the pace of the liquidation may impair the institution's creditors.

As a consequence of administrative liquidation:

- lawsuits pleading claims on the assets of the institution are suspended;
- the institution's obligations are accelerated;
- the institution may not comply with any liquidated damage clause contained in unilateral contracts;
- interest does not accrue against the institution until its liabilities are paid in full; and
- the statute of limitations with respect to the institution's obligations is tolled.

Temporary special administration regime

The temporary special administration regime, known as "RAET," is a less severe form of Central Bank intervention in financial institutions, which allows institutions to continue to operate normally. RAET may be ordered in the case of an institution that:

- repeatedly makes transactions contravening economic or financial policies under federal law;
- faces a shortage of assets;
- fails to comply with compulsory reserves rules;
- has reckless or fraudulent management; or
- has operations or circumstances requiring an intervention.

Repayment of creditors in liquidation

In the case of liquidation of a financial institution, employees' wages, indemnities and tax claims have the highest priority among claims against the bankrupt institution. In November 1995, the Central Bank created the FGC (Deposit Guarantee Fund) to guarantee the payment of funds deposited with financial institutions in case of intervention, administrative liquidation, bankruptcy, or other state of insolvency. Members of the FGC are financial institutions that accept demand, time and savings deposits as well as savings and loans associations. The FGC is funded principally by mandatory contributions from all Brazilian financial institutions accepting deposits from customers.

The FGC is a deposit insurance system that guarantees a certain maximum amount of deposits and certain credit instruments held by a customer against a financial institution (or against member financial institutions of the same financial group). The liability of the participating institutions is limited to the amount of their contributions to the FGC, with the exception that in limited circumstances, if FGC payments are insufficient to cover insured losses, the participating institutions may be asked for extraordinary contributions and advances. The payment of unsecured credit and customer deposits not payable under the FGC is subject to the prior payment of all secured credits and other credits to which specific laws may grant special privileges.

In December 2010, the CMN increased the maximum amount of the guarantee provided by the FGC from R$60,000 to R$70,000. Since 2006, it reduced the ordinary monthly FGC contribution from 0.025% to 0.0125% of the balance held in bank accounts covered by FGC insurance.

In December 2010, the Central Bank issued Resolution 3,931/10 with new rules for taking time deposits with a special guarantee from the FGC. Under these rules, the maximum value of the balance of such deposits is limited to the greater of the following (with a maximum of R$5 billion): (i) the equivalent of twice the reference shareholders' equity, calculated on the base date June 30 earning interest monthly at the Selic rate; (ii) the equivalent of twice the reference shareholders' equity, calculated on December 31, 2008, earning interest monthly at the Selic rate as of May 1, 2009; and (iii) the equivalent of the sum of balances in time deposits plus balances of bills of exchange held in the bank on June 30, 2008, earning interest monthly at the SELIC rate as of May 1, 2009.

The same rule reduced the limit on taking time deposits with special FGC guarantees on the following schedule: (i) twenty percent (20%) from January 1, 2012; (ii) forty percent (40%) from January 1, 2013; (iii) sixty percent (60%) from January 1, 2014; (iv) eighty percent (80%) from January 1, 2015; and (v) one hundred percent (100%) from January 1, 2016.

Internal compliance procedures

All financial institutions must have in place internal policies and procedures to control:

- their activities;
- their financial, operational and management information systems; and
- their compliance with all applicable regulations.

The board of executive officers of a financial institution is responsible for implementing an effective structure for internal controls by defining responsibilities and control procedures and establishing corresponding goals and procedures at all levels of the institution. Management is also responsible for verifying compliance with all internal procedures.

Our bylaws include a provision for an internal controls and compliance committee composed of up to 12 members appointed by our Board of Directors.

Restrictions on foreign banks and foreign investment

The Brazilian constitution prohibits foreign financial institutions from establishing new branches in Brazil, except when duly authorized by the Brazilian government. A foreign bank duly authorized to operate in Brazil through a branch or a subsidiary is subject to the same rules, regulations and requirements that are applicable to any other Brazilian financial institution.

The Brazilian constitution permits foreign individuals or companies to invest in the voting shares of Brazilian financial institutions only if they have specific authorization from the Brazilian government. However, foreign investors without specific authorization may acquire publicly traded non-voting shares of Brazilian financial institutions or depositary receipts representing non-voting shares offered abroad. Any investment on common shares would depend on government authorization. In January 2012, the Central Bank authorized Bradesco to create an ADR program for its common shares in the U.S. market. As part of this authorization, the Central Bank increased the limit of foreign interest in Bradesco's capital stock from the current 14.0% to 30.0%.

Anti-money laundering regulations, banking secrecy and financial transactions linked to terrorism

Under Brazilian anti-money laundering rules, which the Central Bank consolidated in July 2009 through Circular No. 3,461/09, and subsequently in December 2010, through Circular No. 3,517/10, as amended by Circular No. 3,583/12, financial institutions must:

- keep up-to-date records regarding their customers;

- maintain internal controls and records;
- record transactions involving Brazilian and foreign currency, securities, metals or any other asset which may be converted into money;
- keep records of transactions that exceed R$10,000 in a calendar month or reveal a pattern of activity that suggests a scheme to avoid identification;
- keep records of all check transactions; and
- keep records and inform the Central Bank of any cash deposits or cash withdrawals in amounts above R$100,000.

The financial institution must review transactions or proposals whose characteristics may indicate the existence of a crime and inform the Central Bank of the proposed or executed transaction. Records of transactions involving currency or any asset convertible to money, records of transactions that exceed R$10,000 in a calendar month, and records of check transactions must be kept for at least five years, unless the bank is notified that a CVM investigation is underway, in which case the five-year obligation may be extended. Pursuant to Circular No. 3,641/08, financial institutions must implement control policies and internal procedures. The policies must: (i) specify in an internal document the responsibilities of each of the organization's hierarchical levels; (ii) include the collection and registration of timely information about clients that makes it possible to identify the risks of occurrence of these crimes; (iii) define the criteria and procedures for selecting, training and monitoring the economic-financial status of the institution's employees; (iv) include a prior analysis of new products and services from the perspective of preventing these crimes; (v) be approved by the Board of Directors; and (vi) be broadly circulated internally. Current legislation allows us to develop internal procedures designed to identify any financial transactions or services that present a low level of risk of being used for money laundering or terrorist financing, which are exempted from the requirement to obtain clients' registration details. The procedures described herein shall be observed by our branches and subsidiaries in Brazil and abroad.

Along with these policies, Circular No. 3,641/08 also establishes additional norms related to keeping registration information up-to-date, keeping records of politically exposed individuals, records of the beginning or continuation of business relations, records of financial services and transactions, records of deposits and clearance of checks deposited in other financial institutions, the use of fund transfer instruments, pre-paid card registrations, transfers of over R$100,000 in cash, and other transactions that require special attention.

Likewise, Circular No. 3,642/08 set forth rules to combat money laundering in international transfers, including more detailed operational information requirements for payment orders, such as the name and identification document of the parties involved, address and bank account when applicable. Financial institutions shall also adopt measures to learn about methods and practices used by their correspondents abroad so as to inhibit money laundering and terrorist financing practices, and report to government authorities whenever transactions with these characteristics are detected.

Brazilian regulations list a number of potential money-laundering transaction characteristics, such as: transactions involving amounts that are incompatible with the professional, shareholders' equity and/or earnings condition of the involved parties; operations evidencing default on behalf of third parties; transactions intended to create loss or gain with no economic grounds; transactions from or to countries or territories that do not apply the recommendations sufficiently or do not cooperate with the Brazilian financial activity control agencies; transactions paid in cash; transactions the complexity and risk level of which are inconsistent with the client's technical qualification; transactions involving non-resident parties, trustees and companies, private banking clients and politically exposed individuals.

The CVM directed special attention to politically exposed individuals through Instruction No. 463/08 and consolidated in Circular No. 3,641/08, which refer to individuals politically exposed who hold or held prominent public positions in Brazil or abroad during the past five years and their relatives and representatives. Such individuals include heads of state and government, senior politicians and civil servants, judges or high-ranking military officers, and leaders of state controlled enterprises companies or political parties, among others. Financial institutions are required to adopt certain mechanisms in order to: (i) identify the final beneficiaries of each transaction; (ii) identify whether these politically exposed individuals are involved; (iii) monitor financial transactions involving politically exposed individuals; and (iv) pay special attention to people from countries with which Brazil maintains a high number of business and financial transactions, shared borders or ethnic, linguistic or political relations.

In addition, this CVM regulation contains special provisions to control and prevent the flow of funds derived from, or for financing, terrorist activities.

Also regarding the control of politically exposed individuals' activities and in light of the 2010 Brazilian elections for President, Governors, Senators, Federal and State Representatives, in March 2010, the Central Bank enacted rules that specifically address the opening, transacting with and closing of demand accounts for funds related to financing the 2010 election campaign. The purpose of these rules is to prevent irregular use of campaign funds and donations believed to be illegal.

Financial institutions must maintain the secrecy of their banking operations and services provided to their customers. Certain exceptions apply to this obligation, however, such as: the sharing of information on credit history, criminal activity and violation of bank regulations, or disclosure of information authorized by interested parties. Banking secrecy may also be breached by court order when necessary for the investigation of any illegal act.

Government officials and auditors from the Brazilian Federal Revenue Service may also inspect an institution's documents, books and financial records in certain circumstances.

In October 2008, the Central Bank broadened the reach of its rules for controlling financial transactions related to terrorism, so that operations carried out on behalf of, services provided to, or access to funds, other financial assets or economic resources belonging to or directly or indirectly controlled by, the following individuals or entities were required to be immediately reported to the Central Bank: (i) members of the Al-Qaeda organization, members of the Taliban and other individuals, groups, companies or entities connected with them; (ii) the former government of Iraq or its agencies or companies located outside of Iraq, as well as funds or other financial assets that might have been withdrawn from Iraq or acquired by Saddam Hussein or by other former Iraqi government senior officials or by the closest members of their families, including companies owned by, or directly or indirectly controlled by them or by individuals working for the group; and (iii) individuals perpetrating or attempting to perpetrate terrorist actions or who take part in or facilitate such acts, entities owned or directly or indirectly controlled by such individuals, as well as by individuals and entities acting on their behalf or under their command.

Change of independent accounting firm

Under Brazilian regulations, all financial institutions must:

- be audited by an independent accounting firm; and
- the specialist in charge, officer, manager or audit team supervisor must be periodically replaced without the need to change the independent auditor firm itself. Rotation must take place after five fiscal years at most and replaced professionals may be reintegrated three years later. Terms of responsible specialists, officers, managers or audit team supervisors begin on the day the team begins work on the audit.

Each independent accounting firm must immediately inform the Central Bank any event that may materially adversely affect the relevant financial institution's status.

In March 2002, an amendment to the Brazilian Corporate Law gave the members of our Board of Directors veto rights over the appointment or removal of our independent accounting firm.

Auditing requirements

Because we are a financial institution registered with the local stock exchange, we are obliged to have our financial statements audited every six months in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles adopted in Brazil. Quarterly financial information filed with the CVM is subject to review by our independent accountants.

In January 2003, the CVM enacted regulations requiring audited entities to disclose information relating to their independent accounting firm's non-auditing services provided to the entity whenever such services accounted for more than 5.0% of the amount paid to the external auditors.

The independent auditors must also declare to the audited company's management that their providing these services does not affect the independence and objectivity required for external auditing services.

In May 2003, the CMN enacted new auditing regulations matters applicable to all Brazilian financial institutions; and they were revised in November 2003, January and May 2004 and December 2005. Under these regulations, we are required to appoint a member of our management to be responsible for monitoring and supervising compliance with the accounting and auditing requirements set forth in the legislation.

Pursuant to this regulation, financial institutions having reference equity of more than R$1.0 billion, managing third party assets of at least R$1.0 billion or having an aggregate amount of third party deposits of over R$5.0 billion are also required to create an audit committee consisting of independent members. The number of members, their appointment and removal criteria, their term of office and their responsibilities must be specified in the institutions' bylaws. Our Audit Committee has been fully operational since July 1, 2004. The Audit Committee is responsible for recommending to management which independent accounting firm to engage, reviewing the company's financial statements, including the notes thereto, and the auditors' report prior to public release, evaluating the effectiveness of the auditing services provided and internal compliance procedures, assessing management's compliance with the recommendations made by the independent accounting firm, among other matters. Our bylaws were revised in December 2003 to stipulate the existence of an audit committee. In May 2004, our Board of Directors approved the internal regulations for the Audit Committee and appointed its first members. In October 2006, the CMN enacted stricter requirements to be followed by the members of the Board of Directors.

As of July 1, 2004, we are required to publish a semi-annual audit committee report together with our financial statements. Our Audit Committee's first report was issued together with our financial statements for the second half of 2004.

In July 2007, the CVM enacted a rule requiring publicly held companies to adopt as of the fiscal year ended in 2010 international accounting standards, pursuant to rules issued by the IASB. Due to this rule, our financial statements are prepared and disclosed in accordance with IFRS. A similar rule was issued by the CMN in September 2009 specifically for financial institutions, according to which consolidated financial statements must include the report of an independent auditing firm on the compliance of such statements with the pronouncements issued by the IASB. Financial statements are to be disclosed within ninety days as of December 31 of the fiscal year, must be prepared by the controlling institution of the consolidated group of entities pursuant to Central Bank of Brazil Circular 3472/09.

With regard to interim consolidated financial statements, the Central Bank issued, in May 2010, a resolution determining that financial institutions organized as corporations (sociedades anônimas), or required to set up auditing committees and publish their consolidated interim financial statements, must follow rules (pronouncements) issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB), and must be translated into Portuguese by a Brazilian entity certified by the International Financial Reporting Standards Foundation (IFRS Foundation).

In September 2009, the Central Bank issued rules setting criteria for auditors on the latter's preparation of reports on the quality and compliance of the internal controls systems, and on non-compliance with legal and regulatory provisions. These norms, amended in January 2010, state that in addition to their regular auditing functions, auditors must assess the following items: (i) control environment; (ii) risk identification and assessment; (iii) controls adopted; (iv) information and communication policies; (v) forms of monitoring and improvement and (vi) deficiencies identified.

Regulation of operations in other jurisdictions

We have branches and subsidiaries in several other jurisdictions, such as New York, London, Buenos Aires, Tokyo, the Cayman Islands, Hong Kong, Mexico and Luxembourg. The Central Bank supervises Brazilian financial institutions' foreign branches, subsidiaries and corporate properties, and prior approval from the Central Bank is necessary to establish any new branch, subsidiary or representative office or to acquire or increase any interest in any company abroad. In any case, the subsidiaries activities' should be complementary or related to our own principal activities. In most cases, we have had to obtain governmental approvals from local central banks and monetary authorities in foreign jurisdictions before commencing business. In all cases, we are subject to supervision by local authorities.

Asset management regulation

Asset management is regulated by the CMN and the CVM.

In August 2004, the CVM issued Rule No. 409/04 consolidating all previous regulations applicable to fixed-income asset funds and equity mutual funds. Prior to this ruling, fixed-income asset funds were regulated by the Central Bank, and equity mutual funds were regulated by the CVM.

CVM Rule No. 409/04 became effective on November 22, 2004. Since then, all new funds created are subject to its rules, while previously existing funds had until January 31, 2005 to adapt to the new regulations.

Pursuant to CVM limits and our bylaws, our investment funds must keep their assets invested in securities and types of trades available in the financial and capital markets.

Securities and all other financial assets in the investment fund's portfolio, except for holdings in investment funds or in Mercosur, must be registered directly with specific custody deposit accounts opened in the name of the fund. Such accounts must be held in registration and clearance systems authorized by the Central Bank, or certain custody institutions authorized by the CVM.

In addition to the limitations specified in each financial investment fund's bylaws, they may not:

- invest more than ten percent (10.0%) of their net assets in securities of a single issuer, if that issuer is: (i) a publicly-held non-financial institution, or (ii) a federal, state, or municipal entity; or (iii) another investment fund, except for equity funds;
- more than twenty percent (20.0%) of their net assets in securities issued by the same financial institution (including the fund administrator);
- invest more than five percent (5.0%) of their net assets if the issuer is an individual or corporate entity that is not a publicly-held company or financial institution authorized to operate by the Central Bank; and
- in the case of investment funds or fixed-income and multimarket participation funds, invest more than ten percent (10.0%) of their net assets in real estate investment funds, receivables investment funds or credit rights participation funds.

There are no limits when the issuer is the federal government. For the purposes of these limits, the same issuer means the parent company, companies directly or indirectly controlled by the parent and its affiliates, or companies under common control with the issuer.

Depending on the composition of their assets, investment funds and funds of funds are classified as follows:

- Short-term funds - These funds invest exclusively in public, federal or private bonds pegged to the Selic rate or another interest rate, or to price indices, and have a maximum maturity of 375 days and an average portfolio period of less than 60 days. Short-term funds may use derivatives only to hedge their portfolios and may enter into repo agreements backed by federal government bonds;
- Referenced funds - their name must state their benchmark indicator on which the financial asset structure of their portfolio is based (1) at least 80.0% of their net assets, separately or together, must be invested in (a) bonds issued by the Brazilian National Treasury and/or the Central Bank or (b) fixed-income securities from low credit-risk issuers; (2) they stipulate that at least 95.0% of their portfolio must be composed of financial assets that directly or indirectly track the variation of a specified performance indicator (benchmark); and (3) they may use derivatives only for hedging cash positions, limited to the amount of the latter.
- Fixed-income funds - These funds have at least 80.0% of their asset portfolios directly related to fixed-income assets or synthesized through derivatives;
- Equity funds - These funds have at least 67.0% of their portfolio invested in shares listed and traded on exchange or in organized over the counter markets;
- Forex funds – These funds have at least 80.0% of their portfolio invested in derivatives or other funds comprised of derivatives which hedge foreign currency prices;
- Foreign-debt funds – These funds have at least 80.0% of their net assets invested in Brazilian foreign-debt bonds issued by the federal government, and the remaining 20.0% in other debt securities transacted in the international market; and
- Multimarket funds - These funds must have an investment policy that involves several risk factors, without a commitment to concentration in any particular factor or in factors differing from the other classes stipulated in the classifications of the funds listed above.

