Introductory Statement

This Amendment No. 1 (this “Amendment”) amends and supplements the Schedule 13D originally filed on December 23, 2011 (the “Schedule 13D”) by Pacific Dunlop Investments (USA) Inc., a Delaware corporation, P.D. International Pty. Ltd., an Australian proprietary company, P.D. Holdings Pty. Ltd., an Australian proprietary company, and Ansell Limited, an Australian corporation (collectively, the “Reporting Persons”), with respect to their beneficial ownership of 504,896 shares of common stock, par value $0.01 per share (the “Common Stock”), of Lakeland Industries, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Issuer”). Capitalized terms used herein but not defined herein shall have the meanings attributed to them in the Schedule 13D.

Item 4. Purpose of Transaction.

Item 4 is hereby amended by adding the following:

On June 12, 2012, the Issuer announced that it had engaged the investment banking firm of Raymond James & Associates, Inc. to assist the Issuer’s Board of Directors in its evaluation of a broad range of financial and strategic alternatives, including, but not limited to, changes in the Issuer’s capitalization, potential restructuring of existing debt or a possible sale of all or part of the Issuer. Subsequent to such announcement, representatives of the Issuer contacted Ansell Healthcare Products LLC, an affiliate of the Reporting Persons (“Ansell”), to inquire regarding its interest in exploring a range of potential transactions with the Issuer. Thereafter, following the execution of the Confidentiality Agreement (as defined below), Ansell conducted a due diligence investigation of the Issuer in connection with Ansell’s consideration of a potential acquisition or similar transaction involving the Issuer.

Based on its initial due diligence investigation of the Issuer, Ansell was unable to conclude that an acquisition or similar transaction was in the best interest of Ansell. Ansell has not made a determination whether to conduct further due diligence with respect to the Issuer but, subject to the consent of the Issuer, reserves the right to do so. In the event Ansell determines to conduct further due diligence with respect to the Issuer, there can be no assurance that Ansell will determine to make a proposal to the Issuer with respect to an acquisition or similar transaction, but (subject to the terms of the Confidentiality Agreement) Ansell reserves the right to do so.

Item 6. Contracts, Arrangements, Understandings or Relationships With Respect to Securities of the Issuer.

Item 6 is hereby amended and restated in its entirety as follows:

Prior to the commencement of Ansell’s initial due diligence investigation of the Issuer, Ansell and the Issuer entered into a customary confidentiality agreement (the “Confidentiality Agreement”). Among other provisions, the Confidentiality Agreement contains obligations to maintain the confidentiality of certain confidential and/or proprietary information that may be disclosed between the parties and mutual standstill provisions prohibiting either party from taking certain actions without the prior written consent of the other party until the earlier of July 26, 2013 or the entry into a definitive agreement with respect to, or the public announcement of a plan to enter into, a transaction involving all or a controlling portion of the equity securities or all or substantially all of the assets of the other party (the “Standstill Period”). Actions prohibited during the Standstill Period include (a) effecting or seeking, offering or proposing to effect or participate in (i) any acquisition of any debt (including bank and trade debt) or equity securities (or beneficial ownership thereof) or all or substantially all of the assets of the other party, except that either party may beneficially own up to 15% of each class of equity securities of the other party and may own an amount in excess of such percentage solely to the extent resulting exclusively from actions taken by the other party, (ii) any tender or exchange offer, merger or other business combination involving all or substantially all of the assets of the other party, (iii) any solicitation of proxies or consent to vote any voting securities of the other party, (b) forming, joining or in any way participating in a group with respect to debt or voting securities of the other party or otherwise acting, alone or with others, to seek to acquire or affect control or influence the management, board of directors or policies of the other party, or (c) entering into any discussions or arrangements with any third party regarding any of the foregoing.

The information set forth in response to this Item 6 is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Confidentiality Agreement, which is incorporated herein by reference.

Item 7. Material to be Filed as Exhibits.

Item 7 is hereby amended by adding the following:

Exhibit 99.2 Confidentiality and Non-Disclosure Agreement between Lakeland Industries, Inc. and Ansell Healthcare Products LLC

After reasonable inquiry and to the best of my knowledge and belief, I certify that the information set forth in this statement is true, complete and correct.
