TCP Capital's portfolio strength and high levels of recurring income directly correlate to our team's commitment to a rigorous investment process that seeks to deliver high risk-adjusted returns while preserving capital over the long term. DEAR FELLOW SHAREHOLDERS: 2015 was a year of many accomplishments that reflect our long-term history of successfully investing in middle-market companies throughout all types of market cycles. As of December 31, 2015, our highly diversified portfolio had a fair value of $1.2 billion invested in 88 companies across numerous industries. Our largest position represented just 3.7% of total investments, portfolio credit quality remained strong, and floating rate credits comprised approximately 80% of our debt portfolio at year-end. TCP Capital's portfolio strength and high levels of recurring income directly correlate to our team's commitment to a rigorous investment process that seeks to deliver high risk-adjusted returns while preserving capital over the long term. By focusing on our core strategy, we are pleased to report the following highlights and achievements for 2015: • We paid dividends of $1.44 per share. • We substantially out-earned our dividends by $0.19 per share, continuing our record of more than covering each regular dividend since our IPO in 2012. • We enhanced our financing flexibility across our diversified set of funding sources. • We repurchased shares at times when TCPC shares traded below net asset value (NAV) during the year through our $50 million share repurchase program. Looking to the future, we believe TCP Capital is uniquely positioned for continued success for several reasons. First, our 19 industry-focused groups target opportunities from middle-market companies that have sustainable competitive advantages along with significant cash flow and/or significant asset coverage or enterprise value. Middle-market companies, with annual revenue between $10 million and $1 billion, account for roughly one-third of total employment and GDP in the United States and generate approximately $10 trillion in annual revenue. Post-crisis regulations have substantially reduced liquidity in credit markets, a trend that continues into 2016, and as a result, we are seeing numerous transaction opportunities across many sectors. We are enthusiastic about the long-term outlook for this large and underserved market as middle-market companies seek capital to invest in growth initiatives.

Through effective portfolio management and capital allocation, TCP Capital has established a robust platform and produced a strong track record of positive performance. Second, we have a well-diversified origination platform that enables us to identify and evaluate a variety of opportunities that are not generally available to many of our competitors. Collectively, our highly experienced team of more than 80 people has significant experience. Since inception, we have invested more than $15.5 billion in over 400 companies. This expertise is utilized in our highly disciplined and selective approach to new investments. With our scalable structure and distinctive investment process, TCP has tangible competitive advantages in sourcing transactions and gaining the trust of management teams, business owners, and their advisors. Third, our focus on senior secured loans, most of which are floating-rate, positions us with a relatively low overall risk profile and the potential for continuing strong portfolio performance. Fourth, our low cost of capital and diverse funding sources reflect attractively priced leverage and financing flexibility comprised of convertible notes, a term loan, revolving credit facilities, and a long-term SBA leverage program. Finally, as our actions and results show, the interests of TCP's leadership are closely aligned with our shareholders. We continue to invest alongside our shareholders and have a fee structure that is one of the most shareholder-friendly in the business. Through effective portfolio management and capital allocation, TCP Capital has established a robust platform and produced a strong track record of positive performance. We are excited about the future and believe we are well-positioned to deliver sustainable and attractive returns to our shareholders. On behalf of our board of directors and colleagues, we would like to thank all of our fellow shareholders for your continuing support. Howard M.