Qualified investor funds require a minimum investment of R$1 million per investor and are subject to concentration limitations per issuer or per type of asset (while obeying the investment parameters for type of fund as described above), as long as this is stated in their bylaws.

In addition, CVM Instruction No. 409/04 states that funds may hold financial assets traded abroad in their portfolios as follows: (i) for foreign-debt funds and qualified investor funds that stipulate this possibility, there is no limit; (ii) for multimarket funds, up to 20% of net assets; and (iii) for other funds, up to 10,0% of net assets.

Regulation of brokers and dealers

7.5 - Material effects of state regulation for the business

Broker and dealer firms are part of the national financial system and are subject to CMN, Central Bank and CVM regulation and supervision. Brokerage and distribution firms must be authorized by the Central Bank and are the only institutions in Brazil authorized to trade on Brazil's stock exchanges and commodities and futures exchanges. Both brokers and dealers may act as underwriters for public placement of securities and engage in the brokerage of foreign currency in any exchange market.

Brokers must observe BM&FBovespa rules of conduct previously approved by the CVM, and must designate an executive officer responsible for observance of these rules.

Broker and dealer firms may not:

- with few exceptions, execute transactions that may be characterized as the granting loans to their clients, including the assignment of rights;
- collect commissions from their clients related to transactions of securities during the primary distribution;
- acquire assets, including real estate properties, which are not for their own utilization; or
- obtain loans from financial institutions, except for: (i) loans for the acquisition of goods for use in connection with the firm's corporate purpose; or (ii) loans for amounts not more than twice the firm's net assets.

Broker and dealer firms' employees, managers, partners, controlling and controlled entities may trade securities on their own account only through the broker they are related to.

Leasing regulation

The basic legal framework governing leasing transactions is established by Law No. 6,099/74, as amended (the "Leasing Law") and related regulations issued periodically by the CMN. The Leasing Law states general guidelines for the incorporation of leasing companies and the business activities they may undertake. The CMN, as regulator of the financial system, is responsible for issuing Leasing Law related regulations and overseeing transactions made by leasing companies. Laws and regulations issued by the Central Bank for financial institutions in general, such as reporting requirements, capital adequacy and leverage regulations asset composition limits and treatment of doubtful loans, are also applicable to leasing companies.

Insurance regulation

Brazilian insurance business is regulated by Decree Law No. 73/66, as amended, which created two regulatory agencies, the National Private Insurance Council, which we call "CNSP," and SUSEP. SUSEP is responsible for implementing and overseeing CNSP's policies and ensuring compliance with such policies by insurance companies, insurance brokers and insured individuals. Insurance companies require government approval to operate, as well as specific approval from SUSEP to offer each of their products. Insurance companies may subscribe policies only through qualified brokers.

Insurance companies must set aside reserves in accordance with CNSP criteria. Investments covering these reserves must be diversified and meet certain liquidity, rules for which were consolidated by SUSEP Resolution No. 226/10 solvency and security criteria. Insurance companies may invest a substantial portion of their assets in securities. As a result, insurance companies are major investors in the Brazilian financial markets and are subject to CMN rules and conditions for their investments and coverage of technical reserves.

Insurance companies may not, among other activities:

- act as financial institutions by lending or providing guarantees;
- trade in securities (subject to exceptions); or
- invest outside of Brazil without specific permission from the authorities.

Insurance companies must operate within certain retention limits approved by SUSEP pursuant to CNSP rules, which apply to economic and financial situations of insurance companies and technical conditions of their portfolios. Insurers must also meet certain capital requirements consolidated by CNSP Resolution No. 227/10.

In January 2007, Complementary Law No. 126/07 created a new policy for reinsurance (whereby underwriters obtain secondary insurance for the risks that they are insuring), retrocession and intermediation in Brazil. In practical terms, this law ended IRB's monopoly in reinsurance and retrocession with regulatory duties and activities originally attributed to IRB transferred to CNSP and SUSEP.

Under Complementary Law No. 126/07, the ceding party, (local insurer or reinsurer) must offer local reinsurers preference when contracting reinsurance or retrocession to the extent of the following percentages of risks ceded: (i) 60% in the first three years as of January 16, 2007 and (ii) 40% in subsequent years. SUSEP Resolution 225/10 requires the insurer to enter into agreements with local reinsurers for at least 40% of reinsurance ceded under automatic or facultative contracts. The new rule will apply to existing automatic contracts upon renewal or as of March 31, 2012, whichever is earlier.

The new law also places more severe restrictions on ceding risk to foreign reinsurance companies and contracting of insurance abroad. Insurance companies must reinsure amounts exceeding their retention limits. Insurance companies must also file unaudited monthly and audited quarterly, semiannual and annual reports with SUSEP.

CNSP Resolution No. 232/11 prohibited a local insurance or reinsurance company from transferring more than 20% of each policy premium to their foreign affiliates. This restriction does not apply to the guarantee business, export credit, rural credit, domestic credit and nuclear risks, for which reinsurance cessions or retrocession are allowed for associated companies or those belonging to the same financial conglomerate headquartered abroad, observing other legal and regulatory requirements.

Insurance companies are exempt from ordinary financial liquidation procedures in case of bankruptcy, and instead follow a special procedure administered by SUSEP, under CNSP Resolution No. 227/10. Financial liquidation may be either voluntary or compulsory. The Minister of Finance undertakes compulsory dissolutions of insurance companies.

As was already the case in the ambit of entities subject to CMN, SUSEP promulgated rules in December 2008 with specific internal controls for preventing and fighting money laundering crimes. These rules include a series of provisions on notifying proposed transactions with politically exposed individuals and suppression of terrorist financing activities.

There is currently no restriction on foreign investment in insurance companies.

Health insurance

Private health insurance and health plans are currently regulated by Law No. 9,656/98, as amended, which we refer to as the "Health Insurance Law," containing general provisions applicable to health insurance companies and the general terms and conditions of agreements entered into between health insurance companies and their customers. The Health Insurance Law establishes, among other things:

88– Reference Form – 2012

- mandatory coverage of certain expenses, such as those arising from preexisting conditions;
- prior conditions for admission to a plan;
- the geographical area covered by each insurance policy; and
- the pricing criteria plans may use.

The ANS is responsible for regulating and supervising supplemental health services provided by health insurance companies pursuant to directives set forth by the Supplemental Health Council (Conselho de Saúde Suplementar).

Until 2002, SUSEP had authority over insurance companies, which were authorized to offer private health plans. Since 2002, pursuant to ANS regulations and supervision, only operators of private health plans may offer such plans. We created Bradesco Saúde in 1999 to fulfill this requirement.

Private pension plans

Open pension plans are subject, for purposes of inspection and control, to the authority of the CNSP and the SUSEP, which are under the regulatory authority of the Ministry of Finance. The CMN, CVM and Central Bank may also issue regulations pertaining to private pension plans, particularly related to assets guaranteeing technical reserves.

Private pension entities must set aside reserves and technical provisions as collateral for their liabilities.

Open pension plans and insurance companies have been allowed to create, trade and operate investment funds with segregated assets since January 1, 2006. Notwithstanding the above, certain provisions of Law No. 11,196/05 will only become effective when SUSEP and CVM issue regulatory texts.

Regulation of Internet and electronic commerce

The Brazilian Congress has not enacted any specific legislation regulating electronic commerce. Accordingly, electronic commerce remains subject to existing laws and regulation on ordinary commerce and business transactions.

There are currently several bills dealing with Internet and electronic commerce regulation in the Brazilian congress. The proposed legislation, if enacted, would recognize the legal effect, validity and enforceability of information in the form of electronic messages, allowing parties to enter into an agreement and make or accept an offer through electronic messages.

The CVM approved new regulations on Internet brokerage activities, which may be carried out only by registered companies. Brokers' web pages must contain details of their systems, fees, security and procedures for executing orders. They must also contain information about how the market functions generally and the risks involved with each type of investment offered.

Brokers that carry out transactions over the Internet must guarantee the security and operability of their systems, which must be audited at least twice a year.

Taxation

IOF Tax on Financial Transactions

Tax on Financial Transactions (Imposto Sobre Operações Financeiras, or "IOF") is a tax on loans and advances, foreign exchange transactions, insurance and trading in securities. The Minister of Finance sets the rate of the IOF subject to a 25.0% ceiling. Although the taxpayer is the one conducting the financial transaction subject to taxation, the tax is collected by the financial institution involved.

IOF is charged on the following transactions: (i) foreign exchange transactions; (ii) trading in securities; (iii) loans; and (iv) insurance.

IOF on foreign exchange transactions

IOF may be levied on a variety of forex transactions, including the conversion of Brazilian currency into any foreign currency for the payment of dividends and repatriation of capital invested in our ADSs and common shares ADSs. The general IOF rate on forex transactions is 0.38%, but 0% on forex transactions of an interbank nature or for the payment of dividends and interest on shareholders' capital to foreign investors. IOF is also applicable at 0% on foreign exchange transactions for incoming amounts relating to funding conducted since October 2008, in the form of foreign borrowing and finance.

89– Reference Form – 2012

7. Issuer business activities

As of March 2012, foreign exchange transactions for foreign investors' funds entering Brazil, including those doing so through concurrent transactions related to foreign loans subject to registration with the Central Bank, are charged 6% on loans in local currency for repayment within an average of 1800 days, including both direct loans and those related to debt issued on international markets. For repayment periods over 1800 days, IOF is reduced to 0%.

On October 19, 2010, IOF was increased from 0% to 2% on foreign exchange transactions for incoming foreign funds to be invested in Brazilian financial and capital markets. IOF is 0% for remittances of returns from these investments to their countries of origin.

Certain transactions are not subject to the above mentioned 6% rate but are taxed at a rate of 0% IOF, namely:

- (i) transfers of funds from abroad to Brazil to invest in equities on the stock market or a futures and commodities exchange, except for derivatives that result in predetermined yields;
- (ii) funds coming into Brazil for acquisition of shares in a public offering registered with the CVM, or exempted from the latter, or subscription of shares, provided that, in both cases, issuers are registered to trade on exchange;
- (iii) funds coming into Brazil to purchase shares in CVM authorized equity funds investing in emerging companies or "funds of funds";
- (iv) settlement of simultaneous currency-exchange transactions contracted as of January 1, 2011, for incoming funds arising from the cancellation of depository receipts, for investment in shares traded on exchange;
- (v) settlement of simultaneous foreign exchange transactions, contracted as of January 1, 2011, for funds entering Brazil arising from altered arrangements for foreign investors, direct investment, investment in shares traded on exchange;
- (vi) settlement of exchange transactions contracted by foreign investors for incoming funds, to purchase bonds or securities issued pursuant to Articles 1 and 3 of Law 12431, of June 24, 2011; and
- (vii) settlement of exchange transactions contracted by foreign investors, including simultaneous transactions relating to transfers of foreign funds to be invested in CVM-regulated Brazilian Depository Receipts (BDRs) in Brazil.

In March 2011, in relation to foreign-exchange transactions for payments made by credit card companies or commercial banks or multiple credit acting as card issuers arising from cardholders' acquisitions of goods or services abroad, IOF was raised from 2.38% to 6.38% pursuant to Decree 7454/11.

IOF tax is 0% for foreign exchange transactions relating to revenues from exports of goods and services entering Brazil.

IOF on trading in securities

IOF tax may also be charged on issues of securities, including transactions on Brazilian stock, futures or commodities exchanges. The IOF rate levied on common or preferred share transactions in general is currently 0%. The Minister of Finance, however, has the legal authority to raise the rate to a maximum of 1.5% per day of the amount of taxable transactions during the period in which the investor holds securities, but only to the extent of gains made on the transaction, and not retrospectively.

In November 2009, the Brazilian government made use of this prerogative to raise the IOF rate from 0% to 1.5% on transactions assigning shares of any type (including preferred shares) traded on a stock exchange in Brazil, with the specific purpose of backing an ADS issue.

On September 16, 2011, IOF started to levie on transactions involving derivative contracts. The tax rate is 1% on the national amount, adjusted in the acquisition, sale or maturity of financial derivative contract entered in Brazil that, individually, results in increase of the sold foreign exchange exposure or reduction of the purchased foreign exchange exposure.

The legislation allows some deductions from the calculation basis, such as: (i) the sum of the national value adjusted in the acquisition, sale or maturity of financial derivative contracts entered in Brazil, on the day, and that, individually, results in increase of the purchased foreign exchange exposure or reduction of the sold foreign exchange exposure (ii) the adjusted net foreign exchange exposure purchased, obtained on the previous business day, and (iii) the reduction of the net foreign exchange exposure sold and the increase of the net foreign exchange exposure purchased compared to the previous business day, not resulting from acquisitions, sales or maturities of financial derivatives contracts.

The new legislation also establishes several specific concepts related to the levy of IOF on derivative contracts. One is the concept of "national value set," which corresponds to the reference value of the contract - national value - multiplied by the price change of the derivative compared to the price change of foreign currency, noting that in the case of acquisition, sale or partial maturity, the adjusted notional amount will be calculated proportionately.

IOF is also charged on gains made from transactions for terms of up to 30 days arising from sale, transfer, repurchase or renewal of fixed-income securities, such as redemptions of shares or units of financial investment funds, mutual funds, or investment clubs. The maximum rate of IOF payable in such cases is 1.0% per day and decreases with the duration of the transactions, reaching zero for transactions with maturities of at least 30 days, except that the rate is currently 0% for the following types of transactions:

- transactions carried out by financial institutions and other institutions authorized by the Central Bank as principals;
- portfolio transactions carried out by mutual funds or investment clubs;
- transactions in equity markets, including stock, futures and commodities exchanges and similar entities;
- redemptions of shares in equity funds, although IOF is charged at the rate of 0.5% per day on the value of these equity fund shares if the investor redeems them before the grace period for credits;
- Agricultural receivables certificates (local acronyms CDCAs and CRAs) and Agricultural Credit Notes (LCAs) as stated in Article 23 of Law 11076 of December 30, 2004 and
- debentures pursuant to Article 52 of Law 6404 of December 15, 1976, Real Estate Receivables Certificates as mentioned in Article 6 of Law 9514 of November 20, 1997, and financial notes as mentioned in Article 37 of Law 12249 of June 11, 2010.

IOF on loans

IOF is charged at a rate of 0.0041% per day on all types of domestic lending to legal entities, including overdrafts. For individuals, the rate is 0.0068% per day as of December 2011. IOF will be charged on principal available under a personal loan arrangement, and for cases in which principal is not determined prior to the transaction, IOF is not only levied on the principal but also on interest and other charges at the same rate, so that the calculation base is the sum of daily outstanding balances calculated on the last day of each month. IOF tax for which the calculation base is other than the sum of daily outstanding balances shall not exceed the sum calculated by applying the daily rate to each amount of principal agreed for the loan, multiplied by 365 days, plus the additional rate of 0.38%, even if a loan is to be repaid by installment. In any case, IOF is subject to a maximum rate of 1.5% per day on loans. Additionally, since January 2008, loans and advances are subject to IOF at an additional rate of 0.38%, regardless of the transaction term and regardless of whether the borrower is an individual or corporate entity.

IOF on insurance

IOF tax is levied on insurance transactions at a rate of:

- 0%, in the case of reinsurance or mandatory insurance pertaining to housing finance provided out by an agent of the housing finance system, export transactions, international transportation of goods, aviation insurance or premiums designated to fund life insurance plans containing life coverage; or
- 0.38% of premiums paid, in the case of life insurance and similar policies, for personal or workplace accidents, including mandatory insurance for personal injuries caused by vehicles or ships or cargo to persons transported or others;
- 2.38% private health insurance business; and
- 7.38% of premiums paid, in the case of other segments of insurance.

Income tax and social contribution on profits

Federal taxes on company income include two components, income tax known as "IRPJ" and tax on net profits, known as "Social Contribution" or "CSLL." Current year and deferred income tax charges are calculated based on the rates of 15.0% plus a surcharge of 10.0% on taxable income exceeding R$240,000. Considering the above, the IRPJ is assessed at a combined rate of 25.0% of adjusted net income. Current year and deferred Social Contribution tax is calculated based on a general rate of 9.0% of adjusted net income. However, since May 2008, financial institutions and affiliated companies have been taxed at a rate of 15.0%.

Companies are taxed based on their worldwide income rather than income produced solely in Brazil. As a result, profits, capital gains and other income obtained abroad by Brazilian entities are computed in the determination of their taxable profits. A Brazilian entity is allowed to offset income tax paid abroad against tax on the same income due in Brazil: (i) under double taxation agreements; (ii) up to the amount of Brazilian income taxes charged the same income, if there is reciprocal treatment between Brazil and the country where the profit or gain was obtained, as in the case of the United States. Profits computed at the end of each year by an offshore entity which is a branch, subsidiary or affiliate of a Brazilian entity are regarded as available to the Brazilian entity and therefore subject to income tax in Brazil.

7. Issuer business activities

Profits or dividends generated and paid by Brazilian entities since 1996 are not subject to withholding income tax, nor are they included in the calculation of income tax for the corporate or individual a beneficiary domiciled in Brazil or abroad.

Since payment of dividends is not tax deductible for the corporation distributing them, Brazilian legislation allows an alternative means of remunerating shareholders in the form of “interest on shareholders’ capital” which may be deducted from taxable income. This deduction is limited to the product of: (i) the pro rata die variation of the long-term interest rate announced by the Brazilian government, known as the “TJLP” times (ii) the corporation’s shareholders’ equity calculated in accordance with accounting practices adopted in Brazil, not exceeding:

- 50.0% of net income (before the above distribution and any deductions for income taxes) for the year in respect of which the payment is made, in accordance with accounting practices adopted in Brazil; or
- 50.0% of retained earnings for the year prior to the year in which payment is made, in accordance with accounting practices adopted in Brazil.

Distributions of interest on shareholders’ capital paid to holders of shares, including payments to the depository bank in respect of shares underlying ADSs or common shares ADSs, are subject to Brazilian withholding tax at a rate of 15.0%, except for payments to: (i) persons exempt or immune from taxation in Brazil or (ii) persons situated in tax havens in which case, payments are subject to income tax at a rate of 25.0%.

Tax losses of Brazilian companies accrued in prior years may offset income from future years up to 30.0% of annual taxable income.

Gains realized by persons resident in Brazil on any disposition of preferred or common or shares in Brazilian stock exchanges or similar markets are generally taxed at the following rates:

- 20.0% if the transaction is “day-trade” on a stock exchange; or
- 15.0% for all other transactions.

In addition, persons resident in Brazil who trade on exchange, or in commodities, futures or similar markets, except for day-trades, are subject to a withholding income tax of 0.005% as follows:

- in the futures market, the sum of the daily adjustments, if positive, determined when closing out the position, in advance or on settlement date;
- in the options market, the result, if positive, of the sum of the premiums paid and received on the same day;
- for forward contracts, which provide for delivery of assets on a set date, the difference, if positive, between the forward price and cash price on delivery date;

- with respect to forward contracts for financial settlement, the settlement amount as specified by the contract; and
- for the spot market, the sale value of shares, gold, financial assets or other securities traded therein.

This taxation system was created in order to facilitate the Brazilian tax authority's supervision of transactions in the financial and capital markets. Withholding income taxes as mentioned above may be: (i) deducted from income tax levied on net monthly gains; (ii) offset with tax due in subsequent months; (iii) offset in annual income tax declaration of adjustment (if there is withheld tax to be returned); or (iv) offset with the outstanding withholding income tax due on capital gains from the sale of shares.

Persons residing in Brazil engaging in day-trading on stock exchanges, or commodities and futures or similar exchanges, are also subject to additional income tax withheld at source on a similar basis to that described above, but at the rate of 1%. This tax may also be: (i) deducted from the income tax levied on net monthly profit or (ii) offset with income tax due in following months (if there is any withheld tax accounted for in the balance).

Gains on disposition of shares in Brazil by investors who reside in a jurisdiction deemed to be a "tax haven" under Brazilian law (any country that (i) does not charge income tax, (ii) charges income tax at a rate of less than 20.0% or (iii) a country whose corporate law opposes confidentiality on ownership of corporate entities) are subject to the same rates applicable to holders resident in Brazil, as previously described.

Gains obtained on disposition of shares in Brazil by holders who are resident overseas, in a country that, according to Brazilian laws, is not deemed a tax haven, are exempted from Brazilian tax if:

- proceeds obtained from the disposition of shares were remitted from Brazil within five business days of the cancellation of the ADSs or common share ADSs, which were represented by the shares sold; or
- the foreign investment in shares is registered with the Central Bank pursuant to CMN Resolution No. 2,689/00.

Otherwise, the same treatment afforded residents in Brazil will be applicable.

There is zero income tax rate on income from transactions involving Brazilian government bonds purchased as of February 2006, except those for which buyers enter into resell agreements under CMN rules and conditions. This zero income tax rate is also applicable to income of non-residents that invest in shares of investment funds exclusively for non-resident investors, if their portfolio is at least, 98% government bonds. This zero tax rate is not applicable if the beneficiary is resident or domiciled in a country deemed a tax haven.

The income tax rate is also zero, under certain conditions, on income from investments in private equity investment funds, funds of funds and emerging markets investment funds in if income is paid, credited, delivered or remitted to individual or collective beneficiaries resident or domiciled abroad (except tax havens), whose investments in Brazil are in compliance with CMN regulations and conditions. These funds must comply with CVM regulations on limits for portfolio composition, diversification and investment rules in order to benefit from the zero income tax rate.

Income of Brazilian residents from redemption, sale or amortization of shares in investment funds, private equity funds, funds of funds and emerging markets investment funds, including income resulting from liquidation of the fund, is subject to an income tax rate of 15% on the positive difference between redemption or sale value and acquisition cost.

In December 2008, the Brazilian government created the Transition Tax Regime (“RTT”) to neutralize the impact of the new accounting methods and criteria introduced in December 2008, as part of Brazil’s adoption of international accounting rules. The adoption of RTT which, will be in force until law governing the tax effects of the new accounting methods and criteria becomes effective, was optional for 2008 and 2009 but became mandatory in 2010 fiscal year, including for purposes of determining the Social Contribution, PIS and COFINS. We have elected to adopt the RTT for fiscal year 2008.

In June 2010, legislation introduced thin capitalization rules, and limited deduction for interest paid or credited by a Brazilian company to: (i) an addressee domiciled abroad, whether or not holding equity interest in the company paying; and (ii) an addressee resident, domiciled or incorporated in a tax haven or locality with a low or privileged tax regime.

In cases where the creditor is a related party domiciled abroad and holds an equity interest in the Brazilian company making a payment, debt may not exceed the equivalent to twice such shareholders’ interest in the total shareholders’ equity of the Brazilian company. In case of a related party with no shareholding interest, the limit will be equivalent to twice the total shareholders’ equity of the Brazilian company resident in Brazil. If there is more than one creditor, total debt owed foreign companies may not exceed the equivalent of twice the total value of the interests of all the related parties in the shareholders’ equity of the company resident in Brazil. If the debt is exclusively related to foreign companies that have no ownership interest in the Brazilian company, the overall limit is twice the shareholders’ equity of the Brazilian company. If the creditor is domiciled in a low tax jurisdiction the debt amount may not exceed 30.0% of the shareholders' equity of the Brazilian company. Any amounts exceeding the limits above such limit may not be deducted for purposes of withholding income tax and Social Contributions.

Also beginning in June 2010, tax deductions for any payment to a beneficiary resident or domiciled in a country considered a tax haven became subject to the following requirements in addition to others already stipulated in the legislation: (i) identification of the actual beneficiary of the person domiciled abroad; (ii) proof of the ability of the person located abroad to complete the transaction; and (iii) documented proof of payment of the respective price and of receipt of the assets, rights, or utilization of service.

In November 2010, the Brazilian tax authorities issued a normative instruction altering the tax treatment applicable to variation in the monetary value of taxpayers' credit rights and obligations due to varying exchange rates. Under this new instrument, as of calendar year 2011, election of tax regime for taxation of exchange-rate variations: (i) may only be exercised in January of each calendar year; and (ii) may only be altered during the fiscal year if there is "material variation in the exchange rate," as published by a Finance Ministry directive.

Social Integration Program (PIS) and Social Security Finance Contribution (Cofins) taxes

Two federal taxes are imposed on the gross revenues of corporate entities: PIS and COFINS. Nonetheless, many revenues, such as dividends, equity earnings from unconsolidated companies, revenues from the sale of fixed assets and export revenues paid in foreign currency are not included in the calculation base for PIS and COFINS. Revenues earned by corporations domiciled in Brazil are subject to PIS and COFINS taxes corresponding to interest on shareholders' capital.

93– Reference Form – 2012

7. Issuer business activities

Brazilian legislation authorizes certain adjustments to the calculation base of those taxes depending on the business segment and on other aspects.

Between 2002 and 2003, the Brazilian government implemented a non-cumulative collection system of PIS and COFINS taxes, allowing taxpayers to deduct from their calculation basis credits originating from certain transactions. In order to offset these credits, the rates of both PIS and COFINS were substantially increased. Subsequent to the changes made to PIS and COFINS, as of May 2004, both taxes are applicable on imports of goods and services when the taxpayer is the importing company domiciled in Brazil.

As of August 2004, PIS and COFINS rates were eliminated for financial income earned by companies subject to the non-cumulative applicability of these taxes. However, taxes charged on payments of interest on shareholders' capital were maintained.

Certain economic activities are expressly excluded from the non-cumulative collection system of PIS and COFINS. Financial institutions remain subject to PIS and COFINS according to the "cumulative" method, which does not allow any credits to be discounted.

PIS contribution (a tax) is charged at the rate of 0.65% on total revenue earned by financial and similar institutions.

Before February, 1999, we were not a COFINS taxpayer. On February, 1999, COFINS was imposed on our gross revenues at a rate of 3.0%. After September, 2003, this tax rate was increased to 4.0% for financial and similar institutions. The calculation base for COFINS is the same as that for PIS.

In July 2010, the Brazilian tax authorities introduced digital tax records for PIS and COFINS taxes. Under the new rule, financial and similar institutions must keep digital records for PIS and COFINS taxes relating to taxable events occurring as of January 2012.

b) Issuer environmental policy and costs incurred for compliance with environmental regulation, and other environmental practices if applicable, including adherence to international standards of environmental protection

Bradesco's corporate sustainability policy includes the commitment to adopt responsible lending policies and procedures and to adopt action plans for projects that may involve environmental risk.

Additionally, the Organization's credit standards and procedures cover management of environmental risk and require all applications for loans, regardless of their type or purpose, to be appraised from the point of view of environmental risk. As part of these rules, there are alert and restriction notices listing high-risk sectors and situations, which require stricter appraisal before lending, as well as 69 business activities that require critical analysis from the socioenvironmental point of view.

Bradesco has been a signatory to the Equator Principles since 2004 and applies IFC social and environmental criteria to project finance for new projects and / or extensions involving sums of US$ 10 million or more, as well as other types of lending for new projects and / or extensions involving US$ 50 million or more.

The Organization has two areas specializing in the analysis and management of environmental risk. The Credit Department's Environmental Risk Analysis area undertakes risk analysis and produces reports, as required under Credit Policy in order to assist the Executive Committee, or any other decision making body, and to make recommendations to the areas responsible for continuing to lend. Part of its work is evaluating documents and making technical visits.

Restrictions apply to clients appearing on lists relating to embargoed areas that are published by the environmental agency IBAMA, or the "dirty list" of the Ministry of Labor and Employment for evidence of use of child labor or forced labor. In 2010, we started to systematically analyzed data on contaminated areas reported by the state environmental agencies of São Paulo (CETESB) and Minas Gerais (FEAM), as well as areas embargoed by IBAMA; we also use information forwarded from customers filling out industry or sector checklists.

Once finance has been approved, the Investor Relations department's Project Management and Environmental Monitoring area begins to act together with other areas involved in lending to coordinate the inclusion of socioenvironmental obligations in financing agreements, and to monitor compliance through full repayment of debt. In 2011, this area started to develop a computerized system to enhance and streamline control of compliance with these obligations and of action plans agreed with clients.

In the context of investments, Bradesco Asset Management (BRAM) adhered to the United Nations Principles for Responsible Investment (UNPRI) in 2010. BRAM then developed ratings for Environmental, Social and Corporate Governance (ESG) issues.

In line with its sustainability strategy, Bradesco adhered to the United Nations Environment Programme - Finance Initiative (UNEP-FI) in 2011, thus reaffirming its commitment to best practices for making environmental issues part of business decisions and operations in all markets.

The UNEP-FI platform was developed by the United Nations Program for the Environment especially for financial institutions committed to sustainable finance. Over 200 UNEP-FI signatory banks and insurance companies comprise an important forum disseminating best practices for the industry.

10.1 - General Financial and Equity Conditions

a) general financial and equity conditions

In 2011, the real depreciated by 12.6% in relation to the US dollar, reaching R$1.8758 per US$1.00 on December 31, 2011 as compared to R$1.6662 per US$1.00 on December 31, 2010. The Central Bank increased the base interest rate from 10.75% in December 2010 to 11.0% in December 2011.

At the end of 2011, the global economic scenario continued to be characterized by signs of slowdown and risk, particularly the developed countries. Signs of accommodation in the US economy have been rapidly neutralized by political clashes in the lead-up to the 2012 presidential elections. Europe's customs and monetary union failed to evolve toward political and fiscal union, and certain governments may have to make greater efforts to solve their current difficulties.

Being involved in the unprecedented and rising trend toward transparency that has characterized developed nations over the last few decades, at the same time favored by it, developing countries have been able to take appropriate preventive measures in good time to avoid the mistakes presumably made by the former, thus enabling faster and less painful adjustment for their exchange rate, fiscal and monetary policies.

In this situation, which has partly affected the most optimistic forecasts posed in early 2011, we may feel relatively at ease in relation to Brazil's record and potential performance on social and economic issues. Having reached the historic milestone of over 50% of its population becoming middle class, Brazil's domestic market has been a powerful aid to maintain growth in the 2011/2012 biennium, although not as fast as in 2010. With worldwide recognition of the maturity of its democratic system, freedom of expression, independent judiciary and expanding consumer market, Brazil has become a target of choice for foreign direct investment.

The following were highlights among the most important events of 2011 for Bradesco: a) we opened 1,009 new branches, taking our total number of branches and points of service to 9,063 all over Brazil, showing the wide coverage and robustness of our structure, our confidence in Brazil, and our determination to invest; b) we acquired shareholder control of Banco do Estado do Rio de Janeiro S.A. (BERJ), which enabled Bradesco to provide payroll services for state government employees, and mobilized our teams all over the country, to turn the registration of 400,000 new accounts into great momentum to expand the Bank's business in the state; c) the incorporation of BSP Empreendimentos Imobiliários S.A., a subsidiary of the Bank, in order to consolidate management of the Bradesco Organization's real estate assets, with a portfolio of 840 properties. Other highlights in terms of recognition: a) Bradesco continued listing on the NYSE's Dow Jones Sustainability Index; b) BM&FBOVESPA's Corporate Sustainability Index; and c) reputable consultants recognized "Bradesco" as Brazil's most valuable brand. Also significant was August's 10% increase in the value of the monthly dividends paid out by the Bank.

Net income attributable to controllers was R$10.958 billion in the year, corresponding to 20.9% annualized return on average shareholder equity. Annualized return on average total assets was 1.7%. Consolidated Shareholders' Equity attributed to the controlling shareholders amounted to R$59.139 billion and total assets stood at R$722.087 billion.

Lending

Bradesco's commitment to democratized access to credit through its diversified offering has increasingly boosted its volume of loans made directly or in partnership with other agents in the market, and other lines of credit for individual clients, such as loans repaid from payroll deductions, through its extensive Branches Network, points of service and the Customer Service Center 0800 call Loans.

Funding and Asset Management

Details of performance on our loans and our sources of funding are shown below:

- R$245.875 billion was the end-year balance of Loans and Advances to customers, net of provision for losses, showing evolution of 16.9% in the period, particularly the following products: Working Capital, BNDES/Finame onlendings, Vehicles - CDC, Personal Loans and Housing Finance;
- R$204.290 billion in deposits from financial institutions, including: Demand deposits, Interbranch accounts, Money market funding and Borrowings and Onlending obligations showed an increase of 18.8% on 2010;
- R$216.321 billion in deposits from customer, comprising: Demand Deposits, Savings Accounts, Time Deposits and Other Deposits, with a 12.4% increase on the previous year;
- R$99.112 billion in Technical Provisions for Insurance and Pension Plans, showing an increase of 18.7% over the previous year; and
- R$26.910 billion in subordinated debt, of which R$20.506 billion was issued in Brazil and R$6.404 billion abroad, showing an increase of 2.3% on 2010; and
- R$41.631 billion in funds from securities issued, of which R$33.094 billion were issued in Brazil and R$8.537 billion abroad, showing an increase of 133.8% on the previous year, highlighting the R$19.3 billion increase in financial notes issues.

Bradesco's market value on December 31, 2011 was R$106.971 billion. Bradesco's common and preferred stock posted falls of 1.6% and 5.8% respectively in 2011 against 2010, taking the last quotation each year, adjusted for corporate events, except for distribution of earnings. Note that the Ibovespa stock index fell 18.1% over the same period.

In 2010, the real appreciated by 4.3% in relation to the US dollar, reaching R$1.6662 per US$1.00 on December 31, 2010 as compared to R$1.7412 per US$1.00 on December 31, 2009. The Central Bank increased the base interest rate from 8.75% in December 2009 to 10.75% in December 2010.

The year of 2010 was characterized by the world economic growth recovery, although at a slower and uneven pace across the countries. If, on one hand, some developed countries will still have to overcome some difficulties generated by economic destabilization occurred in 2008/2009, on the other hand, there remains the clear perception that this scenario opens new opportunities for emerging countries, in particular for countries like Brazil, where the democratic environment is consolidated and the business sector has achieved a capacity consistent with such new challenges.

In spite of many challenges linked to long-term growth, Bradesco is prudently optimistic on perspectives for the next years. The Brazilian economy was already starting to present solid bases for growth recovery at the end of 2009, and confirmed this at the end of 2010, which was marked by a robust GDP expansion to the highest level since 1985.

In the political environment, 2010 was a year in which the full exercise of citizenship evidenced a deeply-rooted democratic system establishing freedom of speech and choice as a target.

Advances occurred according not only to economic indicators, but also to social indicators. In fact, improvements in people's life quality, especially spending power, achievements that brought a large part of the population into the middle class, which is a significant statistical fact in the country's history.

Among the most significant events of 2010, the following stand out: a) the expressive volume of credit operations that increased by 19.3% over 2009, and the recovery of overdue credits, which increased by 57.9% over the previous year; b) the expansion of Customer Service Network operating in all Brazilian municipalities through the opening of 178 new Branches; c) the reorganization of facilities abroad to meet properly the demands of the international market; d) Bradesco's presence as the leading coordinator of Petrobrás capitalization process, the greatest operation of the kind in Brazilian and world stock markets; e) the acquisition of the whole capital stock of Ibi Services in Mexico, in which partnership with local C&A was part of the deal; f) partnership with Banco do Brasil and Caixa Econômica Federal for creation and management of a Brazilian card brand - ELO; g) Bradesco's permanence in the Dow Jones Sustainability World Index and in the Corporate Sustainability Index - ISE; and h) and from a socioenvironmental liability standpoint, the launch of the Corporate Code of Ethics of Bradesco Organization in Braille.

On December 31, 2010 market capitalization of Bradesco was R$109.759 billion, with emphasis on preferred share valuation of 12.1% in the year, as compared to 1.0% valuation of Ibovespa.

In 2009, the real appreciated by 25.5% in relation to the US dollar, reaching R$1.7412 per US$1.00 on December 31, 2009 as compared to R$2.3370 per US$1.00 on December 31, 2008. The Central Bank gradually decreased the base interest rate from 13.75% in December 2008 to 8.75% in December 2009.

The fiscal year of 2009 began with the worst possible forecasts for the global economy, but ended with consistent signs of recovery. The actual pace of recovery varied from country to country, accompanied by a lingering degree of uncertainty regarding the developed world, where the adjustments in progress may impose reduced consumption growth over the previous years' levels. At the same time, we see challenges ahead related to the strong fiscal deterioration in these nations as part of the anti-cyclical response to the risk of an economic depression.

