NOTE 7 -- FAIR VALUE DISCLOSURES

Effective December 30, 2007, the Company adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 157 ("SFAS 157"), "Fair Value Measurements," which defines fair value, establishes guidelines for measuring fair value and expands disclosures regarding fair value measurements, and SFAS No. 159, "The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Liabilities" ("SFAS 159"). SFAS 157 defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value under Generally Accepted Accounting Principles and enhances disclosures about fair value measurements. Fair value is defined under SFAS 157 as the exchange price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability (an exit price) in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability in an orderly transaction between market participants on the measurement date. SFAS 159 provides companies with an option to report selected financial assets and liabilities at fair value that are not currently required to be measured at fair value. Accordingly, companies would then be required to report unrealized gains and losses on these items in earnings at each subsequent reporting date. The objective is to improve financial reporting by providing companies with the opportunity to mitigate volatility in reported earnings caused by measuring related assets and liabilities differently. SFAS 159 also establishes presentation and disclosure requirements designed to facilitate comparisons between companies that choose different measurement attributes for similar types of assets and liabilities. There was no impact on the financial statements from the adoption of either of these Statements.

Effective December 30, 2007, the Company determines the fair values of its financial instruments based on the fair value hierarchy established in SFAS 157 which requires an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value. The standard describes three levels of inputs when measuring fair value. Level-1 measurements utilize quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities. The Company does not currently have any Level-1 assets or liabilities. Level-2 measurements utilize observable inputs other than Level-1 prices, such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities, quoted prices in markets that are not active, or other inputs observable or can be corroborated by observable market data for substantially the full term of the assets or liabilities. The Company has a level-2 liability from its interest rate swap having a fair value of $195,000 at June 28, 2008 and December 29, 2007. Changes in its fair value are being recorded in current liabilities with corresponding offsetting entries to interest expense. Level-3 measurements utilize unobservable inputs that are supported by little or no market activity and that are significant to the fair value of the assets or liabilities. The Company does not currently have any material Level-3 assets or liabilities.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

The following is management's discussion of certain significant factors that affected the Company during the three and six months ended June 28, 2008.

Consolidated sales for the second quarter and first six months of 2008 increased 20 and 18 percent, respectively, compared to the same periods one year ago. The Company generated a six percent increase in net earnings to $3,391,000, or $.54 per share, in the second quarter compared to net earnings of $3,196,000, or $.50 per share in the second quarter of 2007. The Company experienced a 22 percent decline in net earnings for the first six months of 2008 to $5,254,000, or $.84 per share, compared to net earnings of $6,721,000, or $1.06 per share, in the first six months of 2007.

The Specialty Chemicals Segment generated excellent increases in sales of 32 percent and 22 percent and operating income of 40 percent and four percent in the second quarter and first six months of 2008, respectively, over the same periods last year. The increases in revenues came primarily from several new products that were added late in 2007, an increase in demand for our contract manufacturing products, and increased selling prices on our basic chemical products to pass on higher energy-related costs, partially offset by modestly lower pigment sales. The significant increase in operating income experienced in the second quarter was the result of an improvement in our contract manufacturing business coupled with profits generated from sales of our fire retardant products. The improved second quarter performance more than offset the negative impact on the first quarter's operating income, caused primarily by excess costs and inherent inefficiencies related to starting up several new contract manufacturing products during the first quarter, resulting in the four percent profit increase realized in the first six months of 2008 compared to the same period last year.

The Metals Segment generated sales increases of 17 percent and 16 percent for the second quarter and first six months of 2008, respectively, from the same periods a year earlier. The increase for the quarter resulted from a seven percent increase in average selling prices coupled with a nine percent increase in unit volumes compared to the second quarter of 2007. These increases came from excellent results from specialty pipe and piping systems while commodity pipe unit volume was down 13 percent and selling prices were down modestly. It appears that the unfair-trade case filed in January 2008 by U.S. producers of stainless steel pipe and the United Steelworkers Union against China had an impact on imports during the second quarter. Commodity pipe unit volumes increased 125 percent from the extremely depressed level in the first quarter of 2008. The increase for the six months resulted from a 39 percent increase in average selling prices, partially offset by a 17 percent decline in unit volumes compared to the same period last year. The first half also produced outstanding results from specialty pipe and piping systems, while commodity pipe unit volumes were down 43 percent and prices were down slightly. Operating income declined three percent for the second quarter and 21 percent for the first 6 months of 2008 compared to the same periods last year. The decline in both periods was more than accounted for by significant profits generated in the 2007 periods from rising prices of stainless steel that led to increased profit under our FIFO inventory method. Stainless steel price changes have had only a modest effect on the 2008 periods. Our piping systems business continued its strong performance generating significant increases in sales and profits in the second quarter and first six months of 2008 compared to the same periods last year, as we continued to experience the favorable impact of our backlog throughout the first half of 2008. Piping systems' backlog was $44,500,000 at the end of the second quarter of 2008 compared to $62,200,000 at the end of the second quarter of 2007, and $49,800,000 at the end of the first quarter of 2008.

