SENIOR APPOINTMENTS

Prudential plc (Prudential) announces the appointment of John Foley to the new role of Group Investment Director. Currently Group Chief Risk Officer, John will be responsible in his new role for ensuring stronger Group oversight of financial investments. He takes up the new post with immediate effect and will remain on the Prudential Board, reporting to the Group Chief Executive, Tidjane Thiam.

John will be replaced as Group Chief Risk Officer by Pierre-Olivier Bouée, who is currently Managing Director CEO Office, Business Representative for Asia and a member of the Board of Prudential Corporation Asia. Pierre-Olivier joins the Group Executive Committee, reporting to the Chairman of the Group Risk Committee, Sir Howard Davies, and to the Group Chief Executive.

Sir Howard Davies, Chairman of the Group Risk Committee, said: These appointments underline the Board's commitment to effective risk management and to stronger oversight of our growing global investment portfolio. I look forward to working with Pierre-Olivier in his new role.

Tidjane Thiam, Group Chief Executive, Prudential plc, said: The growing size of the Group, coupled with the increase in global market volatility since the financial crisis, means that it is appropriate to create a new senior role of Group Investment Director to continue to strengthen Group oversight of our £405 billion of assets under management. I am pleased that John has agreed to take on this position. Pierre-Olivier brings to the role of Group Chief Risk Officer a deep understanding of Prudential and its business units as well as an outstanding record of strategic insight and project delivery in his previous roles.

John Foley said: I greatly look forward to my new role of Group Investment Director. The sustained outperformance of the investments we have made on behalf of our customers during the recent challenging market conditions has been one of the Group's great strengths. I will be looking to build on those strengths while continuing to ensure that our customers' money is invested prudently and without inappropriate risk.

Pierre-Olivier Bouée said: I am very pleased to be taking up the position of Group Chief Risk Officer. As a business, we are well positioned to manage the risks and meet the challenges of an uncertain environment, but there should never be any room for complacency. I look forward to continuing to work with the Board and my executive colleagues as we continue to pursue profitable growth within a balanced, prudent risk appetite.

Forward-Looking Statements

This document may contain forward-looking statements with respect to certain of Prudential's plans and its goals and expectations relating to its future financial condition, performance, results, strategy and objectives. Statements that are not historical facts, including statements about Prudential's beliefs and expectations, and including, without limitation, statements containing the words may, will, should, continue, aims, estimates, projects, believes, intends, expects, plans, seeks and anticipates, and words of similar meaning, are forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements are based on plans, estimates and projections as at the time they are made, and therefore undue reliance should not be placed on them. By their nature, all forward-looking statements involve risk and uncertainty. A number of important factors could cause Prudential's actual future financial condition or performance or other indicated results to differ materially from those indicated in any forward-looking statement. Such factors include, but are not limited to, future market conditions, including fluctuations in interest rates and exchange rates, and the potential for a sustained low-interest rate environment, and the performance of financial markets generally; the policies and actions of regulatory authorities, including, for example, new government initiatives related to the financial crisis and the effect of the European Union's Solvency II requirements on Prudential's capital maintenance requirements; the impact of designation as a globally systemically important insurer; the impact of competition, economic growth, inflation and deflation; experience in particular with regard to mortality and morbidity trends, lapse rates and policy renewal rates; the timing, impact and other uncertainties of future acquisitions or combinations within relevant industries; the impact of changes in capital, solvency standards, accounting standards, or relevant regulatory frameworks, and tax and other legislation and regulations in the jurisdictions in which Prudential and its affiliates operate; and the impact of legal actions and disputes. These and other important factors may for example result in changes to assumptions used for determining results of operations or re-estimations of reserves for future policy benefits. Further discussion of these and other important factors that could cause Prudential's actual future financial condition or performance or other indicated results to differ, possibly materially, from those anticipated in Prudential's forward-looking statements can be found under the Risk Factors heading in the Annual Report and the Risk Factors heading of Prudential's most recent annual report on Form 20-F filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, as well as under the Risk Factors heading of any subsequent Prudential Half Year Financial Report. Prudential's most recent Annual Report, Form 20-F and any subsequent Half Year Financial Report are/will be available on its website at www.prudential.co.uk.

Any forward-looking statements contained in this document speak only as of the date on which they are made. Prudential expressly disclaims any obligation to update the forward-looking statements contained in this document or any other forward-looking statements it may make, whether as a result of future events, new information or otherwise, except as required pursuant to the UK Prospectus Rules, the UK Listing Rules, the UK Disclosure and Transparency Rules, the Hong Kong Listing Rules, the SGX-ST listing rules or other applicable laws and regulations.