106 – Reference Form – 2012

Brazil has successfully overcome the challenges posed by the crisis. The adoption of anti-cyclical policies resulted in a decline in household consumption, the main component of GDP, but not nearly to the same extent as in previous periods of major turbulence. The decline in investments – temporarily interrupting the expansion cycle of the previous five years – is already showing unmistakable signs of a reversal thanks to reduced idle capacity, the favorable outlook for domestic demand and the opportunities arising from the World Cup and the Olympic Games, as well as from pre-salt oil exploration. At the time, Brazil was already emerging as one of the leading destinations for foreign direct investment from global companies.

Net income attributed to controllers was R$8.283 billion in the year, corresponding to 21.9% annualized return on average shareholder equity. Annualized return on total average assets was 1.7%. Consolidated Shareholders' Equity attributed to controlling shareholders amounted to R$44.191 billion and total assets stood at R$489.684 billion.

Lending

Supported by the credit democratization strategy and the continuing expansion and diversification of its funding, Bradesco increased its volume of operations, including through direct financing and partnerships with market agents, as well as individual lines, such as payroll-deductible loans through its extensive Branches Network, Points of Service and Banco Postal, and the Customer Service Center 0800 Loans.

Funding and Asset Management

- R$120.068 billion in deposits from financial institutions, including: Demand deposits, Interbranch accounts, Money Market Funding and Borrowings and Onlending Obligations;

The following are our key indicators:

I) Basel Index

Brazilian financial institutions are subject to methodology for capital metrics and levels based on a risk-weighted asset index. The parameters of this methodology resemble those of the international minimum capital levels adopted under the Basel Accord. The Basel Accord requires banks to have a minimum capital ratio in relation to total weighted assets of 8.0%, while the Central Bank of Brazil requires a minimum capital ratio of 11.0%, using definitions and calculations of reference equity for purposes of verifying compliance with its operational limits pursuant to Central Bank Resolutions Nos. 3,444/07 and 3,490/07.

In December 2011, Bradesco's Reference Equity reached R$71,476 million, against a Required Reference Equity of R$52,159 million, thus making for a capital margin of R$19,317 million. Most of the requirement was due to the credit risk portion (local acronym PEPR), which accounted for 90.9% of risk-weighted assets, reflecting partially the expansion of lending.

The Basel ratio rose 0.4 p.p. from 14.7% in December 2011 to 15.1% in December 2010, impacted mainly by (i) subordinated financial notes (Letras Financeiras) counted as Tier II capital, in the amount of R$9,402 billion, and (ii) Central Bank of Brazil's Circular No. 3,563/11 lowering capital requirements for certain lending and leasing transactions (revoking Circular No. 3,515/10) and shares of investment funds for open pension plans (local acronyms PGBL and VGBL) as of November 2011.

It is worth mentioning that in December 2011, R$15,630 million of the total subordinated debt were used in the calculation of the Basel Index, given the respective maturity.

In December 2011, Bradesco's Reference Equity reached R$56,147 million, against a Required Reference Equity of R$41,892 million, thus making for a capital margin of R$14,255 million. Most of the requirement was due to the credit risk portion (local acronym PEPR), which accounted for 93% of risk-weighted assets, reflecting mainly expansion of lending.

The Basel Index ended the period at 14.7%, thus showing a fall of 3.1 p.p. against December 2009, primarily due to: (i) the exclusion of R$3.0 billion of additional provisions in response to Central Bank Resolution No. 3,825/09, which revoked Central Bank Resolution No. 3,674/08, which allowed full additional provisions for doubtful accounts in the calculation of Tier I Reference Equity; and (ii) the R$4.9 billion reduction due to maturing subordinated debt and escalation of these debts in the last 5 years, which was offset by R$2.0 billion of new foreign debt eligible as Tier II capital.

10. Directors' comments

It is worth mentioning that in December 2010, R$8,051 million of the total subordinated debt were used in the calculation of the Basel Index, given the respective maturity.

II) Operating Efficiency (OER) and Operational Coverage Ratio

109 – Reference Form – 2012

Operating Efficiency Ratio (OER)

A 2011-2010 comparison shows a 2.7 p.p. increase in the ratio, which primarily reflected a faster pace of organic growth, particularly in the second half of 2011, impacting personnel and administrative expenses due to 11,030 new points of service, in particular 1,009 new branches.

In 2010, there was an increase of 2.2 pp from 43.0% in 2009 to 45.2% in 2010. This increase was due mainly to exceptional treasury gains and lower advertising and publicity expenses in 2009, which favored this indicator for that period, in addition to higher costs in 2010 due to growing numbers of Points of Service.

Another factor that influenced the rising rates was higher personnel costs, reflecting salary levels and head count, resulting from investments in more points of service and enhanced segmentation of business.

Operational Coverage Ratio

Comparing 2011 and 2010, operational coverage ratio fell by 2.7 p.p. reflecting: (i) higher personnel and administrative expenses, basically due to: (a) the impact of collective bargaining; and (b) higher expenses incurred, partly due to growth of business and points of service, in particular the faster pace of organic growth that led to 11,030 new points of service and in particular new 1,009 branches in the period; which was partly offset by: (ii) evolution of revenues from services and commissions.

In 2010, the coverage ratio showed a slight fall of 0.1 pp on the same period of the previous year, due primarily to the following: (i) additional personnel and administrative expenses, caused mainly by: (a) the impact of collective bargaining; (b) higher advertising and publicity costs; and (c) added business from new Points of Service; and partly offset by: (ii) evolution of net fee and commission income.

III) Loans and advances to customers

Loans and advances to customers are classified as:

- Not overdue and not impaired;
- Overdue, but not impaired; and
- Reduction to recoverable amount, which includes loans and advances classified as impaired and loans and advances that are individually assessed for loss.

The Organization's loans are classified as impaired if: (a) they are in arrears of over 90 days, (b) showing a loss, or (c) renegotiated, and / or have been (d) reclassified to high-risk levels and / or (e) have been subject to bankruptcy events (declaration of bankruptcy, or application for judicial or extrajudicial recovery, or the latter being agreed or ratified).

110 – Reference Form – 2012

10. Directors' comments

The improvement shown in the loans and advances to customers portfolio in December 2011 against 2010, and in December 2010 against 2009, is evidenced by the increase amount not overdue and not subject to impairment losses, which showed increases of 17.4% and 20.4% respectively, and accounted for about 87% of the total at the end of each of the previous 3 years.

In addition, note as a positive factor the relative reduction in impairment losses shown in the last 3 years.

Loans and advances to customers not overdue or subject to impairment

Loans and advances to customers classified as not overdue or subject to impairment reached R$230.9 billion in December 2011. The proportion of these transaction classified as low risk remained at 98% for the last three years, showing that credit rating policies, processes and tools used by the organization were adequate and consistent.

Loans and advances to customers overdue but not subject to impairment

The table below shows a breakdown by days overdue of loans and advances not marked as impaired in the collective analysis or subject to impairment by individual analysis.

For the purposes of this analysis, an asset is considered as being in arrears and included in the table when any payment is late or is not made strictly pursuant to contractual terms. The amount included in the category refers to the total financial asset, meaning not the overdue payment alone, but the contractual amount plus interest.

Non-Individually significant loans and advances to customers, such as retail operations that have not been classified as impaired, are being shown in this category.

Individually significant loans and advances may be shown in this category if individual analysis did not identify a need to record individual impairment loss and are therefore directed to collective loss analysis.

111 – Reference Form – 2012

10. Directors' comments

The above table shows loans and advances that did not show signs of possible impairment loss despite arrears being recorded. This amount accounted for 2.4% of the “loans and advances to customers” portfolio in December 2011 (2.7% in December 2010 and 2.9% in December 2009).

Loans and advances to customers subject to impairment

In 2011, loans and advances subject to impairment totaled R$26.3 billion and accounted for 10.0% of the total portfolio of loans and advances to customers. In 2010, these loans totaled R$23.0 billion and accounted for 10.2% of the total portfolio, against 10.7% in the same period of 2009.

Lower ratios of these credits to total portfolio and, impairment to total lending reflect improvement across the entire credit cycle, as mentioned above.

Note that comments regarding Return on Average Equity (ROAE) and Return on Average Assets (ROAA) are shown in section 10.2.a). More analyses pertaining to our financial condition and position inherent to sources of liquidity and levels of indebtedness are shown in items 10.1.d) 10.1.e) 10.1.f) and 10.1.h).

b) capital structure and possibility of shares or fund shares being redeemed, stating: i) cases of redemption and ii) formula for calculating redemption value

In December 2011, Bradesco's total share capital was R$30.1 billion corresponding to 3,824,795 thousand shares, of which 1,912,398 thousand were common shares and 1,912,397 thousand preferred shares, all book-entry shares with no nominal value.

In December 2010, Bradesco's total share capital was R$28.5 billion corresponding to 3,762,450 thousand shares, of which 1,881,225 thousand were common shares and 1,881,225 thousand preferred shares, all book-entry shares with no nominal value.

10. Directors' comments

In December 2009, Bradesco's total share capital was R$26.5 billion corresponding to 3,427,086 thousand shares, of which 1,713,543 thousand were common shares and 1,713,543 thousand preferred shares, all book-entry shares with no nominal value.

Over the last 3 years, Bradesco has kept its proportion of capital held by third parties at around 91%, which is seen as a normal level for institutions in the financial intermediation business.

There are no ways of redeeming the company's shares other than those legally stipulated.

c) capacity to pay financial commitments

Bradesco has full ability to pay all its financial commitments, because it reviews daily its asset and liability management policy to ensure sufficient liquidity to honor withdrawals, deposits, repay other obligations at maturity, extend loans or other forms of credit to its clients and meet its own needs of working capital for investment. The following table presents our consolidated balance sheet by maturity.

113 – Reference Form – 2012

- e) financing sources for working capital and investments in non-current assets that it intends to use to cover liquidity deficits
- f) indebtedness levels and characteristics of related debts, also describing: i) relevant loan and financing contracts; ii) other long-term relationships with financial institutions; iii) level of subordination among debts; iv) any restrictions binding the issuer, in particular in relation to limits on indebtedness and new debt, distribution of dividends, disposal of assets, issue of new securities, and transfer of controlling interest.

Principal Sources of Funding (in accordance with the International Financial Reporting Standards - IFRS)

Liquidity and Financing

Central Bank requirements for compulsory deposits determine our minimum liquidity levels. We review our asset and liability management policies from time to time to ensure that we have sufficient liquidity available to honor withdrawals, deposits, repay other liabilities at maturity, extend loans or other forms of credit to our customers and meet our own working capital needs.

The treasury department acts as a support center for our business segments by managing our funding and liquidity positions and executing our investment objectives in accordance with our asset and liability management policies. It is also responsible for setting the rates for our different products, including exchange and interbank transactions. The treasury department covers any funding shortfall through borrowing in the interbank market. It seeks to maximize efficient use of our deposit base by investing any surpluses in liquid instruments in the interbank market.

We have been using our excess liquidity to invest in Government bonds and expect to continue doing so, subject to regulatory requirements and investment considerations. Our principal sources of financing are:

- Demand deposits, savings deposits and term deposits; and
- Borrowing and onlending, funds from securities issued and subordinated debts.

Deposits

Deposits are our most important source of funding. Our deposits balance over these years progressed in the following manner:

- In December 2011, the balance of our deposits increased approximately 12.4% as compared to December 2010, mainly due to increased funding volume in the form of time and saving deposits; and
- In December 2010, the balance of our deposits increased approximately 13.3% as compared to December 2009, mainly due to the increase in time and saving deposits.

115 – Reference Form – 2012

10. Directors' comments

Deposits accounted for approximately 64% of all obligations in December 2011. Our deposits consist primarily of real-denominated, interest-bearing time and savings deposits and real-denominated, non-interest-bearing demand deposits. The R$28,189 million increase in the balance of our savings and time deposits between 2011 and 2010 was due primarily to the net evolution of 2.3 million new savings accounts, and increased funding volume from institutional investors and the branch network, respectively as well as updating the deposit portfolio.

Deposits in demand accounts fell by R$4,346 million (11.8%) mainly due to migration to other sources of funding.

Borrowing and Onlending

The balance of Loans and Onlending showed an increase of 39.4% or R$ 15,051 million to reach R$ 53,247 million. Comparing 2011 against 2010 and 2010 against 2009, growth was due primarily to a rising volume of loans and onlending in Brazil through Finame and BNDES.

Funds from securities issued

Comparing 2011 with 2010, the growth of 133.8% or R$23,821 million in funds from securities issued was primarily from: (i) new issues of financial notes (Letras Financeiras), the balance of which rose by R$19,300 million, from R$7,801 million in December 2010 to R$27,101 million in December 2011; (ii) a R$3,026 million increase in the volume of transactions in securities issued abroad, reflecting a favorable positive exchange rate variation and new issues placed in the period; (iii) a R$1,367 million increase in real estate credit notes transactions; (iv) a R$839 million increase in the volume of Agribusiness notes of credit; and partly offset by: (v) a reduction of R$743 million in the balance of debentures, due to their maturing.

The variation in 2010 on 2009, resulted mainly from: a) new issuances of financial notes in the market, occurred in the 2nd quarter of 2010, the balance of which in December 2010 amounted to R$7,801 million; b) the increased volumes of securities issued abroad in the amount of R$1,054 million; c) the increased operations of real estate credit notes in the amount of R$777 million; and d) the greater volume of Mortgage-Backed Securities in the amount of R$379 million.

Subordinated Debt

In December 2011, Bradesco's Subordinated Debt totaled R$26,910 million (R$6,404 million abroad and R$20,506 million in Brazil).

In this period, R$9,626 million of Subordinated Debt was issued.

In December 2010, Bradesco's Subordinated Debt totaled R$26,315 million (R$5,079 million abroad and R$21,236 million in Brazil). Issuance of subordinated notes in August 2010, in the amount of US$1.1 billion, stands out.

The table below shows the last three years' funding through subordinated debt securities:

116 – Reference Form – 2012

117 – Reference Form – 2012

Sources of Additional Liquidity

In some limited circumstances we may obtain emergency funds from the Central Bank through a transaction referred to as “discount.” A discount is a loan from the Central Bank to a financial institution, that loan being guaranteed by Federal Government securities owned by the financial institution. The amount of Federal Government securities held by the financial institution as trading securities limits the amount of discount transactions. Bradesco did not enter into discount transactions for liquidity purposes.

g) limits for use of contracted financing

Minimum short-term liquidity limits are established by Internal Committees, Executive Board and Board of Directors. Such limits are intended to ensure a sufficient liquidity and meet the minimum expected needs. Bradesco reviews periodically such limits, on which projected cash needs are based.

h) significant changes to each item of financial statements Significant alteration of each item in the consolidated income statements are commented in item 10.2 a), particularly the following:

- Net interest income;
- Revenue from services and commissions;
- Net gains (losses) on financial assets and liabilities held for trading;

- Net gains (losses) of foreign exchange operations;
- Result of insurance and pension plans;
- Impairment of loans and advances;
- Personnel and administrative expenses;
- Other operating revenues (expenses); and
- Income tax and social contribution.

In relation to significant changes in consolidated balance sheet items, the table below compares the most significant events in the following periods:

Cash and banks

In 2011, the R$ 12,818 million increase was due primarily to a R$6,014 million increase in compulsory deposits, as well as R$4,623 million an increase in foreign currency.

Cash and banks totaled R$80,960 million in 2010, showing an increase of R$56,110 million, or 225.8%, on 2009. This increase reflects primarily higher compulsory deposits requirements for time deposits under Central Bank of Brazil Circular No. 3,513/10 and additional compulsory deposits for demand deposits, time deposits and savings pursuant to Central Bank of Brazil Circular No. 3,514/10.

Financial assets held for trading

In 2011, financial assets for trading amounted to R$96,597 million, showing an increase of 28.4% on the previous year. This growth resulted primarily from a R$7,892 million increase in the Brazilian government bond portfolio and a R$6,039 million increase in the portfolio of stocks and bonds issued by financial institutions.

10. Directors' comments

In 2010, financial assets for trading amounted to R$75,234 million, showing an increase of 38.1% on the previous year. This growth resulted primarily from a R$12,242 million increase in the portfolio of corporate debt and marketable equity securities and a R$10,168 million increase in the portfolio of Brazilian government bonds.

Assets pledged as collateral

Comparing 2011 against 2010 and the latter against 2009, the increases of 21.9% and 32.7%, respectively reflect growth in the portfolio of Brazilian government bonds assigned as collateral.

Loans and advances to financial institutions

Comparing 2011 against 2010, the increase in loans and advances to financial institutions was mainly due to the R$4,604 million increase in investments in federal funds sold and securities purchased under agreements to resell, which rose from R$37,183 million to R$ 41,787 million.

Comparing 2010 and 2009, there was a reduction of investments in federal funds sold and securities purchased under agreements to resell, which fell by R$20,408 million, from R$57,591 million to R$ 37,183 million. The Organization is authorized to sell or pledge a guarantee received in the event of default by the owner of the collateral, of which fair value of guarantees on December 31, 2011 was R$5,770 million (December 31, 2010 - R$13,044 million and December 31, 2009 - R$7,968 million).

Loans and advances to customers, net of loan loss provisions

Loans and advances to customers in 2011 accounted for 34.1% of our total assets (2010 - 34.9% and 2009 - 35.6%).

Comparing 2011 against 2010, and 2010 against 2009, the evolutions of 16.9% and 20.7% respectively, relate primarily to increased volume of operations, highlighting the following products: (i) working capital; (ii) BNDES/Finame onlendings; (iii) vehicles - CDC; (iv) personal credit; (v) credit card; and (ii) housing finance.

Technical provisions for insurance and pension plans

In 2011, the R$99,112 million balance of technical provisions for insurance and pension plans was mainly due to the R$10,446 million increase in the VGBL product.

In 2010, the balance of technical provisions for insurance and pension plans reached R$83,493 million to show an increase of R$10,896 million. This performance was mainly due to growth of the VGBL and PGBL products and traditional plans.

