Form 425
July 20, 2015

Filed by Aetna Inc.

Pursuant to Rule 425 of the Securities Act of 1933

and deemed filed pursuant to Rule 14a-12

of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934

Subject Company: Humana Inc.

(Commission File No.: 001-05975)

The following Q&A for Recruiters was distributed by Aetna:

Qs & As for Recruiters

Q: How soon will the Humana acquisition be completed?

The proposed transaction is expected to close in the second half of 2016, subject to regulatory and Humana and Aetna shareholder approvals and other customary closing conditions. Until then, it is business as usual, and both Aetna and Humana will continue to operate and compete as separate companies.

Q: How will the Humana acquisition affect this position if I accept Aetna's offer?

A: There will be no impact as a result of the announcement of the proposed transaction. The proposed transaction is not expected to close until the second half of 2016. Until then, it's business as usual, and both Aetna and Humana will continue to operate and compete as separate companies. Over the next year, we will be working on integration plans. This will involve some changes that will affect certain positions. It's too early to discuss specifics.

Q: Will there be job eliminations at Aetna as a result of this acquisition?

A: There will be no impact as a result of the announcement of the proposed transaction. The transaction is not expected to close until the second half of 2016. Until then, it's business as usual, and both Aetna and Humana will continue to operate and compete as separate companies. Over the next year, we will be working on integration plans. This will involve some changes that will affect certain positions. It's too early to discuss specifics.

Q: Will this position be moved to Louisville? [This response may need to change over time]

A: There will be no impact as a result of the announcement of the proposed transaction. The transaction is not expected to close until the second half of 2016. Until then, it is business as usual, and both Aetna and Humana will continue to operate and compete as separate companies. Over the next year, we will be working on integration plans. This will involve some changes that will affect certain positions. It's too early to discuss specifics.

Q: Will Aetna's benefits change after the acquisition is completed?

A: The proposed transaction is not expected to close until the second half of 2016. We review our benefits offerings regularly to ensure they remain competitive and appropriate for our employees. It's too early to discuss specifics or to predict whether or how any of our current benefits offerings might change after the proposed transaction is completed.

Q: I'm a Humana employee - if I accept this position, will Aetna give me service credit?

The proposed transaction is not expected to close until the second half of 2016. Until then, it's business as usual, and both Aetna and Humana will continue to operate and compete as separate companies. Any Humana employees A: would not become Aetna employees until after the proposed transaction closes. Over the next year, we will be working on integration plans. It's premature to discuss specifics but, unless you become an Aetna employee as a result of the closing of the proposed acquisition, you will not be eligible for credit for your service with Humana.

Q: Can I apply to current open roles at Aetna?

Yes, you may respond to our general recruitment advertising by applying for open positions. [TO THE RECRUITER: Keep in mind that there is a short list of employees whom Aetna cannot hire even if the candidate responded to a general recruitment advertisement.]

Q: Will any preferential treatment be given to qualified Humana employees who apply to Aetna roles?

A: We remain committed to hiring the best talent in the industry. Humana employees will not be given preferential treatment in the hiring process.

Q: Should I identify myself as a Humana employee when speaking to an Aetna Recruiter?

If asked by an Aetna Recruiter to identify who your current employer is, you should not hesitate to identify yourself A: as a Humana employee. We also assume your resume, when you submit it, will accurately reflect the name of your current employer as Humana.

Q: If I am already in the process of interviewing for a role at Aetna, will I still be considered?

In most cases, yes. However, Aetna and Humana have developed a short list of employees whom they have agreed A: will not be recruited or hired by the other for an agreed upon period of time. If you are on that short list, Aetna may not be able to move forward with the recruitment process.

Q: Can I use Aetna's employee referral process to refer a Humana employee to Aetna?

A: The proposed transaction is not expected to close until the second half of 2016. Until then, it is business as usual, and both Aetna and Humana will continue to operate and compete as separate companies. Aetna and Humana have agreed not to focus on or target each other's employees prior to the closing of the acquisition. In keeping with this agreement, you may not use the referral process. However, the Humana employee may respond to our general recruitment advertising if he/she is interested in applying for a position.

