ITEM 6. PURPOSES OF THE TRANSACTION AND PLANS OR PROPOSALS

Purchase is hereby amended and supplemented by adding the following two paragraphs to the end of such subsection on page 36:

"From November 2, 2001 through November 4, 2001, representatives of the Company had discussions with representatives of AES which discussions could have had the effect of terminating AES's tender offers in the United States and Venezuela. Discussions were tentative and no agreements or understandings were reached. There is no assurance that there will be further discussions between the Company or its representatives and AES or its representatives and, if there are further discussions, there can be no assurance that any agreement or understanding will be reached. The Company does not intend to change the terms of its tender offer, share repurchase program or scheduled dividends in connection with any termination of the AES offers."

ITEM 10. FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The first paragraph of the subsection entitled "Financial Information" on page 26 of the Offer to Purchase is hereby amended and supplemented in its entirety as follows:

"CANTV does not believe its financial statements are material to the Offers. Nevertheless, the following selected consolidated financial information relating to CANTV and its subsidiaries, which has been taken or derived from the audited consolidated financial statements contained in the Form 20-F, has been provided for your convenience. Additional financial information is available in documents which have been filed by CANTV with the SEC. The financial statements of CANTV are prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in Venezuela ("Venezuelan GAAP"), which differ in certain important respects from generally accepted accounting principles in the United States ("U.S. GAAP"). The primary differences between U.S. GAAP and Venezuelan GAAP that apply to the Company are as follows:

Restatement for Inflation. Venezuela follows general price level
accounting as prescribed in the Venezuelan Statement of Accounting Principles Number 10 "Standards for the Preparation of Financial Statements

Edgar Filing: NATIONAL TELEPHONE CO OF VENEZUELA - Form SC TO-I/A

Adjusted for Inflation", as amended (DPC 10). In most circumstances U.S. GAAP does not allow for the restatement of financial statements for general price level changes. For U.S. GAAP purposes, account balances and transactions are stated in the units of currency of the period when the transactions originated. This accounting model is commonly known as the historical cost basis of accounting. However, because the economy of Venezuela has experienced periods of significant inflation in the recent past, the use of financial statements restated for general price level changes is consistent with the requirements of the SEC rules and with the methodology described in Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 89, "Financial Reporting and Changing Prices" (SFAS 89). The U.S. GAAP reconciliations presented herein do not, therefore, exclude the effect of the general price level accounting as prescribed in DPC 10.

Accounting for Taxation. Venezuelan GAAP is consistent with the accounting principles set forth in the now superseded U.S. Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 11, "Accounting for Income Taxes" (APB 11). Venezuelan GAAP requires that deferred taxes be provided at the tax rates prevailing at the time of the provision. In addition, the provision for deferred taxes is not adjusted to take into account subsequent changes to the statutory rates of taxation. In 1992, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) in the United States adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109, "Accounting for Income Taxes" (SFAS 109). This standard requires that deferred tax assets and liabilities be established for the tax consequences of "temporary differences" by applying enacted statutory tax rates applicable to future years to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts and the tax bases of existing assets and liabilities. Under SFAS 109, the effect on deferred taxes of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date. Valuation allowances are provided for deferred tax assets when realization is not assured.

Accounting for Postretirement Benefits other than Pensions. Until 1998, postretirement medical benefits were recorded as operating expenses when claims were filed and the Company did not fund its obligation related to this plan. U.S. GAAP requires the expected costs of these benefits to be recognized systematically over employees' service periods. In 1999, the Company adopted International Accounting Standard 19 (IAS 19) and will recognize postretirement benefits other than pension systematically over employee's service period. As permitted under IAS 19 the accumulated postretirement benefits obligation, as of December 31, 1998, was recognized as an adjustment to beginning retained earnings, therefore, this item will no longer be a difference between U.S. and Venezuelan GAAP.

Employee Severance Benefits. In accordance with Venezuelan GAAP,

employee severance benefits are reflected as the absolute amount earned in accordance with the Venezuelan labor law. U.S. GAAP permits but does not require these types of liabilities to be accrued based on actuarial estimates, in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standard No. 87, "Employers' Accounting for Pensions." (SFAS 87) For U.S. GAAP purposes, the Company has chosen to reflect the liability based on actuarial assumptions at its discounted value. In addition, in accordance with SFAS 89, under U.S. GAAP this item is treated as a nonmonetary liability while under Venezuelan GAAP it was considered a monetary liability until 1997. In June 1997, the Venezuelan Congress enacted an amendment to the labor law regarding severance benefits. As a result of the amendment to the labor law, these employee severance benefits are treated as a defined contribution plan and discounting is no longer applicable. Also, under SFAS 89, employee severance benefits became a monetary item for U.S. GAAP purposes due to its defined contribution plan nature.

Capitalized Interest. In accordance with Venezuelan GAAP, in its inflation adjusted financial statements, the Company does not capitalize interest costs incurred in connection with the construction of major capital projects. Under U.S. GAAP, the amount of interest incurred in connection with the construction of these projects is reflected in inflation adjusted financial statements. The amount capitalized is calculated by applying the composite weighted average interest rates of outstanding borrowings to construction work in process balances during each applicable period. Capitalized interest is included in property, plant and equipment and depreciated over the lives of the related assets.

Treasury Stock. One percent of the shares, or 10,000,000 shares, issued at privatization were purchased by the Company from the Venezuelan government to be distributed to employees in the form of awards. The Company's cost of these shares is recorded in Other assets. U.S. GAAP for publicly traded entities reflects these shares as treasury stock.

Earnings Per Share. Statement of Financial Accounting Standard No.

128, "Earnings per Share" (SFAS 128) establishes standards for computing and presenting earnings per share (EPS) as it applies to entities with publicly held common stock. It replaces the presentation of primary and fully diluted EPS with a presentation of basic and diluted EPS. It requires dual presentation of basic and diluted EPS for all entities with complex capital structure."

ITEM 11. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

The subsection entitled "Venezuelan Legal Proceeding" on page 41 of the Offer to Purchase is hereby amended and supplemented to add the following paragraph after the first paragraph under such subsection:

"On October 24, 2001, the First Administrative Court in Caracas declined to grant plaintiff's requested relief on the ground that, as a result of the publication of the Venezuelan Offer made by CANTV prior to the extraordinary shareholder meeting, the plaintiff was deemed to be sufficiently informed regarding the content of such offering."