We also note that the main funding sources are being commented in item 10.1 d); e); and f).

10.2 – Operating and financial income

Directors should comment:

a) results of issuer's operations, in particular: i) description of important income components; ii) factors that materially affected the operating results.

For a better understanding of major impacts that have affected our results (revenues and expenses), below are the consolidated financial statements for the years ended on December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009, which were prepared in accordance with the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB).

Revenues from services and commissions;

Revenues from services and commissions in 2011 showed an increase of R$1,447 million, primarily due to: i) the credit card segment performing well, with its growing customer base; ii) higher current account revenues reflecting growth in business and the customer base for current accounts, which showed net evolution of about 2.0 million new accounts in the period, and iii) higher revenues from collection.

In 2010, revenues from services and commissions showed an evolution of R$1,554 million, primarily due to: i) the credit card segment performing well, with growth of the card / customer base, and revenues from Banco Ibi; ii) increased current account revenues reflecting more business and growth of the account holder base, which showed net evolution of around 2.2 million new accounts in the period; iii) increased revenue arising from guarantees provided; iv) increased revenues from fund management/administration services; v) growth of revenues from invoicing and collections, and vi) improved revenues for management/administration of purchaser consortiums.

Net gains (losses) on financial assets/liabilities held for trading

In 2011, net loss on financial assets/liabilities held for trading reached R$608 million, while in 2010, there was a R$2,213 million gain. The variation was due to weaker results from derivatives used to hedge foreign investments.

In 2010, net gain on financial assets/liabilities held for trading reached R$2,213 million to show a 63.0% fall on the previous year, reflecting weaker results from derivatives related primarily to hedges for our foreign investments.

Net gains (losses) of foreign exchange operations

Variations for 2011 on 2010 and 2010 on 2009 were due primarily to exchange rate variations that affected our foreign investments.

122 – Reference Form – 2012

In 2010, the evolution of 45.0% shown in the line item “insurance and pension plans” was due to: (i) an increase of 15.1% or R$3,767 million in premiums and pension contributions, which reached R$ 28,677 million in 2010, partly offset by : (ii) increased variation in technical provisions, in the amount of R$1,491 million; (iii) increase in retained claims, in the amount of R$1,248 million; and (iv) R$336 million increase in selling expenses.

Impairment of loans and advances

Comparing 2011 with 2010, the 44.1% evolution in net impairment losses on loans and advances was related to: (i) growth in our loans and advances to customers, showing evolution of 16.8% in 2011; and (ii) 14.4% evolution in impaired transactions reflecting primarily the deteriorating global economic scenario.

Comparing 2010 with 2009, the 46.8% fall in net impairment losses on loans and advances was related mainly to lower delinquency levels driven by the improvements in Brazil’s economic environment, as a factor making for a lower level of loss despite the 19.3% evolution of our loans and advances to customers.

Personnel Expenses

In 2011, there was a R$2,357 million increase on 2010, mainly related to: (i) increased expenses for salaries, social contribution, and benefits, impacted by higher salary levels, (ii) a net increase in our 9,436 head count; (iii) higher expenses for our profit sharing program for management and staff; and (iv) higher costs of provisions for labor claims.

In 2010, there was an increase of R$1,460 million on 2009, due mainly to: i) higher salary levels, ii) a 7,574 net increase in our head count, iii) the absorption of Banco Ibi in November 2009; iv) higher expenses for our profit sharing program for management and staff; and v) higher costs of provisions for labor claims.

Administrative Expenses

Comparing 2011 with 2010, the increase of 17.6% was due primarily to increased expenses for: (i) outsourced services, primarily variable expenses related to sales/business or trading volume (e.g. banking corresponding, call center, etc.); (ii) contractual adjustments; and (iii) accelerated organic growth in the period, in particular 1,009 new branches opened.

Comparing 2010 with 2009, the increase of 19.9% was due mainly to: (i) the impact of incorporation of Banco Ibi occurred in November 2009; (ii) higher costs of advertising and publicity in 2010, as in 2009 that expense recorded a significant reduction in relation to its history; (iii) increase of volume of business and services; (iv) increase of variable expenses associated with revenues (e.g., Bradesco Expresso and Banco Postal); (v) higher costs of legal advice, mainly related to credit recoveries that increased by 60% in 2010; and (vi) expansion of Customer Service Network by 10,307 outlets, including 174 branches, 368 PAB/PAE/PAA, 5,904 Bradesco Expresso, and other 3,861 facilities totaling 54,884 customer service outlets on December 31, 2010.

Other operating revenues (expenses)

In 2011, other expenses net of other operating revenues showed a fall of R$ 1,144 million due primarily to: (i) revenue from taxes to be offset in the amount of R$ 2,912 million; partly offset by: (ii) provisioning for tax risk amounting to R$ 786 million; and (iii) higher tax expenses in the amount of R$ 521 million.

In 2010, a R$ 2,978 million increase in other expenses net of other operating revenues was due mainly to: (i) proceeds from sale of part of the investment in Cielo in the amount of R$ 2,410 million in 2009, and (ii) a R$ 480 million increase in tax expenses reflecting growth of taxable revenue subject to PIS, Cofins and ISS.

Income tax and social contribution

123 – Reference Form – 2012

10. Directors' comments

Income tax (IR) and social contribution (CSLL) expense fell from R$ 5,272 million in 2010 to R$ 3,594 million in 2011. This variation was due principally to: (i) lower taxable income due to the US dollar's appreciation against the Brazilian real impacting our foreign borrowing; ii) nondeductible expenses and nontaxable exchange-rate gains on foreign investment, which generated a positive adjustment of R$528 million in 2011 against a negative adjustment of R$657 million in 2010; and (iii) higher tax benefit obtained on distribution to shareholders of interest on shareholders' equity, which rose from R$986 million in 2010 to R$1,174 million in 2011.

As a percentage of our result before income tax and social contribution, the effective tax rate fell from an expense of 34.4% in 2010 to an expense of 24.5% in 2011.

Income tax (IR) and social contribution (CSLL) expense increased from R$ 4,264 million in 2009 to R$ 5,272 million in 2010. This variation was due principally to: (i) the R$2.759 million increase in our result before income tax and social contribution, which impacted total income tax and social contribution charges, which rose from an expense of R$5,026 million in 2009 to an expense of R$6,130 million in 2010; partly offset by: (ii) nondeductible expenses and exchange-rate losses, which generated a negative adjustment of R$657 million in 2010 against a negative adjustment of R$985 million in 2009, and (iii) higher tax benefit for distribution to shareholders of interest on shareholders' equity, which rose from R$853 million in 2009 to R$986 million in 2010.

As a percentage of our result before income tax and social contribution, adjusted for the effect of additions and exclusions when calculating tax, the effective tax rate rose from an expense of 33.9% in 2009 to an expense of 34.4% in 2010.

b) variations in income from price changes, foreign exchange rates, inflation, changes in volumes and introduction of new products and services

c) impact of inflation, variation of prices of main inputs and products, and foreign exchange and interest rates on the issuer's operating income and financial income

There were no significant variations in the issuer's financial revenues or income attributable to changing prices of our main inputs and products, exchange rates, inflation, altered volumes or the introduction of new products and services for the years ended on December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009.

During periods of high interest rates, our financial income increases because the interest rates on our interest-earning assets are higher too. At the same time, we incur higher financial expenses since interest rates on interest-bearing liabilities are also higher. Changes in volumes of our assets and liabilities that incur interest also affect our revenues and expenses. For example, an increase in our interest income attributable to higher interest rates may be offset by a reduction in the volume of our outstanding loans.

Additionally, in the event of the Brazilian real depreciating, we: (i) incur losses on our liabilities denominated in/or indexed to, foreign currencies, such as our long-term debt denominated in dollars and foreign currency borrowings to the extent that the cost in Brazilian reais if the related financial expense is higher, and (ii) incur gains on our assets denominated to or indexed to, foreign currencies, such as: our securities and dollar – geared loans, when revenue from these assets measured in Brazilian reais increases. Conversely, when the Brazilian real appreciates: (i) incur losses on assets denominated in/or indexed to, foreign currencies, and (ii) incur gains on our liabilities denominated in/or indexed to, foreign currencies.

Comparing 2011 with 2010, our net interest income evolved 8.7%, from R$32,771 million to R$35,611 million. The R$2,840 million evolution in the result of interest transactions reflects Bradesco's efforts to attract new customers and its diversified product range, which resulted in growth of average volumes of business, which offset losses due to the lower average spread.

In 2010, our net interest income rose 20.5% on 2009, from R$27,190 million in 2009 to R$32,771, million in 2010. The evolution of R$5,581 million in interest income primarily reflects higher transaction volume, since there was little change in the interest rate (CDI) in the period, which eased 0.1 pp from 9.9% in 2009 to 9.8% in 2010.

10.3 – Events having, or expected to have, material effects on financial statements

Directors should comment on material effects that the events below have caused or are expected to cause for the issuer's financial statements and results:

a) introduction or disposal of operational segment

In the period there was no introduction or disposal of an operating segment, however, we note the acquisition of the controlling interest in BERJ and the acquisitions of the entire share capital of Ibi Services S. de R.L. México (Ibi México) and RFS Human Management S. de R.L. (an Ibi Mexico subsidiary), as commented in item 10.3 b.

b) establishment, acquisition or disposal of equity interest

In Bradesco Organization, out of the significant events that marked the period, the following stand out:

- In May 2011, at an auction conducted by BM&FBOVESPA, Banco Bradesco acquired shareholder control of Banco do Estado do Rio de Janeiro S.A. (BERJ). The transaction involved the purchase of 96.99% of common and 95.21% of preferred shares corresponding to 96.23% of BERJ's share capital. The transaction was concluded in November 2011 with Central Bank of Brazil authorization, for the amount of R$1,134,657,000, of which R$200,446,000 cash, R$905,475,000 to be paid at a future date and recorded under "Other liabilities" and R$28,736,000 in government bonds, of which the market value on the transaction date was R$14,368,000.

	R$ thousand 2011 BERJ
December 31
Cash and cash equivalents	138
Financial assets	301.647

Loans and advances	-
Intangible assets	-
Other assets	1.723.879
Other liabilities	(499.392)
Fair value of net assets purchased	1.526.272

(*) In relation to the gain on bargain purchase determined in the acquisition of BERJ, mainly due to tax credits, the Organization assessed, identified and recognized all assets acquired and all liabilities assumed. The gain on bargain purchase determined in the acquisition was recognized in the consolidated statement of income under "Other operating revenues/(expense)" during 2011.

- On February 11, 2010, Bradesco, Banco do Brasil and Banco Santander (Brazil) signed a Memorandum of Understanding to pool resources of their respective Networks of External ATMs at airports, gas stations, supermarkets, shopping centers, pharmacies and bus stations. The first successful pilot for pooled operation took place on November 25, 2010. Pooling will significantly extend ATM availability and capillarity while obtaining efficiency gains in relation to the current individualized arrangements;

- On April 23, 2010, Bradesco made an offer to Santander Spain to acquire part of the latter's holding of shares issued by Cielo S.A., corresponding to 2.09% of its share capital for R$431.7 million, and of Companhia Brasileira de Soluções e Serviços (CBSS), corresponding to 10.67% of share capital, for the amount of R$141.4 million. The transaction was concluded on July 13, 2010, with approval from the competent authorities. On January 24, 2011, Bradesco acquired from Visa International Service Association shares issued by CBSS corresponding to 5.01% of share capital, for R$85.8 million, pending approval by the competent authorities. With the acquisitions, Bradesco's holding in Cielo rose to 28.65% and in CBSS to 50%, thus increasing its share of the card market;

10. Directors' comments

- On April 27, 2010, a Memorandum of Understanding signed by Bradesco and Banco do Brasil set up Elo as a Brazilian brand issuing credit, debit and prepaid cards for non-account holders, which will also format new business for private-label cards, among other activities. And on August 9, a Memorandum of Understanding was signed for Caixa Econômica Federal to join the company;
- On June 2, 2010, we concluded acquisition of the entire share capital of Ibi Services S. de R.L. México (Ibi México) and RFS Human Management S. de R.L., an Ibi Mexico subsidiary, for approximately R$301.2 million. The deal establishes a partnership with C&A México S. de R.L. (C&A México) for a period of twenty years to jointly and exclusively market financial products and services through the C&A México chain of stores;
- On August 19, 2010, Bradesco Seguros, together with ZNT Empreendimentos and OdontoPrev, signed a Memorandum of Understanding with BB Seguros to form a strategic alliance for the development and marketing of products in the dental sector; and

In this period, these transactions did not significantly impact our accounting statements. We believe that all of the above-mentioned transactions relating to assets and liabilities will increase our revenues, expenses and future results. The value of these increases is uncertain, and therefore its impact on our future financial performance cannot be estimated.

c) unusual event or operations

There were no unusual events or transactions involving the issuer in 2009, 2010 and 2011 that caused or are expected to cause significant impacts on its results.

10.4. Significant changes in accounting practices – Reservation and emphases in the auditor’s opinion

Directors should comment:

a) significant changes in accounting practices

Complying with Central Bank of Brazil (BCB) and National Monetary Council (CMN) requirements for financial institutions to introduce international financial reporting standards (IFRS), these institutions started to prepare IFRS financial statements in 2010. This requirement is in addition to the official financial statements required by Brazilian authorities, which are prepared in accordance with other requirements issued by the Central Bank, the CMN, and the Brazilian Securities and Exchange Commission (CVM), as applicable.

IFRSs issued in English by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) are translated into Portuguese by the Institute of Independent Auditors of Brazil (Ibracon).

The first set of IFRS financial statements was for the base date of 12/31/2010 and did not note any significant change in IFRS accounting practices, since this was the first reporting period of their use.

126 – Reference Form – 2012

The second set of IFRS financial statements, base date 12/31/2011, was issued in the first quarter of 2012.

Comparing the 2011 IFRS financial statements with the 2010 financial statements, also IFRS, there were no significant changes in accounting practices.

b) significant effects of changes in accounting practices

In 2011 and 2010, as mentioned above, there were no significant changes in IFRS accounting practices, so there were no significant effects of alterations to accounting practices.

Additionally, the following notes explain material adjustments between BR GAAP accounting practices used by Bradesco and IFRS:

1. Consolidation

Under BR GAAP, holdings in jointly controlled companies (usually represented by interests of 20% to 50%) are proportionally consolidated in the Organization's financial statements. In compliance with Central Bank of Brazil rules, exclusive investment funds are not consolidated.

For IFRS purposes, holdings in affiliated companies in which the Organization has significant influence were recognized using the equity equivalence method, therefore these investments were not included in the consolidated financial statements and exclusive investment funds were consolidated.

2. Effects of hyperinflation on non-monetary assets and liabilities

Until June 30, 1997, Brazil was considered a hyperinflationary economy, but for BR GAAP purposes, financial statements denominated in constant purchasing power currency were required only until December 31, 1995, and indexation of financial statements was discontinued as of January 1, 1996.

For IFRS purposes, the effects of adjusting or correcting non-monetary assets until June 30, 1997 were recognized in financial statements as required by IAS 29 – "Financial Reporting in Hyperinflationary Economies."

3. Pension plans

Under BR GAAP, provisions for obligations arising from defined benefit plans are not recognized, except for current monthly obligations.

For IFRS purposes, the Projected Credit Unit Method was used and gains and losses outside the corridor (the portion of actuarial gains and losses to be recorded as revenue or expense if the net cumulative actuarial gains and losses not recognized at the end of the previous year exceeds the greater of (i) 10% of present value of the obligation before deducting plan assets or (ii) 10% of the fair value of any plan assets) are recognized over the remaining term of services provided.

4. Business combinations

Under BR GAAP, there is no specific statement on the subject of business combinations for financial institutions. Only assets and liabilities recognized in the opening balance of the acquired entity are recognized by the purchasing entity and the goodwill premium or discount paid or granted on acquisitions corresponds to the difference between the amount paid by the acquirer and the book value of assets and liabilities recognized in the acquired entity. Shares or debt issued as payment for acquisition of entities are recognized at their values when issued on the date of the business combination. Goodwill premiums arising from business combinations are amortized over 20 years.

For acquisitions made from September 1, 2008, for IFRS purposes, the Organization recognized identifiable assets and liabilities arising from business combinations at fair value. The shares issued by the Organization in business combinations are recognized at fair value on the date of transfer of control. Other assets given in payment were also measured at fair value. Goodwill premium recognized in the business combination was tested annually for impairment as required by IAS 38 – “Intangible Assets.”

5. Adjustment to fair value of derivatives

Under BR GAAP, derivatives contracted in trading associated with a certain funding transaction, or an investment of funds, do not have to be valued at their fair value, provided that certain conditions are present, such as (i) they may not be traded or settled in a separate transaction from that with they are associated, (ii) in the event of early settlement of the associated transaction, the latter takes place for the contracted amount, and (iii) they must be contracted for the same term and with the same counterparty as the associated transaction.

For IFRS purposes, these derivatives were classified as held for trading and recognized in financial statements at fair value with the respective changes in fair value recognized in the result as required by IAS 39 – “Financial Instruments - Recognition and Measurement.”

6. Adjustment to fair value of financial assets in the portfolio of consolidated exclusive investment funds

Under BR GAAP, certain financial assets included in the portfolio of exclusive funds, which are consolidated solely for IFRS purposes, were classified as “held to maturity.”

For IFRS purposes, the Organization decided to designate these financial instruments in the category “available for sale” pursuant to transitional exemptions allowed in IFRS 1(R), since for BR GAAP purposes, as stated in CMN Resolution No. 3,181/04, financial instruments in the “held to maturity” category may be sold or disposed of as long as there is simultaneous purchase of new securities of the same nature maturing later and equal to or greater than the value of the securities sold or disposed of. Therefore, adjustment to fair value of these financial instruments is recognized in the reserve account in shareholders' equity headed – “Accumulated other comprehensive income”, net of tax effects.

7. Adjustment to fair value of financial assets - equity securities

Under BR GAAP, certain investments in companies in which the Organization does not have influence over management, were classified in “permanent assets”, at historical cost of acquisition.