Copies of the documents filed with the SEC by Humana will be available free of charge on Humana’s internet website at <http://www.Humana.com> or by contacting Humana’s Investor Relations Department at 502-580-3644.

Aetna, Humana, their respective directors and certain of their respective executive officers may be considered participants in the solicitation of proxies in connection with the proposed transaction. Information about the directors and executive officers of Humana is set forth in its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2014, which was filed with the SEC on February 18, 2015, its proxy statement for its 2015 annual meeting of stockholders, which was filed with the SEC on March 6, 2015, and its Current Report on Form 8-K, which was filed with the SEC on April 17, 2015. Information about the directors and executive officers of Aetna is set forth in its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2014 (“Aetna’s Annual Report”), which was filed with the SEC on February 27, 2015, its proxy statement for its 2015 annual meeting of shareholders, which was filed with the SEC on April 3, 2015 and its Current Reports on Form 8-K, which were filed with the SEC on May 19, 2015 and May 26, 2015. Other information regarding the participants in the proxy solicitations and a description of their direct and indirect interests, by security holdings or otherwise, will be contained in the joint proxy statement/prospectus and other relevant materials to be filed with the SEC when they become available.

Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This communication may contain forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. You can generally identify forward-looking statements by the use of forward-looking terminology such as “anticipate,” “believe,” “continue,” “could,” “estimate,” “expect,” “explore,” “evaluate,” “intend,” “may,” “might,” “plan,” “potential,” “predict,” “project,” “seek,” the negative thereof or other variations thereon or comparable terminology. These forward-looking statements are only predictions and involve known and unknown risks and uncertainties, many of which are beyond Aetna’s and Humana's control.

