Strategic Developments

Gate Gourmet and the Transport and General Workers Union signed an agreement that should bring an end to the labour dispute at the catering company. A full catering service has been restored on all long haul departures.

British Airways increased its fuel surcharge on longhaul flights from £24 to £30 per sector (£60 return trip) from September 12, 2005. The shorthaul fuel surcharge remained unchanged at £8 per sector (£16 return trip).

The airline announced a number of new appointments this month. Keith Williams will succeed John Rishton as chief financial officer on January 1, 2006. As the airline's group treasurer and head of taxation, Keith was responsible for managing the reduction of the airline's debt and financing following the 9/11 terrorist attacks in the United States. Mr Chumpol NaLamlieng will join the board as a non-executive director on November 1, 2005 and Captain Tim Steeds will become director of safety and security on October 1, 2005. He succeeds Geoff Want whose promotion to director of ground operations was announced last month.

The airline launched a new scheme, backed by the UK government, where its customers can volunteer to help to offset the carbon dioxide emissions from their flights by making a contribution to an environmental trust.

British Airways welcomed the European Union's decision to develop proposals to include aviation in the EU emissions trading scheme. The airline believes that emissions trading is the most environmentally effective and economically efficient way to manage carbon dioxide emissions from aviation.

Readers of Business Traveller magazine voted British Airways the best airline in the world. The airline won also the magazine's awards for best shorthaul airline, best first class, best business class, best economy class and best frequent flyer programme.