Consolidated selling and administrative expense for the second quarter increased $127,000, or four percent, and for the first six months of 2008 decreased $66,000 or one percent, compared to the second quarter and first six months of last year. The expense was six percent of sales for both the quarter and first six months of 2008, respectively, compared to seven percent for the same periods last year. The increase and decline for the quarter and first six months resulted principally from a swing in profit incentives incurred during the periods resulting from higher profits earned in the second quarter and lower profits earned in the first six months compared to the same periods last year.

The Company's debt declined $3,522,000 as of June 28, 2008, from the beginning of the year funded primarily by net cash provided by operations. The decrease in interest expense in the second quarter of 2008 compared to the same period last year came from a significant reduction in the liability from our interest rate swap as the fair market value declined in the quarter to $195,000 at June 28, 2008 from $336,000 at March 29, 2008, along with a reduction in the interest rate and our average borrowings during the period. The decline for the first six months of 2008 compared to 2007 came primarily from a reduction in the interest rate and our average borrowings during the period.

Outlook

The Specialty Chemicals Segment began 2008 experiencing difficult conditions during the first two months of the year. However, revenues and profits improved over the last four months. Management is hopeful that this favorable trend will continue, reflecting their efforts to generate new products, improve existing products, and compete in markets not as susceptible to foreign imports. We are experiencing significant price increases from our raw material suppliers and it may not be possible to increase our selling prices to match these increases in raw material as well as higher energy-related costs. Based on these factors and the uncertainty of the domestic economy, it is difficult to predict the performance of this Segment over the remainder of 2008.

As a result of the significant increases in stainless steel pipe imported from China, the Metals Segment along with three other U.S. producers of stainless steel pipe and the United Steelworkers Union filed an unfair-trade case against China on January 30, 2008. It is the third case involving pipe and tube imports from China filed in the past nine months. So far, Department of Commerce's preliminary findings have supported petitioners in the previous cases, although the U.S. International Trade Commission ("ITC") has yet to weigh in with final injury determinations. On March 14, 2008 the ITC determined that there is a reasonable indication that our industry is materially injured or threatened with material injury by reason of imports of welded stainless steel pressure pipe from China that are allegedly subsidized and sold in the United States at less than fair value. As a result of the Commission's affirmative determinations, the U.S. Department of Commerce ("DOC") will continue to conduct its investigations of imports of welded stainless steel pressure pipe from China, and has issued preliminary countervailing duties at the end of June 2008. Its preliminary antidumping determination is due approximately 90 to 120 days later. Management believes China is exporting pipe from excess capacity at dumped and subsidized prices into the US market. Based on the second quarter's activity, we believe the actions by the ITC and the DOC have already reduced import activity and have had a positive impact on pricing for commodity pipe. As discussed above, unit volume sales of commodity pipe were up 125 percent over the first quarter of 2008 and 157 percent over the fourth quarter of 2007. This is encouraging but until this trade case is finalized it will add uncertainty to the future results from commodity pipe. Management is confident that the growth generated by our non-commodity business in 2007 and the first six months of 2008, including our significant piping systems business, should continue in the second half of 2008. Piping systems' backlog, of which management expects about 85 percent to be completed over the next 12 months, should allow piping systems to continue to provide a strong level of sales and profits over the last half of 2008. Management continues to be optimistic about the piping systems business based on our current bidding activity for projects. With over 90 percent of the backlog coming from energy and water and wastewater treatment projects, management continues to be confident that it has positioned the Metals Segment to benefit from the long-term growth of these areas.
