Settlement of Certain Litigation Relating to the Mergers

As described in greater detail in the Litigation Relating to the Mergers section of the definitive proxy statement of Cigna Corporation ("Cigna" or the "Company") filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission and first mailed to Cigna shareholders on or about October 28, 2015 (the "Proxy Statement"), putative class action lawsuits were filed by purported Cigna shareholders on behalf of themselves and all others similarly situated. Five of the actions, Leach v. Cigna Corp., et al., Civil Action No. 11354-CB, Copelli v. Cordani, et al., Civil Action No. 11373-CB, Patel v. Cigna Corp., et al., Civil Action No. 11377-CB, Messenger v. Cigna Corp., et al., Civil Action No. 11383-CB and Litwin v. Cigna Corp., et al., Civil Action No. 11396-CB (collectively, the "Delaware Actions") were filed in the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware. A sixth action, Solak v. Cordani, et al., Civil Action No. HHD-CV-15-6061337-S (together with the Delaware Actions, the "Cigna Merger Litigation"), was filed in the Connecticut Superior Court, Judicial District of Hartford (the "Connecticut Court" or the "Court"). The Cigna Merger Litigation relates to an agreement and plan of merger dated July 23, 2015 (the "Merger Agreement"), among Anthem Inc. ("Anthem"), Anthem Merger Sub Corporation ("Merger Sub") and Cigna, pursuant to which Cigna will merge with and into Merger Sub (the "Merger").

Effective November 24, 2015, solely to avoid the costs, risks and uncertainties inherent in litigation, and without admitting any liability or wrongdoing, the Company, the Company's directors, Anthem and Merger Sub entered into a Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU") to settle the Cigna Merger Litigation. The MOU resolves the Cigna Merger Litigation, subject to further definitive documentation in a stipulation of settlement, and provides that the Company will make the supplemental disclosures set forth below. The stipulation of settlement contemplated by the parties will contain customary conditions, including, among other things, Court approval following notice to the Company's shareholders. If the Court approves the settlement, the Cigna Merger Litigation will be dismissed with prejudice and all claims that were or could have been brought in any actions challenging any aspect of the Merger, the Merger Agreement and any related disclosures will be released. In connection with the settlement, subject to the ultimate determination of the Court, plaintiffs' counsel may receive an award of reasonable fees. This payment will not affect the amount of the consideration to be received by any Company shareholder in the Merger. There can be no assurance that the parties will ultimately enter into a stipulation of settlement, or that the Court will approve the settlement even if the parties were to enter into such stipulation. The MOU may terminate, if, among other reasons, the Court does not approve the settlement or the Merger is not consummated for any reason.

Supplemental Disclosures

The additional disclosures in this Current Report on Form 8-K supplement the disclosures contained in the Proxy Statement and should be read in conjunction with the disclosures contained in the Proxy Statement, which in turn should be read in its entirety. To the extent that information in this Current Report on Form 8-K differs from or updates information contained in the Proxy Statement, the information in this Current Report on Form 8-K shall supersede or supplement the information in the Proxy Statement. Nothing in this Current Report on Form 8-K, the MOU, or any stipulation of settlement shall be deemed an admission of the legal necessity or materiality of any of the disclosures set forth herein. Capitalized terms used herein, but not otherwise defined, shall have the meanings ascribed to such terms in the Proxy Statement.

The disclosure under the heading "Background of the Merger" is hereby supplemented by replacing the last sentence of the second to last paragraph on page 96 of the Proxy Statement to read as follows:

This series of meetings ended with the chief executive officer of Company B indicating to Mr. Cordani that Company B was not interested in continuing to explore a potential transaction because Company B did not believe that industry consolidation was imminent and believed in its prospects as a standalone entity.

The disclosure under the heading "Background of the Merger" is hereby supplemented by replacing the third sentence in the first full paragraph on page 97 of the Proxy Statement to read as follows:

The chief executive officer of Company A also indicated to Mr. Cordani that if material events or developments were to occur within the health care industry, such as industry consolidation or if Cigna decided to combine with another market participant, the chief executive officer of Company A would be interested in having further conversations with Mr. Cordani.