For IFRS purposes, due to the absence of influence over management, these holdings on shares were been designated in the “available for sale” category at fair value on the date of transition to IFRSs, with the corresponding gain or loss recognized in the reserve account in shareholders’ equity headed – “Accumulated other comprehensive income,” net of tax effects.

8. Reversal of hedge accounting

Under BR GAAP, the Organization designated certain derivatives as hedging instruments, which were classified as cash flow “hedges” with the corresponding effective portion of gains and losses recorded net of tax effects, in a separate account in shareholders’ equity and the non-effective portion in the result.

For IFRS purposes, these instruments were not designated as hedges since they do not qualify for hedge accounting under IAS 39, therefore the effective portion recognized in shareholders’ equity in BR GAAP was reversed on the transition date to be recognized against retained earnings.

9. Deferral of fees for financial services and direct costs

Under BR GAAP, for certain financial assets, in particular loans and advances to customers, the Organization recognizes fees charged for financial services, as well as a share of related direct costs, in the result at the time of originating these financial assets. Direct costs relating to commissions paid retailers and resellers are recognized under “Other Assets - Prepaid expenses” and recognized in the result by the terms of the corresponding contracts.

For IFRS purposes, fees charged for financial services, and direct costs related to origination of these financial assets are deferred and recognized as an adjustment to the effective interest rate. Direct costs relating to commissions paid to retailers and resellers are part of the effective interest rate and recognized in the balance of loans and advances to customers.

10. Provision for financial guarantees provided to third parties

Under BR GAAP, financial guarantees provided to third parties are controlled in memorandum accounts. Fees charged for issuing these guarantees are recognized in the result over the period in which the guarantee provided is effective.

For IFRS purposes, in compliance with IAS 39, after its initial recognition of these guarantees at fair value, the Organization measured these transactions at greater of: (i) the amount initially recognized as “unearned income” and when appropriated, less depreciation accrued in accordance with IAS 18 or (ii) the estimated expense required for settlement of the guarantee in cases in which the Organization believes an outflow of funds is probable, pursuant to IAS 37.

11. Impairment of loans and advances to customers and financial institutions

Under BR GAAP, recognition of provision for doubtful debt is based on analysis of realization risk of loans in an amount sufficient to cover possible losses, pursuant requirements stated in CMN Resolution No. 2,682/99, which includes certain regulatory parameters.

For IFRS purposes, loan losses were provisioned based on historical losses and other information known at the time of valuation.

12. Deferred Income Tax and Social Contribution on IFRS adjustments

Income tax and social contribution taxes were recognized on differences between BR GAAP and IFRSs when applicable.

c) reservations and emphases in the auditor's opinion

There were no reservations or emphases in the independent auditors report.

10.5 Critical accounting policies

Directors should indicate and comment on critical accounting policies adopted by the issuer, exploring in particular accounting estimates made by management on matters that are uncertain and relevant to the description of the financial position and results, which require subjective or complex judgments, such as: provisions, contingencies, revenue recognition, tax credits, long-lived assets, useful life of noncurrent assets, pension plans, adjustments to foreign currency conversion, environmental remediation costs, impairment testing criteria for assets and financial instruments.

Use of estimates

When submitting financial statements, our management makes estimates and determines assumptions for useful lives of certain non-financial assets and to ascertain whether there is impairment of an asset or specific group of assets. Estimates are by nature based on judgment and available information. Actual results may differ from estimates.

Our significant accounting policies are described in the notes to Consolidated Financial Statements. The following discussion describes areas requiring more judgment or involving a higher degree of complexity for the application of accounting policies that currently affect our financial condition and results of operations. Accounting estimates that we make in these contexts involve making assumptions about highly uncertain matters. In each case, different estimates, or changing estimates between periods, could have had a significant impact on our financial condition or results of operations as shown in our financial statements

At the end of each period, loss on loans and advances is adjusted based on an analysis of our portfolio, including estimated losses on loans and advances.

The determination of impairment of loans and advances requires, by its nature, judgments and assumptions relating to the loans and advances portfolio on both an individual basis and on the basis of specific product portfolios. When analyzing the portfolio as a whole, several factors may affect an estimate of the likely scale of losses, depending on the methodology used to measure historical default rates and the historical period taken for these measurements.

Additional factors that may affect determination of impairment of loans and advances include:

- general economic conditions and conditions in the relevant sector;

- previous experience with the debtor or the relevant economy sector, including the recent experience of losses;
- credit quality trends;
- values loan securities;
- volume, composition and growth of the loans and advances portfolio ;
- the Brazilian government's monetary policy; and
- any delays in receiving information necessary to evaluate loans and advances or confirm existing impairment.

The Organization uses models to analyze the loans and advances portfolios and determine impairment. Statistical factors are used to show losses and other risk indicators for groups of loans and advances with similar risk characteristics to achieve an estimate of losses incurred by the portfolio and calculate the models. Although models are often monitored and reviewed, by their nature, they depend on judgments made in relation to information and/or forecasts. The economy's volatility is one of the factors that may lead to greater uncertainty in our models than one would expect in more stable macroeconomic environments. Therefore, our impairment of loans and advances may not be indicative of actual future losses.

For sensitivity analysis purposes, we ran a simulation to assess the impact of higher probability of default (PD) on impairment. The simulation showed that an increase of 10.0% in probability of default on December 31, 2011 could increase the amount impairment by approximately R$234.0 million. This sensitivity analysis is hypothetical and has the sole purpose of illustrating the impact that delinquency has on the determination of impairment loss.

The process used to determine the level of impairment requires estimates, assumptions and use of judgment, so actual results from losses in the period shown in subsequent periods may differ from those calculated in accordance with said estimates and assumptions.

Fair value of financial instruments

Financial instruments recorded at fair value in our consolidated financial statements largely consist of financial assets held for trading, including derivatives and financial assets classified as available for sale. The fair value of a financial instrument is the amount for which it could be traded in a normal transaction between parties informed of the matter and free of favoritism.

These financial instruments are ranked based on the lowest level of information that is significant for measuring fair value. For instruments classified as Level 3, we have to use a significant amount of our own judgment to measure fair market value. We base our judgment calls on our knowledge and observations of the markets for individual assets and liabilities and these judgments may vary with market conditions. On using our judgment, we analyze a series of third-party prices and transaction volumes to understand and assess the extent of available market benchmarks and the judgment or modeling required in processes with parties. Based on these factors, we determine whether fair values are observable in active markets, or whether the markets are inactive.

Fair values of assets held for trading and available for sale are based mainly on active markets in which prices are based on direct quotes from the market, observed transactions or market prices for similar assets. Liquidity is a significant factor in determining fair values of financial assets held for trading and available for sale. Illiquidity situations are usually generated by the market's perception of the uncertainty of credit in relation to a single company or a specific sector of the market. In these circumstances, financial assets are classified as Level 3 in the valuation hierarchy, since fair value is determined based on unobservable data supported by limited information available in the market and that are relevant to fair value of the assets, as well as other factors that require management to exercise significant judgment or make estimates. On December 31, 2011, R$28.0 billion or 19.9% of financial assets held for trading and available for sale are classified as Level 3 fair value of assets.

Exchange-traded derivatives valued using prices quoted are classified in Level 1 of the valuation hierarchy. However, not many classes of derivative contracts are listed on exchange. Therefore, most of our derivative positions are determined using quantitative models, which require the use of multiple data, including interest rates, prices and indices to generate continuing earnings, or price curves and volatility factors, including maturity. These data are used to assess the value of a position. Most market data are observable and may be obtained in particular from the BM&FBovespa and the secondary market. On December 31, 2011, the net fair value of our derivative assets and liabilities classified as Level 3 was R$ (10.9) million.

The imprecise nature of estimating non-observable market data may impact amounts of revenues or losses recognized for a particular position. In addition, although we believe our valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with those of other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine fair value of certain financial instruments may result in a different estimated fair value on reporting date.

Impairment of financial assets available for sale

Periodically, we assess the existence of impairment of financial assets available for sale if there is a prolonged or significant fall in their fair value. Determining prolonged or significant impairment requires judgment, which assesses the normal volatility of asset prices among other factors.

In addition, valuations are made using market prices or valuation models that require the use of certain assumptions or judgments to estimate fair value.

Classification of securities

Classification of securities as financial assets held for trading, available for sale and investments held to maturity is based on Management's intention to hold or trade these securities on the date of their acquisition. Accounting treatment of securities we hold depends on our decision to classify them on acquisition as financial assets held for trading, available for sale or investments held to maturity. Circumstantial changes may alter our strategy in relation to a specific security, which would require transfer between the three categories.

Impairment of goodwill premium

Every year at least, the Organization has to determine whether the current book value of goodwill premium has been impaired. The first step in the process is identifying independent cash generating units and their allocations of goodwill premium. The book value of the unit, including allocated goodwill premium, is compared to value in use to determine whether there is impairment or not. If the value in use of a cash-generating unit is less than its carrying amount, goodwill premium will be reduced to its recoverable amount. Detailed calculations may be required to cover changes in the market in which a business operates (e.g. competition and regulatory changes). Calculations are based on discounted cash flows before tax at an interest rate adjusted by appropriate risk for the operational unit; in both cases determining these values requires the use of judgment. Although predictions are compared to current performance and external economic data, expected cash flows will of course reflect the Organization's outlook for future performance

Taxes on profits

Determining our income tax liability (including social contribution) is a complex task and our assessment is related to our analysis of our deferred assets and liabilities and income tax to be paid. In general, our assessment requires us to estimate future values of current and deferred income tax. Our assessment of the possibility of realizing deferred tax is subjective and involves assessments and assumptions that are inherently uncertain. Realization of deferred assets is subject to changes in future interest rates and developments of our strategies. Support for our judgments and assumptions may change over time as a result of unanticipated events or circumstances that affect determination of our tax liability.

Significant judgment is required to determine whether an income tax position is likely to be sustained on examination, even after the outcome of any administrative or judicial proceeding based on technical merits. Judgment is also required to determine the value of a benefit eligible for recognition in our consolidated financial statements.

Additionally, we monitor interpretation of tax legislation and decisions made by tax authorities and courts, in order to adjust any previous judgment as to accrued income tax. This monitoring may also arise from our income tax planning, or settlement of income tax disputes, and may be significant for our operating results in any period.

Technical provisions for insurance and pension plans

Technical provisions for insurance and pensions are liabilities for amounts we estimate will be due to our policyholders and plan participants in the future. Management uses a certain degree of judgment to decide the method of calculating reserves. Future benefits agreed in contracts include reserves for retirement, pension, individual and group life insurance, health insurance and accident insurance, among others.

These benefits are computed using actuarial hypotheses for mortality rates, incapacity, cancellations, interest rates, inflation and expenses. Such actuarial hypotheses are based on our experience and are periodically reviewed to the industry standards, with the objective of ensuring actuarial credibility. For long-term insurance agreements, when the actuarial hypotheses in a specific agreement or group of agreements are fulfilled, they will not be changed during the validity time of the policy. However, significant changes to experience or hypotheses may require us to make a provision for future losses expected for a certain product, and make provisions for premium shortage. Provisions for premium shortage may also be made for short-term agreements in order to cover expected future losses. Benefits and claims stated in agreements include provisions for claims incurred but not reported, in health, damages and life insurance.

We recognize the claims occurred during the period of effectiveness of our insured's policies. However, costs of claims occurred in a specific period will not be clearly recognized until we receive, process and pay such claims. We determine the liability amount through actuarial methods based on history of claim payments to determine our estimate of claim liabilities. Methods to determine such estimates and establish the technical provisions are reviewed and updated on a regular basis. The resulting adjustments are recognized in earnings for the respective period.

For sensitivity analysis purposes, we assessed the impacts of increase and reduced rates of loss events. This assessment showed that an increase (1%) or decrease (1%) in loss events within 12 months of the base date of the calculation would have an impact of R$85 million on result and shareholders' equity after taxes and contributions.

132 – Reference Form – 2012

10. Directors' comments

For certain products offered, such as pension plans and funds, participants go through two distinct stages within the contract: one of accumulating assets and the other of enjoying benefits. During the accumulation stage, technical provisions increase as contributions are received and interest payments are credited (based on contractual arrangements) or reduced by benefits and redemptions at the discretion of participants. If the provisions are insufficient to honor future commitments, a provision is made for insufficient contributions.

The main actuarial hypotheses used on determining liability for future pension plan benefits under contracts are mortality, disability, cancellation, retirement, interest rate, inflation and expenses.

These actuarial hypotheses are made at the time a policy is written in order to estimate the experience of the period in which benefits will be payable under the agreement.

For sensitivity analysis purposes, we assessed the impact on results and shareholders' equity after taxes and contributions arising from lower interest rates and increased longevity of beneficiaries. In this assessment, a decrease (10%) in interest rates would lead to a R$37 million reduction in result and shareholders' equity after taxes and contributions. An increase (0.5%) in the longevity of beneficiaries would not impact the result and shareholders' equity after taxes and contributions.

10.6 – Internal controls relating to preparation of financial statements – Levels of efficiency and deficiency and recommendations in the auditor's report

In relation to internal controls used to ensure that reliable financial statements are prepared, the directors should comment:

a) the level of efficiency of such controls, indicating eventual deficiencies and actions taken to correct them

There were no such faults and therefore no such measures taken on preparing the issuer's consolidated financial statements for the years ended on December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009.

The Organization has a department managing internal control processes and an Internal Controls and Compliance Committee to advise the Board of Directors on fulfillment of its duties related to adoption of strategies, policies and measures for the dissemination of its culture of internal controls, risk mitigation and compliance with the regulations applicable to the Bradesco Organization.

Based on a policy defined and approved by the Board of Directors, the Organization also keeps all components of the internal controls system up-to-date in order to mitigate the potential losses caused by its risk exposure and to strengthen its Corporate Governance processes and procedures. The effectiveness of the Organization's internal controls is based on our people- processes-technology tripod. In this context, our skilled professional staff are working exclusively with previously determined processes using appropriate technology for business needs.

Our Policy for Internal Controls and Compliance, and our Corporate Methodology, are properly formalized and aligned with the leading frameworks for controls, such as the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO), and Control Objectives for Information and Related Technology (COBIT), covering the Business and Technology aspects respectively, pursuant to Brazil's Monetary Council Resolution No. 2,554/98, the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (PCAOB), and Sarbanes-Oxley Section 404.

Internal controls are developed in conjunction with the various business areas managing the Organization's services, products and processes, and adherence tests are applied at the required intervals, and results reported to Bradesco's Audit and Internal Controls and Compliance Committees and to its Board of Directors. In cases of non-compliance, the appropriate corrective measures are taken and duly monitored.

These measures taken as a whole translate into enhanced quality for operational processes and dissemination of the importance of the culture of controls while ratifying improvements for best practices.

It is important to highlight the benefits at the corporate level from complying with the above-cited Law, which include disseminating the importance of a culture of control, improvements in the quality of operating and administrative processes, the robustness of the associated controls and improvements in requirements aimed at maintaining Corporate Governance best practices.

b) deficiencies and recommendations on internal controls included in the independent auditor's report

In view of our stock of knowledge and the studies conducted by the independent auditor to assess our internal controls structure, designed to ensure the adequacy of Bradesco's financial statements, the auditor's report contains no faults or recommendations in relation to internal controls that could significantly affect our financial statements.

10.7 – Use of proceeds from public offerings for distribution and any deviations

If the issuer has made a public offering for distribution of securities, the directors should comment:

- a) how funds derived from the offering were used;
- b) whether there were important deviations between the effective application of funds and the proposed application disclosed in leaflets on the respective distribution
- c) if deviations occurred, the reasons for such deviations

There was no public offering for distribution of securities in the 2011, 2010 and 2009 fiscal years.

10.8 – Material items not shown in financial statements

- b) nature and purpose of operation
- c) nature and amount of obligations and rights generated for the issuer under the operation

- a) investments, including: i) quantitative and qualitative description of investments in progress or expected; ii) sources of financing of investments; iii) existing disinvestments in progress or expected;

In 2011, Bradesco continued to invest in the expansion of its network with 1,009 new branches taking the total number of points of service to 59,711 (in addition to branches, this total includes: outlying points of services in municipalities not served by branches (local acronym PAAs); points of services on premises of companies or entities (local acronym PABs); ATMs (local acronym PAEs); ATMs outside our own network; the shared network of pooled ATMs; Bradesco Expresso POSs; Bradesco Sales Promotion, and foreign branches or subsidiaries).

We would highlight Bradesco Expresso's growth of 33.5% on the previous year to reach a total of 34,839 points of service by end-2011.

Funding for the above-mentioned investments was sourced from the Organization's own working capital, basically shareholder equity.

Investments in Infrastructure, Information Technology and Telecommunication

Our estimated IT infrastructure investment for 2012 is about R$4 billion, which is approximately 7% less than 2011's (R$4.3 billion). We would also highlight our plans to open 70 branches.

Complying with CVM Instruction 480/09 data in this item, relating to projections for past periods require the disclosure of comparisons between projected and actual data. The following table shows projected and actual data for the financial years 2009, 2010, and 2011.

Projection 2011

Reasons for deviations from projections:

- Vehicles - The variation seen in this group was due to the organization's strategy of prioritizing portfolio margin and quality over gaining market share, thus affecting total lending to individuals.
- Paycheck Loans - on this item, although we have gained in terms of our market share, the market's evolution was slightly lower than expected.
- Large Companies - in this group, the variation seen was primarily due to forex lines growing well over expectations.
- Insurance Premiums - the variation seen was due to better than expected performance from the "Life and Pensions," "Health" and "Certificated Savings" products.

139 – Reference Form – 2012

Projection 2010

Reasons for deviations from projections:

- Cards →variation in this group was largely due to higher-than-expected levels of consumption as unemployment fell.
- Real estate financing →variation in this group reflected higher levels of income leading to more demand for properties.
- Pay check loans →positive variation in this item was due to synergy-boosting projects between Bradesco's branch network and Bradesco Promotora, especially in the pensioner loans (pay check deduction) portfolio, and also due to strong growth in consumption arising from lower levels of unemployment.
- Services →variation of this item reflected favorable performance from the credit card segment due to growth of the card base/customer base, the effects of changes in Cielo and Visavale equity holdings, and current account revenues.
- Operational expenses – variation in this indicator was due to: provision for profit sharing and legal actions involving labor claims; increased advertising and publicity expenses; organic growth with a consequent higher-than-projected increase in the number of points of service.

