VOTING RIGHTS AND SOLICITATION OF PROXIES

Your Proxy is solicited by the Board of Directors of the Company.

Record Date

Only shareholders of the Company's Common Stock, at the close of business on March 10, 2003 (the "Record Date") are entitled to receive notice of and to vote at the Annual Meeting. On the Record Date, there were 64,106,723 shares of Common Stock outstanding.

Shareholders are entitled to one vote on each proposal for each share of Common Stock held on the Record Date. Shares of Common Stock may not be voted cumulatively. You may cast your Proxy by any of the methods listed below. Please refer to the detailed instructions included with your Proxy for submission deadlines and step-by-step instructions.

Vote by Mail. Complete, date and sign your Proxy. Mail it in the pre-paid envelope provided so that it reaches us before the deadline specified in the Proxy.

Vote by Telephone. Call the toll free telephone number provided with your Proxy and follow the instructions. You will use the touch pad on your telephone to record your vote. The deadline for telephone voting is 11:59 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time on April 28, 2003.

Vote during the Annual Meeting. You may vote either in person or electronically before the polls close.

You will also be asked to describe your vote as (1) first vote, (2) revocation or withdrawal of prior vote or (3) revocation or withdrawal of prior vote providing new voting instructions.

Quorum and Election

ADP Investor Communication Services has been selected to tabulate the votes and act as Inspector of Elections.

Quorum. The Company's bylaws provide that the presence, in person or by Proxy, of the holders of not less than a majority of the shares of Common Stock entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting is necessary to constitute a quorum to conduct business at the Annual Meeting. Since attendance in person is historically low, quorum will be determined by the number of shares present by Proxy.

Election. Delaware law provides the following:

Election of Directors. Directors shall be elected by a plurality of shares present in person or by Proxy at the Annual Meeting and entitled to vote on the election of Directors. A director wins by "plurality" when he or she receives more than one-half ($1/2$) the total number of votes cast for all of the competitors combined.

Matters other than the Election of Directors. In all matters other than the election of directors, the affirmative vote of a majority of shares present in person or by Proxy at the Annual Meeting and entitled to vote on the subject matter shall be the act of the shareholders.

Tabulation of your Proxy

The Inspector of Elections will tabulate your Proxy as follows:

Edgar Filing: CIBER INC - Form DEF 14A

All shares represented by a properly executed Proxy will be voted at the Annual Meeting in accordance with your instructions unless you have taken steps to revoke or withdraw your Proxy.

Shares that are voted WITHHOLD or ABSTAIN will be counted as present for quorum purposes, but will have the same effect as voting against a proposal.

Broker non-votes will have no impact on the outcome of a proposal but will be counted as "present" for quorum purposes. "Broker non-votes" are Proxies for shares held in record name by brokers or nominees, for which (i) instructions have not been received from the beneficial owner or person entitled to vote and (ii) the broker or nominee does not have discretionary voting power under applicable national securities exchange rules or the instrument under which it serves in such capacity.

If you sign and date your Proxy but do not provide instructions, your shares will be voted FOR ALL Board of Directors' nominees for Class III director.

In addition to executing your voting instructions, the persons named in the Proxy will have discretionary authority to vote all Proxies with respect to additional matters that may be properly presented for action at the Annual Meeting. The Company is not aware of any other business to be presented at the Annual Meeting.

You May Revoke or Change Your Proxy

At any time prior to final tabulation of the votes on April 29, 2003, you may change your vote or revoke your Proxy by following one of the procedures set forth below:

Deliver a letter, signed and in writing, to the Secretary of the Company stating your desire to revoke your Proxy. The letter must be dated later than the date stated on the Proxy you wish to revoke. Address the letter to CIBER, Inc. Corporate Secretary, 5251 DTC Parkway, Suite 1400, Greenwood Village, Colorado 80111.

Deliver a Proxy bearing a date later than the Proxy you wish to revoke to ADP Investor Communication Services, 51 Mercedes Way, Edgewood, NY 11717. You may use any available voting method to deliver your new Proxy, but it must be received by ADP before the deadline for mail, telephone or internet voting.

Attend the electronic Annual Meeting and submit your vote prior to the close of the polls. Instructions for voting online during the Annual Meeting are on page 2, in the Voting section, of this Proxy Statement. Please note that attending the electronic Annual Meeting will not, alone, revoke or alter your Proxy.

Please refer to the table entitled Security Ownership of Certain Beneficial Owners and Management located on page 13 for additional information.

Proxy Solicitation

This Proxy Solicitation is made by and on behalf of the Board of Directors. Solicitation of Proxies for use at the Annual Meeting may be made by regular mail, by e-mail or in person by directors, officers and regular employees of the Company. These individuals will receive no additional compensation for any solicitation activities. Copies of solicitation materials will be furnished to banks, brokerage houses, fiduciaries and custodians holding in their names shares of Common Stock beneficially owned by others to forward to those beneficial owners. The Company may reimburse persons representing beneficial owners of Common Stock for their costs of forwarding solicitation materials to beneficial owners. The Company will bear the entire cost of solicitation of Proxies, including the preparation, assembly, printing and mailing of this Proxy Statement, the Proxy and any additional information furnished to shareholders.

Proposals submitted after December 31, 2003 will be considered untimely and will not be eligible to be included in the Notice and Proxy Statement for the 2004 annual meeting. The persons named in the Company's Proxy will have discretionary authority to vote all Proxies with respect to any untimely proposals. Shareholder notices must contain the specific information set forth in the bylaws, and proposals must conform to the procedures established by the Securities and Exchange Commission in Section 14a-8 of the Securities Act of 1934, as amended. Shareholders will be furnished a copy of CIBER's bylaws without charge upon written request to the Secretary. Please address shareholder proposals to: Corporate Secretary, CIBER, Inc., 5251 DTC Parkway, Suite 1400, Greenwood Village, Colorado 80111.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE PRACTICES

Statement on Corporate Governance

CIBER has had informal corporate governance standards in place since the Company's inception in 1974, which have evolved to accommodate the Company's growth over the years. CIBER's Code of Conduct is applied consistently to all employees and has been a prominent part of the Employee Handbook for several years. We have reviewed internally and with the Board the provisions of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 ("Sarbanes-Oxley Act"), the proposed rules of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission and the proposed new listing standards of the New York Stock Exchange regarding corporate governance policies and processes. We believe that many of our current standards, although not formally set down, form an integral part of the CIBER culture and meet most of the proposed requirements. In anticipation of the adoption of these rule changes, we have drafted charters for our Compensation and Nominating Committees, proposed amendments to the Audit Committee Charter adopted in 2001, formalized a Code of Conduct and Business Ethics with specific application to executive and senior financial officers, and drafted Corporate Governance Guidelines, to implement certain of the proposed rules and standards. It is anticipated that the new charters, amendments to existing charters, the Code of Conduct and the Corporate Governance Guidelines will be adopted at the next quarterly meeting of the Board, or at such time as final rules governing such committees are adopted by the SEC and the NYSE. In the future, you will be able to access the latest standards and charters adopted by CIBER and the Board and its committees at the Investor Relations section at <http://www.ciber.com/cbr> or by writing to us at CIBER, Inc., 5251 DTC Parkway, Suite 1400, Greenwood Village, Colorado 80111, Attention: Investor Relations.

PROPOSAL No. 1 ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

Background.

Each year at the Company's Annual Meeting of Shareholders, directors constituting approximately one-third of the Board are elected for a three-year term or until a successor is duly elected and qualified. The terms of current directors Mr. Archibald J. McGill, who was elected by shareholders in 2000 to fill the Class III position and Mr. George A. Sissel, who was unanimously elected by the Board to fill a vacant position on May 9, 2002, will expire at the 2003 Annual Meeting. The terms of the Class I Directors, Mr. Bobby G. Stevenson, Mr. James C. Spira and Mr. Peter H. Cheesbrough will expire in 2004. The terms of the Class II Directors, Mr. Mac J. Slingerlend and Mr. James A. Rutherford, will expire in 2005.

Pursuant to the Company's bylaws, vacancies on the Board may be filled by the affirmative vote of a majority of the remaining directors then in office. A director elected to fill a vacancy, including a vacancy created by an increase in the Board, serves for the remainder of the full term of the new directorship or of the class of directors in which the vacancy occurred. If the number of directors has changed, any increase or decrease shall be apportioned among the classes so as to maintain the number of directors in each class as nearly equal as possible, but in no case will a decrease in the number of directors shorten the term of any incumbent director. In 2002, in addition to Mr. Sissel, Mr. Spira and Mr. Cheesbrough were elected to fill vacancies on the Board.

Edgar Filing: CIBER INC - Form DEF 14A

Description of Proposal No. 1.

Proposal No. 1 asks you to elect two (2) individuals to serve as Class III directors for the ensuing three-year term, to expire in 2006, or until a successor is elected and qualified. The Nominating Committee, with the concurrence of the non-incumbent members of the Board, has nominated for re-election, and the Board presents for your consideration, Mr. Archibald J. McGill and Mr. George A. Sissel.

TEXT OF PROPOSAL NO. 1 ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

The text of Proposal No. 1, as you will see it printed on your Proxy is as follows: "To elect the following nominees for Class III Director: Mr. Archibald J. McGill and Mr. George A. Sissel."

Shares represented by Proxies that are not marked so as to "WITHHOLD ALL" authority to vote for Mr. Archibald J. McGill and Mr. George A. Sissel (Class III) or "FOR ALL EXCEPT" a specified individual will be voted FOR their election. If any of the nominees are unavailable or unwilling to serve as director, persons named in the Proxy intend to cast votes for which they hold Proxies in favor of the election of such other person as the Board may designate. The Board knows of no reason why either Mr. McGill or Mr. Sissel would be unable or unwilling to serve on the Board. Biographical information about each director nominee and each of the other directors is located on pages 6-8 of this Proxy Statement in the section entitled, "Directors and Executive Officers."

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS RECOMMENDS A VOTE "FOR ALL" OF THE NOMINEES

Transactions with management and others. Consistent with provisions of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, CIBER, Inc. has adopted a policy prohibiting future loans to officers and directors

In July 1999, the Company entered into a promissory note with Mr. Joseph A. Mancuso, in the initial principal amount of $300,000, to assist with the purchase of a home. Mr. Mancuso is the Company's Senior Vice President and President of CIBER's Custom Solutions Division. The promissory note requires partial repayment annually, with the balance payable in full in five years or sooner in the event that Mr. Mancuso is no longer an employee of CIBER. The loan is secured by a second mortgage on Mr. Mancuso's residence. As of December 31, 2002, the outstanding balance on the loan receivable from Mr. Mancuso was $220,476. Imputed interest reported on Mr. Mancuso's 2002 Form W-2 was $12,557. The Note expires according to its terms in July, 2004, and will not be renewed or amended.

On January 2, 2002, the Company entered into a Revolving Promissory Note with Mr. Mac J. Slingerlend in the initial principal amount of $1,500,000, for the primary purpose of tax assistance. Mr. Slingerlend is the Company's President, Chief Executive Officer and Secretary. The balance of the Note was due and payable on December 31, 2002. On December 23, 2002, Mr. Slingerlend paid in full all amounts due and owing under the Note and the Note was cancelled. Imputed interest reported on Mr. Slingerlend's 2002 Form W-2 was $36,534.

On January 11, 2002, the Company entered into a vendor agreement with CustomDepot.com for the design, manufacture and provision of custom logo items for the CIBER Gear program and for use at marketing events for the year 2002 (the "Agreement"). This non-exclusive Agreement is one of several entered into with various companies in the ordinary course of business that provide logo-bearing paraphernalia for Company events. The products and services are provided at or below market rates charged by third party vendors. In 2002, the Company paid CustomDepot.com a total of $146,994 for products and services. CustomDepot.com is owned and operated by Ms. Terra Emerson, daughter of the Company's President. No officer or director of the Company has any pecuniary or beneficial interest in CustomDepot.com.

SECTION 16(a) BENEFICIAL OWNERSHIP REPORTING COMPLIANCE

Section 16(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), requires that the Company's directors, executive officers and persons who beneficially own greater than 10% of a registered class of the Company's equity securities file initial reports of ownership and changes in ownership of such securities with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") and the Company. Based solely upon its review of copies of the Section 16(a) reports received by the Company, and written representations from certain reporting persons, the Company believes that during the year-ended December 31, 2002, all of its directors, executive officers and greater than 10% beneficial owners were in compliance with their filing requirements, including the accelerated filing requirements under Sarbanes-Oxley, except that the Form 3, Initial Ownership Report of Mr. Cheesbrough, due within 10 days following his entry upon the Board, and believed to have been timely filed in paper form with the Commission, did not reach the SEC for filing. Immediately upon discovery of the error, the Form 3 was electronically filed on January 16, 2003. The Form 3 disclosed both Mr. Cheesbrough's non-derivative equity holdings and derivative securities acquired as a result of his membership on the Board. Neither the non-derivative disclosure nor the derivative transaction (option grant) triggered a matching purchase and sale event.

