Section 16(a) Beneficial Ownership Reporting Compliance

Section 16(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 requires Triad's executive officers and directors, and persons who own more than 10% of the outstanding common stock of the Company, to file reports of ownership and changes in ownership with the Securities and Exchange Commission and to provide Triad with copies of these reports. To the Company's knowledge, based solely on its review of the copies of such reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission and representations that no other reports were required, all Section 16(a) filing requirements applicable to all of its executive officers, directors and greater than 10% stockholders were complied with during fiscal year 2006, except that Mr. Moen reported late one sale of common stock pursuant to a pre-arranged stock sales plan put into place in accordance with Rule 10b5-1 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

Code of Conduct and Conflicts of Interest Policy

The Company has adopted a Code of Conduct that applies to the Board of Directors and all officers and employees of the Company and a supplemental Conflicts of Interest Policy that applies specifically to the Board of Directors and executive officers of the Company, including its chief executive officer, chief financial officer and controller (the Senior Financial Officers). The Company intends to disclose any amendment to, or waiver from, any of the provisions of the Code of Conduct or the Conflicts of Interest Policy applicable to the Board of Directors or any executive officer, including any Senior Financial Officer, on its website at www.triadhospitals.com. The Code of Conduct and the Conflicts of Interest Policy are available on the Company's website at www.triadhospitals.com, and a printed copy will be furnished to any stockholder upon request addressed to Corporate Secretary, Triad Hospitals, Inc., 5800 Tennyson Parkway, Plano, Texas 75024.

Audit Committee

The Company's Board of Directors has established a standing Audit Committee composed of three directors. The members of the Audit Committee are Mr. Hibbitt, Mr. Kesler and Dr. Reinhardt, with Mr. Kesler serving as Chair. The Board of Directors has determined that each of the members of the Audit Committee is independent within the meaning of the applicable rules of the New York Stock Exchange and Securities and Exchange Commission. The Board of Directors also has determined that each of these directors is financially literate, as interpreted by the Board of Directors in its business judgment, and that Mr. Kesler further qualifies as an audit committee financial expert as defined in the applicable rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Under the listing standards of the New York Stock Exchange, if a member of the Audit Committee simultaneously serves on the audit committee of more than three public companies, the Board of Directors must determine that such simultaneous service would not impair the ability of such member to serve effectively on the listed company's audit committee. During 2006, the Board of Directors determined that Mr. Kesler's service on the audit committee of more than three public companies did not impair his ability to serve effectively on Triad's Audit Committee. Mr. Kesler no longer serves on the audit committee of more than three public companies.

Executive Sessions and the Presiding Director

The Company's Corporate Governance Guidelines provide for private sessions of the non-management directors, without any officer of the Company present, at least twice each year. Consistent with the New York Stock Exchange's corporate governance standards, a non-management director is a director who is not an executive officer of the Company. The non-management directors generally meet after the adjournment of each regularly scheduled meeting of the Board of Directors. In addition to the private sessions of the non-management directors, the Corporate Governance Guidelines provide for executive sessions of only the independent directors in the event that the group of non-management directors includes directors who are not independent within the meaning of the applicable corporate governance standards of the New York Stock Exchange. The Board of Directors has selected Mr. Loeffler as the presiding director at such meetings.

Table of Contents

Communication with the Board of Directors

Stockholders and other interested parties may communicate directly with (i) any director, including the presiding director of the non-management directors, (ii) the non-management or independent directors (if different) as a group, (iii) the Board of Directors as a group, or (iv) any board committee by writing to Corporate Secretary, Triad Hospitals, Inc., 5800 Tennyson Parkway, Plano, Texas 75024. The Corporate Secretary will direct all correspondence that, in the opinion of the Corporate Secretary, deals with functions of the Board or committees thereof or that otherwise requires their attention, to each director and committee to whom it is addressed.

Item 11. Executive Compensation. Compensation Discussion and Analysis

Philosophy

Triad's executive compensation program is designed with the primary goal of attracting, motivating and retaining the best possible executive talent necessary to achieve our strategic business goals and maximize stockholder value. To accomplish this goal, it is our philosophy that compensation and benefits provided to our executives should reward annual performance and provide incentives based on measurable qualitative and quantitative performance objectives with a balanced focus on long-term strategic goals as well as short-term performance. The level and mix of compensation and benefits provided to each executive are determined by our Compensation Committee, which is guided by the following principles:

Compensation should reflect a pay-for-performance culture, with emphasis on incentive and equity-based compensation;

Compensation should align the interests of our employees with those of our stockholders;

Compensation should be based on individual performance and job responsibility;

Compensation should be competitive relative to our peers; and Compensation should be internally equitable.

Overall, our executive compensation program is intended to create a total compensation opportunity that is between the median and 75th percentile of our hospital industry and general industry peer groups, with the potential to earn higher than average pay in return for higher than expected Company performance. We believe that a total compensation program of this nature serves to attract and retain talented executives, while motivating them to focus on the long-term achievement of strategic business goals. Our executive compensation program is composed of base salary, annual cash incentives and equity-based compensation, as well as various post-employment compensation arrangements. Annual cash incentives reward achievement of our short-term financial and operational objectives based on qualitative and quantitative performance measures. Our long-term equity-based incentives are designed to promote the achievement of our long-term strategic goals by tying compensation to the long-term performance of our stock. Long-term incentives generally consist of equity grants of either stock options or restricted stock that vest over time to encourage retention and align the interests of our executives and our stockholders. We believe that in order to foster a pay-for-performance culture, incentive and equity-based compensation should be weighted more heavily than base salary, with more incentive compensation at risk as job responsibility within the Company increases.

In addition to the considerations discussed above, we believe that the individual performance of the executives in managing our Company, as well as their job responsibility, considered in light of general economic and specific company, industry and competitive conditions, should factor into their overall compensation. We also believe that our overall compensation levels must be competitive in the marketplace in order to retain talented leaders who are critical to our Company's success and motivate those leaders to achieve superior results.

Table of Contents

Other than our Chief Executive Officer, our executives, including the other named executive officers, are employed at-will and are not a party to any employment agreements with the Company. We have been successful in recruiting and retaining top executive talent without the use of employment agreements since our Company's inception in May 1999, based in part on our providing a competitive and rewarding executive compensation program. In light of our desire to ensure the continued service to our Company by our Chief Executive Officer, James D. Shelton, and, reciprocally, to provide him with the assurances of specific terms of employment, we believe that having an employment agreement with Mr. Shelton is in the best interest of our Company and our stockholders. See "Employment Agreement with James D. Shelton" on page 28 for a discussion of the terms of Company's employment agreement with Mr. Shelton.

Compensation decisions are complex and cannot be based on the same factors at all times. Our decisions are designed to promote our fundamental business objectives and strategy year-round. In this context, our executive compensation programs are evaluated on an ongoing basis to gauge their efficacy relative to the Company's performance and our compensation philosophy and objectives.

Setting Executive Compensation

Our Compensation Committee has sole responsibility for determining the compensation of our Chief Executive Officer and our other senior executives, including the named executive officers. The Compensation Committee is composed of three directors, each of whom is independent from management. The Compensation Committee operates pursuant to a charter adopted by the Board of Directors, which sets forth the Compensation Committee's purpose, its rules of operation and its duties, responsibilities and authority. A copy of the Amended and Restated Charter of our Compensation Committee is available on our website at www.triadhospitals.com.

Considerations in Setting Executive Compensation

Annual Review of Key Compensation Elements and Plan Design

It has been the practice of our Compensation Committee annually to conduct a rigorous review of three key elements of compensation, including base salary, annual bonus and long-term incentives, paid to our senior management, including the named executive officers, prior to determining their compensation levels and awards for the upcoming year. In preparing for its review, our Compensation Committee directs its independent compensation consultant to provide a comprehensive analysis of our executive compensation practices with respect to each of the three pay elements compared to the same compensation practices of appropriate market comparison peer groups. The establishment of market comparison groups appropriate for our Company is discussed further below under "Benchmarking of Compensation." Our Compensation Committee uses this analysis to make the following determinations:

the reasonableness of our executive compensation levels relative to our peers; and the appropriateness of our pay mix relative to our peers.

In addition to these elements of compensation, the annual review also includes key design elements of our annual incentive and long-term incentive programs, as well as executive perquisites. Incentive plan design elements that our Compensation Committee may consider include annual performance goals, incentive targets and minimum and maximum payout thresholds under our annual incentive plan, as well as type of equity award under our long-term incentive program, such as stock options or restricted stock. Our Compensation Committee considers executive perquisites on a case-by-case basis as necessary to remain competitive relative to our peer groups.

Recommendations of the Chief Executive Officer

At the beginning of the fiscal year, our Chief Executive Officer reviews the individual performance of certain members of senior management, including the other named executive officers. The Chief Executive Officer then makes recommendations to our Compensation Committee for consideration at its first quarterly meeting regarding the proposed salary level and equity grant for each of these executives for the fiscal year. The Chief Executive Officer's recommendations take into account the following factors:

the executives' current and prior salary levels and equity awards;

the executives' individual performance and contributions to the Company during the prior year;

any changes in the executives' individual responsibilities during the prior year; internal pay equity among executives having similar levels of responsibility; and the executive's salary and equity in comparison to that provided to similarly situated executives at peer group companies.