140 – Reference Form – 2012

Projection 2009

Reasons for deviations from projections:

- Loan Portfolio – lower volume of major transactions with companies was due to exchange rate variation and migration to the capital market causing the variation of this indicator in relation to its projected level.
- Vehicles - more transactions involved new/pre-owned vehicles (major dealerships), reducing exposure to older vehicles (small dealerships).
- Cards →variation of this indicator was due to the acquisition of Banco IBI.
- Pay check Deduction Loans – positive variation of this item was due to strong growth in the consumer market, especially in the second half year.
- Insurance Premiums →resumption of economic growth.

c) Projections for current periods

Interest is characterized by all and any material advantages in favour of the person themselves or others (relatives, friends, etc.) with whom they have or had personal, business or political relations. In the event of such conflicts, staff must report to their immediate superior for the latter to take a decision accordingly, in all cases safeguarding the assets of the Organization, its customers, shareholders, investors and other related parties.

In order to prevent conflicts of interest, Bradesco's Policy on Related Party Transactions consolidates the Company's procedures for the above mentioned transactions pursuant the rules issued by Regulatory Organizations, thus lending transparency to the process for our shareholders, investors and the market in general, and ensuring strict alignment with the Organization's interests in line with best practices for Corporate Governance. This Policy bars loans or advances to Directors or officers and members of Advisory Councils or the Board, or Tax committees or similar bodies, or to their spouses; relatives to the second degree of kinship, for persons mentioned above; persons or entities holding more than ten percent (10%) of Bradesco capital unless specifically authorized by the Central Bank of Brazil, in each case, for transactions collateralized by effects resulting from the purchase and sale or attachment of goods within general limits set by the National Monetary Council; legal entities of which Bradesco holds more than ten percent (10%) of capital; and legal entities in whose capital more than ten percent (10%) is held by any Bradesco director or officer, or their spouses and relatives to the second degree.

- a) review any infractions and violations of corporate or industry Codes of Ethical Conduct, and/or Bradesco's Policies and Procedures, whether reported directly by the complainant or through the Organization's Dependencies;

3) Information on ABRASCA Open Company Self-Regulation and Good Practices Code:

ABRASCA Open Company Self-Regulation and Good Practices Code.

On June 7, 2011, Banco Bradesco S.A. (Bradesco) has voluntarily adhered to ABRASCA (Brazilian Association of Open Companies) Open Company Self-Regulation and Good Practices Code, which is based on the best corporate governance practices prevailing in Brazil and abroad.

The Code, which may be accessed at ABRASCA website (www.abrasca.org.br), adopts an approach known as “apply or explain” that gives flexibility to Adhering Companies to decide not to apply one or more rules, provided that they explain the reasons for that decision.

In compliance with that Code, Bradesco informs that it applies all principles listed therein, provided that the application of rules set out in Chapters 1 and 11-14 is mandatory.

12.12. Supply other information the issuer believes is material:

With respect to the rules included in Chapters 2-10 of the Code, which are to be applied or the reasons for their non-application must be explained, we provide Bradesco explanations related to those where adopted procedures are not in agreement with the Code:

Chapter 2 – Administrative Board

Item 2.4.3

Bradesco has five (5) statutory committees that report to the Administrative Board, as follows: Audit Committee, Compensation Committee, Internal Controls and Compliance Committee, Executive Committee for Ethical Conduct and Executive Committee for Integrated Risk Management and Capital Allocation. In all of them, only the Committee for Integrated Risk and Capital Allocation Management is not coordinated by an Administrative Board member, being currently coordinated by a Vice-President Director.

However, as mentioned above, that Committee reports directly to the Administrative Board with the objective of assisting the Board in the performance of their duties related to the approval of institutional policies and operational guidelines, and determination of risk exposure limits to achieve its effective management in Bradesco Organization.

535 – Reference Form – 2012

12. General meeting and management

The duties of that Committee include, without limitation:

- a) approve exposure limits for different types of risks in accordance with the overall limit set by the Board of Directors;
- b) validate and submit for approval by the Board of Directors:
 - I - risk management policies and guidelines;
 - II - proposed tolerance limits for overall risk exposure segregated by category; and
 - III - the results of reviews of risk management policies and structures at least as often as determined in regulations;
- c) report to the board of directors on risk positions in the ambit of the Organization, as well as any significant alterations to the strategies adopted, the amount of capital to be allocated and the status of business continuity plans; and
- d) regularly positioning the board of directors in relation to the Committee's activities.

The Committee meets at least quarterly.

Item 2.4.4

Bradesco Independent Board Member, Mr. Ricardo Espírito Santo Silva Salgado, lives in Portugal, what makes its participation in committees, including in the Audit Committee, unfeasible.

However, we understand that the absence of Independent Board Members is fully compensated by the Audit Committee composition constituted according to legal provisions for its operation, which establishes the basic conditions for the position of committee member, his/her level of report to the Administrative Board and especially to the Brazilian Central Bank.

Bradesco Audit Committee meets a legal requirement provided in Resolution nº. 3,198 of the National Monetary Council, dated of May 27, 2004, which establishes that, in addition to the provisions of Resolution nº. 3,041 of the National Monetary Council dated of November 28, 2002, which establishes the conditions for holding offices in statutory bodies of financial and other institutions authorized to operate by the Brazilian Central Bank, the following are basic conditions to be a member of an audit committee in listed companies:

- a) Not to be or have been over the last twelve months:
 - I - director of the institution of any of its affiliates;
 - II - employee of the institution of any of its affiliates;

III - technical officer, director, manager, supervisor or any other member with management duties of the team involved in the institution's audits matters;

IV - member of the supervisory board of the institution of any of its affiliates;

b) spouse or direct, collateral or in-law kin up to the second degree of any person mentioned in sub-item "a" above of items I and II;

c) receive no type of remuneration from the institution of any of its affiliates, other than that related to its position of audit committee member;

It also establishes that the Audit Committee should report directly to the Administrative Board and that, if the audit committee member of the institution is also a member of the administrative board of the institution of any of its affiliates, he/she shall have the right to opt for the remuneration received from one of those positions.

Another aspect that must be highlighted is that the Audit Committee is expected to prepare at the closing of semesters ended in June 30 and December 31 a document titled audit committee report to remain available to the Brazilian Central Bank for five (5) years and contain, at least, the following information:

I - activities performed under its duties in the period;

536 – Reference Form – 2012

12. General meeting and management

II - evaluation of the institution's internal control systems effectiveness, with emphasis on the compliance with Resolution 2,554, of September 24, 1998, evidencing all detected deficiencies;

III - description of recommendations made to the Board, with emphasis on those that have not been followed and the respective reasons;

IV - evaluation of independent and internal audit effectiveness, including the determination of compliance with legal and regulatory provisions applicable to the institution, in addition to internal regulations and codes, and evidence of any detected deficiencies;

V - evaluation of the quality of financial statements related to the respective periods, with emphasis on the application of accounting practices adopted in Brazil and compliance with regulations issued by the Brazilian Central Bank, with evidence of any detected deficiencies.

Currently, Bradesco Audit Committee is composed of one (1) member of its Administrative Board acting in the capacity of Coordinator, who is remunerated only by his activities in said Administrative Board; one (1) member who is a former executive; and two (2) other members who currently have or previously had no relationship with Bradesco or its affiliates and are highly skilled professionals.

13. Directors' compensation

13.1 - Description of compensation policy or practice, including non-statutory executive board

a) Objectives of compensation policy or practice

In general, for the Board of Directors and Executive Board (composed exclusively of statutory members), Bradesco does not adopt the practice of compensation taking into consideration individual performance or of the business unit. The purpose of the policy is mainly:

- to guarantee that the practice of compensation does not encourage behaviors that increase exposure to risk above the levels considered as prudent in the short, medium and long-term strategies; and
- to ensure compliance with the legislation, norms and regulations that guide the subject, based on: (a) the responsibilities of the Administrators, originating from the jobs they have and the duties they perform; (b) in the time dedicated to their duties; (c) in the competence and professional reputation, considering their experience and qualification; and (d) in the value of their services in the market.

b) Composition of compensation, including:

i. description of components of compensation and objectives of each of them

a) Board of directors and executive board:

Compensation is fixed and limited to the overall annual amount approved by the General Meeting, and the Board of Directors decides the amount and periodicity of payments.

In addition, every year, a motion is submitted for approval by the Shareholders' Meeting to fund the Private Pension Plan for Management and Staff of Bradesco Organization, the amounts of which are shown in item 13.2 as post-employment benefits.

Pursuant to CVM circular (CVM/SEP/No. 007/2011), in item 13.2, for the years 2011, 2010 and 2009, we are showing the amounts corresponding to social security contributions (INSS) paid by Bradesco and recognized in its results.

b) Fiscal Council

Compensation of Fiscal Council members is set by the General Meeting that elects them and may not be less than 10% (ten percent) of the average amount attributed to each Director, not computing, under current legislation, the Company's payments of benefits, representation allowances and bonuses.

c) Audit Committee

The composition of compensation for Audit Committee Members, except one member who only receives compensation for being on the Board of Directors, is 100% honorariums, in order to reward each member's contribution in advising the Board of Directors on fulfillment of its attributions, relating to monitoring accounting practices on preparing financial statements for the Company and its subsidiaries, as well as designating independent auditors and evaluating their effectiveness.

Another important factor for defining compensation is that Committee members must be highly qualified for the technical requirements of this position, and at least one of them must have proven knowledge in the areas of accounting and auditing financial institutions to qualify for the position, and show the high degree of specialization required of them by regulatory bodies too.

d) Compensation Committee

Under National Monetary Council Resolution 3921 of 11.25.2010, there must be 1 (one) member of the Compensation Committee that is not an officer or director. If the Company engages an outside member, the latter will be paid according to market parameters.

e) Other Committees

The remaining committees are composed of members who sit on other Bradesco bodies (Board of Directors and Executive Board), and they are remunerated only for their role as members of these bodies.

ii. proportion of each component in total compensation

538 – Reference Form – 2012

13. Directors' Compensation

Board of Directors and Executive Board:

Officers and Officers and Senior Managers' compensation is fixed and limited to the overall annual amount approved by General Meetings.

In addition to that, there is an allocation to fund the Private Pension Plan for Bradesco Organization Management and Staff in the amounts shown in item 13.2 as post-employment benefits.

There are no other benefits for officers and senior managers that are funded by the Company.

Fiscal Council

Compensation of Fiscal Council Members consists wholly of fixed honorariums.

Audit Committee

Compensation of Members of the Audit Committee, except for one member who receives compensation only for being on the Board of Directors, consists entirely of fixed honorariums.

iii. methodology used to calculate and adjust each component of compensation

Board of Directors and Executive Board

The process of calculating total annual compensation of the Board of Directors and Executive Board starts in the ambit of the Compensation Committee.

To determine the grand total of the compensation, the Compensation Committee takes into consideration the following aspects:

- size and results of Bradesco in comparison to its peers in the market;
- time and dedication spent by the Administrators;
- domestic and international economic situation: past, present and future scenario;

- internal and external factors that could affect the business of the Institution; and
- global performance of the Organization.

The Compensation Committee could use other parameters, when justified, not limited to those mentioned above, besides studies, assessments, surveys and other subsidies elaborated by the technical areas of the Organization.

The Board of Directors then evaluates this Committee's proposals and recommendations and sets ceilings for compensation and pension to be submitted to the General Meetings.

Within the limit of the overall annual amount approved by the General Meeting, the Board of Directors arranges distribution of officers and senior managers' compensation and pension payments.

Audit Committee

The process of calculating and adjusting Audit Committee compensation begins in the ambit of the Compensation Committee.

The Board of Directors then evaluates this Committee's proposals and recommendations and defines the amount to be paid in fees for each board member.

iv. reasons for composition of compensation

This practice of compensation adopted reflects Bradesco's prevailing policy of being a "career bank."

In the course of time, the Bank has recruited for most of its executive positions professionals trained in the institution itself, since most of them started their career at the Bank many years ago. They acquired experience in the process of rising through the ranks, which gave them a thorough grounding in the Organization's activities and particularities, and enabled them to faithfully represent its corporate culture. These characteristics show the executives have a strong long-term commitment to the Bank. As an example, a requirement for the positions of CEO and Executive Vice President is having been engaged in activities in the Organization for at least 10 consecutive years.

Highlights that the Administrators are periodically submitted to a rotation of duties to give them greater integration and experience, which makes any type of compensation unfeasible as a result of the activities they execute.

13. Directors' Compensation

The Administrators are assessed permanently and daily, not in order to stipulate their compensation, but for an assessment focused exclusively on their career plan, which facilitates them in decisions exempt from any type of influence.

Given this strong commitment, Bradesco's policy does not have a policy of compensation to distinguish performance by individuals, business units and relation to risks assumed.

The prevailing mood at Banco Bradesco is one of acting collectively. All officers and senior managers act cohesively and in the common interests of solidity and growth. We take into account the importance of acting in all segments, regardless of cyclical results.

Besides the aforementioned rotation of duties, Bradesco is structured so that all the relevant decisions, of business or administrative, may be taken conjointly, in view of the existence of more than 40 committees composed by advisers and directors.

This practice, in our opinion, enables the Administrators to focus more appropriately on guidelines for strategic planning aligned with the mission of the Organization. Consequently, the possible visibility of ascension culminates in a strong commitment of these staff members with the objectives of the Bank.

This commitment favors the maintenance of its compensation policy, whose method contemplates indistinctively all of the Administrators and is not associated to specific results, making decision making exempt from any influence feasible.

c) key performance indicators used when determining each component of compensation

Given the strong commitment of its officers and senior managers, Bradesco does not have a policy of compensation to distinguish performance of individuals, business units and relation to risks assumed. The compensation model is simplified and takes the form of fixed compensation.

Therefore, the use of performance indicators to determine components of Bradesco's Management compensation does not apply to Bradesco.

d) how compensation is structured to reflect the evolution of performance indicators

e) how compensation policy or practice aligns with short, medium and long term interests of the issuer

As mentioned in item 13.1.b.iv, over time, the Bank has recruited for most of its executive positions professionals trained in the institution itself, since most of them started their career at the Bank many years ago. They acquired experience in the process of rising through the ranks, which gave them a thorough grounding in the Organization's activities and particularities, and enabled them to faithfully represent its corporate culture. These characteristics show the executives have a strong long-term commitment to the Bank. As an example, a requirement for the positions of CEO and Executive Vice-President is having been engaged in activities in the Organization for at least 10 consecutive years.

Given this strong commitment, Bradesco's policy does not have a policy of compensation to distinguish performance by individuals, business units and relation to risks assumed. The compensation model is simplified and takes the form of fixed compensation.

f) the existence of compensation paid by subsidiaries, or directly or indirectly controlled or controlling companies

g) existence of any compensation or benefit related to the occurrence of certain corporate events such as sale of the issuer's controlling shareholder interest

Bradesco does not pay this type of compensation.

Reasons for not filling out table:

Our management and supervisory bodies includes professionals associated with the Brazilian Institute of Finance Executives ("IBEF" – Instituto Brasileiro de Executivos de Finanças) - Rio de Janeiro. On March 2, 2010, at the 5th Federal Court of the Judicial Section of Rio de Janeiro (Case 20105101002888-5), the IBEF obtained an injunction stating the following:

"I thereby grant the injunction ordering suspension of the effectiveness of subitem 13.11 of Annex 24 of CVM Instruction 480, in relation to members of the IBEF, and therefore the companies with they which are related, and prohibit any penalties being applied to members or companies to which they belong, until further ruling from this Court."

545 – Reference Form – 2012

13. Directors' Compensation

This injunction comes into effect due to a decision of the Higher Court of Justice (Injunctive Relief No. 17350 - RJ).

The reason for suspending the requirement to disclose maximum, average and minimum compensation of members of management and supervisory bodies of the companies is based on the preservation of individual rights to privacy and security of the individuals that comprise said statutory bodies.

In obedience to these principles and the judicial ruling, the Company will not disclose such information unless and until a Brazilian court rules to the contrary.

The composition of monthly compensation for employees is 100% salary. There may be payments of bonus/profit-sharing depending on appraisal of organizational results achieved.

Evaluation by Results programs, when applied, are designed to recognize extra efforts made to procure results and based on quantitative and qualitative criteria, and on whether or not financial or non-financial targets are met at different levels: global, area of business, and individual. These programs are characterized by aligned and competitive appraisals in the market and by the fact of reaching and surpassing targets for sustainable results.

Our organizational structure includes a specific Committee to deal with compensation issues, which has a permanent character and makes proposals to the Board for the Organization's compensation policies and guidelines, based on targets set by the Board for the Organization's performance.

After an alteration described in the previous paragraph, we are obliged to mail notification to noteholders through the Trustee briefly describing the alteration. However, failure to send said notice to all noteholders, or error in the notification, shall not affect the validity of the alteration.

Cancellation

We may, at our discretion and at any time, with prior approval from the Central Bank cancel our obligations relating to the Notes through "cancellation by operation of law" or "contractual cancellation." In general, on cancellation by operation of law, we shall be deemed to have paid and settled all our debt under the Notes and honoured all our obligations under the Notes and the Issue Indenture except the following items, which will survive: (1) noteholders' rights to receive payments of principal and interest on Notes (including any Additional Amounts) when payments are due, (2) our obligations in relation to transfer and exchange of Notes, payment of Additional Amounts, maintaining a payments agent and registrar of the notes and other matters specified in the Issue Indenture and (3) the Trustee's rights, powers, obligations, duties and immunities.

582 – Reference Form – 2012

In addition, through contractual cancellation, we may cancel our obligations under the obligations described in "-Certain Obligations" except the obligations described in "- Fulfillment of obligations under the Notes and Issue Indenture" and "- Use of Proceeds from Sale of Notes" and certain agreements relating to depositing amounts to pay principal and interest on the Notes, measures related to payment agents, the return of unclaimed amounts and other matters. After contractual cancellation, we may fail to fulfill any cancelled obligation and the subordination provisions in the Indenture shall no longer to be valid.