BOARD COMMITTEES AND MEETINGS

The Board met six times in 2002, including four regularly scheduled meetings (held quarterly) and two telephonic meetings. Each director, including incumbents, participated either in person or by conference telephone at all of the board meetings and committee meetings (of which such director was a member) held in 2002. The Board has standing Compensation, Nominating and Audit Committees with membership as specified below.

COMPENSATION COMMITTEE.

The principal responsibilities of the Compensation Committee are to administer and grant awards under the Company's Equity Incentive Plan and to administer the Employee Stock Purchase Plan (which are stock-based plans). In addition, the Compensation Committee recommends annual salary and bonus incentives for executive officers and senior management to the Company's Board. The Committee has drafted a charter which is anticipated to be presented for approval and adoption at the next quarterly board meeting or at such time as final rules governing Committees are adopted by the SEC and NYSE. The members of the Compensation Committee are Mr. Spira (Chairman), Mr. McGill and Mr. Sissel. The Compensation Committee met twice in 2002.

NOMINATING COMMITTEE.

The principal responsibilities of the Nominating Committee are to identify and nominate qualified individuals to serve as members of the Board, or to nominate candidates to fill such other positions as may be deemed necessary and advisable by the Board. Members of the Nominating Committee must be outside directors who are not incumbent to the Class of directors nominated for election during their year of service on the Committee. The members of the Nominating Committee are Mr. Rutherford (Chairman) and Mr. Spira. The Nominating Committee met once in 2002.

The Nominating Committee will consider nominees recommended by the shareholders. Please refer to the section entitled "Shareholder Proposals For Our 2004 Annual Meeting" located on page 4 for information related to shareholder nominations.

AUDIT COMMITTEE.

The principal responsibilities of the Audit Committee during 2002 were: (1) to evaluate, select and engage the Company's independent public accountant, (2) to meet periodically with representatives of the Company's independent auditors and management to review the general scope of audit coverage, (3) to consider the Company's accounting practices and procedures and system of internal accounting controls, (4) to review any transactions that may involve a conflict of interest, and (5) to report to the Board with respect thereto.

Membership, Meetings and Participation.

The members of the Audit Committee are Messrs. Cheesbrough (Chair), Rutherford (former Chair) and McGill and Spira, each of whom is an outside director, independent of management and free from any relationship that, in the opinion of the Board, would interfere with the exercise of independent judgment as a committee member, as defined in Sections 303.01(b)(2)(a) and (3) of the listing Standards of the New York Stock Exchange, as modified or supplemented. During 2002, the Committee met a total of five (5) times, three times with all members in attendance and with management and the independent auditors (February, November and December). The February meeting was held to review and approve the 2001 audited financial statements; the December meeting to plan for the 2002 audit. The chart below provides a summary of each Committee members' participation in Board and Committee meetings in 2002. The full Board reviews and discusses the minutes of the Audit Committee quarterly.

- (2) Mr. Spira rejoined the Board on March 7, 2002.
- (3) Mr. Cheesbrough joined the Board and assumed Chair of the Audit Committee on November 18, 2002.

* The Audit Committee charter provides that the Chairman, alone, may meet with auditors and management to discuss quarterly financial results. In July, 2002, the Audit Committee decided that all members should attend all future meetings.

Audit Committee Charter In May, 2001, the Audit Committee proposed and the Board adopted a written Charter, in compliance with requirements of the New York Stock Exchange and the Securities and Exchange Commission. It is a further requirement that the Audit Committee Charter be attached as an Appendix to the Company's Proxy Statement once every three (3) years, or sooner upon amendment, the Charter was filed as part of the Company's 2001 Proxy Statement. The Charter was not amended in 2002.

The Company is in the process of drafting an Amended and Restated Charter for the Audit Committee that complies with the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. Adoption is contingent upon the promulgation of final rules or regulations currently under consideration by the SEC and the New York Stock Exchange in response to the mandates of Sarbanes-Oxley. Upon adoption, the amended and restated charter will be filed with the SEC and NYSE, as required, and will be available for review on the Company's Investor Relations website at <http://www.ciber.com/cbr>.

"Audit Committee Financial Expert" Anticipating adoption of amended Listing Standards by the New York Stock Exchange in response to Sarbanes-Oxley legislation and SEC rule making regarding financial experts, Mr. Peter H. Cheesbrough was invited to join the Board specifically to assume the Chair of the Audit Committee. The Board has determined that Mr. Cheesbrough's broad accounting and financial reporting experience meets the current and proposed definitions of "audit committee financial expert." Mr. Cheesbrough is independent, as such term is defined in the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended.

Report of the Audit Committee(1) As stated in the Audit Committee Charter adopted by the Board of Directors of CIBER, Inc. in May, 2001, the Audit Committee of the Board assists the Board in fulfilling its responsibilities for financial reporting compliance by reviewing the audited financial statements, reviewing the system of internal controls that management and the board of directors have established and reviewing the overall audit process. The Audit Committee, as a Committee of the board, is directly responsible for the appointment, compensation and oversight of the registered public accounting firm, and in that capacity has:

This section is not "soliciting material," is not deemed "filed" with the Commission and is not to be incorporated by reference in any filing of the Company under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, whether made before or after the date hereof and irrespective of any general incorporation language in any such filing.

reviewed and discussed the audited financial statements for 2002, separately and jointly with management and with KPMG LLP ("KPMG"), the Company's independent auditors; discussed with KPMG the matters required to be discussed by the Statement on Auditing Standards No. 61, Codification of Statements on Auditing Standards, AU § 380, as modified or supplemented by the Auditing Standards Board of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants; received the written disclosures and the letter from KPMG required by Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1, "Independence Discussions with Audit Committees", as may be modified or supplemented, and has discussed with KPMG its independence; and further, considered whether the auditor's provision of non-audit services is compatible with independence and concluded that the services rendered by KPMG are compatible with maintaining the principal accountant's independence for the following reasons: (1) no ($0.00) fees were billed for financial information systems design and implementation and (2) Other Fees primarily relate to services provided in connection with tax advice and acquisition transactions in the U.S. and Europe. The Company's principal accountant and independent auditor, KPMG LLP, billed a total of $562,566 for all services provided in 2002. Please refer to the section entitled Independent Public Accountants located on page 24 for fee information.

Based upon this review and discussions referred to above, the Audit Committee has recommended to the Board that the audited financial statements be included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year-ended December 31, 2002, and that this report be included in the Proxy Statement.

Peter H. Cheesbrough, Chair
James A. Rutherford
Archibald J. McGill

COMPENSATION OF DIRECTORS

Compensation of Directors

All non-employee directors receive shares of CIBER Common Stock valued at approximately $2,500 for each Annual Meeting attended and are paid a $6,000 semi-annual retainer. The Chairman of the Audit Committee of the Board receives twice this retainer amount due to the additional time needed to fulfill this responsibility. All directors are reimbursed for expenses incurred to attend meetings. Non-employee directors receive stock options under the Non-Employee Directors' Stock Option Plan (the "Directors' Plan") for serving on the Board. Employee directors receive no additional compensation for serving on the Board.

The Directors' Plan was approved by the shareholders in 1994 and, as amended at the 2002 Annual Meeting, 300,000 shares of Common Stock are authorized for issuance under the Plan. The Plan is administered by the Board. Each option granted under the Directors' Plan vests in equal annual installments over two years and expires ten years from the date of grant. The Directors' Plan provides for an initial grant of options to purchase 20,000 shares of Common Stock to each non-employee director when that director takes office. In addition, after each year of service, each non-employee director receives the grant of an option to purchase 4,000 shares of Common Stock; such options vest fully one year after the date of grant.

Compensation Committee Interlocks and Insider Participation

There were no Compensation Committee Interlocks in 2002. The Compensation Committee of CIBER's Board of Directors currently consists of James C. Spira, Archibald J. McGill and George A. Sissel. Employment Agreements

The Company has entered into employment agreements with each of the Named Executive Officers. Each officer's agreement has a term of one year and is renewable annually. Each employment agreement provides that an officer's compensation will include a base and a bonus. The base salary and bonus structure of the Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Operating Officer are determined by the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors. The base salary and bonus structure of the remaining executive officers are determined by the Chief Operating Officer, in consultation with the Chief Executive Officer. In the event that an officer's employment is terminated upon a change in control of the Company, upon death or disability of the officer or without cause, the officer will be entitled to a severance payment of one to three times his annual compensation, which varies based upon the cause of termination and officer position. Officers are also entitled to receive continuation of medical, dental and disability benefits for up to 36 months following termination, which varies based upon the officer's position. One officer received a loan from the Company in July 1999 and one officer entered into a promissory note in 2002, the terms of which are described under "Certain Relationships and Related Transactions."

Long-term Deferred Compensation Plan

On March 1, 1996, the Company entered into a Salary Continuation Retirement Plan with Mr. Slingerlend where it agreed to make certain post-employment payments to him or to his designated beneficiaries, except in the event of a termination for cause. The Plan was revised effective February 15, 2002, at the direction of the Compensation Committee, to align payments with the current cost of living and to delete outdated segments of the vesting table. The Plan provides that payments will be made for 15 years after Mr. Slingerlend's termination of employment with the Company, beginning at age 60, and will range from $75,000 to $125,000 per year, based on Mr. Slingerlend's age at the time of termination of employment.

BOARD COMPENSATION COMMITTEE REPORT ON EXECUTIVE COMPENSATIONCompensation Policy

The Compensation Committee (the "Committee") of the Board consists of independent, non-employee directors. The purpose of the Committee is to develop policies and make specific recommendations with respect to the compensation of the Company's executive officers, with the objective that a fair relationship exists between executive pay and the creation of shareholder value. The Compensation Committee may also, from time to time, make recommendations concerning director compensation.

Executive officer compensation has three components: salary, bonus (may be awarded as cash or equity in the form of stock grants) and equity (in the form of options to purchase the Company's Common Stock under the terms stated in the Company's Equity Incentive Plan.) The Committee arrives at salary, bonus target and equity compensation recommendations for the named executive officers after considering an internally prepared analysis of industry competitors, actual Company performance and subjective criteria. With respect to officers other than the Chief Executive Officer, the Committee also considers recommendations from the Chief Executive Officer. Generally, bonus compensation rewards past performance, while awards pursuant to the Company's Equity Incentive Plan are designed to encourage future performance and to increase the personal investment that the officer has in the Company's success. The Committee also applies the following goals to the factors considered above: (1) option incentive awards for all employees should total approximately 10% of the total number of shares of Common Stock outstanding and grants for any one year should total approximately 1-2% of the total number of shares of Common Stock outstanding, and (2) executive compensation should rank in the middle range of incomes of the executive officers of competitors.

2002 Compensation

Edgar Filing: CIBER INC - Form DEF 14A

The 2002 base salary for the Company's Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Slingerlend, was set at $475,000. This was a $50,000 increase over the prior year. This increase was due, in part, to the fact that the Committee believed it was inappropriate to pay the Chief Executive Officer less than other named officers, and CIBER hired a new Chief Operating Officer during the year at a base salary of $450,000. The Committee believed this rate was necessary to attract and retain the Chief Operating Officer, based upon the compensation received from his previous employer.

The internal analysis utilized by the Committee as a partial basis for establishing executive compensation in 2002 was compiled using information publicly available in the 2000 and 2001 proxy statements of Keane, Inc., Answer Think, Analysts International, American Management Systems and KPMG (consulting). The Chief Executive Officer's salary ranked third among the companies surveyed. Bonus compensation resulted in the Chief Executive Officer's cash compensation package placing second among the surveyed companies.

Regarding bonus compensation for 2002, after considering the elements above, the Committee determined the maximum bonus compensation target for the Chief Executive Officer to be $200,000, to be earned as follows: (1) a sliding percentage award from 0% to 60% for the achievement of set revenue and income targets; (2) a sliding percentage award from 0% to 25% for completion of successful business combinations that reach specified revenue goals; and (3) a sliding percentage from 0% to 15% for subjective achievements including leadership, cost cutting, brand building, strategy and any other factors deemed important to the Committee. The actual cash bonus earned by the Chief Executive Officer was $130,000 as a result of achieving a percentage of the revenue goals, achieving the maximum target for business combinations and the subjective factors determined by the Committee. The target goals for the Chief Financial Officer, Mr. Durham, were the same as the goals for Mr. Slingerlend; however, the maximum bonus earnable was $125,000. The new Chief Operating Officer and Mr. Mancuso, who served as Chief Operating Officer for part of the year and Senior Vice President, were given the opportunity to achieve a maximum bonus of $100,000 and $162,500, respectively, based upon a sliding scale of 0% to 50% for achievement of specified revenue targets and 0% to 50% for achievement of net operating income targets. Other named officers have bonus structures with performance goals tied specifically to the individual's operational responsibility.