Statements in this communication that are forward-looking, including Aetna's projections as to the anticipated benefits of the pending transaction, are based on management's estimates, assumptions and projections, and are subject to significant uncertainties and other factors, many of which are beyond Aetna's and Humana's control. Important risk factors could cause actual future results and other future events to differ materially from those currently estimated by management, including, but not limited to: the timing to consummate the proposed acquisition; the risk that a condition to closing of the proposed acquisition may not be satisfied; the risk that a regulatory approval that may be required for the proposed acquisition is delayed, is not obtained or is obtained subject to conditions that are not anticipated; Aetna's ability to achieve the synergies and value creation contemplated by the proposed acquisition; Aetna's ability to promptly and effectively integrate Humana's businesses; the diversion of management time on acquisition-related issues; unanticipated increases in medical costs (including increased intensity or medical utilization as a result of flu or otherwise; changes in membership mix to higher cost or lower-premium products or membership-adverse selection; medical cost increases resulting from unfavorable changes in contracting or re-contracting with providers (including as a result of provider consolidation and/or integration); and increased pharmacy costs (including in Aetna's and Humana's health insurance exchange products)); the profitability of Aetna's and Humana's public health insurance exchange products, where Aetna membership is higher than Aetna projected and may have more adverse health status and/or higher medical benefit utilization than Aetna and/or Humana projected; uncertainty related to Aetna's accruals for health care reform's reinsurance, risk adjustment and risk corridor programs ("3R's"); the implementation of health care reform legislation, including collection of health care reform fees, assessments and taxes through increased premiums; adverse legislative, regulatory and/or judicial changes to or interpretations of existing health care reform legislation and/or regulations (including those relating to minimum MLR rebates); the implementation of health insurance exchanges; Aetna's and Humana's ability to offset Medicare Advantage and PDP rate pressures; and changes in Aetna's and Humana's future cash requirements, capital requirements, results of operations, financial condition and/or cash flows. Health care reform will continue to significantly impact Aetna's business operations and financial results, including Aetna's pricing and medical benefit ratios. Key components of the legislation will continue to be phased in through 2018, and Aetna will be required to dedicate material resources and incur material expenses during 2015 to implement health care reform. Certain significant parts of the legislation, including aspects of public health insurance exchanges, Medicaid expansion, reinsurance, risk corridor and risk adjustment and the implementation of Medicare Advantage and Part D minimum medical loss ratios ("MLRs"), require further guidance and clarification at the federal level and/or in the form of regulations and actions by state legislatures to implement the law. In addition, pending efforts in the U.S. Congress to amend or restrict funding for various aspects of health care reform, and litigation challenging aspects of the law continue to create additional uncertainty about the ultimate impact of health care reform. As a result, many of the impacts of health care reform will not be known for the next several years. Other important risk factors include: adverse changes in health care reform and/or other federal or state government policies or regulations as a result of health care reform or otherwise (including legislative, judicial or regulatory measures that would affect Aetna's and/or Humana's business model, restrict funding for or amend various aspects of health care reform, limit Aetna's and/or Humana's ability to price for the risk it assumes and/or reflect reasonable costs or profits in its pricing, such as mandated minimum medical benefit ratios, or eliminate or reduce ERISA preemption of state laws (increasing Aetna's and/or Humana's potential litigation exposure)); adverse and less predictable economic conditions in the U.S. and abroad (including unanticipated levels of, or increases in the rate of, unemployment); reputational or financial issues arising from Aetna's and/or Humana's social media activities, data security breaches, other cybersecurity risks or other causes; Aetna's ability to diversify Aetna's sources of revenue and earnings (including by creating a consumer business and expanding Aetna's foreign operations), transform Aetna's business model, develop new products and optimize Aetna's business platforms; the success of Aetna's Healthagen® (including Accountable Care Solutions and health information technology) initiatives; adverse changes in size, product or geographic mix or medical cost experience of membership; managing executive succession and key talent retention, recruitment and development; failure to achieve and/or delays in achieving desired rate increases and/or profitable membership growth due to regulatory review or other regulatory restrictions, the difficult economy and/or significant competition, especially in key geographic areas where membership is concentrated, including successful protests of business awarded to Aetna and/or Humana; failure to adequately implement health care reform; the outcome of various litigation and regulatory matters, including audits, challenges to Aetna's and/or Humana's minimum MLR rebate methodology and/or reports, guaranty fund assessments, intellectual property litigation and litigation concerning, and ongoing reviews by various regulatory authorities of, certain of Aetna's and/or Humana's payment practices with respect to out-of-network providers, other providers and/or life insurance policies; Aetna's ability to integrate, simplify, and enhance Aetna's existing products, processes and information technology systems and platforms to keep pace with changing customer and regulatory needs; Aetna's ability to successfully integrate Aetna's businesses (including Humana, Coventry, bswift LLC and other businesses Aetna may acquire in the future) and implement multiple strategic and operational initiatives simultaneously; Aetna's and/or Humana's ability to manage health care and other benefit costs; adverse program, pricing, funding or audit actions by federal or state government payors, including as a result of sequestration and/or curtailment or elimination of the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services' star rating bonus payments; Aetna's ability to reduce administrative expenses while maintaining targeted levels of service and operating performance; failure by a service provider to meet its obligations to Aetna or Humana; Aetna's and Humana's respective abilities to develop and maintain relationships (including collaborative risk-sharing agreements) with providers while taking actions to reduce medical costs and/or expand the services each company offers; Aetna's ability to demonstrate that Aetna's products and processes lead to access to quality affordable care by Aetna's members; Aetna's and Humana's ability to maintain their relationships with third-party brokers, consultants and agents who sell their products; increases in medical costs or Group Insurance claims resulting from any epidemics, acts of terrorism or other extreme events; changes in medical cost estimates due to the necessary extensive judgment that is used in the medical cost estimation process, the considerable variability inherent in such estimates, and the sensitivity of such estimates to changes in medical claims payment patterns and changes in medical cost trends; a downgrade in Aetna's financial ratings; and adverse impacts from any failure to raise the U.S. Federal government's debt ceiling or any sustained U.S. Federal government shut down. For more discussion of important risk factors that may materially affect Aetna, please see the risk factors contained in Aetna's 2014 Annual Report on Form 10-K ("Aetna's 2014 Annual Report") on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"). You should read Aetna's 2014 Annual Report and Aetna's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended March 31, 2015, on file with the SEC, for a discussion of Aetna's historical results of operations and financial condition.

No assurances can be given that any of the events anticipated by the forward-looking statements will transpire or occur, or if any of them do occur, what impact they will have on the results of operations, financial condition or cash flows of Aetna or Humana. Aetna does not assume any duty to update or revise forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, as of any future date.