To exercise cancellation or contractual cancellation we must meet the following conditions:

- irrevocably deposit with the Trustee, in dollars or in US government obligations or any combination thereof, amounts that in the opinion of internationally recognized independent auditor firms are sufficient to pay and settle the principal and each portion of interest on the Notes under the terms of the Issue Indenture and Notes, Insurance Policy and Issuer's statement of consent;
- in the event of cancellation by operation of law, we must deliver to the Trustee a legal counsel's opinion stating that (1) we received a regulation from the Federal Revenue Department, or the Federal Revenue Department issued a regulation, or (2) since the date of the Issue Indenture, there has been an alteration in U.S. income tax legislation or its interpretation, in any case for which noteholders do not recognize income, gain or loss for United States income tax purposes as a result of said deposit, withholding and settlement and will be subject to income tax in the United States in the same amount, in the same way and at the same time they would be if said a deposit, withdrawal and settlement had not occurred, unless the Trustee has received written evidence that each noteholder is not subject to, or is exempt from, United States income tax;
- in the event of contractual cancellation, we must deliver to the Trustee a legal counsel's opinion stating that the noteholders will not recognize income, gain or loss for income tax in the United States as a result of said deposit and cancellation of commitment, and will be subject to United States income tax in the same amount, in the same way and at the same time as they would be if said deposit and contractual cancellation had not occurred;
- no event of default or event which would become an event of default through notification, lapse of time or other conditions, has occurred and persist on the date of the deposit and in relation to bankruptcy, insolvency and other events described in the third and fourth items above under "- Events of Default" at any time during the period that ends on the 123rd day after the date of that deposit or, if longer, ending on the day after that period expires, preferably the longest applicable, relating to that filing;
- we must deliver to the Trustee a legal counsel's opinion stating that payment of the amounts deposited with the Trustee will not be subject to future taxes or other governmental charges applied by any Tax Jurisdiction, except where said related Additional Amounts have been deposited in trust with the Trustee;
- said cancelation does not result in any violation or breach of contract or other instrument to which we are a party or by which we are bound;

- said cancellation will mean that the trust resulting from that deposit constitutes an investment company as per the definition attributed by the 1940 U.S. Investment Company Act and amendments;
- we delivered a certificate and legal counsel's opinion stating that all conditions for revocation were met; and
- no default in payment of principal, premium, if any, or interest on any of the Other Obligations has occurred and continues, said Other Obligations have not become due in advance and no other event of default under those Other Obligations has occurred and continues in such a way as to allow early maturity of these obligations.

J) Other relevant characteristics:

Insurance Policy

An Insurance Policy has been issued to the Trustee for the benefit of noteholders. The Insurance Policy shall provide coverage in case of the issuer's inability to convert Brazilian reais to dollars in order to make a scheduled payment of interest charges under the terms of the Notes, or to transfer converted funds out of Brazil, or to use or control said funds, due to certain actions or omissions by the Brazilian government, or due to the fact of the Brazilian government not approving said actions or measures. The insurer's obligation in relation to payment of compensation under the Insurance Policy is limited to 18 months interest on the Notes and certain premium payments under the Insurance Policy and is subject to certain conditions, limitations and exclusions that could affect noteholders' ability to receive payments of Notes.

Reserve Account

583 – Reference Form – 2012

On the Notes issue date, the Trustee shall open a separate trust account ("Reserve Account") at The Bank of New York Trust Company (Cayman) Limited, in its name and under its sole control for the benefit of the noteholders. The Reserve Account will initially be supplied with an amount equal to the initial premium refundable, of to six months interest charges on the Notes at the Note Rate.

If the funds held in the account for payment are insufficient to pay all accrued and unpaid interest due on any payment date, and the Trustee has received a Proof of Loss from the issuer, the Trustee shall withdraw the required amount from the Reserve Account in order to honour the issuer's obligations to pay interest under the Notes, unless the amounts may be required on this payment date under the Insurance Policy. The Trustee will transfer these funds on the applicable payment date.

II.a) Security: SUBORDINATED DEBT – EUR 225,000,000 – maturing on 04/15/2014

G.I) Possibility of redemption:

The Notes shall not be subject to optional redemption by us except as stated above in "Early Redemption for Tax Reasons."

Early Redemption for Tax Reasons

We may redeem the Notes in whole but not in part at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount of the Notes together with accrued interest through the date set for redemption, and any other amounts payable to noteholders under the terms of the Issue Indenture or the Notes, by notifying noteholders at least 30 days and at most 60 days in advance, if:

- we are compelled, or may be compelled to pay Additional Amounts in excess of the Additional Amounts that we would be required to pay if interest payments due the Notes were subject to withholding or deduction at a rate of 15% as a result of any generally applicable alteration to laws or regulations in a tax jurisdiction or any pertinent alteration in general to the official application or interpretation of said laws and Tax Regulations, in each case, occurring after the date of original issue of any of the Notes;
- we may not avoid, through reasonable measures available to us, our obligations to pay said excess Additional Amounts; and
- the Central Bank has approved this redemption.

However, we may not redeem the Notes for tax reasons before the fifth anniversary of the notes' issue date unless the Central Bank grants us permission to do so at an earlier date. No notice of redemption may be given more than 60 days in advance of the first date on which we would be obliged to pay excess Additional Amounts if a payment for the Notes were to be due at this time. Before sending any notice of redemption as described above, we shall deliver to the Trustee (1) a certificate stating that we have the right to redeem the Notes under the terms of the Issue Indenture and stating the facts relating to redemption and (2) a written opinion from attorneys stating that we are obliged to pay said excess Additional Amounts due to a change or alteration described above, that we cannot avoid paying said excess Additional Amounts by taking the measures available to us, and that all necessary governmental approvals required for said redemption have been obtained and are in full force and effect, specifying any approvals required that were not obtained.

G.II) Formula for calculating redemption value:

Payment of principal of the Notes together with unpaid and accrued interest shall be made on the payment date to the person in whose name the Notes are registered at close of trading New York City time on the tenth business day before payment date. Notes need not be delivered for payment of principal, interest or other amounts to be made, except for redemptions or final payments of principal on due date.

584 – Reference Form – 2012

Maturity: 04/15/2014, unless maturity date is prorogued.

Prorogation of maturity date

Although the stated maturity date of the Notes is April 15, 2014, we may prorogate the maturity date to the earlier of October 15, 2015 or 30 days after the date on which the currency inconvertibility/non-transferability event which prevented our honouring payment of our obligations under the Notes ended, if we submit a certificate stating that we have sufficient funds in Brazilian reais at the reference exchange rate or in Euros, to pay the principal amount of Notes and any other debt payable on the stated maturity date and we may not make said payment in relation to the Notes because of a currency inconvertibility/non-transferability event, which occurred, and continues on said date, and that we have made reasonable efforts to convert and transfer said funds.

If the maturity date is prorogued, the maturity date stated shall be an interest payment date, and interest on the Notes at the Note Rate shall be payable on that date and on each interest payment date subsequent to the prorogued maturity date. If the maturity date is prorogued, we shall notify noteholders within two business days of prorogation.

- a court or agency or supervisory authority in the Cayman Islands or Brazil (1) brings an action or proffers judicial decision or sentence in order to obtain adjudication on the basis of any law of bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, readjustment of debt, prioritizing assets and liabilities or similar law, or orders our liquidation or dissolution of our business or our declaration of bankruptcy or insolvency, (2) issues a ruling or court decision approving as properly filed against us an application for creditor composition (concordata) settlement, adjustment or composition under any applicable law except a creditor composition (concordata) permitted under the Issue Indenture, (3) issue a sentence or court order appointing a custodian, depositary, liquidator, assignee, sequestration agent or other similar official for us or for all or substantially all our assets, and said judicial proceedings, sentences or rulings are not annulled or suspended and remain in effect for a period of 60 days, or (4) any event that occurs which under the laws of Brazil or the Cayman Islands, has a similar effect to any of the above mentioned events; or

- we bring an action or start proceedings voluntarily based on any applicable law of bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization or other similar law, or any other action or proceeding filed for ruling our bankruptcy or insolvency, or we consent in our defence or otherwise, to issuance of a court verdict or decision in an action or proceedings based on any applicable law of bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization or other similar law, in which we are the defendants, or with the filing of an action or proceedings for a ruling on our bankruptcy or dissolution or insolvency or any event which, under the laws of Brazil or the Cayman Islands, has a similar effect to any of the above mentioned events; or

H.VI) THE TRUSTEE, STATING THE PRINCIPAL TERMS OF THE CONTRACT:

The Bank of New York Mellon is the Trustee under the Issue Indenture.

The Issue Indenture, a document signed by the Bank and Trustee, governs various rights and obligations of the parties in relation to issuing the notes, such as: definitions of terms used, general and specific characteristics of the notes, conditions and criteria for redemption and repurchase of notes, commitments assumed by the issuer, definition of default events and instruments for their solution, noteholders' rights, amendments to the contract, satisfaction of terms and segregation of notes and subordination, among other items, and the most relevant terms contained in the Issue Indenture are described in the other items herein.

I) conditions for altering rights assured by these securities

Modifications that do not require approval

The issuer and the trustee may once, without prior consent from noteholders, modify terms and conditions of notes solely to meet the requirements of the Central Bank for the notes to be eligible as Tier 2 capital notes under CVM Resolution No. 3,444 and subsequent amendments. The issuer is not authorized to make any changes without the consent of noteholders if this change in any way affects the interest rate on notes, the cumulative nature of any interest payment due on amounts in arrears, the outstanding principal amount of the notes, their ratings, or their original maturity date.

The trustee will request the opinion of the issuer's Brazilian attorney describing modifications to terms and conditions of the notes required by the Central Bank for the notes to qualify as Tier 2 capital. On receiving the legal counsel's opinion, the issuer shall sign a ratified endorsement to the Indenture, a new note form and any other documents necessary to implement modifications required by the Central Bank.

The issuer and Trustee may also, without the consent of noteholders, modify the Indenture for certain specific purposes, including, among other things, to issue additional notes, correct ambiguities, inconsistencies or defects and include any other provisions referring to matters or issues arising from the Indenture, as long as said correction or provision added does not adversely affect the interests of noteholders in any material respect.

Modifications that require approval

In addition, the Indenture may be modified by the issuer and the Trustee with the consent of noteholders of a majority of the aggregate principal amount of notes then outstanding. However, without the consent of the holder of each outstanding note affected by a modification, no such modification may:

- alter the maturity of any payment of principal or interest on any portion of any note;
- reduce the principal amount or interest rate, or modify the method of calculating the principal amount or interest to be paid on any date;
- alter any place of payment at which principal or interest on the notes is to be paid;
- change the currency in which principal or interest on the notes is to be paid;
- prejudice the noteholders' right to bring an action to enforce any payment on due date or thereafter;
- modify the Indenture's subordination provisions in such a way as to adversely affect noteholders;
- reduce the percentage of the principal amount of outstanding notes for which noteholders' consent is required for any modification or waiver for observance of any Indenture provision or defaults and their consequences; or
- modify provisions summarized in this paragraph, or Issue Indenture provisions relating to waiver of the right to execute the other party due to previous defaults, except to increase any percentage or determine that other Issue Indenture provisions may not be modified or waived without the consent of each noteholder affected by the modifications.

After a modification described in the preceding paragraph, the issuer is required to submit, through the Trustee, a notice to holders briefly describing said alteration. However, the fact of not sending said notice to noteholders, or any error in the notice, will not affect the validity of the modification.

18. Securities

The Trustee may at any time, convene a noteholders meeting. The issuer or the holders of at least 10% of the aggregate principal of outstanding notes may call a meeting if the issuer or said holders have made a written request to the Trustee to call said a meeting and the Trustee fails to send notice calling the meeting within 20 days of receiving the request. Notices calling meetings shall include the time and place of meeting and a general description of the measure proposed to be taken at the meeting and shall be delivered not less than 30 days and not more than 60 days before the date of the meeting, except that all notices of meetings reconvened after adjournment shall be given not less than 10 days and not more than 60 days before the meeting date. At any meeting, the presence of noteholders owing an aggregate amount of the principal sufficient to take the measure for which the meeting was convened shall constitute a quorum. Any modifications or waivers to the Indenture or notes shall be final and binding on all noteholders whether or not they have given their consent (unless required under the Indenture) or were present at any duly convened meeting.

Early Redemption through Tax Event

On any interest payment date, with prior approval from the Central Bank and any other governmental authority (if applicable), the notes may be redeemed after the occurrence of a Tax Event (term defined below). In the event of redemption after a Tax Event, the notes will be redeemed at redemption price equal to 100% of aggregate principal amount, plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, until the date of such redemption, including any additional amounts.

In the case of a Tax Event, the issuer is obliged, before exercising the right of redemption, to deliver to the Trustee a written notice together with a certificate from the management of Banco Bradesco S.A. and a legal opinion from Brazilian attorney, in both cases confirming in a satisfactory manner for the Trustee, that it is entitled to exercise said right of redemption.

"Tax Event" means the determination by the issuer that, immediately before sending the appropriate notice on the date of payment of interest applicable, the issuer would be obliged, for reasons beyond its control, to pay Additional Amounts beyond the Additional Amounts that the issuer would be required to pay if interest payments on the notes were subject to withholding or deduction at a rate of (a) 15% in case of taxes levied in Brazil, (b) 25% in the case of taxes levied in Brazil on money paid to residents of countries in which they are exempt from income tax or subject to an income tax rate of 20% or less, or when the laws of that country restrict disclosure of (i) share ownership structure; or (ii) ownership of the investment; or (iii) beneficial ownership of income paid to non-resident persons pursuant to Law No. 9,779 of January 19, 1999, (c) 0% in case of any taxes levied in the Cayman Islands or (d) the tax rate in force in any other jurisdiction in which a payment agent is located on the date the issuer designates said paying agent, and if in each of these cases, the issuer is unable to avoid said circumstances through reasonable measures.

G.II) Formula for calculating redemption value:

I) Conditions for altering rights assured by these securities

Modifications that do not require approval

The issuer and the trustee may once, without prior consent from noteholders, modify terms and conditions of notes solely to meet the requirements of the Central Bank for the notes to be eligible as Tier 2 capital notes under CVM Resolution No. 3,444 and subsequent amendments. The issuer is not authorized to make any changes without the consent of noteholders if this change in any way affects the interest rate on notes, the cumulative nature of any interest payment due on amounts in arrears, the outstanding principal amount of the notes, their ratings, or their original maturity date.

The trustee will request the opinion of the issuer's Brazilian attorney describing modifications to terms and conditions of the notes required by the Central Bank for the notes to qualify as Tier 2 capital. On receiving the legal counsel's opinion, the issuer shall sign a ratified endorsement to the Indenture, a new note form and any other documents necessary to implement modifications required by the Central Bank.

The issuer and Trustee may also, without the consent of noteholders, modify the Indenture for certain specific purposes, including, among other things, to issue additional notes, correct ambiguities, inconsistencies or defects and include any other provisions referring to matters or issues arising from the Indenture, as long as said correction or provision added does not adversely affect the interests of noteholders in any material respect.

Modifications that require approval

In addition, the Indenture may be modified by the issuer and the Trustee with the consent of noteholders of a majority of the aggregate principal amount of notes then outstanding. However, without the consent of the holder of each outstanding note affected by a modification, no such modification may:

- alter the maturity of any payment of principal or interest on any portion of any note;
- reduce the principal amount or interest rate, or modify the method of calculating the principal amount or interest to be paid on any date;

- modify the Indenture's subordination provisions in such a way as to adversely affect noteholders;
- reduce the percentage of the principal amount of outstanding notes for which noteholders' consent is required for any modification or waiver for observance of any Indenture provision or defaults and their consequences; or
- modify provisions summarized in this paragraph, or Issue Indenture provisions relating to waiver of the right to execute the other party due to previous defaults, except to increase any percentage or determine that other Issue Indenture provisions may not be modified or waived without the consent of each noteholder affected by the modifications.

After a modification described in the preceding paragraph, the issuer is required to submit, through the Trustee, a notice to holders briefly describing said alteration. However, the fact of not sending said notice to noteholders, or any error in the notice, will not affect the validity of the modification.

The Trustee may at any time, convene a noteholders meeting. The issuer or the holders of at least 10% of the aggregate principal of outstanding notes may call a meeting if the issuer or said holders have made a written request to the Trustee to call said a meeting and the Trustee fails to send notice calling the meeting within 20 days of receiving the request. The issuer and the trustee may once, without prior consent from noteholders, modify terms and conditions of notes solely to meet the requirements of the Central Bank for the notes to be eligible as Tier 2 capital notes under CVM Resolution No. 3,444 and subsequent amendments. The issuer is not authorized to make any changes without the consent of noteholders if this change in any way affects the interest rate on notes, the cumulative nature of any interest payment due on amounts in arrears, the outstanding principal amount of the notes, their ratings, or their original maturity date.

The trustee will request the opinion of the issuer's Brazilian attorney describing modifications to terms and conditions of the notes required by the Central Bank for the notes to qualify as Tier 2 capital. On receiving the legal counsel's opinion, the issuer shall sign a ratified endorsement to the Indenture, a new note form and any other documents necessary to implement modifications required by the Central Bank.

The issuer and Trustee may also, without the consent of noteholders, modify the Indenture for certain specific purposes, including, among other things, to issue additional notes, correct ambiguities, inconsistencies or defects and include any other provisions referring to matters or issues arising from the Indenture, as long as said correction or provision added does not adversely affect the interests of noteholders in any material respect.

Modifications that require approval

In addition, the Indenture may be modified by the issuer and the Trustee with the consent of noteholders of a majority of the aggregate principal amount of notes then outstanding. However, without the consent of the holder of each outstanding note affected by a modification, no such modification may:

After a modification described in the preceding paragraph, the issuer is required to submit, through the Trustee, a notice to holders briefly describing said alteration. However, the fact of not sending said notice to noteholders, or any error in the notice, will not affect the validity of the modification.

The Trustee may at any time, convene a noteholders meeting. The issuer or the holders of at least 10% of the aggregate principal of outstanding notes may call a meeting if the issuer or said holders have made a written request to the Trustee to call said a meeting and the Trustee fails to send notice calling the meeting within 20 days of receiving the request.
