For a comprehensive discussion of potential risk factors, see Item 1A of the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2007. Some of these risks include increased competition, significant fuel costs, general economic conditions, labor costs and relations, our significant indebtedness, inability to meet cost reduction goals, terrorist attacks, seasonal fluctuations in our financial results, an aircraft accident, laws and regulations, and government fees and taxes. All of the forward-looking statements are qualified in their entirety by reference to the risk factors discussed therein. These risk factors may not be exhaustive. We operate in a continually changing business environment, and new risk factors emerge from time to time. Management cannot predict such new risk factors, nor can it assess the impact, if any, of such new risk factors on our business or events described in any forward-looking statements. ITEM 2.02 Results of Operations And Financial Condition

Alaska Air Group, Inc. today issued a press release reporting financial results for the first quarter ended March 31, 2008. The press release is filed as Exhibit 99.1.

ITEM 2.05 Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities and

ITEM 2.06 Material Impairments

On April 23, 2008, Air Group's Board of Directors approved a plan to exit Horizon's Bombardier CRJ-700 fleet earlier than originally anticipated. With the exit from the CRJ fleet (combined with the previously announced transition out of its Q200 turboprop fleet), Horizon will move to a single fleet type consisting of 48 or more Bombardier Q400 turboprop aircraft. This plan allows us to reduce annual operating costs by reducing the size of its fleet, leveraging the favorable economics of the Q400, and achieve the favorable economics and efficiencies of a single fleet type. Horizon's current fleet of 65 aircraft includes two (2) owned and 18 leased CRJ-700 aircraft. We expect the transition to be completed within two years.

As a result of this decision, we believe the carrying values of the two owned aircraft and certain spare parts are no longer recoverable when compared to the estimated remaining future cash flows, including proceeds from final sale. Consequently, during the second quarter of 2008, we expect to record a non-cash impairment charge to write these assets down to their estimated fair value. Although the actual amount has not yet been finalized, we expect the impairment charge to be between $10 million and $15 million, before tax. No portion of the impairment charge will result in future cash expenditures.

In addition, Horizon plans to remove all of the leased CRJ-700 aircraft from operations prior to the end of the contractual lease terms. We are currently evaluating various alternatives to dispose of these aircraft in the most economically feasible way.

The nature, timing or amount of any potential gain or loss associated with these transactions cannot be reasonably estimated at this time.