Equity Compensation, in the form of options to purchase the Company's Common Stock were awarded to reward officers' contributions to the Company, to indicate the Company's confidence in the recipients' value to the Company's future success, and with the intent of increasing the recipients' financial interest in the long term success of the Company. Such awards are generally made in July and December of each year, or at such other times as the Committee, in its discretion, may deem appropriate. While industry comparisons are considered and the above guidelines are followed, determination of amounts granted are ultimately subjective.

In 2002, the Compensation Committee awarded Mr. Slingerlend options to purchase 100,000 shares of stock in January. The option awarded in January was based on the improved financial performance of the Company in the fourth quarter of 2001.

In May, option grants were made to Messrs. Durham and Mancuso to purchase 10,000 shares and 25,000 shares, respectively, for their efforts in completing CIBER's acquisition of Decision Consultants, Inc. ("DCI"). Mr. Longo was awarded an option to purchase 100,000 shares at $6.51 per share as an inducement to join CIBER as its Chief Operating Officer and an option to purchase 50,000 shares at $15.00 per share as an incentive to grow the Company.

In July, options were granted to Messrs. Slingerlend, Mancuso, Durham and Longo in the following respective amounts: 100,000 shares, 20,000 shares, 20,000 shares and 50,000 shares. These options were awarded for the integration of the acquisition of DCI, the largest acquisition (based on revenues) ever completed by CIBER and the smooth assimilation of DCI into CIBER with no net loss of billable employees. Mr. Longo's award was also partially based on the fact that the 50,000 option shares granted to him at $15.00 per share as performance incentives upon joining CIBER in May were substantially under water in July when the stock was trading at $5.02.

In December, the Committee awarded options to Messrs. Slingerlend, Durham, Mancuso and Wheeler to purchase 200,000 shares, 27,500 shares, 25,000 shares and 15,000 shares, respectively. These year-end awards were based on CIBER's historical practice of granting options to employees to purchase 1% to 2% of CIBER's outstanding shares of Common Stock each year and the subjective determinations of the Committee. With respect to officers other than the Chief Executive Officer, the Committee also considered recommendations from the CEO.

Effective January 1, 2002, we adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 142, whereby goodwill is no longer amortized.

We have completed various acquisitions during the periods presented. The revenue and operating results of acquired companies are included from the respective acquisition dates (see Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included herein).

Effective December 31, 1999, we changed our year-end from June 30 to December 31.

Merger costs for the years ended June 30, 1998 and June 30, 1999 consist of costs related to pooling of interests business combinations.

Fiscal 1998 amounts have been restated to reflect pooling of interests business combinations that occurred in fiscal 1999.

Pro forma net income in fiscal 1998 is after a pro forma adjustment to income tax expense resulting from pooling of interests business combinations and is used to calculate earnings per share in that year.

Business and Industry Overview

CIBER, Inc. and its subsidiaries provide information technology ("IT") system integration consulting and other IT services. We also resell certain third-party IT hardware and software products. Our services are offered on a project or strategic staffing basis, in both custom and enterprise resource planning (ERP) package environments, and across all technology platforms, operating systems and infrastructures. Our clients consist primarily of Fortune 500 and middle market companies across most major industries and governmental agencies. We operate from branch offices across the United States, plus offices in Canada and Europe. Our foreign operations accounted for 4% of our total revenues in 2002.

The Custom Solutions segment primarily includes our CIBER custom branch offices and our CIBER European operations. Our Custom Solutions segment provides IT project solutions and IT staffing in custom developed software environments. Our Package Solutions segment is comprised of our CIBER Enterprise Solutions division and our subsidiary DigiTerra, Inc. The Package Solutions segment primarily provides enterprise software implementation services, including enterprise resource planning (ERP), supply chain management and customer relationship management software from software vendors such as J.D. Edwards, Lawson, PeopleSoft, Oracle and SAP. Custom Solutions accounted for approximately 85% of revenues in 2002 compared to 78% in 2001, with Package Solutions accounting for the remainder.

We primarily provide consulting services under time-and-material or fixed-price contracts. The majority of our service revenues are recognized under time-and-material contracts as hours and costs are incurred. For fixed-price contracts, which make up approximately 10% of our services revenues, revenue is recognized on the basis of the estimated percentage of completion. Changes in our services revenues are primarily a function of hours worked on revenue generating activities and our average rate per hour. Hours worked on revenue producing activities vary with the number of consultants employed and the utilization level of those consultants. Utilization for our consultants represents the percentage of time worked on revenue producing engagements divided by the standard hours available (i.e. 40 hours per week). Our average utilization rates are higher in our Custom Solutions segment (typically around 85% to 90%) as compared to our Package Solutions segment (typically around 65% to 75%). We work hard to manage both the number of consultants we have and our overall utilization levels. If we determine we have excess available resources that we cannot place on a billable assignment in the near future, we consider reducing those resources. As a result, in 2001 and 2002, most of our consultant turnover has been from involuntary termination of employment. The hourly rate we charge for our services varies based on the level of the consultant involved, the particular expertise of the consultant and the geographic area. Our overall average rate per hourly is also influenced by the results of our fixed-price engagements, which can vary. Our average hourly billing rates are higher in our Package Solutions segment (typically around $145 to $155 per hour) as compared to our Custom Solutions segment (typically around $65 to $75 per hour).

Other revenues include resale of third-party IT hardware and software products as well as commissions on sales of IT products. Our sales of IT hardware and software generally involve IT network infrastructure. Gross margins on product sales are typically 10% to 20%. As a remarketer of certain IT products, we recognize commission revenue net of product costs resulting in lower revenue and higher gross margin.

The market demand for CIBER's products and services is heavily dependent on discretionary IT spending by major corporations and organizations in the markets and regions that we serve. Most recently, the current economic downturn has negatively affected the operations of many of our clients and prospective clients, and has negatively impacted their IT spending. As a result, competition for new engagements has been strong. We have responded to these business conditions by closely monitoring the utilization of our billable personnel, keeping non-productive time to a minimum and by managing our selling, general and administrative costs as a percentage of revenue.

In the past few years the IT services industry has faced a changing and challenging environment. Following is a brief overview of what we believe to be the key industry-wide trends affecting us over the past few years. Through the middle of 1999, major organizations spent heavily on IT services in order to prepare their information systems for the potential problems presented by the year 2000 ("Y2K"). Companies with information systems applications that were not "Y2K compliant" either fixed those systems by rewriting software code or by implementing new systems that were Y2K compliant. After this period of spending on Y2K compliance ended, many existing corporations as well as funded "startup entities" spent heavily on systems that supported the conduct of business over the Internet. Many new "dot.com" businesses emerged which raised a great deal of private and public equity and used a significant portion of those proceeds on information systems to support their new business models. Along with these dot.com businesses came new consulting firms that provided information technology services to support the ebusiness initiatives of both new dot.com business entities and existing corporations wanting to conduct business over the Internet. Several of these new consulting firms were successful raising capital in the public equity markets and were also successful gaining acceptance as experts in the newer Internet technologies. As a consequence, a disproportionate share of the dollars spent on ebusiness initiatives went to these new consulting firms. Beginning in the latter part of 2000 and into 2001, many of these dot.com entities did not have a cash flow stream to support their businesses as going concerns and consequently have gone out of business. In addition, as the threat of these dot.coms to traditional business models waned, traditional business spending on ebusiness IT initiatives became more conservative. As dot.com entities began failing and IT spending declined, many of the new Internet consultancies that entered the market failed as well. While the failure of many Internet consultancies was competitively beneficial to CIBER, by the middle of 2001 the U.S. economy began a recession and large organizations further curtailed discretionary IT spending. These unfavorable economic conditions continue to dampen IT spending as we enter 2003.

Business Combinations

As part of our ongoing growth strategy, we intend to continue to selectively identify and pursue the acquisition of complementary businesses to expand our geographic reach, service offerings and client base. From 2000 to 2002, we completed the following two significant business combinations:

Acquired Company	Date	Consultants added	Goodwill added
Decision Consultants, Inc.	April 2002	896	$ 58.5 million
Metamor Industry Solutions, Inc.	October 2001	724	$ 29.8 million

Decision Consultants, Inc. ("DCI") was our largest acquisition to date. The majority of DCI's revenues were from clients that were already CIBER clients and most of DCI's operations were in locations already served by CIBER. As a result, the primary asset acquired was the workforce that was in place, which is accounted for as part of goodwill. Like CIBER, DCI's consultants comprised an experienced technical workforce that we believe will help maintain and obtain business at both current and new clients. DCI also added depth to our executive and operation's management team. The acquisition allowed us to combine many of the DCI offices with existing CIBER offices to obtain economies of scale resulting in reduced overhead costs as a percentage of revenues. Also significant were the cost savings to be realized by combining redundant corporate back office functions. DCI added significantly to CIBER's existing consultant base at IBM, Ford and Verizon, among others. In addition, the acquisition gave us opportunities at some new strategic clients, however, such clients did not constitute a significant percentage of DCI's revenues. Metamor Industry Solutions, Inc. ("Metamor") provided custom software development and IT staffing for federal and state/local government agencies. By combining Metamor with CIBER's existing federal and state/local government operations, public sector clients now represent approximately 30% of total revenues.

Change in Accounting for Goodwill

In accordance with the Financial Accounting Standards Board's Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 142 "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets," effective January 1, 2002 goodwill is no longer amortized, but will be reviewed annually for impairment. As a result, beginning January 1, 2002, our expense for amortization of intangible assets has decreased significantly. Our other intangible assets will continue to be amortized over their estimated useful lives. During the first quarter of 2002, we completed the transitional impairment test as required by SFAS 142 and it was determined that the change in accounting did not result in an impairment charge.

Total revenues increased 9% to $608.3 million in 2002 from $558.9 million in 2001. This represents an 11% increase in consulting services revenues, which was partially offset by a 21% decrease in other revenues. Other revenues decreased to $25.5 million in 2002 from $32.3 million in 2001 due to decreased hardware sales. Custom Solutions services revenues increased 21% while Package Solutions services revenues decreased 25%, when compared to last year. Overall, the 2002 revenue growth compared to 2001 was attributed to the acquisitions closed in the fourth quarter of 2001 and the first half of 2002. Year-over-year, our average number of billable consultants increased 19.6% to 4,492 in 2002 from 3,754 in 2001. The increase in Custom Solutions service revenue in 2002 was due to an average net increase of approximately 784 consultants (+24%), combined with an increase in utilization levels to 90.8% in 2002 from 88.3% in 2001. The decrease in Package Solutions service revenues in 2002 was due to a combination of an average net decrease of approximately 46 consultants (-9%), combined with a 4% decrease in average billing rates.

In total, our gross margin percentage decreased to 28.7% of revenues in 2002 from 29.9% of revenues in 2001. This decrease is due to declining gross margins on consulting services offset partially by improved gross margins on other revenues. Custom Solutions' gross margin on service revenues decreased 60 basis points in 2002 from the prior year. This decrease was primarily due to the addition of Decision Consultants, Inc. ("DCI") in 2002, which had slightly lower margins than CIBER's other Custom Solutions operations. Package Solutions' gross margin on service revenues decreased 360 basis points in 2002 from the prior year. This decrease was due to lower utilization levels coupled with a decrease in average billing rates during 2002. Also significant to the decline in overall services gross margins in 2002 was the fact that the lower margin Custom Solutions revenue accounted for 86% of service revenue in 2002 compared to 79% in 2001. Our gross margin percentage on other revenues increased to 31.9% in 2002 from 28.6% in 2001 due to decreased sales on lower margin computer hardware products. Low margin computer hardware product sales accounting for 59% of other revenues in 2002 compared to 65% in 2001, with higher margin commission revenue accounting for the remainder.

Selling, general and administrative expenses ("SG&A") decreased to $148.9 million in 2002 from $152.0 million in 2001. As a percentage of sales, SG&A decreased to 24.5% in 2002 from 27.2% in 2001, as we have made cost-saving efforts to better align our SG&A costs with our current revenue levels. The cost saving initiatives began during the second half of 2001 and primarily included reduced personnel and facility costs. A metric that demonstrates the positive impact of our overhead personnel cuts is the ratio of billable employees to overhead employees which increased to 7.2:1 at December 31, 2002 from 4.9:1 at December 31, 2001. In addition, we realized economies of scale with the acquisition of DCI, as many of the acquired offices were combined with our existing offices. In 2001, we recorded $1.8 million of severance costs and $1.3 million of office closure costs that are included in SG&A. In connection with our reorganization of our DigiTerra and Waterstone subsidiaries, during the fourth quarter of 2001, we incurred severance costs related to certain executive management positions that were eliminated. In addition, during 2001 we incurred expenses related to losses on excess office space that we had sub-leased to other parties.

Income from operations before amortization (which is how we internally measure our segment operations) increased 72% in 2002 to $25.4 million (4.2% of revenues) compared to $14.8 million (2.7% of revenues) in 2001.

Amortization of intangible assets decreased to $910,000 in 2002 from $12.2 million in 2001. Due to the adoption of SFAS No. 142 on January 1, 2002, we no longer amortize goodwill.

Interest income and expense fluctuates based on our average cash balance invested or amounts borrowed under our line of credit. Interest expense increased in 2002 as we borrowed under our line of credit to fund our acquisition of Metamor in October 2001 and again in May 2002 for our acquisition of DCI. Other income increased to $460,000 in 2002 from $167,000 in 2001. Other income increased, primarily due to $795,000 in gains on foreign currency exchange rates offset partially by $625,000 in losses on marketable security investments.

Our 2002 effective tax rate was 40.4% compared to 41.1% in 2001. The decrease in our effective tax rate in 2002 is primarily due to the elimination of amortization expense relating to non-deductible goodwill, offset in part by increased state and foreign taxes. Income tax expense includes benefits of $395,000 in 2002 and $1.3 million in 2001 related to adjusting our prior years' estimated federal and state tax liabilities to actual amounts upon completion of our tax returns.

Total revenues decreased 10% to $558.9 million in 2001 from $621.5 million in 2000. This represents a 10% decrease in consulting services revenues and an 8% decrease in other revenues. Other revenues decreased to $32.3 million in 2001 from $35.1 million in 2000 due to decreased hardware sales. Custom Solutions services revenues decreased 8% while Package Solutions services revenues decreased 18%, when compared to 2000. The decrease in services revenues was primarily attributable to a decrease in billable consultants during the first half of the year, partially off-set by the addition of 964 consultants as a result of our acquisitions of Century Computer Consultants, Inc., Aris Corporation and Metamor Industry Solutions, Inc. during the last four months of 2001. Year-over-year, our average number of billable consultants decreased to 3,754 in 2001 from 4,413 in 2000. Custom Solutions average billable headcount decreased by 503 consultants (-13%) while Package Solutions decreased by 156 consultants (-24%). The decrease in average billable headcount resulted from our efforts to manage personnel consistent with the decrease in demand for our services.

In total, gross margin percentage decreased to 29.9% of revenues in 2001 from 31.4% of revenues in 2000. This decrease is due to declining gross margins on consulting services offset partially by improved gross margins on other revenues. Consulting services gross margins declined primarily due to a decrease in the utilization levels of our consultants as well as increased consultant costs. Custom Solutions gross margin on consulting services decreased 190 basis points in 2001 from the prior year. This decrease was due to a decline in utilization levels to 88.3% in 2001 from 91.1% in 2000. Package Solutions consulting gross margin increased 20 basis points in 2001 from the prior year. This increase was the result of an improvement in utilization to 66.0% in 2001 from 64.3% in 2000 partially offset by higher consultant costs. Our gross margin percentage on other revenues increased slightly to 28.6% in 2001 from 28.2% in 2000 due to decreased sales of lower margin computer hardware products partially offset by a decline in gross margin on product sales due to pricing pressures. Product sales accounted for 65% of other revenues in 2001 compared to 69% in 2000, with commission revenue accounting for the remainder.

Selling, general and administrative expenses ("SG&A") decreased to $152.0 million in 2001 from $157.1 million in 2000, while as a percentage of sales, SG&A increased to 27.2% in 2001 from 25.3% in 2000. This reflects the semi-fixed nature of SG&A as we were unable to reduce costs as quickly as the decline in revenues. In September 2001, we merged the operations of our subsidiary, Waterstone, Inc., into our Custom Solutions operations, suspending its brand and eliminating the related corporate overhead costs. Beginning in mid-2000, in connection with our planned spin-off of DigiTerra, we developed a corporate overhead structure for DigiTerra to prepare it to be an independent entity. After we ended our plans to spin-off DigiTerra, we reorganized DigiTerra's operations in the second half of 2001 and eliminated a large part of its corporate overhead costs. We had estimated that these cost savings initiatives would save us approximately $15 million annually. In 2001, we recorded $1.8 million of severance costs and $1.3 million of office closure costs that are included in SG&A. In connection with our reorganization of our DigiTerra and Waterstone subsidiaries, during the fourth quarter of 2001, we incurred severance costs related to certain executive management positions that were eliminated. In addition, during 2001, we incurred charges related to losses on excess office space that we had subleased to other parties. In 2000, we also recorded $1.3 million of severance costs resulting from involuntary terminations related to personnel realignment, $975,000 for an asset write-down, and $720,000 of professional fees resulting from our planned spin off of DigiTerra.

Income from operations before amortization and goodwill impairment (which is how we internally measure our segment operations) decreased to $14.8 million (2.7% of revenues) for 2001 from $37.9 million (6.1% of revenues) in 2000.

Amortization of intangible assets decreased to $12.2 million in 2001 from $14.0 million in 2000. This decrease was primarily due to the effects of the goodwill impairment charge recorded in the September 2000 quarter. During the quarter ended September 30, 2000, we recorded a goodwill impairment of $80.8 million to write-down the goodwill associated with certain acquisitions. This charge represents the amount required to write-down the goodwill to our best estimate of the future discounted cash flows of these operations.

Interest income and expense fluctuates based on our average cash balance invested or amounts borrowed under our line of credit. Net interest expense increased as we borrowed under our line of credit to fund our acquisition of Metamor in October 2001. Other income decreased to $167,000 in 2001 from $381,000 in 2000, primarily due to reduced gains on sales of investments.

Tax expense was $1.2 million in 2001 as compared to $10.9 million for the year ended December 31, 2000. Tax expense was recorded for the year ended December 31, 2000, even though pre-tax loss was reported, because most of the goodwill impairment charge was not deductible for income tax purposes since the majority of the impaired goodwill related to non-taxable acquisitions. Our effective tax rate for the year ended December 31, 2001 was 41.1% compared to 50.8% (excluding the effects of the goodwill impairment charge) in 2000. The decrease in our effective tax rate in 2001, results from a $1.3 million federal and state tax benefit from adjusting our prior year's estimate tax liability to actual amounts upon completion of our tax returns.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

At December 31, 2002, we had $100.8 million of working capital and a current ratio of 2.6:1. Historically, we have used our operating cash flow plus the sale of stock and periodic borrowings under our line of credit to finance our operations and business combinations. We believe that our cash and cash equivalents, our operating cash flow and our available line of credit will be sufficient to finance our working capital needs through at least the next year.

In thousands	Years ended December 31,
	2002	2001	2000
Net cash provided by (used in):
Operating activities	$ 47,620	$ 26,354	$ 36,450

Effect of foreign exchange rates on cash	646	(176)	(28)
Net increase (decrease) in cash and equivalents	$ 5,530	$ (9,824)	$ 16,335

Cash provided by operations improved in 2002 compared to 2001 primarily due to improved results of operations, improved collections of receivables and a larger year-end payroll accrual due to the timing of our normal bi-weekly payroll cycle.

Investing activities are primarily comprised of cash paid for acquisitions and purchases of property and equipment. Purchases of property and equipment have decreased because of the significant number of assets acquired through acquisitions as well as cost containment initiatives. For our two largest acquisitions, we used $40.2 million of net cash in 2002 for our acquisition of DCI and $37.7 million of net cash for our acquisition of Metamor in October 2001. Included in purchases of investments in 2002 was $2.9 million for shares of Ecsoft. We acquired the remaining 90% of ECsoft in January 2003. In 2001, we received $5.8 million for the sale of a building acquired through our acquisition of Aris.

Financing activities are primarily comprised of cash provided by sales of stock (to employees and investors), cash used for the purchase of treasury stock and borrowing/repayments under our line of credit. In 2002, we received net proceeds of $14.1 million from a sale of stock to investors that was used to fund part of the DCI acquisition consideration. In connection with our 2002 acquisition of DCI, we assumed $11.7 million of DCI debt, which we repaid, and we issued a $1.5 million note payable as part of the purchase consideration that was subsequently repaid in 2002. We borrowed on our line of credit to partially fund our acquisitions of DCI in 2002 and Metamor in 2001, and we reduced our line of credit with cash flow from operations and other items.

Total accounts receivable decreased to $132.5 million at December 31, 2002 from $135.3 million at December 31, 2001, even though revenue increased. This decrease is primarily due to our increased collection efforts. Total accounts receivable days sales outstanding ("DSO") improved to 76 days at December 31, 2002 as compared to 82 days at December 31, 2001. Changes in accounts receivable have a significant effect on our cash flows. Items that can affect our accounts receivable DSO include, contractual payment terms, client payment patterns (including approval or processing delays and cash management), and our level of collection efforts. Many individual reasons are outside of our control. As a result, our DSO will normally fluctuate from period to period affecting our liquidity.

Accrued compensation and related liabilities increased to $30.4 million as of December 31, 2002 from $25.1 million at December 31, 2001. This increase is due to a combination of the increase in our year-end headcount to approximately 5,400 in 2002 from 4,900 in 2001 and the timing of our normal bi-weekly U.S. payroll cycle. At December 31, 2002, there were twelve days of payroll accrued compared to eleven days at December 31, 2001.

Accounts payable and other accrued liabilities typically fluctuate based on when we receive actual vendor invoices and when payment is made. The largest of such items, relate to vendor payments for IT hardware and software products that we resell and payments to services related contractors.

In 2002, we continued the repurchase of our common stock under our share repurchase programs. At December 31, 2002, we had authorization for the repurchase of 235,000 shares. On February 18, 2003, our Board of Directors authorized an additional 1,000,000 shares for repurchase. We may continue to use cash to repurchase our common stock.

We have a reducing revolving line of credit agreement with Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. that expires September 30, 2004. In connection with acquisitions, the line of credit was amended in May 2002 and again in December 2002 to increase our maximum allowable borrowings. At December 31, 2002, our borrowings were $21.9 million while the maximum amount available to be borrowed is $75 million. The maximum available borrowing under the line of credit automatically reduces to $50 million on April 30, 2003 and further reduces to $47.5 million on September 30, 2003 and continues to reduce by $2.5 million on the last day of each subsequent calendar quarter. Borrowings bear interest based on the bank's prime rate and ranges from prime less 0.20% to prime less 0.70%, depending on our ratio of indebtedness to earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization. On January 1, 2003, the bank's prime rate was 4.25% and our borrowing rate was 3.55%. We are also required to pay a fee of 0.125% per annum on the unused portion of the line of credit. The line of credit is secured by substantially all of our assets. The line of credit agreement contains certain financial covenants including: maximum liabilities to tangible net worth, minimum fixed charge coverage ratio, maximum leverage ratio and a maximum coverage ratio. The terms of the credit agreement also contain, among other provisions, specific limitations on additional indebtedness, liens and merger activity and prohibit the payment of any dividends.

Effective January 23, 2003, we completed our acquisition of ECsoft Group plc. Prior to the acquisition, ECsoft's shares were publicly traded on the London Stock Exchange. We acquired all of the approximately 10.0 million outstanding shares of ECsoft, not already owned by us, for cash consideration of 305 pence (approximately $4.94) per share or approximately $49.5 million in the aggregate. In addition, we had previously acquired approximately 1.1 million ECsoft shares in the open market at a cost of approximately $3.2 million bringing our total cost for all of ECsoft's shares to approximately $52.7 million, excluding transaction-related costs. We borrowed under our line of credit to finance the acquisition of ECsoft. We plan to use part of ECsoft's expected cash balance of approximately $44 million to reduce our borrowings. ECsoft, which is incorporated under the laws of England and Wales, has approximately 525 employees and operations in Denmark, the Netherlands, Norway, Sweden and the United Kingdom that provide information technology consulting services similar to CIBER.

In connection with our acquisition of DCI on April 30, 2002, DCI's majority shareholder ("the Shareholder") entered into an agreement to not sell a significant portion of the CIBER common stock received for a period of up to 90 days (the "Lockup Agreement.") As an inducement for the Shareholder to enter into the Lockup Agreement, CIBER granted the Shareholder an option that under certain circumstances, the Shareholder can require CIBER to repurchase up to 805,000 shares of CIBER common stock in November 2002 at $7.25 per share. In November 2002, we entered into an amended agreement with the Shareholder to extend the option exercise period to May 2003. At December 31, 2002, the total cash redemption amount of $5.8 million has been transferred from shareholders' equity to temporary equity and is reflected on the line item "contingent redemption value of put option" on the balance sheet. The actual acquisition of any such shares would be accounted for as treasury stock.

