CAUTIONARY ADVICE ABOUT FORWARD LOOKING STATEMENTS

The Company may from time to time make written or oral statements that are considered "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements may include financial projections, statements of plans and objectives for future operations, estimates of future economic performance and assumptions relating thereto. The Company may include forward-looking statements in its filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, in its reports to stockholders, in other written materials, and in statements made by senior management to analysts, rating agencies, institutional investors, representatives of the media and others.

Edgar Filing: UNION BANKSHARES INC - Form 8-K

Forward-looking statements reflect management's current expectations and are subject to uncertainties, both general and specific, and risk exists those predictions, forecasts, projections and other estimates contained in forward-looking statements will not be achieved. Also when we use any of the words "believes," "expects," "anticipates," "intends," "plans," "seeks," "estimates" or similar expressions, we are making forward-looking statements. Many possible events or factors, including those beyond the control of management, could affect the future financial results and performance of our Company. This could cause results or performance to differ materially from those expressed in our forward-looking statements. The possible events or factors that might affect our forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, the following:

- * uses of monetary, fiscal and tax policy by various governments
- * political, legislative or regulatory developments in Vermont, New Hampshire or the United States including changes in laws concerning accounting, taxes, banking and other aspects of the financial services industry
- * developments in general economic or business conditions, including interest rate fluctuations, market fluctuations and perceptions, and inflation and their effect on the Company or its customers
- * changes in the competitive environment for financial services organizations
- * the Company's ability to retain key personnel
- * changes in technology including demands for greater automation
- * acts of terrorism or war
- * adverse changes in the securities market
- * unanticipated lower revenues, loss of customers or business or higher operating expenses
- * the failure of assumptions underlying the establishment of reserves for loan losses and estimations of values of collateral and various financial assets and liabilities
- * the amount that we invest in new business opportunities and the timing of these investments

While evaluating forward-looking statements to make decisions with respect to the Company, investors and others are cautioned to consider these and other risks and uncertainties and are reminded not to place undue reliance on such statements. Forward-looking statements speak only as of the date they are made and the Company undertakes no obligations to update them to reflect new or changed information or events, except as may be required by federal securities laws.