Comprehensive Tally Sheet of all Pay Elements

In making its compensation decisions for 2006 for each of our executive officers, including the named executive officers, our Compensation Committee reviewed a comprehensive tally sheet comparing the value of each executive's compensation for the prior fiscal year compared to the value of their proposed compensation for the new fiscal year, as recommended by the Chief Executive Officer. Each element of compensation paid to each executive officer for the prior fiscal year was included in the tally sheet and valued individually. The pay elements included on the tally sheet and considered by our Compensation Committee in setting 2006 compensation included the key elements of base salary, annual incentive compensation and long-term incentive compensation, as well as perquisites and retirement compensation.

Benchmarking of Compensation

In making compensation decisions, our Compensation Committee compares or benchmarks both total compensation, as well as individual elements of executive compensation, against those of two groups of peer companies—one group of publicly-traded for-profit hospital systems (referred to as the hospital industry peer group) and one group of similarly sized, non-healthcare, publicly-traded U.S. companies (referred to as the general industry peer group). We believe that benchmarking our pay practices against peer companies is important in maintaining our competitiveness in the marketplace. In addition, the compensation practices of our peers are one of the factors we consider in assessing the reasonableness of our executive compensation program.

The companies selected for inclusion in the peer groups were identified and recommended by our Compensation Committee's independent compensation consultant and approved by the Compensation Committee. The hospital industry peer group is composed of publicly reporting hospital companies against which we compete for top-level executive talent. The general industry peer group was established to broaden the comparison due to the relatively small sample of companies in the hospital industry peer group. Because the markets/sectors are different in the general industry peer group, this data was used as an additional reference point only. The metrics utilized in selecting the general industry peer group companies include revenue for the most recent full fiscal year and market capitalization.

The companies comprising the hospital industry peer group are as follows:

HCA	Community Health Systems
Tenet Healthcare	Health Management Associates
Universal Health Services	LifePoint Hospitals

The companies comprising the general industry peer group are as follows:

Mohawk Industries	Omnicare	United Stationers
Black and Decker	Beazer Homes USA	Stanley Works
Brunswick	Temple-Inland	ServiceMaster
Ball	Liz Claiborne	J.B. Hunt Transport Services
Ryder System	Ryland Group	Unitrin

Tax and Accounting Considerations

In general, Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code (the "Code") disallows a deduction to the Company for any compensation paid to its named executive officers in excess of $1 million during a calendar year, subject to an exception for compensation that qualifies as performance-based compensation. Our Compensation Committee has endeavored, to the extent it deems consistent with the best interests of our Company and its stockholders, to obtain maximum deductibility of compensation paid to executive officers. For example, awards of stock options under our Amended and Restated Long-Term Incentive Plan satisfy the requirements for performance-based compensation under Section 162(m). However, our Compensation Committee also recognizes the need to retain flexibility to make compensation decisions that may not meet Section 162(m) standards when necessary to enable the Company to meet its overall objectives, even if the Company may not deduct all of the compensation. Accordingly, our Compensation Committee has and may continue to award non-deductible compensation in appropriate circumstances, including restricted stock awards. During 2006, our Company paid certain compensation that was not tax-deductible due to the limitations of Section 162(m), but the effect on the Company's taxes was not material to the Company.

On January 1, 2006, we adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123 (revised 2004), "Share-Based Payment," or SFAS 123R. With the adoption of SFAS 123R, the accounting treatment for differing forms of equity awards is the same and, therefore, accounting treatment is not expected to have a material effect on the selection of forms of equity awards.

Setting Compensation Levels for Executives Other than the Chief Executive Officer

Our Compensation Committee generally considers executive compensation levels annually at its first quarterly meeting. Consistent with this practice, at its February 2006 meeting, our Compensation Committee considered the recommendations of the Chief Executive Officer, the Company's performance, the results of our independent compensation consultant's competitive market analysis, and the comprehensive tally sheet of each executive's total compensation for fiscal year 2005. Based on these considerations, our Compensation Committee made determinations on executive compensation levels for fiscal year 2006 for our senior management, including the named executive officers, other than the Chief Executive Officer whose compensation is discussed below. Specifically, our Compensation Committee (1) set base salaries for the new fiscal year; (2) certified our financial results under the 2005 Annual Incentive Plan and approved the related bonus payouts; (3) granted long-term equity-based awards to senior management and other eligible employees; and (4) approved and adopted the 2006 Annual Incentive Plan, including performance metrics and targets, for the new fiscal year.

Setting Compensation Levels for the Chief Executive Officer

Our Board of Directors conducted an annual performance evaluation of our Chief Executive Officer prior to our Compensation Committee setting his compensation for fiscal year 2006. Our Corporate Governance Guidelines specify that the evaluation should be based on objective criteria, including the financial performance of the Company during the prior fiscal year, accomplishment of the Company's long-term strategic objectives and other appropriate criteria. Our Chief Executive Officer is also evaluated by our Board of Directors on his individual contributions to the Company in the areas of leadership, strategic planning, financial management, patient/physician satisfaction and patient safety, ethics and integrity, human capital management, communications and board relations. The Compensation Committee has determined that the Company's financial performance, for the purpose of evaluating our Chief Executive Officer's performance and setting his compensation, should be assessed based on (1) total stockholder return relative to both our competitors and the S&P MidCap 400 and (2) earnings per share results relative to our competitors. According to our Corporate Governance Guidelines, the Chief Executive Officer must be present during the review and discussion of his performance evaluation by the Compensation Committee.

Our Compensation Committee meets in executive session without the presence of any management following the completion of the Chief Executive Officer's performance evaluation to deliberate and make determinations regarding the Chief Executive Officer's compensation. The Compensation Committee makes its decisions on all elements of compensation for our Chief Executive Officer without any input from management. In addition to its advisors' recommendations, our Compensation Committee considers the results of our Chief Executive Officer's performance evaluation, including the Company's financial performance, the results of the independent compensation consultant's competitive market analysis, a comprehensive tally sheet of the Chief Executive Officer's total compensation for the prior fiscal year, and any specific individual and Company achievements or strategic advancements during the prior fiscal year. In addition, with respect to any long-term incentive component of the Chief Executive Officer's compensation, the Compensation Committee considers the value of similar incentive awards to chief executive officers at comparable companies and awards given to the Company's Chief Executive Officer in past years.

In December 2006, our Compensation Committee approved a new employment agreement with our Chief Executive Officer that replaced his prior employment agreement. Through its independent consultant and legal advisors, our Compensation Committee began a review of the Chief Executive Officer's prior employment agreement in mid-2006. As a best practice, our Compensation Committee reviewed the prior employment agreement in light of new executive compensation disclosure rules that were recently adopted by the Securities and Exchange Commission, as well as recently adopted Section 409A of the Code. In addition, the Compensation Committee reviewed the terms of the prior employment agreement against standard market practices. As a result of this review, the Compensation Committee determined that implementation of a new employment agreement was advisable and in the best interests of our Company and our stockholders. The terms of the new employment agreement with our Chief Executive Officer are discussed more fully below under Employment Agreement With James D. Shelton on page 28.

Determining Other Elements of Executive Compensation

Periodically as it deems necessary, our Compensation Committee conducts a rigorous review of our total executive compensation program, including the three key pay elements discussed above as well as post-employment compensation arrangements and perquisites. Based on comparative market analyses through its independent compensation consultant, as well as advice of independent counsel and management recommendations, our Compensation Committee may make changes to our executive compensation program as it deems necessary and appropriate in light of our compensation philosophy. During 2005, our Compensation Committee adopted the Triad Hospitals, Inc. Deferred Compensation Plan and the Triad Hospitals, Inc. Supplemental Executive Retirement Plan. In addition, in 2006 our Compensation Committee (1) approved change in control severance agreements with each of the Company's executives and certain other key officers, (2) made corresponding changes to the Supplemental Executive Retirement Plan, and (3) made changes to our Annual Incentive Plan design. Each of these actions is discussed further below under Elements of Our Executive Compensation Program Retirement and Other Post-Employment Compensation, except with respect to the Annual Incentive Plan changes, which are discussed below under Elements of Our Executive Compensation Program Performance-Based Annual Incentive Compensation.

Independent Advisors

The Amended and Restated Charter of the Compensation Committee grants the Compensation Committee sole authority to retain or employ professional experts to assist in the discharge of its duties. Prior to January 2006, the Compensation Committee directed management to lead a search process involving several nationally recognized compensation consulting firms, some large and some boutique. Our Compensation Committee then selected and retained Mercer Human Resource Consulting (Mercer) from the two finalists presented by management to act as the Compensation Committee's independent compensation consultant. Mercer representatives attended all of our Compensation Committee's scheduled meetings held during 2006 primarily to report its analyses and conclusions with respect to various compensation matters and advise the Compensation Committee as needed. Mercer has provided consulting services for and on behalf of the Company only with respect to compensation matters that arose in direct connection with Mercer's engagements by our Compensation Committee.

The Compensation Committee also retained the law firm of Baker Botts L.L.P. to act as our Compensation Committee's independent legal counsel during 2006. Representatives from Baker Botts generally attend all meetings of our Compensation Committee in preparation for which the committee has requested legal representation or advice on specific executive compensation matters. During 2006, Baker Botts represented the Compensation Committee in connection with various matters including the proposed change in control severance arrangements, negotiations in connection with our Chief Executive Officer's new employment agreement, and proposed changes to the Compensation Committee's charter in connection with its annual review process.

Table of Contents

Elements of Our Executive Compensation Program

Consistent with our philosophy and objectives, the compensation program for our executives includes the following elements:

base salary;

performance-based annual incentive compensation;

long-term equity incentive compensation;

perquisites and other personal benefits;

retirement and other post-employment compensation; and other benefits generally available to all employees.

Base Salary

Our Company provides executives with base salary to compensate them for services rendered during the fiscal year. Base salaries are determined for each executive using competitive market data based on position and responsibility. In order to attract and retain talented executives, our Compensation Committee generally sets salary levels between the median and the 75th percentile of base salaries paid to executives in similar positions at peer group companies. We believe that base salary should be competitive to achieve this objective but less heavily weighted than incentive and equity-based forms of compensation in order to maintain a pay-for-performance culture. Salary levels are generally considered annually as part of our performance review process, as well as when appropriate in connection with a promotion or other change in job responsibility.

In setting base salaries for fiscal year 2006 for our named executive officers other than the Chief Executive Officer, our Compensation Committee reviewed the following:

individual experience and level of responsibility;

overall Company performance;

pay practices at peer companies;

recommendations of the Chief Executive Officer; and our overall annual budget for salaries.

In addition to these factors, our Compensation Committee considered the results of the annual performance evaluation of the Chief Executive Officer in setting the Chief Executive Officer's base salary for fiscal 2006. The amounts presented in the Salary column of the Fiscal 2006

Edgar Filing: TRIAD HOSPITALS INC - Form 10-K/A

Summary Compensation Table reflect 2005 base salaries that remained in effect from January 1, 2006 through February 26, 2006, and 2006 base salaries that were in effect from February 27, 2006 through December 31, 2006.

Performance-Based Annual Incentive Compensation

The Annual Incentive Plan provides for formula-based, pay-for-performance cash incentives designed to motivate and reward eligible employees, including the named executive officers, for achievement of objective, business performance criteria. To motivate and reward eligible employees, the Annual Incentive Plan makes a significant portion of the employee's cash compensation variable and dependent upon our Company's annual performance. Annual incentive award opportunities at our Company are designed to retain talented executives and focus their attention on key operational goals deemed important for the upcoming fiscal year and to support the Company's strategic goal for consistent growth by highlighting corporate and business unit earnings, as well as cash collections and other qualitative measures.

2006 Annual Incentive Plan

At the beginning of fiscal 2006, our Compensation Committee adopted the 2006 Annual Incentive Plan with certain significant design changes from the 2005 Annual Incentive Plan, including broadening the performance range and introducing qualitative performance metrics in addition to the quantitative performance metrics. The Compensation Committee determined that these changes were reasonable and appropriate based on an analysis of prevailing market practices for incentive plan design and in consideration of our compensation philosophy.

Table of Contents

Under the 2006 Annual Incentive Plan, incentive compensation for corporate participants, including the named executive officers, is payable only if the Company were to achieve at least 98% of its targeted earnings per share (EPS) for fiscal 2006. Incentive compensation under this plan is composed of (1) a base incentive, calculated using a predetermined percentage of the participant's salary and (2) a supplemental incentive, calculated using the amount by which the Company's actual EPS exceed the target EPS. Incentive awards are subject to decrease if specified system-wide quality and patient financial services performance goals are not met. In addition, our Compensation Committee is authorized under the terms of the 2006 Annual Incentive Plan to consider recommendations for adjustments to performance goals in order to avoid unwarranted penalties or unearned windfalls. The maximum amount payable to any corporate and division participant under the 2006 Annual Incentive Plan is 150% of the participant's base incentive amount, which would be paid if the Company's actual EPS for fiscal 2006 were to meet or exceed 107.5% of its target EPS.

At its first quarterly meeting during 2007, after the Company's 2006 financial performance was finalized, the Compensation Committee determined that actual EPS for fiscal 2006 fell short of the pre-established EPS performance range under the 2006 Annual Incentive Plan and, therefore, the Compensation Committee did not authorize the payment of any cash incentive compensation for any named executive officer for fiscal 2006.

Performance Goals

Our Company uses EPS as the primary performance measure under the Annual Incentive Plan, with certain qualitative goals as a second layer of performance measures. EPS goals are set at levels that are in line with guidance provided to the public investment community. EPS goals, as well as qualitative performance goals, are also set at levels that exceed the prior year actual performance levels; therefore, operational improvements must be achieved in order for targets to be met. For participants to attain minimum payments under the plan, financial targets can only be missed by 2%, while attainment of maximum payments under the plan requires that financial targets be exceeded by 7.5%.

Our Compensation Committee has approved the use of specific secondary qualitative measures under the Annual Incentive Plans. Because of an increased focus on quality measures under the Medicare program, the Compensation Committee approved the addition of a quality component under the 2006 Annual Incentive Plan. In addition, the Compensation Committee approved the addition of an upfront cash collections component under the 2006 Annual Incentive Plan in response to progressive increases in provision for doubtful accounts experienced by our Company, as well as the hospital industry as a whole. Provided that the EPS goal is met, incentive compensation earned under the 2006 Annual Incentive Plan, calculated as discussed above, is subject to a 5% scale-down if the quality goal is not met and a 5% scale-down if the upfront cash collections goal is not met. The Compensation Committee has delegated the authority to establish detailed quality and cash collection goals to management. The quality goal for 2006 was established to provide a significant stretch goal for the Company that, if achieved, would potentially rank us first in this respect among all publicly-traded healthcare companies for 2006. Similarly, cash collection targets for 2006 were established to exceed actual 2005 cash collection rates, taking into consideration each hospital's payor mix.

Incentive Targets

We believe that the amount of an executive's compensation at risk should vary proportionately with level of responsibility and ability to affect our Company's financial performance. Therefore, our Compensation Committee has established incentive targets under the Annual Incentive Plan, expressed as a percentage of a participant's base salary, that vary according to the participant's position and responsibility. The Compensation Committee also considers peer group data and internal equity among executives having similar levels of responsibility in determining appropriate incentive targets. Our Compensation Committee reviews incentive targets for each of the named executive officers each year as a factor of the potential payout under the Annual Incentive Plan for the relevant fiscal year. Incentive targets for our named executive officers for fiscal year 2006 are as follows:

William R. Huston	40
W. Stephen Love	40
Daniel J. Moen	50
Michael J. Parsons	50
James D. Shelton	75

Long-Term Equity Incentive Compensation

We believe that long-term equity-based compensation is an important component of compensation and an effective incentive for employees at varying levels of responsibility. In particular, we believe that equity-based compensation fosters stock ownership by our executives and other key employees, providing an incentive to focus their attention on managing the business of the Company from the perspective of an owner with an equity stake in the business. In addition, equity-based compensation that vests over time helps ensure that operating decisions are based on long-term results that benefit the business and, therefore, aligns management's interests with those of our stockholders. We also regard our equity-based programs as a key retention tool. To foster retention, restricted stock and stock options granted to our executives under our equity-based compensation plans are subject to forfeiture if the executive leaves the company prior to vesting, except in certain specific circumstances. In combination with base salary and annual cash incentive opportunities, annual equity awards granted to our executive officers, including the named executive officers, are designed to provide targeted total compensation between the median and the 75th percentile compared to our peers in return for superior company performance.

Long-Term Incentive Plan

Our Compensation Committee continually reviews our overall long-term incentive compensation structure in light of the shifting competitive environment and ongoing changes in accounting and tax requirements. Prior to 2006, stock options were used as the primary vehicle for equity awards, except with respect to a grant of restricted stock to the Chief Executive Officer in May 2005. Most of our hospital peers have been using restricted stock as a meaningful part of their overall long-term incentive programs. For 2006, the Compensation Committee decided, with input from its advisors, to provide grants of equity compensation in the form of restricted stock, instead of stock options, to our executives and other eligible employees. Compared with granting stock options, restricted stock awards utilize fewer shares under the plan at comparable cost to our Company with reduced dilution and lower stock award overhang. In addition, the use of restricted stock appropriately links management's interests to long-term performance of the Company and the creation of stockholder value, and enhances the retentive value of the Company's equity compensation awards.

Equity Grant Practices. To strengthen the link between pay and performance, long-term equity awards to our executive officers and other key employees are typically granted annually in conjunction with a review of each individual's performance during the prior fiscal year. Except for our Chief Executive Officer in certain circumstances, the annual equity grant date for all eligible employees is typically the date of our Compensation Committee's first quarterly meeting, usually held in early February. Though no stock options were granted during fiscal year 2006, stock options were granted in prior years at an exercise price equal to the closing market price of the Company's common stock on the trading day before the stock option grant date. The dates of our Compensation Committee's meetings are scheduled up to a year in advance, which provides assurance that grant timing is not influenced by stock price expectations that could potentially favor award recipients. Our Compensation Committee may defer its determination regarding an annual long-term equity award for the Chief Executive Officer until its next quarterly or annual meeting following completion of his individual performance review by the entire Board of Directors. Eligible newly hired and promoted employees are typically granted equity awards at the Compensation Committee's next quarterly meeting following the employee's commencement of employment or promotion.

Long-Term Equity Awards for 2006. For 2006, our Compensation Committee granted restricted stock awards to the Company's executive officers, including the named executive officers, and other eligible employees. Our Compensation Committee determined the number of restricted shares granted to the executive officers for 2006 based, in part, on the recommendations of the Chief Executive Officer and in consideration of the executive's level of responsibility, present and potential contributions to the success of the Company, prior year long-term equity grants, proposed base salary and annual incentive compensation for 2006, and competitive peer group data. The Compensation Committee considered the Chief Executive Officer's level of responsibility, present and potential contributions to the success of the Company, prior year long-term equity grants, proposed base salary, annual incentive compensation for 2006, competitive peer group data and results of the Chief Executive Officer's individual performance evaluation by the entire Board of Directors in determining the Chief Executive Officer's restricted stock award for 2006. Restricted stock awards granted to named executive officers and other employees during 2006 become vested over a four-year period at a rate of 25% per year, based on continued employment. All restricted stock awards granted to the Company's executive officers during 2006 were granted under the Company's Amended and Restated Long-Term Incentive Plan. The number of shares covered by the restricted stock awards granted to each of the named executive officers during 2006, as well as the full grant date fair value of the awards and other information, is set forth in the Fiscal 2006 Grants of Plan-Based Awards Table. In accordance with new rules adopted by the Securities and Exchange Commission, the values listed in the Stock Awards column of the Fiscal 2006 Summary Compensation Table include the compensation expense recognized during 2006 in accordance with FAS 123R for the restricted stock awards granted in 2006, rather than the full grant date fair value, as well as any compensation expense recognized during 2006 for any restricted stock awards granted prior to 2006.

Consistent with our overall compensation philosophy, we believe that the majority of long-term equity awards granted annually should extend below the named executive officer level to provide an incentive for other key executives and employees to focus on our Company's long-term strategic goals. Approximately 83% of the restricted stock granted during 2006 was granted to 266 other key executives and employees, with the remaining 17% being granted to our named executive officers.

Management Stock Purchase Plan

Our Company also maintains the Amended and Restated Management Stock Purchase Plan to allow eligible management employees, including the named executive officers, to elect to purchase restricted shares of our common stock through salary reductions of up to 25% percent of their base salary (as determined by our Compensation Committee), subject to vesting requirements. Under the terms of the plan, restricted shares are granted at a 25% discount from the six-month average market price of our common stock on the grant date. The restrictions lapse on the first day of the month prior to the third anniversary of the date of grant, and subject to certain exceptions, an employee would forfeit the value of the discount and any appreciation in the stock if employment were terminated during the vesting period. We believe that offering our stock at a discount with time-based vesting fosters stock ownership by our executives and other key employees and motivates them to focus on the long-term goals of the Company and, therefore, aligns management's interests with those of our stockholders. Information regarding restricted shares purchased during 2006 pursuant to the plan is set forth in the Fiscal 2006 Grants of Plan-Based Awards Table.

Perquisites and Other Personal Benefits

We limit the perquisites and other personal benefits that we make available to our executive officers that are not otherwise available to all of our employees. However, we believe that certain commonly provided executive perquisites and personal benefits are a necessary element of total compensation in order to maintain a competitive compensation program relative to our peers and to attract and retain key executive talent. Information regarding perquisites and other personal benefits provided to each of the named executive officers for 2006 is included in the All Other Compensation column of the Fiscal 2006 Summary Compensation Table.

Perquisites

As a general rule, our Compensation Committee has determined that our senior management, including the named executive officers, will be provided compensation for financial and tax planning services and investment counseling up to a specified amount, based on level of responsibility. We also reimburse our Chief Executive Officer's country club dues based on his use of the club for certain business purposes and allow for his reasonable use of our company aircraft for personal travel when it is not otherwise needed for business purposes. If an executive uses the company aircraft for business travel, we also permit the executive's family to accompany the executive on the aircraft at no additional cost to our Company.

Table of Contents

In accordance with the rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the value of perquisites provided to our named executive officers is calculated based on the incremental cost to our Company, which, in most cases, is the actual amount paid for the perquisite. The incremental cost relating to personal use of company aircraft is calculated as a product of (1) the percentage of total flight hours the aircraft was used by the executive for personal travel and (2) variable costs associated with use of the aircraft. Variable costs for purposes of this calculation include all costs associated with company aircraft, including any deadhead flights (one-way flights with no passengers), other than annual depreciation and insurance premiums, which the Company would incur regardless of the number of hours the aircraft was in use during the year. In determining incremental cost, the Company assumes that it does not incur any incremental cost in connection with a family member's use of the company aircraft while accompanying the executive.

Tax Gross-ups

We also pay for the tax liability relating to the value of certain perquisites provided to our executive officers. Specifically, we pay our executives an amount necessary to satisfy federal income taxes on certain personal travel expenses paid by our Company and any personal use of the company aircraft by the Chief Executive Officer.

Retirement and Other Post-Employment Compensation

As necessary, our Compensation Committee conducts a thorough evaluation of our retirement benefit practices based on consultations with its independent compensation consultant and reviews of our peer companies' practices. We believe that our retirement compensation is competitive relative to our peers and serves to attract and retain key executives and other employees. The retirement compensation available to our executives, including the named executive officers, is composed of a retirement savings plan, a deferred compensation plan, and a supplemental executive retirement plan. In addition to our retirement compensation, our Board of Directors approved change in control severance agreements between the Company and certain key officers, including the named executive officers, during 2006.

Retirement Savings Plan

Our Company offers retirement benefits to our employees through our tax-qualified Retirement Savings Plan. The retirement benefits under this plan for our executive officers are the same as those available for other eligible employees. The plan offers both a 401(k) component with an employer match and an annual retirement contribution. The 401(k) component of the plan allows participants to invest a percentage of their salary before taxes in the plan's investment choices, which amount is matched 50% by our Company up to the first 3% of pay. Highly compensated employees, including the named executive officers, may contribute a maximum of 13% of their pay pursuant to federal tax laws. During 2006, the 401(k) component of the plan did not pass certain employee discrimination testing and, therefore, a portion of the 2006 contributions by participating named executive officers was refunded during 2007. Each year, our Company also makes a retirement contribution to eligible participants, the amount of which is based on salary and years of service. The retirement contribution is made to eligible employees even if the employee is not a participant in the 401(k) component of the plan. Eligibility requirements for the annual retirement component are different from the requirements for the 401(k) component. All contributions under both components are held in a separate account for the benefit of the participant along with any investment gains or losses on those amounts. The contributions made by our Company to the named executive officers during fiscal 2006 under both components of the plan are included in the "All Other Compensation" column of the Fiscal 2006 Summary Compensation Table.

Nonqualified Deferred Compensation Plan

Our Board of Directors adopted the Triad Hospitals, Inc. Deferred Compensation Plan effective January 1, 2005. The Compensation Committee recommended adoption of this non-qualified plan to assist Triad with the challenges of recruiting, retaining, and adequately rewarding key executives. Many of the companies that compete with Triad for executive employees offer supplemental retirement benefits to their executives above and beyond standard 401(k) or qualified retirement plans under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA). The primary benefits of implementing this type of plan are: to assist Triad with retention and recruitment of key executives, maintain an overall competitive compensation plan, provide an additional reward for key profit makers, improve the stability of the executive staff, and provide benefits outside the framework of qualified plans under ERISA. See "Nonqualified Deferred Compensation" on page 24 for a description of the material terms of the plan. The 2006 annual contributions by the Company under the plan are included in total amount reported in the "All Other Compensation" column of the Fiscal 2006 Summary Compensation Table.

Table of Contents

Supplemental Executive Retirement Plan

Our Company's executives and other senior management, including the named executive officers, are eligible to participate in our SERP, which was adopted by our Board of Directors effective September 2005. Prior to that time, our Company did not have any pension plans or arrangements in place for our executive officers. The SERP is designed to encourage certain officers of the Company who are largely responsible for the long-term success and development of our Company to continue their employment with the Company. The SERP is also intended to attract and retain these officers and stimulate their efforts on behalf of our Company. In determining benefit levels under the SERP, our Compensation Committee considered the analysis and recommendations of its independent compensation consultant based on peer group data. Based on our philosophy to more heavily weight incentive and equity-based compensation, benefit levels provided under the SERP are conservative relative to our peer groups. During 2006, our Board of Directors approved certain changes to the SERP based on the recommendation of our Compensation Committee primarily to be consistent with the change in control severance agreements discussed below and to incorporate changes necessary to comply with Section 409A of the Internal Revenue Code. The amendments, which were effective as of December 15, 2006, include the following:

excluding amounts received solely under the change in control severance agreements or under similar employment agreement provisions from compensation for purposes of calculating SERP benefits; including the greater of actual incentive bonuses received and target incentive bonuses in compensation for purposes of calculating SERP benefits;

providing for the lump sum payment of retirement benefits under the SERP;

revising the definition of change in control and providing for immediate payment of benefits upon a change in control if permitted by Section 409A of the Internal Revenue Code and payment only after the participant has terminated employment with the Company and attained the age of 55 if not permitted by Section 409A of the Internal Revenue Code; and revising forfeiture after termination provisions to permit participants to provide services to competitors following a change in control without forfeiting their SERP benefits.

The material terms of the plan are described in the narrative accompanying the Fiscal 2006 Pension Benefits Table. In addition, the change in the value of the benefits payable under the SERP for each named executive officer from December 31, 2005 through December 31, 2006 is included in the "Change in Pension Value and Nonqualified Deferred Compensation Earnings" column of the Fiscal 2006 Summary Compensation Table.

Change in Control Severance Agreements

On December 15, 2006, our Board of Directors, upon recommendation of the Compensation Committee, approved Change in Control Severance Agreements ("CIC Agreements") between the Company and certain of its key officers, including each of the named executive officers other than the Chief Executive Officer. Prior to that time, our Company did not have any change in control or severance arrangements in place for our named executive officers, other than for our Chief Executive Officer pursuant to his employment agreement, and the general change in control and termination provisions contained in our equity-based award agreements. The Compensation Committee based its recommendation on an analysis of market practices, consultation with its independent advisors, the increasingly difficult environment in which to recruit and retain key executives, and the beneficial effect that such arrangements have in terms of retention and keeping executives focused on day-to-day operations. The Compensation Committee and our Board of Directors also carefully considered a detailed cost analysis setting forth the potential all-inclusive costs to the Company of implementing such arrangements, as well as advice from Mercer to the effect that such costs were well within market norms for similarly sized companies. In addition to the approval of the CIC Agreements, our Compensation Committee approved a new employment agreement with our Chief Executive Officer in December 2006, which was revised, in part, to be consistent with the CIC Agreements and in part to conform to prevailing market practices. The terms of the new employment agreement with the Chief Executive Officer are described more fully under "Employment Agreement With James D. Shelton" on page 28.

Table of Contents

The CIC Agreements provide for certain compensation and benefits in the event that two triggering events occur:

first, a change in control, and second, the actual or constructive termination of the relevant officer's employment during the one-year period following the change in control.

Based on consultations with its independent advisors and a review of market practices, the Compensation Committee concluded that a double trigger structure was appropriate because the Compensation Committee felt that only a change in control that was coupled with a resulting loss of employment should give rise to compensation and benefits under the CIC Agreements. The compensation and benefits that could become payable under the CIC Agreements are designed to compensate affected executives for the loss of their employment and to provide them with an interim source of income while new employment is sought. For officers holding the office of executive vice president, senior vice president or division president, the CIC Agreements provide for a lump sum cash severance amount equal to three times such officers' annualized base salary and target incentive bonus, and for the continuation of medical benefits for three years. For officers holding the office of vice president or division chief financial officer, the CIC Agreements provide for a lump sum cash severance amount equal to two times such officers' annualized base salary and target incentive bonus, and for the continuation of medical benefits for two years. These severance multiples and benefit continuation periods were recommended by the Compensation Committee and approved by the Board of Directors based on market comparable data from our peer companies and other companies and advice from Mercer. The CIC Agreements provide each covered executive with contractual protection against the imposition of so-called excess parachute taxes under Section 280G of the Code. This protection is afforded by means of a gross-up whereby the Company would be obligated to pay additional amounts to affected executives in order to effectively hold them harmless from the imposition of any excess parachute tax. The inclusion of this gross-up protection was recommended by the Compensation Committee and approved by the Board based on their desire to protect covered executives against the punitive effects of the excess parachute tax, based on market comparable data and advice from the Compensation Committee's independent advisors, and after considering a detailed analysis of the potential cost to the Company of providing such gross-up protection. The terms of the CIC Agreements, as well as estimated payments and benefits that would be provided to the named executive officers in each covered circumstance under the CIC Agreements, are described more fully below under Potential Payments Upon Termination or Change in Control on page 26.

Employee Stock Purchase Plan

Our Company maintains an Employee Stock Purchase Plan, a tax-qualified plan intended as an incentive and to encourage stock ownership by all eligible employees of our Company, including the named executive officers. In addition, the plan is designed to encourage eligible employees to remain in the employ of the Company by giving them an opportunity to be equity owners with an interest in the business and, therefore, aligning their interests with those of our stockholders. The benefits under the plan for the named executive officers are the same as those available for other eligible employees. Under the terms of the plan, participants may elect to purchase shares of our common stock through salary reductions between 1% and 10% of their base salary. Shares are granted at the end of each six-month period under the plan at a 15% discount from the market price of our common stock on either the first or last business day of the period, whichever is lower. Of the named executive officers, William R. Huston participated in the plan for 2006.

Other Benefits

Our Company's broad-based benefits, including our health and welfare benefits plan, are available to all executive officers, including the named executive officers, on the same terms as are applicable to all other employees.

Compensation Committee Report

The Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors of Triad Hospitals, Inc. has reviewed and discussed the foregoing Compensation Disclosure and Analysis with management of the Company. Based upon such review, discussions and other matters deemed relevant and appropriate by it, the Compensation Committee has recommended to the Board of Directors that the foregoing Compensation Discussion and Analysis be included in this Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2006.

Summary Compensation Table

Fiscal year 2006 compensation for each of the Chief Executive Officer, the Chief Financial Officer, and the three most highly compensated executive officers other than the Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Financial Officer who were serving as such on December 31, 2006 (the named executive officers) consisted of a base salary, a restricted stock award, and an increase in each of the named executive officer's pension value under the SERP, as well as other compensation, including certain perquisites and other personal benefits, tax reimbursements, and Company contributions to the Retirement Savings Plan and the Deferred Compensation Plan. Based on the compensation information presented in the table below, Salary accounted for approximately 35% of the total compensation of the named executive officers for fiscal year 2006 and non-equity incentive compensation accounted for 0% of the total compensation of the named executive officers for fiscal year 2006. With the exception of Mr. Shelton, the executive officers of the Company have not entered into employment contracts with the Company and are employed at will. See Employment Agreement With James D. Shelton on page 28 for a description of the terms of Mr. Shelton's employment agreement with the Company.

The table below sets forth the compensation of the named executive officers for fiscal year 2006.

- (1) The amounts reported in this column include any amount by which salary was reduced to purchase shares of restricted stock pursuant to the MSPP. Information regarding shares of restricted stock acquired under the MSPP during fiscal year 2006 is included in the Grants of Plan-Based Awards Table.
- (2) The amounts reported in this column reflect dollar amounts recognized for financial statement reporting purposes for fiscal year 2006 in accordance with FAS 123R for restricted stock awards granted under the LTIP during fiscal year 2006 and prior years and restricted stock acquired under the MSPP during fiscal year 2006 and prior years. Any assumptions used in the calculation of these amounts are included in footnote 12 to Triad's audited financial statements included in Triad's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2006, filed with the SEC on March 1, 2007. Information regarding restricted stock awards made during fiscal year 2006, including restricted stock acquired under the MSPP, is included in the Grants of Plan-Based Awards Table.
- (3) The amounts reported in this column reflect dollar amounts recognized for financial statement reporting purposes for fiscal year 2006 in accordance with FAS 123R for stock option awards granted under the LTIP prior to fiscal year 2006. The assumptions used in the calculation of these amounts are included in footnote 12 to Triad's audited financial statements included in Triad's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2006, filed with the SEC on March 1, 2007. Information regarding stock option awards made during fiscal year 2006 is included in the Grants of Plan-Based Awards Table.

- (4) The amounts reported in this column represent the aggregate change in the actuarial present value of accumulated pension benefits under the SERP during fiscal year 2006.

- (5) Details of the amounts reported in this column are as follows:

Table of ContentsFISCAL 2006 ALL OTHER COMPENSATION TABLE

Name	Perquisites and Other Personal Benefits ($ (a))	Tax Reimbursements ($)	Company Contributions to Retirement	Company Contributions to Deferred Compensation Plan	Total ($)
			Savings Plan ($)	Plan ($)

William R. Huston	(c)	2,423	14,300		16,723

- (a) In accordance with the rules of the SEC, perquisites and personal benefits are valued on the basis of the aggregate incremental cost to the Company and are not included for an individual if the total value of such perquisites and benefits is less than $10,000.
- (b) The amount reported for Mr. Shelton includes (i) $188,471 for personal use of company aircraft, (ii) $12,000 for tax planning and investment counseling and (iii) $4,350 in country club dues.
- (c) The incremental cost relating to personal use of the company aircraft is calculated as a product of (x) the percentage of total flight hours the aircraft was used by the named executive officer for personal travel and (y) variable costs associated with use of the aircraft. Variable costs for purposes of this calculation include all costs associated with the company aircraft, including costs associated with any deadhead flights (one-way flights with no passengers), other than annual depreciation and insurance premiums, which the Company would incur regardless of the number of hours the aircraft was in use during the year. In accordance with the rules of the SEC, the Company reports use of the company aircraft as a perquisite or other personal benefit only if it is not integrally and directly related to the performance of the named executive officer's duties. On certain occasions, immediate family members accompanied each of the named executive officers on the aircraft for trips that were integrally and directly related to the performance of the executive's duties. Because these immediate family members used unoccupied space on flights that were already scheduled for business purposes, the Company did not incur any incremental cost in connection with such use; therefore, the Perquisites and Other Personal Benefits column does not include any value related to the family members' use of the company aircraft.

Grants of Plan-Based Awards

The table below sets forth certain information relating to each plan-based award granted to each of the named executive officers during fiscal year 2006.

William R. Huston	2/8/2006		0	163,038	244,557	12,000(2)	489,000

- (1) This reflects amounts that could have been payable to the named executive officers based on the Company's achievement of the threshold, target and maximum earnings per share (EPS) under the 2006 Annual Incentive Plan. The payment of non-equity incentive compensation for fiscal year 2006 was conditioned upon the Company's achievement of at least 98% of its targeted EPS for fiscal year 2006, pursuant to the terms of the 2006 Annual Incentive Plan. The EPS target for fiscal year 2006 was $3.09 per share. Based on the determination that the Company did not achieve at least 98% of its targeted EPS for fiscal year 2006, the Company did not pay any non-equity incentive compensation to the named executive officers for fiscal year 2006. See Compensation Discussion and Analysis for a discussion of the 2006 Annual Incentive Plan.
- (2) This reflects restricted stock awards made pursuant to the LTIP. The restricted stock awards vest with respect to 25% of the shares covered thereby on the first, second, third and fourth anniversary dates following the date of grant, based on continued employment with the Company and subject to acceleration upon the occurrence of certain events such as a change in control (as defined in the LTIP) of the Company or termination of employment as a result of death or disability (as defined in the LTIP). The restricted stock awards are subject to restrictions on transfer and forfeiture prior to vesting. Dividends will be payable on the restricted shares subject to the awards if and to the extent paid on Triad common stock generally, regardless of whether or not the restrictions have lapsed.
- (3) This reflects restricted shares of Triad common stock purchased pursuant to the MSPP at a 25% discount from the six-month average market price of Triad common stock on the grant date. The restricted shares become fully vested based on continued employment with Triad on the first day of the month prior to the third anniversary of the date of grant, subject to acceleration upon the occurrence of certain events such as a change in control (as defined in the MSPP) of the Company or termination of employment as a result of death or disability (as defined in the MSPP). The value of the discount and any appreciation in the stock are subject to forfeiture if employment is terminated during the vesting period for any other reason. If and to the extent paid on Triad common stock generally, dividends on the restricted shares will be accumulated without interest during the restricted period based on continued employment with the Company and will become payable upon vesting. The consideration paid by Mr. Moen for the restricted shares purchased on June 30, 2006 and December 31, 2006 pursuant to the MSPP was $61,394 and $62,196, respectively.

(1) The option grants reported were fully vested as of December 31, 2006. Each of the options vested 25% annually on the first, second, third and fourth anniversary dates following the respective date of grant, as follows: the options having an exercise price of $17.07 were granted on May 23, 2000; the options having an exercise price of $30.00 were granted on April 27, 2001; the options having an exercise price of $27.88 were granted on December 6, 2001, and the options having an exercise price of $32.15 were granted on February 7, 2002.

(2) The option grant reported vests 25% annually, which vesting began on February 6, 2004. The options that remained unexercisable as of December 31, 2006 vested on February 6, 2007.

- (3) The option grant reported vests 25% annually, which vesting began on February 4, 2005. The options that remained unexercisable as of December 31, 2006 vested, or will vest, in equal parts on February 4, 2007 and February 4, 2008, subject to continued employment with the Company, and become 100% vested upon death, disability or a change in control of the Company.

Table of Contents

- (4) The option grant reported vests 25% annually, which vesting began on February 3, 2006. The options that remained unexercisable as of December 31, 2006 vested, or will vest, in equal parts on February 3, 2007, February 3, 2008 and February 3, 2009, subject to continued employment with the Company, and become 100% vested upon death, disability or a change in control of the Company.
- (5) The market value was calculated by multiplying the number of shares that had not vested as of December 31, 2006 by the closing market price of Triad common stock on December 29, 2006 of $41.83 per share.
- (6) The shares reported vest 33% annually beginning on May 24, 2007, subject to continued employment with the Company, and become 100% vested upon death, disability or a change in control of the Company.
- (7) The shares reported vest 25% annually, which vesting began on February 8, 2007, subject to continued employment with the Company, and become 100% vested upon death, disability or a change in control of the Company.

Option Exercises and Stock Vested

The table below sets forth certain information regarding exercises of stock options during fiscal year 2006 for each of the named executive officers. None of the named executive officers held any stock that vested during fiscal year 2006.

Pension Benefits

The table below summarizes, as of December 31, 2006, pension benefits to which the named executive officers are entitled pursuant to the SERP. The amount reflected in the Present Value of Accumulated Benefit column is calculated as 20% of the three-year final average compensation for each of the named executive officers for 2004 through 2006 multiplied by the quotient of years of past service divided by expected total service at normal retirement age. For determining present values, a 5.25% interest rate and the 1994 Group Annuity Reserving Mortality Table were utilized.

Table of ContentsFISCAL 2006 PENSION BENEFITS TABLE

Name	Plan Name	Number of Years of Credited Service (#)	Present Value of Accumulated Benefit ($)	Payments During Last Fiscal Year ($)
James D. Shelton	Triad Hospitals, Inc. Supplemental Executive Retirement Plan	12	2,726,261
W. Stephen Love	Triad Hospitals, Inc. Supplemental Executive Retirement Plan	8	680,216

William R. Huston	Triad Hospitals, Inc. Supplemental Executive Retirement Plan	12	520,396

Supplemental Executive Retirement Plan

Each of the named executive officers is eligible to participate in the SERP, which provides certain benefits upon retirement, death or disability. Generally, to be eligible for normal retirement benefits under the SERP, a participant must complete 12 continuous years of service, attain age 60 and be credited with at least 3 years of service after September 1, 2005, the date of adoption of the plan. Normal retirement benefits are computed as 20% of a participant's average annual compensation during the last three completed calendar years prior to the participant's termination of employment, except in the event of a change in control as discussed below. Compensation for purposes of the SERP includes (i) gross annual salary actually paid to a participant, including any deferrals, and (ii) the greater of the actual incentive bonus received, including any deferrals, and the target incentive bonus the participant is eligible to earn for the fiscal year and excludes amounts received solely under the change in control agreements or under similar employment agreement provisions. None of the named executive officers are eligible currently for early retirement under the SERP. Death benefits are available to the surviving spouse of any married participant who, at the time of his or her death, was employed by the Company or an affiliate and had completed 12 years of service following the participant's date of hire, had attained age 55 and had been credited with at least 3 years of service following September 1, 2005. Death benefits payable to a surviving spouse are equal to one-half of the benefit that would have been paid to the participant. Disability benefits are available to participants who attain age 55, have been credited with at least 3 years of service following September 1, 2005 and are subject to a total and permanent disability that has caused termination of employment. In the event of a disability, a participant is entitled to receive early retirement benefits. Upon a change in control, benefits (with no reductions in payment before age 60) fully vest and, if permitted by applicable regulations, become payable immediately in a lump sum. If not so permitted, change in control benefits become payable in a lump sum upon termination of employment and attainment of age 55. Average annual compensation in the event of a change in control is based on the last three completed calendar years prior to either the change in control or the termination of employment and attainment of age 55, based on when benefits become payable. Participants are permitted to provide services to competitors following a change in control without forfeiting their SERP benefits. A participant whose employment is terminated due to cause (as defined in the SERP) will not receive benefits under the SERP.

Nonqualified Deferred Compensation

- (2) The amounts reported represent contributions by the Company to the Triad Hospitals, Inc. Deferred Compensation Plan, which amounts are included in the Summary Compensation Table in the All Other Compensation column.
- (3) Represents the aggregate balance as of December 31, 2006, adjusted to include contributions by the Company earned in 2006, but not credited to the account of the applicable named executive officer until January 2007.

Deferred Compensation Plan

Each named executive officer is entitled to participate in the Triad Hospitals, Inc. Deferred Compensation Plan, a nonqualified and unfunded plan that provides deferred compensation benefits to select management and highly compensated employees of the Company. Under the plan, participants may defer the receipt of certain compensation that would otherwise be paid to them in the year in which it was earned. Participants may defer annually up to 75% of annual base salary and 100% of incentive payments. The Company matches annually 50% of a participant's annual deferral amount up to 3% of the participant's annual base salary and incentive payments for the plan year. In addition, the Company may contribute an annual discretionary amount to participants as of the last day of the plan year, which need not be the same amount for all participants. Participants are at all times 100% vested in the amounts deferred. Participants become vested in company matching amounts and any discretionary amounts pursuant to a vesting schedule, subject to acceleration upon retirement, disability or death, or in the event of a change in control, as discussed below. Compensation deferred by participants and any contributions by the Company are credited to a bookkeeping account that represents our unsecured obligation to repay the participant in the future. Participants elect to allocate deferred and Company contributions among one or more so-called measurement funds, which determine additional amounts to be credited or debited to the participants respective bookkeeping accounts. Participants may elect daily to change their measurement funds after the first day of the plan year. In connection with each election to defer annual base salary and incentive payment amounts under the plan, a participant may irrevocably elect to receive a short-term payout with respect to each plan year's annual base salary and/or incentive payments that have been deferred (and any amounts credited or debited to the participant's account) in a lump sum payment on the first day of any plan year designated by the participant that is at least 3 years after the plan year of the deferral. A participant who has elected to defer benefits until retirement will receive his or her entire account balance, payable as follows: deferral amounts may be paid in a lump sum or in yearly installments at the election of the participant; company matching amounts are payable solely as a lump sum payment; and if permitted under applicable regulations, company discretionary contributions are payable in the form of payment approved at the time such amounts are credited to the participant's account. If a participant dies while employed by the Company, his or her beneficiary will receive the participant's entire account balance in a lump sum on the date of death. If a participant dies after retirement but before the entire benefit has been paid in full, the benefit payments will continue to be paid to the participant's beneficiary in the same manner as would have been paid to the participant had the participant survived. Upon a termination of employment for any reason other than retirement, death, disability or an authorized leave of absence prior to retirement, the participant will receive the participant's vested account balance in a lump sum on the date of termination, subject to certain exceptions. If a participant is determined to be disabled and is otherwise eligible to retire, the participant will receive his or her entire account balance in the same manner as is payable upon retirement. If a participant is determined to be disabled but is not otherwise eligible to retire, the plan committee may, in its discretion, deem the participant to have experienced a termination of employment and the participant will receive his or her entire account balance in a lump sum payment at the time of the determination or as permitted by applicable regulation.

Potential Payments Upon Termination or Change in Control

The Company has entered into certain agreements and maintains certain plans that will require the Company to provide compensation and other benefits to named executive officers of the Company in the event of termination of employment or a change in control of the Company.

The following tables provide information as to the value of incremental payments and other benefits that would have been received by the named executive officer upon a termination of their employment with the Company in various situations or upon a change in control of the Company, assuming such termination/change in control had taken place on December 29, 2006 (the last business day of the Company's fiscal year). The value of the option and stock benefits set forth in these tables is based on the closing price of the Company's Common Stock of $41.83 on December 29, 2006, the last trading day of fiscal year 2006.

The amounts shown in the tables below do not include distributions of plan balances under the Company's Deferred Compensation Plan. Those amounts are shown in the Fiscal 2006 Nonqualified Deferred Compensation Table. In addition, the table does not include the value of accrued vacation that could be received by the executive officers.

- (8) Reflects a payment of all excise taxes imposed under Section 4999 of the Code and any income and excise taxes that are payable as a result of any reimbursements for Section 4999 excise taxes in accordance with the named executive officer's CIC Agreement. Each of the named executive officers is entitled to receive such benefit pursuant to his CIC Agreement (other than Mr. Shelton, who is not a party to a CIC Agreement); however, only Mr. Moen would receive such benefit in the event a change in control had taken place on December 29, 2006 due to the manner in which such calculations are made under the relevant tax rules.

Employment Agreement With James D. Shelton

On December 14, 2006, the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors approved a new employment agreement (the Agreement) between the Company and James D. Shelton, the Company's Chairman of the Board, President and Chief Executive Officer, effective as of December 15, 2006. The Agreement replaced Mr. Shelton's prior employment agreement with the Company dated as of September 1, 2003 (the Prior Agreement). The Agreement has a one-year term, subject to automatic renewal for additional one-year periods unless either party gives notice of non-renewal at least 90 days prior to the end of the term.

The Agreement provides for a minimum annual salary of $1,575,800, subject to review by the Compensation Committee at least annually for possible increase, as well as participation in all incentive compensation plans and programs (including the Annual Incentive Plan and the LTIP), savings and retirement plans and programs and welfare benefit plans and programs maintained by the Company and applicable generally to senior executives. The Agreement also provides for reasonable use by Mr. Shelton of the Company's aircraft for personal trips when such aircraft are not otherwise needed for business purposes and certain other benefits, including compensation for financial and tax planning expenses incurred by Mr. Shelton up to a maximum of $12,000 per year and reimbursement of country club dues.

In the event of termination of Mr. Shelton's employment as a result of disability, Mr. Shelton, or his beneficiaries, will be entitled to receive any deferred compensation provided by existing plans or arrangements, to the extent permitted by Section 409A of the Code, any other benefits provided by the Company's existing plans and programs and the continuation of medical benefits until Mr. Shelton attains the age of 65. In the event of termination of Mr. Shelton's employment as a result of his death, his beneficiaries will be entitled to receive any deferred compensation provided by existing plans or arrangements, to the extent permitted by Section 409A of the Code, any other benefits provided by the Company's existing plans and programs and the continuation of medical benefits for three years following the date of death.

In the event of termination of Mr. Shelton's employment (i) by the Company as a result of non-renewal of the term of the Agreement, (ii) by the Company on 30 days written notice, (iii) by Mr. Shelton at any time for Good Reason (as defined in the Agreement), (iv) by the Company for Cause (as defined in the Agreement) prior to a Change in Control (as defined in the Agreement) and Mr. Shelton reasonably demonstrates that such termination occurred at the request of a third party that has taken steps to effect a Change in Control or otherwise arose in connection with the anticipation of a Change in Control or (v) by Mr. Shelton within 18 months after a Change in Control, Mr. Shelton will be entitled to receive a lump sum payment equal to, in the case of termination pursuant to clauses (i), (ii), (iii) and (iv) above, three times Mr. Shelton's Aggregate Compensation for the calendar year preceding the calendar year in which the date of termination occurs or, in the case of termination pursuant to clause (v) above, three times Mr. Shelton's Change in Control Aggregate Compensation, and, in each case, any deferred compensation provided by existing plans or arrangements, to the extent permitted by Section 409A of the Code, any other benefits provided by the Company's existing plans and programs and the continuation of medical benefits for three years following the date of termination. Aggregate Compensation is defined in the Agreement as base salary and target incentive bonus. Change in Control Aggregate Compensation is defined in the Agreement as base salary and the higher of (A) the highest incentive bonus earned during any of the three calendar years prior to the calendar year in which the Change in Control occurs and (B) the target incentive bonus for the calendar year in which the Change in Control occurs. If Mr. Shelton's employment is terminated by the Company for Cause or by Mr. Shelton as a result of non-renewal of the term of the Agreement, Mr. Shelton will be entitled to any deferred compensation provided by existing plans or arrangements, to the extent permitted by Section 409A of the Code, any other benefits provided by the Company's existing plans and programs and health insurance benefits for Mr. Shelton and his family at his expense as provided by law. If Mr. Shelton's employment is terminated by the Company for Cause or by Mr. Shelton as a result of non-renewal of the term of the Agreement, Mr. Shelton's equity-based compensation awards will be exercisable and subject to vesting as provided in the Company's 1999 Long Term Incentive Plan, as amended, and the applicable agreements governing such awards. If Mr. Shelton's employment is terminated for any other reason, Mr. Shelton's equity-based compensation awards will be exercisable for two years following the date of termination, subject to applicable regulatory requirements or requirements of any stock exchange on which any of the Company's securities may be traded.

In addition, provided that Mr. Shelton provides 90 days of transition assistance following a Change in Control, he will be entitled to receive certain gross up payments to offset any excise tax imposed by Section 4999 of the Code on any payment or distribution by the Company to or for his benefit, including under any stock option, restricted stock or other agreement, plan or program. During the term of Mr. Shelton's employment and for three years following the date of termination of employment for any reason, Mr. Shelton may not, directly or indirectly, act as an executive, employee, consultant, agent or representative for any company that is engaged in any business conducted by the Company as of the date of termination in any geographic area in which the Company is then conducting such business.

Change in Control Severance Agreements

Each of our current executive officers (other than Mr. Shelton) is party to a CIC Agreement with Triad. The CIC Agreements provide for certain compensation and benefits that would be provided by the Company in the event a covered executive officer's employment is terminated during the one-year period following a change in control (which term includes the merger) either (i) by the Company other than as a result of the executive officer's death or disability or (ii) by the executive officer upon the occurrence of certain events including, among other things, (A) a failure to elect, reelect or maintain the executive officer in the office(s) held prior to the merger, (B) a material adverse change in the authorities, powers, functions, responsibilities or duties of the executive officer, (C) a reduction in the executive officer's base or incentive pay, (D) certain changes in the executive officer's principal location of work, or (E) a change in business circumstances which materially hinders the executive officer's performance of, or materially reduces, his responsibilities or duties.

Compensation and benefits payable under the CIC Agreements include a lump sum payment equal to the sum of (i) unpaid base pay, (ii) accrued but unused vacation and any unreimbursed business expenses, (iii) other compensation or benefits payable in accordance with the terms of Triad's existing plans and programs, (iv) a pro rata portion of the target incentive bonus applicable to the year of termination, and (v) three times the sum of base salary and the higher of (A) the highest incentive bonus earned during any of the three fiscal years prior to the fiscal year in which the change in control occurs and (B) the target incentive bonus for the fiscal year in which the change in control occurs. In addition, such executive officers will be entitled to the continuation of medical benefits for a three-year period following the date of termination and reimbursement of up to $25,000 for outplacement counseling and related benefits.

Covered executive officers will also be entitled to receive certain gross up payments to offset any excise tax, interest or penalties imposed pursuant to Section 4999 of the Code, on any payment or distribution by the Company to or for the benefit of the executive officers, including under any stock option, restricted stock or other agreement, plan or program, by reason of such payment or distribution being made in connection with a change in ownership or control of the Company.

Severance Policy

The Company maintains a broad-based severance policy that provides for certain compensatory arrangements in the event of termination of employment or a change in control of the Company. All employees of the Company, including the named executive officers, are covered by the Company's severance policy under which, in certain circumstances, an employee whose employment with the Company is involuntarily terminated may receive as a severance benefit up to 52 weeks of salary, payable in a lump sum.

Supplemental Executive Retirement Plan

See Pension Benefits on page 23 for a description of the potential payments upon termination or change in control that would be provided by the Company pursuant to the SERP.

Table of ContentsAmended and Restated Long-Term Incentive Plan

Upon the occurrence of a change in control of the Company all outstanding and unexercised stock options granted under the LTIP will become fully vested and exercisable and the transfer restrictions and forfeiture provisions on any restricted shares granted under such plan will immediately lapse and such shares will become fully vested pursuant to the applicable award agreement.

Management Stock Purchase Plan

Upon the occurrence of a change in control of the Company or termination of employment of the executive as a result of death or disability, as such terms are defined in the MSPP, all outstanding restricted shares become fully vested.

Compensation of Directors

Certain information concerning the compensation of directors for fiscal year 2006 is set forth in the table below, other than with respect to Messrs. Shelton and Parsons, who did not receive compensation for their service as a director and whose fiscal year 2006 compensation is included in the Fiscal 2006 Summary Compensation Table.

(5) Mr. Frist resigned from the Board of Directors, and any committees on which he was then serving, as of October 31, 2006.

Annual Retainer

Directors who are neither officers nor employees of the Company (outside directors) receive an annual retainer payable in cash for their membership on the Board of Directors. The annual retainer paid to each outside director during fiscal year 2006 for their service as a member of the Board of Directors from May 2006 through May 2007 was $60,000. In addition, each outside director serving as a committee chairperson received a $7,500 annual stipend payable in cash.

Outside directors have the option to elect to receive all or a portion (in 25% increments) of their annual retainer (excluding the annual stipend for the committee chairpersons) in deferred stock units that settle in an equal number of shares of Triad common stock at the earlier of the fifth anniversary of the date of grant or the end of the director's service on the Board of Directors, at the director's election, pursuant to the terms of the Outside Directors Plan. If such option is elected, the number of deferred stock units granted in payment of all or a portion of the annual retainer is calculated based on the closing price of a share of Triad common stock on the date of grant, which is the date of the Company's Annual Meeting of Stockholders.

Meeting Fees and Expenses

In addition to the annual retainer, outside directors receive a fee of $2,500 payable in cash for attendance at each Board meeting. Committee members also receive a fee of $1,500 payable in cash for attendance at each applicable committee meeting. Outside directors also are reimbursed for expenses incurred relating to attendance at meetings.

Special Committee Fees

The Board of Directors formed a special committee of disinterested directors in December 2006 for the purpose of evaluating a possible change in control transaction. The members of the special committee were Dr. Halverstadt and Messrs. Hibbitt, Kesler, Loeffler and Sayers, with Mr. Loeffler serving as the committee chairperson. Each member of the committee, other than Mr. Loeffler, received a one-time fee of $125,000 in January 2007 for his service on the committee. Mr. Loeffler received a one-time fee of $150,000 in January 2007.

Equity Compensation

The Company's Outside Directors Plan provides for a grant of options upon initially joining the Board of Directors in an amount determined by the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors' practice has been to grant initial options covering 20,000 shares of Triad common stock. In addition to the initial options, the plan provides for an annual grant of options to acquire a number of shares of Triad common stock determined by the Board of Directors. Under the terms of the plan, initial options and annual options become exercisable as to 25% of the shares covered thereby annually beginning on the first anniversary of the date of grant. All options granted under the plan have a maximum term of ten years, are exercisable at the fair market value of the Triad common stock on the date of the grant and become immediately exercisable upon a change of control of the Company. Beginning with the 2005 annual grant, in lieu of an annual stock option grant and as permitted by the Outside Directors Plan, the Board of Directors began granting restricted stock awards pursuant to the LTIP as its primary form of annual equity compensation for directors. The restricted stock awards vest in full on the first anniversary of the date of grant, based on continued employment with the Company and subject to acceleration upon the occurrence of certain events such as a change in control (as defined in the LTIP) of the Company or termination of employment as a result of death or disability (as defined in the LTIP). The restricted stock awards are subject to restrictions on transfer and forfeiture prior to vesting. Upon his resignation from the Board of Directors as of October 31, 2006, Mr. Frist forfeited any right to his 2006 restricted stock award of 2,700 shares, which were unvested on the date of his resignation. Dividends will be payable on the restricted shares subject to the awards if and to the extent paid on Triad common stock generally, regardless of whether or not the restrictions have lapsed.

Item 13. Certain Relationships and Related Transactions and Director Independence.
Certain Relationships and Related Transactions

The Board's Audit Committee is responsible for review, approval or ratification of related-person transactions between the Company (including any of its subsidiaries) and related persons. The Board of Directors has adopted a written Related Person Transaction Policy that applies to any transaction, arrangement or relationship (or any series of transactions, arrangements or relationships) in which the Company (including any of its subsidiaries) was, is or will be a participant and the amount involved exceeds $100,000, and in which any related person had, has or will have a direct or indirect interest. Under the policy, a related person is a director, executive officer, nominee for director, or any person known to be the beneficial owner of more than 5% of the Company's voting securities, and any of their immediate family members, as well as any entity in which any of such persons is employed or is a partner or principal or in which such person has a 5% or greater beneficial ownership interest. The Board of Directors has determined that, generally, the following transactions are exceptions under the policy and shall not be subject to Audit Committee review, approval or ratification:

a transaction involving compensation of directors (the Procedures for the review and approval of such transactions has been set forth in the charter of the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee of the Board of Directors);

a transaction involving compensation of an executive officer or involving an employment agreement, severance arrangement, change in control provision or agreement or special supplemental benefit of an executive officer (the procedures for the review and approval of such transactions have been set forth in the charter of the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors);

a transaction available to all employees generally or to all salaried employees generally; or a transaction in which the interest of the related person arises solely from the ownership of a class of the Company's equity securities and all holders of that class receive the same benefit on a pro rata basis.

The policy provides that the Audit Committee will review the material facts of all potential related-person transactions (other than the exceptions listed above) and either approve or disapprove the entry into the related-person transaction. If advance approval by the Audit Committee is not feasible, the Audit Committee will consider the transaction for ratification at its next regularly scheduled meeting. In any case where the Audit Committee determines not to ratify a related-person transaction that has been entered into without approval, the Audit Committee may consider additional action, in consultation with counsel, including, but not limited to, termination of the transaction on a prospective basis, rescission of such transaction or modification of the transaction in a manner that would permit it to be ratified by the Audit Committee. In determining whether to approve or ratify a related-person transaction, the members of the Audit Committee will take into account, among other factors it deems appropriate, the following:

the terms of the transaction and whether the terms are fair to the Company;

whether the terms are at least as favorable as those available to or from unrelated third parties;

whether there are demonstrable business reasons for the Company to enter into the related-person transaction;

the availability and costs of other sources for comparable products or services;

whether the related person transaction would impair the independence of a director in the event the related person is a director, an immediate family member of a director or an entity in which a director is a general partner, 5% or greater beneficial owner or executive officer; and the significance of the transaction to both the Company and the related person.

No related-person transactions have been presented to or reviewed by the Audit Committee since the beginning of fiscal year 2006, and the Company does not know of any currently proposed related-person transaction.

Director Independence

The rules of the New York Stock Exchange require the Company to have a majority of independent directors. In this regard, the Board of Directors has affirmatively determined that 10 of its 12 members, Ms. DeParle, Dr. Durand, Dr. Halverstadt, Mr. Hibbitt, Mr. Jhin, Mr. Kesler, Mr. Loeffler, Ms. Michel, Dr. Reinhardt and Mr. Sayers, have no material relationship with the Company and are independent directors under the applicable listing standards of the New York Stock Exchange. In addition, the Board of Directors had affirmatively determined prior to and until the date of his resignation from the Board of Directors as of October 31, 2006, that Thomas F. Frist III had no material relationship with the Company and was an independent director under the applicable listing standards of the New York Stock Exchange. The Board of Directors has adopted Categorical Standards of Director Independence to assist it in making determinations of director independence, and each of the directors meets these standards. In making its determinations, the Board of Directors takes into account information provided by the directors and the Company with regard to each director's business and personal activities as they may relate to the Company and its management. For purposes of this determination, references to the Company include any subsidiary of the Company. The Categorical Standards of Director Independence are available on the Company's website at www.triadhospitals.com, and a printed copy will be furnished to any stockholder upon request addressed to Corporate Secretary, Triad Hospitals, Inc., 5800 Tennyson Parkway, Plano, TX 75024.

Audit Committee Pre-Approval Policy

The Audit Committee Charter provides that the Audit Committee of the Company's Board of Directors has the responsibility to review and pre-approve the scope of, and related fees for, the annual audit by the Company's independent accounting firm, as well as any professional non-audit services to be provided to the Company. Either the Audit Committee or a designated member of the committee considers for pre-approval each proposed engagement and the related fees for audit and non-audit services to be provided by the Company's registered independent accounting firm, as well as any audit services to be provided by any other independent public accounting firms, considering the effect that such services could have on the firm's independence. The Audit Committee or a designated member of the committee also considers for pre-approval any fee overruns that may be anticipated after commencement of an engagement. Any decisions by a designated Audit Committee member to pre-approve non-audit services or anticipated fee overruns are presented to the Audit Committee at its next scheduled meeting. In accordance with its charter and these procedures, the Audit Committee pre-approved all of the services performed by Ernst & Young LLP for fiscal years 2006 and 2005, as described above under Audit and Non-Audit Fees.
