Barclays to acquire INDEXCHANGE from HypoVereinsbank

Barclays Bank PLC ("Barclays") announces that it has entered into an agreement with Bayerische Hypo-und Vereinsbank AG ("HVB") to acquire INDEXCHANGE Investment AG ("INDEXCHANGE") for a consideration of approximately EUR240 million.

The transaction is expected to close within 3 months, after receipt of appropriate regulatory approvals. Barclays will finance the transaction out of existing cash resources.

INDEXCHANGE is Germany's leading provider of exchange traded funds ("ETF") with assets under management of EUR15.2 billion as at 2nd November 2006. INDEXCHANGE will be combined with iShares, Barclays Global Investors' ("BGI") ETF business to create the leading provider of ETFs in Europe.

Bob Diamond, President of Barclays said: "The combined business will create a powerful force to accelerate the development of ETFs in Europe. It is our intention to continue to expand BGI's franchise across Europe and Asia and this is an important step in the evolution of our strategy."

Lee Kranefuss, Chief Executive Officer of iShares, said: "INDEXCHANGE has built a first-class ETF business and team. We are delighted to add the INDEXCHANGE employees, products and brand to our iShares business and look forward to working closely with HVB to distribute our enhanced product suite through its strong network."

Ronald Seilheimer, member of the Board of HVB responsible for Markets & Investment Banking, said: "Barclays is a great partner for INDEXCHANGE. INDEXCHANGE has developed into a strong ETF business since its formation in 2000. With its new owner Barclays, INDEXCHANGE enters a new era and will strongly benefit from Barclays global ETF expertise. The disposal of INDEXCHANGE represents a logical step in HVB's strategic focus on domestic corporate and retail banking and investment banking."

HVB will continue to provide a number of services to INDEXCHANGE including market making and custody.
