Barclays PLC

Barclays announces further Non-Core disposals

Barclays Bank PLC ("Barclays") has today agreed to sell its Retail Banking, Wealth and Investment Management businesses and part of its Corporate Banking business in Portugal which serves small and medium-sized enterprises (the "Portuguese Businesses") to Bankinter, S.A. ("Bankinter"). It has also agreed to sell its insurance business in Portugal to Bankinter Seguros de Vida, S.A. Seguros y Reaseguros ("Bankinter Vida"), which operates an insurance joint-venture with Mapfre, S.A.

Barclays will continue to operate Barclaycard, investment banking and multinational corporate banking in Portugal.

The financial impacts of this transaction on Barclays are dependent, among other things, on the profitability of the businesses and foreign exchange movements up to completion. The current estimate is that the transaction will result in a pro forma decrease in risk weighted assets of approximately £1.7bn on completion, along with a loss after tax of approximately £200m, part of which will be booked in Q3 2015. The transaction is expected to result in a small increase in Barclays CET1 Ratio, while tangible net asset value is expected to slightly decrease.

On completion, it is expected that approximately 1,000 Barclays banking and insurance employees, and 84 branches, will transfer to Bankinter and Bankinter Vida. Completion is subject to, among other things, regulatory approvals, and is expected to occur in Q1 2016.

John McFarlane, Barclays Chairman, said: "I am pleased to be announcing further reductions in Barclays Non-Core through the transactions announced today. We remain on track to rebalance Barclays as part of our strategy to deliver sustainable returns for our shareholders.

I want to take this opportunity to thank our Portuguese colleagues in the businesses we are selling for their hard work and professionalism which has built strong customer and client relationships over many years and has made these businesses so attractive to Bankinter and Bankinter Vida. We will continue to operate our Barclaycard, investment banking businesses and service our multinational corporate clients in Portugal. We believe these are areas where we continue to have a competitive advantage."

INFORMATION REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This document may contain forward-looking statements that are based on current expectations or beliefs, as well as assumptions about future events. Generally, the words "will", "may", "should", "continue", "believes", "expects", "intends", "anticipates", "plans" or similar expressions that are predictive or indicative of future events identify forward-looking statements. These statements are based on the current expectations of management and are naturally subject to risks, uncertainties and changes in circumstances. Undue reliance should not be placed on any such statements because, by their very nature, they are subject to known and unknown risks and uncertainties and can be affected by other factors, many of which are outside the control of Barclays and its Directors, that could cause actual results, and management's plans and objectives, to differ materially from those expressed or implied in the forward-looking statements. As such, forward-looking statements are no guarantee of future performance.

There are several factors which could cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied in forward-looking statements. Among the factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those described in the forward-looking statements are changes in the global, political, economic, business, competitive, market and regulatory environment, future exchange and interest rates, changes in tax rates and future business combinations or dispositions.

Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements which speak only as at the date of this document. Barclays does not undertake any obligation (except as required by requirements of the UK Listing Authority or any other legal or regulatory requirement) to revise or update any forward-looking statement contained in this document, regardless of whether that statement is affected as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

No statement in this document is intended as a profit forecast and no statement in this document should be interpreted to mean that the earnings per Share for the current or future years would necessarily match or exceed the historical published earnings per Share.
