Re: Maidenform Acquisition Update

I am happy to inform you that we are making significant progress in the process to acquire Maidenform Brands, and we expect to be able to close the acquisition by Oct. 8, provided Maidenform stockholders vote to approve the deal at a special meeting to be held Oct. 3. Recently we received the needed governmental antitrust clearance for combining Maidenform with HanesBrands.

We are also making significant progress in the development of integration plans. Senior executives from Hanes and Maidenform have already met several times and are directing the planning process. Teams from both companies representing sales and marketing, international, direct to consumer, design and merchandising, finance, supply chain, human resources and information technology have been formed and are collaborating to develop plans around operational and functional issues.

Gerald Evans and I have written two letters to the Maidenform employees to keep them abreast of the acquisition progress and outline a timetable for communicating more information. While we won't have all the answers immediately, we are looking forward to putting a communication process in place to provide Hanes and Maidenform employees with information and details as plans are solidified. Our goal is to be able to communicate no later than early November the high-level plans to integrate the Maidenform and Hanes businesses.

We understand that an acquisition can create uncertainty and concern for employees. We are working diligently on the integration planning process, and we pledge to communicate as much as we can as soon as we can about the plans and the timeline to execute them.

We will be in touch when the acquisition closes.