Our reserve for accrued lease costs increased to $9.6 million at December 31, 2002 from $3.0 million at December 2001. This results from office locations that are vacant or that we have subleased at a loss. We have recorded expense of approximately $1.3 million in both 2002 and 2001 related to closure of certain offices. Primarily as a result of our acquisitions of Aris, Metamor and DCI, we have assumed lease obligations for a number of facilities that are vacant. The current market for office space in many of these areas has continued to be unfavorable. While we have been successful in subleasing some of these vacant facilities to minimize our liability, in many cases we have accrued 100% of the remaining liability, as sublease income is doubtful. If, ultimately, any excess lease reserves related to leases acquired in business combinations is determined to exist, such amount will be recorded as a reduction of goodwill. As we continuously evaluate our office facility needs compared to our level of operations, we may incur future charges related to office consolidation.

The following table summarizes our contractual obligations at December 31, 2002:

In thousands	Payments due by period
	Total	Less than 1 year	1 - 3 years	4 & 5 years	More than 5 years
Long-term line of credit	$ 21,864	-	$ 21,864	-	-
Operating leases (1)	48,433	$ 17,768	20,098	$ 7,375	$ 3,192
Purchase obligations (2)	9,970	8,021	1,919	30	-
Total	$ 80,267	$ 25,789	$ 43,881	$ 7,405	$ 3,192

(1) Includes operating leases for all office locations and office equipment.

(2) Includes the $5.8 million stock repurchase option in May 2003 with DCI, discussed above.

Seasonality

We experience a moderate amount of seasonality. Typically our billable hours, which directly affect our revenues and profitability, are reduced in the second half of the year, especially during the fourth quarter, due to the large number of holidays and vacation time taken by our employees and our clients. As a result, our operating income as a percentage of revenues is generally the lowest in the fourth quarter of each calendar year.

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

Our discussion and analysis of financial condition and results of operations is based on our consolidated financial statements, which have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States. The preparation of these financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent liabilities and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses. On an on-going basis, we evaluate our estimates including those related to revenue earned but not yet billed, costs to complete fixed-price projects, the collectibility of accounts receivable, the valuation of goodwill, certain accrued liabilities and other reserves, income taxes, and others. We base our estimates on historical experience and on various other assumptions that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results could differ materially from those estimates. We believe the following accounting policies and estimates are most critical to our consolidated financial statements.

Revenue recognition and fixed-price contracts - We recognize revenues as we perform services for our clients. We primarily provide consulting services under time-and-material or fixed-price contracts. The majority of our service revenues are recognized under time-and-material contracts as hours and costs are incurred. Under our typical time and materials billing arrangement, we bill our customers on a regularly scheduled basis, such as biweekly or monthly. At the end of each accounting period we estimate and accrue revenue for services performed since the last billing cycle. These unbilled amounts are actually billed the following month and any differences compared to estimates are accounted for. The most common reason for differences between our accruals and actual bills relate to hour adjustments as time sheets are approved, late time sheets received, and rate changes. For fixed-price contracts, revenue is recognized on the basis of the estimated percentage of completion based on costs incurred relative to total estimated costs. Each contract has different terms, scope, deliverables and engagement complexities that require significant judgment. The cumulative impact of any revisions in estimated revenues and costs are recognized in the period in which the facts that give rise to the revision become known. Our ability to accurately predict personnel requirements and other costs, as well as to effectively manage a project or achieve a certain level of performance can have a significant impact on the gross-margins related to our engagements. Also, with fixed-price contracts, we are subject to the risk of cost overruns. Losses, if any, on fixed-price contracts are recognized when the loss is determined.

Collectibility of accounts receivable - We maintain an allowance for doubtful accounts at an amount we estimate to be sufficient to cover the risk of collecting less than full payment on our receivables. Our allowance for bad debts is based upon specific identification of likely and probable losses. We review our accounts receivable and reassess our estimates of collectibility each month. If our clients' financial condition or liquidity were to deteriorate, resulting in an impairment of their ability to make payments or if customers were to express dissatisfaction with the services we have provided, additional allowances may be required.

Acquisition accounting - In connection with acquisitions, we estimate the fair value of assets acquired and liabilities assumed. Some of the items, including accounts receivable, property and equipment, other intangible assets, certain accrued liabilities, and legal and other reserves require a high degree of management judgment.

Valuation of goodwill - We have recorded a significant amount of goodwill resulting from acquisitions. Effective January 1, 2002, goodwill is no longer amortized but is subject to annual impairment testing. The impairment test involves the use of estimates related to the fair value of the business operations with which the goodwill is associated. The estimate of fair value requires significant judgment. Any loss resulting from an impairment test would be reflected in operating income in our statement of operations.

Valuation of other intangible assets - In connection with our acquisitions, we are required to recognize other intangible assets separate and apart from goodwill if such assets arise from contractual or other legal rights or if such assets are separable from the acquired business. Other intangible assets include, among other things, customer-related assets such as order backlog, customer contracts and customer relationships. Determining a fair value for such items requires a high degree of judgment, assumptions, and estimates. In certain situations, where deemed necessary, we may use third parties to assist us with such valuations. In addition, these intangible assets are to be amortized over the best estimate of their useful life.

Accrued compensation and other liabilities - Employee compensation costs are our largest expense category. We have a number of different variable compensation programs, which are highly dependent on estimates and judgments, particularly at interim reporting dates. Some programs are discretionary while others have quantifiable performance metrics. Certain programs are annual, while others are quarterly or monthly. Often actual compensation amounts cannot be determined until after our results are reported. We believe we make reasonable estimates and judgments using all significant information available. We also estimate the amounts required for incurred but not reported health claims under our self-insured employee benefit programs. Our accrual for health costs is based on historical experience and actual amounts may vary. In addition, with respect to our potential exposure to losses from litigation, claims and other assessments, we record a liability when such amounts are believed to be probable and can be estimated.

Income taxes - To record income tax expense, we are required to estimate our income taxes in each of the jurisdictions in which we operate. In addition, income tax expense at interim reporting dates requires us to estimate our expected effective tax rate for the entire year. This involves estimating our actual current tax liability together with assessing temporary differences that result in deferred tax assets and liabilities and expected future tax rates. We record a valuation allowance to reduce our deferred tax assets to an amount we believe is more likely than not to be realized. We consider future taxable income and prudent and feasible tax planning strategies in assessing the need for a valuation allowance. If we subsequently determine that we will realize more or less of our net deferred tax assets in the future, such adjustment would be recorded as an increase or reduction of income tax expense in the period such determination is made. Circumstances that could cause our estimates of income tax expense to change include: the impact of information that subsequently becomes available as we prepare our tax returns; revision to tax positions taken as a result of further analysis and consultation; the actual level of pre-tax income; changes in tax rules, regulations and rates; and changes mandated as a result of audits by taxing authorities.

New Accounting Standards

In June 2002, the FASB issued SFAS No. 146, "Accounting for Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities" ("SFAS 146") which supersedes Emerging Task Force Issue No. 94-3, "Liability for Certain Employee Termination Benefits and Other Costs to Exit an Activity (including Certain Costs Incurred in a Restructuring)." SFAS 146 requires companies to recognize costs associated with exit or disposal activities when they are incurred rather than at the date of the commitment to an exit or disposal plan. This statement is effective for exit or disposal activities that are initiated after December 31, 2002 and we do not expect that the adoption of this standard will have a material impact on our consolidated financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

DISCLOSURE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS AND FACTORS THAT MAY AFFECT FUTURE RESULTS OR THE MARKET PRICE OF OUR STOCK

Included in this Report and elsewhere from time to time in other written and oral statements, are "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the United States Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Words, such as "anticipates," "believes," "could," "expects," "estimate," "intend," "may," "opportunity," "plans," "potential," "projects," "should," and "will" and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements give our expectations about the future and are based upon our current expectations, estimates and projections. These statements are only predictions and as such are not guarantees and involve risks, uncertainties and assumptions that are difficult to predict. Actual outcomes and results may differ materially from what is expressed or forecast in such forward-looking statements. As a result, the statements speak only as of the date they were made, and we undertake no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

We operate in a dynamic and rapidly changing environment that involves numerous risks and uncertainties. The following section describes some, but not all, of the risks and uncertainties that may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and the market price of our common stock. And could cause our actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied in our forward-looking statements.

The continuation of current economic downturn, and future economic downturns, may cause our revenues to decline.

Our results of operations are affected by the level of business activity of our clients, which in turn is affected by regional and global economic conditions. As a result of the current difficult economic environment, some clients have cancelled, reduced or deferred expenditures for information technology products and services. Future deterioration of economic conditions could adversely affect our revenues.

Our profitability will suffer if we are not able to maintain our pricing and utilization rates and control our costs.

Our profit margin, and therefore our profitability, is largely a function of the rates we charge for our services and the utilization rate or chargeability, of our consultants. Accordingly, if we are not able to maintain the rates we charge for our services or an appropriate utilization rate for our consultants, we will not be able to sustain our profit margin and our profitability will suffer. The rates we charge for our services are affected by a number of factors, including:

- our clients' perception of our ability to add value through our services;
- competition;
- introduction of new services or products by us or our competitors;
- pricing policies of our competitors; and
- general economic conditions.

Edgar Filing: CIBER INC - Form DEF 14A

Our utilization rates are also affected by a number of factors, including:

- seasonal trends, primarily as a result of holidays and vacations;
- our ability to transition employees from completed assignments to new engagements;
- our ability to forecast demand for our services and thereby maintain an appropriately balanced and sized workforce; and
- our ability to manage employee turnover.

We have implemented cost-management programs to manage our costs, including personnel costs, support and other overhead costs. Some of our costs, like office rents, are fixed in the short term, which limits our ability to reduce costs in periods of declining revenues. Our current and future cost-management initiatives may not be sufficient to maintain our margins as our level of revenue varies.

Our business will be negatively affected if we are not able to anticipate and keep pace with rapid changes in technology.

Our market is characterized by rapidly changing technologies, such as the evolution of the Internet, frequent new product and service introductions and evolving industry standards. Our success depends, in part, on our ability to develop and implement technology services and solutions that anticipate and keep pace with rapid and continuing changes in technology, industry standards and client preferences. We may not be successful in anticipating or responding to these developments on a timely basis and our offerings may not be successful in the marketplace. Also, services, solutions and technologies developed by our competitors may make our service or solution offerings uncompetitive or obsolete. Any one of these circumstances could have a material adverse effect on our ability to obtain and successfully complete client engagements.

If our clients are not satisfied with our services, our ability to compete for future work and our financial condition may be adversely affected.

If we fail to meet our contractual obligations, we could be subject to legal liability, which could adversely affect our business, operating results and financial condition. The provisions we typically include in our contracts which are designed to limit our exposure to legal claims relating to our services and the applications we develop may not protect us or may not be enforceable under some circumstances or under the laws of some jurisdictions. It is possible, because of the nature of our business, that we will be sued in the future. In addition, although we maintain professional liability insurance, the policy limits may not be adequate to provide protection against all potential liabilities. Moreover, as a consulting firm, we depend to a large extent on our relationships with our clients and our reputation for high-quality services to retain and attract clients and employees. As a result, claims made against our work may damage our reputation, which in turn, could impact our ability to compete for new work.

If we do not successfully integrate the businesses that we acquire, our results of operations could be adversely affected.

As an integral part of our business strategy, we intend to continue to expand by acquiring information technology businesses. We regularly evaluate potential business combinations and aggressively pursue attractive transactions. Since January 2000, we have completed 10 acquisitions. We may be unable to profitably manage businesses that we have acquired or that we may acquire or we may fail to integrate them successfully without incurring substantial expenses, delays or other problems that could negatively impact our results of operations.

Acquisitions involve additional risks, including:

- diversion of management's attention;
- difficulty in integration of the acquired business;
- loss of significant clients acquired;
- loss of key management and technical personnel acquired;
- assumption of unanticipated legal or other financial liabilities;
- becoming significantly leveraged as a result of debt incurred to finance acquisitions;
- unanticipated operating, accounting or management difficulties in connection with the acquired entities;

Edgar Filing: CIBER INC - Form DEF 14A

impairment charges for acquired intangible assets, including goodwill that decline in value; and dilution to our earnings per share as a result of issuing shares of our stock to finance acquisitions.

Also, client dissatisfaction or performance problems with an acquired firm could materially and adversely affect our reputation as a whole. Further, the acquired businesses may not achieve the revenue and earnings we anticipated.

We will continue to evaluate from time to time, on a selective basis, other strategic acquisitions if we believe they will help us obtain well-trained, high-quality employees, new service offerings, additional industry expertise, a broader client base or an expanded geographic presence. There can be no assurance that we will be successful in identifying candidates or consummating acquisitions on terms that are acceptable or favorable to us. In addition, there can be no assurance that financing for acquisitions will be available on terms that are acceptable or favorable. We may issue shares of our common stock as part of the purchase price for some or all of these acquisitions. Future issuances of our common stock in connection with acquisitions also may dilute our earnings per share.

Financial and operational risks of international operations could adversely affect us.

We expect to continue to expand our international operations. Our foreign operations accounted for 4% of our 2002 revenues. With our January 2003 acquisition of ECsoft Group, we expect our international operations to be approximately 10% to 12% of our total revenues in 2003. We now have offices in eight foreign countries: Canada, Denmark, Germany, Hungary, the Netherlands, Norway, Sweden and the United Kingdom. International operations could cause us to be subject to unexpected, uncontrollable and changing economic and political conditions that could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. The following factors, among others, present risks that could have an adverse effect on us:

the costs and difficulties relating to managing geographically diverse operations;

foreign currency exchange rate fluctuations;

differences in, and uncertainties arising from changes in, foreign business culture and practices;

restrictions on the movement of cash;

multiple, and possible overlapping or conflicting tax laws;

the costs of complying with a wide variety of national and local laws;

operating losses incurred in certain countries and the non-deductibility of those losses for tax purposes; and differences in, and uncertainties arising from changes in legal, labor, political and economic conditions, as well as international trade regulations and restrictions, and tariffs.

We have certain significant client relationships and our contracts can be terminated by our clients with short notice.

Our five largest clients accounted for 30% of our revenues in 2002. The various agencies of the federal government represent our largest client, accounting for 12% of total revenues. We strive to develop long-term relationships with our clients. Most individual client assignments are from three to twelve months, however, many of our client relationships have continued for many years. Our clients typically retain us on a non-exclusive, engagement-by-engagement basis. Although they may be subject to penalty provisions, clients may generally cancel a contract at any time. In addition, under many contracts, clients may reduce their use of our services under such contract without penalty. If any significant client terminates its relationship with us or substantially decreases its use of our services, it could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. When contracts are terminated, we lose the associated revenue and we may not be able to eliminate associated costs in a timely manner. In addition, contracts with the federal government contain provisions and are subject to laws and regulations that provide the federal government with rights and remedies not typically found in commercial contracts. Among other things, the federal and state governments may terminate contracts, with short notice, for convenience and may cancel multi-year contracts if funds become unavailable.

We generate a significant portion of our revenue from projects to implement packaged software developed by others, including J.D. Edwards, Lawson, PeopleSoft, Oracle and SAP. Our future success in the packaged software implementation business depends on the continuing viability of these companies and their ability to maintain market leadership. We cannot assure you that we will be able to maintain a good relationship with these companies or that they will maintain their leadership positions in the software market.

If we do not accurately estimate the cost of a large engagement which is conducted on a fixed-price basis our revenue and profitably will be adversely affected.

We estimate that approximately 10% of our revenues are from engagements performed on a fixed-price basis. For fixed-price contracts, revenue is recognized on the basis of the estimated percentage of completion based on costs incurred relative to total estimated costs. The cumulative impact of any revisions in estimated revenues and costs are recognized in the period in which the facts that give rise to the revision become known. Losses, if any, on fixed-price contracts are recognized when the loss is determined. When proposing for and managing fixed-price engagements, we rely on our estimates of costs for completing the project. These estimates reflect our best judgment regarding the efficiencies of our methodologies and professionals as we plan to apply them to the project. Any increased or unexpected costs or unanticipated delays in connection with the performance of fixed-price contracts including delays caused by factors outside of our control could make these contracts less profitable or unprofitable and may affect the amount of revenue reported in any period.

Unfavorable government audits could require us to refund payments we have received, to forego anticipated revenue and could subject us to penalties and sanctions.

The government agencies we contract with generally have the authority to audit and review our contracts with them. As part of that process, the government agency reviews our performance on the contract, our pricing practices, our cost structure and our compliance with applicable laws, regulations and standards. If the audit agency determines that we have improperly received reimbursement, we would be required to refund any such amount. If a government audit uncovers improper or illegal activities by us or we otherwise determine that these activities have occurred, we may be subject to civil and criminal penalties and administrative sanctions, including termination of contracts, forfeitures of profits, suspension of payments, fines and suspension or disqualification from doing business with the government. Any such unfavorable determination could adversely impact our ability to bid for new work.

The IT services industry is highly competitive, and we may not be able to compete effectively.

We operate in a highly competitive industry that includes a large number of participants. We believe that we currently compete principally with other IT professional services firms, technology vendors and the internal information systems groups of our clients. Many of the companies that provide services in our markets have significantly greater financial, technical and marketing resources than we do. Our marketplace is experiencing rapid changes in its competitive landscape. Some of our competitors have sought access to public and private capital and others have merged or consolidated with better-capitalized partners. These changes may create more or larger and better-capitalized competitors with enhanced abilities to compete for market share generally and our clients specifically, in some cases, through significant economic incentives to clients to secure contracts. These competitors may also be better able to compete for skilled professionals by offering them large compensation incentives. In addition, one or more of our competitors may develop and implement methodologies that result in superior productivity and price reductions without adversely affecting the competitors' profit margins. In addition, there are relatively few barriers to entry into our markets and we have faced, and expect to continue to face, competition from new entrants into our markets. As a result, we may be unable to continue to compete successfully with our existing or any new future competitors.

If we are unable to manage our growth, our profitability will be adversely affected.

Our profitability is also a function of our ability to control our costs and improve our efficiency. Growth places significant demands on our management as well as on our administrative, operational and financial resources. As we increase the number of our professionals and execute our strategy for growth, we may not be able to manage a significantly larger and /or more diverse workforce, control our costs or improve our efficiency.

Our future success depends on our ability to continue to retain and attract qualified employees.

We believe that our future success depends upon our ability to continue to train, retain, effectively manage and attract highly skilled technical, managerial, sales and marketing personnel. Employee turnover is generally high in IT services industry. If our efforts in these areas are not successful, our costs may increase, our sales efforts may be hindered, and our customer service may degrade. Although we invest significant resources in recruiting and retaining employees, there is often significant competition for certain personnel in the IT services industry. From time to time, we experience difficulties in locating enough highly qualified candidates in desired geographic locations, or with required specific expertise.

In addition, we believe that there are certain key employees within the organization, primarily in the senior management team, who are necessary for us to meet our objectives. Due to the competitive employment nature of our industry, there is a risk that we will not be able to retain these key employees. The loss of one or more key employees could adversely affect our continued growth. In addition, uncertainty created by turnover of key employees could result in reduced confidence in our financial performance, which could cause fluctuations in our stock price and result in further turnover of our employees.

Our debt may affect our business and may restrict our operating flexibility.

We have a $75 million reducing revolving line of credit with a bank that expires in September 2004. We have used borrowings under our line of credit for consideration related to our acquisitions of Metamor in 2001, DCI in 2002 and ECsoft in 2003. In the past, we have been successful in generating cash flow from operations to reduce our indebtedness. We had outstanding borrowings under our line of credit of $21.9 million at December 31, 2002. The level of our indebtedness could:

limit cash flow available for general corporate purposes, such as acquisitions, due to the ongoing cash flow requirements for debt service;

limit our ability to obtain, or obtain on favorable terms, additional debt financing in the future for working capital or acquisitions;

limit our flexibility in reacting to competitive and other changes in our industry and economic conditions generally;

expose us to a risk that a substantial decrease in net operating cash flows due to economic developments or adverse developments in our business could make it difficult to meet debt service requirements; and expose us to risks inherent in interest rate fluctuations because of the variable interest rates, which could result in higher interest expense in the event of increases in interest rates.

Our ability to repay or to refinance our indebtedness will depend upon our future operating performance, which may be affected by general economic, financial, competitive, regulatory, business and other factors beyond our control, including those discussed herein. In addition, there can be no assurance that future borrowings or equity financing will be available for the payment or refinancing of any indebtedness we may have. If we are unable to service our indebtedness, whether in the ordinary course of business or upon acceleration of such indebtedness, we may be forced to pursue one or more alternative strategies, such as restructuring or refinancing our indebtedness, selling assets, reducing or delaying capital expenditures or seeking additional equity capital. There can be no assurances that any of these strategies could be affected on satisfactory terms, if at all.

Our quarterly revenues, operating results and profitability will vary from quarter to quarter and other factors that may result in increased volatility of our share price.

Our quarterly revenues, operating results and profitability have varied in the past and are likely to vary significantly from quarter to quarter, making them difficult to predict. This may lead to volatility in our share price. The changes in the market price of our common stock may also be for reasons unrelated to our operating performance. Some other factors that may cause the market price of our common stock to fluctuate substantially, include:

the failure to be awarded a significant contract on which we have bid;

the termination by a client of a material contract;

announcement of new services by us or our competitors;

announcement of acquisitions or other significant transactions by us or our competitors;

changes in or failure to meet earnings estimates by securities analysts;

sales of common stock by CIBER or existing shareholders, or the perception that such sales may occur;

adverse judgments or settlements obligating us to pay liabilities;

changes in management;

general economic conditions and overall stock market volatility; and changes in or the application of U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

We have adopted anti-takeover defenses that could make it difficult for another company to acquire control of CIBER or limit the price investors might be willing to pay for our stock.

Certain provisions of our Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws could delay the removal of incumbent directors and could make a merger, tender offer or proxy contest involving us more difficult, even if such events would be beneficial to the interests of the stockholders. These provisions include adoption of a Preferred Stock Purchase Rights Agreement, commonly known as a "poison pill" that gives our board the ability to issue preferred stock and determine the rights and designations of the preferred stock at any time without stockholder approval. The rights of the holders of our common stock will be subject to, and may be adversely affected by, the rights of the holders of any preferred stock that may be issued in the future. The issuance of preferred stock could have the effect of making it more difficult for a third party to acquire, or of discouraging a third party from acquiring, a majority of the outstanding voting stock of CIBER. In addition, the staggered terms of our Board of Directors could have the effect of delaying or deferring a change in control.

The above factors and certain provisions of the Delaware General Corporation Law may have the effect of deterring hostile takeovers or otherwise delaying or preventing changes in the control or management of CIBER, including transactions in which our stockholders might otherwise receive a premium over the then-current market for their shares of CIBER common stock.

Our Chairman of the Board owns sufficient shares of our common stock and can significantly affect the results of any shareholder vote.

Our Chairman of the Board of Directors and Founder, Bobby G. Stevenson, beneficially owns approximately 11% of our common stock. As a result, Mr. Stevenson has the ability to significantly influence the outcome of matters requiring a shareholder vote, including the election of the board of directors, amendments to our organizational documents, or approval of any merger, sale of assets or other major corporate transaction. The interests of Mr. Stevenson may differ from the interests of our other shareholders, and Mr. Stevenson may be able to delay or prevent us from entering into transactions that would result in a change in control, including transactions in which our shareholders might otherwise receive a premium over the then-current market price for their shares.

Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

We are exposed to market risks related to changes in foreign currency exchange rates, interest rates and equity prices. We believe our exposure to market risks is immaterial. Our exposure to changes in foreign currency rates primarily relates to our net investment in our foreign subsidiaries and to working capital advances provided to certain foreign operations. During the year ended December 31, 2002, approximately 4% of our total revenue was attributable to foreign operations. CIBER does not enter into forward exchange contracts as a hedge against foreign currency exchange risk on transactions denominated in foreign currencies or for speculative or trading purposes. Our exposure to changes in interest rates arises primarily because our indebtedness under our bank line of credit has a variable interest rate. Our investments in marketable equity securities are subject to risk of changes in market prices.

Item 8. Financial Statements and Supplementary Data

Independent Auditors' Report

The Board of Directors and Shareholders
CIBER, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of CIBER, Inc. and subsidiaries as of December 31, 2002 and 2001, and the related consolidated statements of operations, shareholders' equity and cash flows for each of the years in the three-year period ended December 31, 2002. These consolidated financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of CIBER, Inc. and subsidiaries as of December 31, 2002 and 2001, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the years in the three-year period ended December 31, 2002, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

As discussed in note 2 to the consolidated financial statements, the company changed its method of accounting for intangible assets in 2002 and for business combinations in 2001.

CIBER, Inc. and Subsidiaries
Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements
(Dollar amounts in thousands, except per share amounts)

(1) Description of Operations

CIBER, Inc. and its subsidiaries provide information technology ("IT") system integration consulting and other IT services. We also resell certain third-party IT hardware and software products. Our services are offered on a project or strategic staffing basis, in both custom and enterprise resource planning (ERP) package environments, and across all technology platforms, operating systems and infrastructures. Our clients consist primarily of Fortune 500 and middle market companies across most major industries and governmental agencies. We operate from branch offices across the United States, plus offices in Canada and Europe. Our foreign operations accounted for 4% of our total revenues in 2002.

(2) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The following is a description of our more significant accounting policies. The accounting policies and estimates we believe are most critical to the Company's financial condition and operating results pertain to revenue recognition (including estimates of costs to complete engagements); valuation of accounts receivable; valuation of goodwill and other intangible assets; and estimates of effective tax rates.

Edgar Filing: CIBER INC - Form DEF 14A

(a) Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of CIBER, Inc. and all of its majority-owned subsidiaries. All material intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated.

(b) Estimates

The preparation of these financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent liabilities and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses. These estimates and assumptions included, but are not limited to, estimates of revenue earned but not yet billed, costs to complete fixed-price projects, the collectibility of accounts receivable, the valuation of goodwill and other intangible assets, certain accrued liabilities and other reserves, income taxes, and others. We base our estimates on historical experience and on various other assumptions that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(c) Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents is considered to include bank demand and time deposits, money market funds, and other highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less when purchased.

(d) Investments in Marketable Securities

Investments in marketable equity securities are classified as available-for-sale and are recorded at fair market value, which is determined based on quoted market prices. The net unrealized gain or loss, net of tax, is included in accumulated other comprehensive income in equity. Realized gains and losses and declines in market value determined to be other than temporary are included in other income. Realized gains and losses are based on average cost. Except for our investment in ECsoft Group plc, investments in marketable securities are included in prepaid expenses and other current assets. At December 31, 2002, we owned approximately 10% of ECsoft's outstanding stock, which was acquired in the open market. In January 2003, we acquired the remaining 90% ownership of ECsoft (see Note 20).

(e) Agilera Investment

In 2000, our wholly owned subsidiary, Agilera, Inc., sold convertible preferred stock to new investors. In connection with the preferred stock sale, Agilera paid us $9.9 million in repayment of our advances to Agilera as of December 31, 1999, reducing our historical cost basis in our remaining ownership in Agilera to zero. As our voting interest in Agilera was reduced to 41%, effective January 1, 2000, for financial reporting purposes, we no longer consolidate Agilera and we account for our investment in Agilera using the equity method of accounting. Under the equity method, since the basis of our investment in Agilera was zero and Agilera incurred losses, we did not record our proportionate share of Agilera's net losses. In January 2001, our voting interest in Agilera was reduced to less than 20%, and as a result, we subsequently account for our investment in Agilera at cost, which is zero. We have recorded revenue from sales to Agilera totaling $584; $3,952 and $5,986 in 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively.

(f) Property and Equipment

Property and equipment, which consists of computer equipment, and software, furniture and leasehold improvements, is stated at cost. Depreciation is computed using straight-line and accelerated methods over the estimated useful lives, ranging primarily from three to seven years. Direct costs of time and material incurred for the development of software for internal use are capitalized as property and equipment.

(g) Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets

Goodwill represents the cost of acquired businesses in excess of the fair value of the net assets acquired. Other intangible assets from business combinations consist of customer relationships and non-compete agreements and are amortized over periods of up to 5 years.

Effective July 1, 2001, we adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 141, "Business Combinations." SFAS 141 specifies the criteria for recording intangible assets separate from goodwill. Under SFAS No. 142, "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets" goodwill is no longer amortized, but instead is reviewed annually for impairment. The non-amortization of goodwill became effective for business combinations after June 30, 2001. With respect to goodwill acquired prior to July 1, 2001, we have adopted SFAS 142 effective January 1, 2002. Other intangible assets with finite lives continue to be amortized over their estimated useful lives.

Goodwill is allocated to reporting units and tested for impairment at the reporting unit level. The goodwill impairment test has two steps. The first step, identifies potential impairment by comparing the fair value of the reporting unit with its book value, including goodwill. If the fair value of the reporting unit exceeds its carrying amount, goodwill is not impaired. If the carrying value exceeds fair value, the second step calculates the impairment by comparing the implied fair value of goodwill with the carrying amount.

(h) Revenue Recognition

We primarily provide consulting services under time-and-material or fixed-price contracts. The majority of our service revenues are recognized under time-and-material contracts as hours and costs are incurred. Revenues include reimbursable expenses separately billed to clients. For fixed-price contracts, revenue is recognized on the basis of the estimated percentage of completion based on costs incurred relative to total estimated costs. The cumulative impact of any revisions in estimated revenues and costs are recognized in the period in which the facts that give rise to the revision become known. Losses, if any, on fixed-price contracts are recognized when the loss is determined. Under certain national IT services contracts we are required by our client to act as a billing agent for other service providers to such client. We recognize the net fee under these arrangements as revenue.

Other revenues include resale of third-party IT hardware and software products as well as commissions on sales of IT products. Revenues related to the sale of computer products are recognized when the products are shipped or, if applicable, when installed. Where we are the remarketer of certain computer products, commission revenue is recognized when the products are drop-shipped from the vendor to the customer. Our commission revenue represents the sales price to the customer less the cost paid to the vendor.

Unbilled accounts receivable represent amounts recognized as revenue based on services performed in advance of billings in accordance with contract terms. Under our typical time and materials billing arrangement, we bill our customers on a regularly scheduled basis, such as biweekly or monthly. At the end of each accounting period we accrued revenue for services performed since the last billing cycle. These unbilled amounts are actually billed the following month. Costs and estimated earnings in excess of billings arise when percentage of completion accounting is used. Such amounts are billed at specific dates or at contract completion.

(i) Income Taxes

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases, and to operating loss carryforwards. Deferred tax amounts are based on enacted tax rates expected to be in effect during the year in which the differences reverse. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities due to a change in tax rates is recognized in income tax expense in the period that includes the enactment date. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as current and non-current amounts based on the financial statement classification of the related asset and liability. A valuation allowance is provided when it is more likely than not that a deferred tax asset will not be realized. Interim-period tax expense is recorded based upon our best estimate of the effective tax rate expected to be applicable for the full fiscal year.

(j) Stock-based Compensation

As permitted by Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123 ("SFAS 123"), we account for stock-based employee compensation in accordance with the provisions of Accounting Principles Board Opinion 25, and related interpretations, including FASB Interpretation No. 44, "Accounting for Certain Transactions Involving Stock Compensation (an Interpretation of APB Opinion No. 25)". We measure stock-based compensation cost as the excess, if any, of the quoted market price of CIBER common stock (or the estimated fair value of subsidiary stock) at the grant date over the amount the employee must pay for the stock. We generally grant stock options at fair value at the date of grant.

For all our stock-based plans, we have recorded compensation expenses of $146, $748 and $189 in 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively. No compensation expense has been recorded for stock options. The following table illustrates the effect on net income (loss) and earnings (loss) per share had we determined compensation cost for our stock-based compensation plans based on the fair value approach of SFAS 123.

	Years ended December 31,
	2002	2001	2000

	Pro forma	$ 0.12	$ (.08)	$ (1.40)

The effect of applying SFAS 123 in this pro forma disclosure may not be indicative of the effect on pro forma net income for future years because variables such as the number of options granted, exercises and stock price volatility included in these disclosures may not be indicative of future activity.

The weighted average fair values of CIBER, Inc. options granted in 2002, 2001 and 2000 were $4.20; $3.64 and $6.41, respectively.

The fair value of options at the date of grant was estimated using the Black-Scholes option pricing model with the following weighted-average assumptions:

	Years ended December 31,
	2002	2001	2000
Expected life	5 years	5 years	5 years
Risk free interest rate	3.75%	4.50%	6.00%
Expected volatility	80%	75%	80%

(k) Comprehensive income (loss)

Comprehensive income (loss) includes changes in the balances of items that are reported directly as separate components of shareholders' equity. Comprehensive income (loss) includes net income (loss) plus changes in the net unrealized gain/loss on investments, net of taxes and changes in cumulative foreign currency translation adjustment.

(l) Foreign Currency Translation

The assets and liabilities of our foreign operations are translated into U.S. dollars at current exchange rates and revenues and expenses are translated at average exchange rates for the period. The resulting cumulative translation adjustment is included in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) on the balance sheet. Foreign currency transaction gains and losses are included in the results of operations as incurred. Foreign currency gains and losses on short-term loans with our foreign subsidiaries are also included in the results of operations as incurred. We recorded a net foreign currency gain of $795 in 2002 while such amounts were insignificant in previous years.

(m) Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The fair value of our financial instruments approximates our carrying amounts due to the relatively short periods to maturity of the instruments and/or variable interest rates of the instruments, which approximate current market rates.

(n) Related party transaction

In 2002, we loaned $1,493 to our President pursuant to an unsecured, non-interest bearing, Revolving Promissory Note. In December 2002, this note was repaid in full with cash of $243 and 200,000 shares of CIBER common stock valued at $1,250.

(o) Reclassifications

Certain prior year amounts have been reclassified to conform to the current year presentation. Certain costs previously reported as selling, general and administrative expenses are now reported as costs of other revenues. We have reclassified $3,051 and $2995, in 2001 and 2000, respectively, which were previously reported as other charges, to selling general and administrative expenses. In addition, in 2002 we determined that $2,480 of other intangible assets resulting from our 2001 acquisitions of Metamor, ARIS and Century require recognition apart from goodwill and we have reclassified this amount as of December 31, 2001.

(3) Goodwill Impairment

During the quarter ended September 30, 2000, we recorded a goodwill impairment charge of $80.8 million to write-down the goodwill associated with certain acquisitions. These acquisitions included: Business Impact Systems, Inc. ("BIS"), Integration Software Consultants, Inc. ("ISC"), York & Associates, Inc., Interactive Papyrus, Inc. and Paragon Solutions, Inc. Of the total goodwill impairment charge, $58.6 million related to the Custom Solutions segment and $22.2 million related to our Package Solutions segment. These businesses were acquired in 1999 at a time when the value of IT services companies was much higher than at the time of the impairment charge. In addition, approximately 88% of the goodwill impairment charge related to businesses acquired for consideration paid 100% in our stock. Stock consideration typically involves a premium over cash consideration. These acquired operations experienced a decrease in the demand for their services as post Year 2000 IT spending of many companies decreased. In addition, in the spring of 2000, the IT services requirements of dot.com companies decreased significantly. This has led to greater competition within the IT services industry for the remaining business, and as a result, revenues, cash flows and expected future growth rates of these operations had decreased. Due to the significance of the changes in business and market conditions, we performed an evaluation of the recoverability of the goodwill related to these operations. Because the estimated future undiscounted cash flows of these operations were less than the carrying value of the related goodwill, an impairment charge was required. The impairment charge represents the amount required to write-down this goodwill to our best estimate of these operations' future discounted cash flows.

Edgar Filing: CIBER INC - Form DEF 14A

(4) Acquisitions

We have acquired certain businesses, as set forth below, that we have accounted for using the purchase method of accounting for business combinations and accordingly, the accompanying consolidated financial statements include the results of operations of each acquired business since the date of acquisition.

Acquisition 2002

Decision Consultants, Inc. ("DCI") On April 30, 2002, we acquired substantially all of the assets and certain liabilities of Decision Consultants, Inc. ("DCI"). The results of DCI's operations have been included in our consolidated financial statements since that date. DCI, headquartered in Southfield, Michigan, provided information technology consulting services similar to our Custom Solutions division. The majority of DCI's revenues were from clients that were already CIBER clients and most of DCI's operations were in locations already served by CIBER. As a result, the primary asset acquired was the workforce that was in place, which is accounted for as part of goodwill. Like CIBER, DCI's consultants comprised an experienced technical workforce that we believe will help maintain and obtain business at both current and new clients. DCI also added depth to our executive and operation's management team. The acquisition allowed us to combine many of the DCI offices with existing CIBER offices to obtain economies of scale resulting in reduced overhead costs as a percentage of revenues. Also significant were the cost savings to be realized by combining redundant corporate back office functions. DCI added significantly to CIBER's existing consultant base at IBM, Ford and Verizon, among others. In addition, the acquisition gave us opportunities at some new strategic clients, however, such clients did not constitute a significant percentage of DCI's revenues.

The purchase consideration consisted of $40.4 million in cash (including transaction costs), 1,104,973 shares of CIBER common stock valued at $8.7 million and a $1.5 million unsecured promissory note. The value of the CIBER shares issued was based on the average closing price of the CIBER stock over the two-day period before and after, April 8, 2002, the date the acquisition was announced. The $1.5 million promissory note payable to DCI was paid in full in July 2002.

The components of the DCI purchase price allocation are as follows:

Cash consideration	$ 39,880
Note payable	1,500
Stock consideration	8,696
Transaction costs	472
Severance and other exit costs	7,409
	<hr style="border: 1px solid black;"/>
Total	$ 57,957
	<hr style="border: 1px solid black;"/>
Allocation of purchase price:
Net liability value acquired	$ (1,815)
Other intangible assets	1,298
Goodwill	58,474
	<hr style="border: 1px solid black;"/>
Total	$ 57,957
	<hr style="border: 1px solid black;"/>

The accrued exit costs are accounted for as additional costs of the acquisition and reflect our best estimates. Actual amounts may vary. Any excess reserve will reduce goodwill. All DCI goodwill has been assigned to our Custom Solutions segment. Substantially all of the DCI goodwill is expected to be deductible for income tax purposes. We recorded an accrued liability of $1,821 for severance of DCI personnel, all of which was paid in 2002. We recorded an accrued lease liability for DCI office lease exit costs of $4,753 for office locations that we will not use.

Edgar Filing: CIBER INC - Form DEF 14A

Information regarding accrued lease costs is included in Note 10. We also recorded an accrued liability of $835 for other exit costs, primarily office closure costs, of which $484 has been paid in 2002 resulting in a balance of $351 at December 31, 2002. As part of the DCI purchase allocation, we have assigned $1,298 to other intangible assets for the estimated fair value of customer relationships. Such amount was determined based on a cost-savings approach projected over estimated customer commitments at the time of the acquisition. The Financial Accounting Standards Board has issued additional guidance with respect to the recognition of customer relationship intangible assets acquired in business combination occurring after October 25, 2002. We will apply this guidance to our future acquisitions.

The following table summarizes the estimated fair values of the acquired assets and assumed liabilities of DCI at the date of acquisition:

Cash	$ 179
Accounts receivable	16,396
Property and equipment	524
Other assets	191
	<hr style="border: 1px solid black;"/>
Total assets acquired	17,290
	<hr style="border: 1px solid black;"/>
Notes payable	(11,739)
Accounts payable	(2,860)
Accrued compensation	(3,786)
Other liabilities	(720)
	<hr style="border: 1px solid black;"/>
Total liabilities assumed	(19,105)
	<hr style="border: 1px solid black;"/>
Net liabilities	$ (1,815)
	<hr style="border: 1px solid black;"/>

The following unaudited pro forma financial information presents combined results of CIBER and DCI as if the acquisition had occurred as of the beginning of the year presented, after including the impact of certain adjustments such as amortization of intangibles, interest expense and income taxes. The pro forma results are not necessarily indicative of either the results that would have occurred had CIBER and DCI constituted a single entity during such periods or of future results.

	Pro Forma Combined Years Ended December 31,
	2002	2001

In 2001, we completed the acquisitions of Metamor, Aris and Century as noted below. In 2002, we finalized the purchase accounting adjustments related to these acquisitions, which adjustments are reflected in the information below. Any increase or decrease in assets or liabilities was adjusted to goodwill. Additional information regarding accrued lease costs is included in Note 10. If any excess accrued lease liability is subsequently determined to exist, such amount will reduce goodwill.

Metamor Industry Solutions, Inc. ("Metamor") On October 15, 2001, CIBER, Inc. acquired Metamor Industry Solutions, Inc. and its subsidiary, Metamor Government Solutions, Inc. CIBER acquired all of the outstanding stock of Metamor Industry Solutions, Inc. from PSINet Consulting Solutions Holdings, Inc., a subsidiary of PSINet, Inc., for cash consideration of $36.6 million. We have recorded goodwill of $29.8 million, all of which is expected to be deductible for tax purposes. We recorded reserves of $3,458 for estimated office lease exit costs as additional costs of the acquisition. Metamor, based in Chicago, IL, provided IT consulting services similar to CIBER, including custom software development and IT staffing, primarily to governmental entities. Our primary reason for acquiring Metamor was to expand our services to federal, state and local governments.

Aris Corporation ("Aris") On September 18, 2001, we acquired the business and properties of Aris as the result of Aris' merger with and into CIBER. The consideration for the Aris stock consisted of $14.9 million in cash and 2,222,092 shares of CIBER common stock valued at $12.7 million. The value of the CIBER shares issued was based on the average closing price of CIBER stock over the two-day period before and after the revised terms of the acquisition were agreed to. We issued CIBER replacement stock options and warrants valued at $1.4 million. We have recorded $7.7 million of goodwill, all of which is not deductible for tax purposes. We recorded liabilities for severance and office/lease closure costs as additional costs of the acquisition. We recorded an accrued liability of $2,529 for severance of ARIS employees, of which $1,953 was paid in 2001 and $576 was paid in 2002. We recorded an accrued lease liability for ARIS office lease exit costs of $5,022. We also recorded an accrued liability of $476 for other exit costs, primarily office closure costs, of which $153 was paid in 2001 and $323 was paid in 2002. Aris, headquartered in Bellevue, WA, provided IT consulting services similar to CIBER, including enterprise systems implementation and front-end web development. Our primary reason for acquiring Aris was to expand our presence in Microsoft and Oracle technologies as well as to add to our geographic presence in Seattle and New Jersey and add a location in the United Kingdom.

Century Computer Consultants, Inc. ("Century") On August 31, 2001, we acquired Century for an aggregate purchase price of approximately $10.4 million, consisting of $2.9 million in cash and 1,134,644 shares of CIBER common stock valued at $7.5 million. The value of the CIBER shares issued was based on the closing stock price on August 30, 2001. We have recorded $6.5 million of goodwill, all of which is not deductible for tax purposes. Century, based in Overland Park, Kansas, provided IT services similar to CIBER. Our primary reasons for acquiring Century were to strengthen strategic client relationships in Kansas City and in the wireless industry, add leadership to our existing Kansas City operations and realize the cost efficiencies associated with the combined operation.

The following table summarizes the estimated fair value of assets acquired and liabilities assumed of Metamor, Aris and Century on the respective acquisition date:

	Metamor	Aris	Century
Cash	$ 1,061	$ 12,680	$ 1,609

Accounts payable and accrued liabilities	14,344	8,697	145
Net assets acquired	$ 9,395	$ 29,973	$ 3,766

The components of the purchase price allocation for Metamor, Aris and Century are as follows:

	Metamor	Aris	Century

Other acquisitions In 2001, we also acquired three other businesses for cash consideration of $4.8 million, for which we recorded goodwill of $4.3 million.

Edgar Filing: CIBER INC - Form DEF 14A

Acquisition 2000

In 2000, we paid $2.5 million for an acquisition that resulted in $2.5 million of goodwill.

(5) Earnings (Loss) Per Share

The computation of earnings (loss) per share basic and diluted is as follows (shares in thousands):

	Years ended December 31,
	2002	2001	2000
Numerator:
Net income (loss)	$ 14,178	$ 1,684	$ (66,775)
Denominator:
Basic weighted average shares outstanding	63,313	58,191	57,900
Dilutive effect of employee stock options	614	507	-
Dilutive effect of put option	62	-	-
Diluted weighted average shares outstanding	63,989	58,698	57,900
Earnings (loss) per share basic	$ 0.22	$ 0.03	$ (1.15)
Earnings (loss) per share diluted	$ 0.22	$ 0.03	$ (1.15)

Potentially dilutive securities are excluded from the computation of earnings per share in periods in which they have an antidilutive effect. Thus, earnings (loss) per share diluted is the same as earnings (loss) per share basic in any period if a net loss is reported. The dilutive common equivalent shares for the year ended December 31, 2000 would have been 876,000, had we reported net income. The number of antidilutive stock options (options whose exercise price is greater than the average CIBER stock price during the period) omitted from the computation of weighted average shares diluted was 3,518,000; 3,361,000 and 4,175,000 for 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively.

(6) Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable consist of the following:

	December 31,
	2002	2001
Billed accounts receivable	$ 95,462	$ 113,516
Unbilled scheduled billings	31,629	20,392

	133,429	140,045
Less allowance for doubtful accounts	(916)	(4,711)
	$ 132,513	$ 135,334

The activity in the allowance for doubtful accounts consist of the following:

Balance at beginning of period	Additions			Balance at end of period

Edgar Filing: CIBER INC - Form DEF 14A

	Additions

(11) Bank Line of Credit and Financing Agreement

Bank Line of Credit We have a reducing revolving line of credit agreement with Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. that expires September 30, 2004. In connection with acquisitions, the line of credit was amended in May 2002 and again in December 2002 to increase our maximum allowable borrowings. At December 31, 2002, the maximum amount available for borrowing was $75 million. The maximum available borrowing under the line of credit automatically reduces to $50 million on April 30, 2003 and further reduces to $47.5 million on September 30, 2003 and continues to reduce by $2.5 million on the last day of each subsequent calendar quarter. Borrowings bear interest based on the bank's prime rate and ranges from prime minus 0.20% to prime less 0.70%, depending on our ratio of indebtedness to earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization, and changes accordingly at the beginning of each quarter. On January 1, 2003, the bank's prime rate was 4.25% and our rate on borrowing was 3.55%. We are also required to pay a fee of 0.125% per annum on the unused portion of the line of credit. The line of credit is secured by substantially all of our assets. The line of credit agreement contains certain financial covenants including: maximum liabilities to tangible net worth, minimum fixed charge coverage ratio, maximum leverage ratio and a maximum coverage ratio. The terms of the credit agreement also contain, among other provisions, specific limitations on additional indebtedness, liens and merger activity and prohibit the payment of any dividends.

Wholesale Financing Agreement In connection with our operation as an authorized remarketer of certain computer hardware and other products, we have an Agreement for Wholesale Financing with IBM Credit Corporation. Outstanding amounts under this agreement, which totaled $5,379 and $5,310 at December 31, 2002 and 2001, respectively, are included in accounts payable. Our payment of individual amounts financed is due within normal trade credit payment terms, generally 45 days, and are without interest. Outstanding amounts under the Wholesale Financing Agreement are secured by substantially all of our assets.

Based on our evaluation of current and anticipated future taxable income, we believe sufficient taxable income will be generated to realize the deferred tax assets. In 2002, we realized a $401 tax benefit from the use of foreign net operating losses that was recorded as a reduction of goodwill. In 2002, our valuation allowance decreased due to the utilization of this foreign operating loss, but was offset but additional valuation allowances for other foreign losses.

At December 31, 2002 we have available tax loss carryforwards of approximately $6.6 million resulting from certain acquired companies and certain subsidiaries, which begin to expire in 2018. The valuation allowance at December 31, 2002, relates to certain foreign subsidiary net operating loss carryforwards.

Stock Repurchase ("Put") Option In connection with our acquisition of DCI on April 30, 2002, DCI's majority shareholder ("the shareholder") entered into an agreement to not sell a significant portion of the CIBER common stock received for a period of up to 90 days, the "Lockup Agreement." As an inducement for the shareholder to enter into the Lockup Agreement, CIBER granted the shareholder an option that under certain circumstances, they can require CIBER to repurchase up to 805,000 shares of CIBER common stock in November 2002 at $7.25 per share. In November 2002, we entered into an amended agreement with the shareholder to extend the option exercise period to May 2003. At December 31, 2002, the total cash redemption amount of $5,832 has been transferred from Shareholders' equity to temporary equity and is reflected on the line item "contingent redemption value of put option" on the balance sheet. The actual acquisition of any such shares would be accounted for as treasury stock.

Share Repurchase Program In 2002, we reached the maximum number of shares authorized by the Board of Directors under our previous share repurchase program that began in 1999. A total of 6,888,591 shares were repurchased under this program. The 70,370 warrants outstanding at December 31, 2002 are exercisable at prices from $15.63 to $58.24 per share, with an average exercise price of $20.83 per share, and expire at various times through October 2004.

Stock Purchase Rights On September 21, 1998, CIBER, Inc. paid a dividend of one preferred stock purchase right (a "Right") for each outstanding share of CIBER, Inc. common stock ("Common Stock"). A Right is also attached to all shares of Common Stock issued after the dividend date. Each Right entitles the registered holder to purchase one one-hundredth of a share of Series A Junior Preferred Stock, par value $0.01, at a purchase price of two hundred fifty dollars, subject to adjustment. The Rights become exercisable ten business days following a public announcement that a person or group has acquired, or has commenced or intends to commence a tender offer for 15% or more of our outstanding Common Stock. In the event the Rights become exercisable, each Right will entitle its holder, other than the Acquiring Person (as defined in the Rights Agreement), to that number of shares of our Common Stock having a market value of two times the exercise price of the Right. In the event the Rights become exercisable because of a merger or certain other business combination, each Right will entitle its holder to purchase common stock of the acquiring company having a market value of two times the exercise price of the Right. If the Rights are fully exercised, the shares issued would cause substantial dilution to the Acquiring Person or the Shareholders of the acquiring company. We can redeem the Rights in their entirety, prior to their becoming exercisable, at $0.001 per Right. The Rights expire on August 28, 2008, unless extended or earlier redeemed.

(20) Subsequent Event Acquisition of ECsoft

On January 23, 2003, CIBER, Inc. effectively acquired ECsoft Group plc as we declared "wholly unconditional" our offer to acquire all of the outstanding shares of ECsoft. Prior to the acquisition, ECsoft's shares were publicly traded on the London Stock Exchange. We acquired all of the approximately 10.0 million outstanding shares of ECsoft, not already owned by us, for cash consideration of 305 pence (approximately $4.94) per share or approximately $49.5 million in the aggregate. In addition, we had previously acquired approximately 1.1 million ECsoft shares in the open market at a cost of approximately $3.2 million bringing our total cost for all of ECsoft's shares to approximately $52.7 million, excluding transaction-related costs. ECsoft, which is incorporated under the laws of England and Wales, has approximately 450 consultants and operations in Denmark, the Netherlands, Norway, Sweden and the United Kingdom that provide information technology consulting services similar to CIBER.