The disclosure under the heading "Background of the Merger" is hereby supplemented by replacing the fifth sentence in the third full paragraph on page 109 of the Proxy Statement to read as follows:

After consideration of the various potential fee structures as they related to Cigna's potential alternatives, including the financing-related fees that Morgan Stanley might receive from Cigna in connection with a potential transaction involving Cigna and Company B, and the question of whether such fee structures give rise to a conflict of interest, the Cigna board of directors determined that there was no evidence that Morgan Stanley was in fact swayed by the fee structures.

The disclosure under the heading "Analysis Related to Cigna – Historical Trading Range Analysis" is hereby supplemented by adding the following disclosure after the second paragraph on page 148 of the Proxy Statement to read as follows:

Morgan Stanley compared the one and three year total shareholder returns of Cigna common stock with the average shareholder return of its peer group, consisting of the companies used in the comparison described under "Comparable Public Company Analysis". Cigna's total shareholder returns of 51.4% over the one-year period ending on June 12, 2015 and 206.4% over the three-year period ending June 12, 2015 outperformed its peer group which averaged returns of 48.1% over the same one-year period and 144.2% over the same three-year period (in each case as calculated by Bloomberg, and with respect to Humana, through May 28, 2015, which was the last trading day prior to public rumors that Humana was exploring a sale).

The disclosure under the heading "Analyses Related to Cigna – Discounted Cash Flow Analysis" is hereby supplemented by replacing the fourth through seventh sentences of the paragraph running from the bottom of page 150 to the top of page 151 of the Proxy Statement to read as follows:

For purposes of its discounted cash flow analysis, Morgan Stanley (A) defined unlevered free cash flow as earnings before interest and taxes (1) plus depreciation, (2) plus amortization, (3) plus the tax benefit for the deductible portion of amortization, (4) less income taxes, (5) less increases in working capital, (5) less pension contribution, (6) less capital expenditures and (7) less net cash flow retained at subsidiaries to satisfy risk-based capital requirements, (B) treated stock-based compensation as a cash expense and (C) did not consider any accumulated net operating losses, referred to as NOLs, of Cigna that may be available to be carried forward to future tax periods following the mergers. Morgan Stanley then calculated a range of terminal values for Cigna by applying a terminal perpetual growth rate range of 2.0% to 3.0%. Morgan Stanley selected the terminal perpetual growth rate range based on the application of its experience and professional judgment. The unlevered free cash flows and the terminal values were then discounted to June 30, 2015 by applying a discount rate of 6.6%, which was selected based on Morgan Stanley's professional judgment and taking into consideration, among other things, a weighted average cost of capital calculation and Cigna's assumed cost of equity, which was calculated using a capital asset pricing model that assumed a risk-free rate of 2.4%, an equity beta of 0.80 and a risk premium of 6.0%.

The disclosure under the heading "Analyses Related to Anthem – Discounted Cash Flow Analysis" is hereby supplemented by replacing the fourth through seventh sentences of the fourth full paragraph on page 155 of the Proxy Statement to read as follows:

For purposes of its discounted cash flow analysis, Morgan Stanley (A) defined unlevered free cash flow as earnings before interest, taxes and amortization (assuming amortization is not deductible for purposes of calculating cash taxes) (1) less taxes, (2) plus depreciation, (3) less increases in working capital, (4) plus other cash flow items, (5) less capital expenditures and (6) less net cash flow to subsidiaries, (B) treated stock-based compensation as a cash expense and (C) did not consider any accumulated NOLs of Anthem that may be available to be carried forward to future tax periods following the mergers. Morgan Stanley then calculated a range of terminal values for Anthem by applying a terminal perpetual growth rate range of 2.0% to 3.0%. Morgan Stanley selected the terminal perpetual growth rate range based on the application of its experience and professional judgment. The unlevered free cash flows and the terminal values were then discounted to June 30, 2015 by applying a discount rate of 6.2%, which was selected based on Morgan Stanley's professional judgment and taking into consideration, among other things, a weighted average cost of capital calculation and Anthem's assumed cost of equity, which was calculated using a capital asset pricing model that assumed a risk-free rate of 2.4%, an equity beta of 0.89 and a risk premium of 6.0%.

The disclosure under the heading "Cigna Unaudited Prospective Financial Information" is hereby supplemented by amending and restating the table on page 160 of the Proxy Statement to read as follows:
