Allied Capital Prices Public Offering of Common Stock

Washington, DC November 29, 2007 Allied Capital Corporation (NYSE: ALD) announced today that the Company has priced its public offering of 3,250,000 shares of common stock at an offering price of $24.75 per share for net proceeds, after the underwriting discount and estimated offering expenses, of $77.5 million. Allied Capital has granted the underwriters a 30-day option to purchase up to an additional 487,500 shares to cover over-allotments, if any. The offering is subject to customary closing conditions and is expected to close on December 4, 2007. The shares were issued from the Company's shelf registration statement on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The Company intends to use the net proceeds of the offering to reduce borrowings under its revolving line of credit, if any, to invest in debt or equity securities in primarily privately negotiated transactions, and for other general corporate purposes. Deutsche Bank Securities acted as the sole book-running manager for the offering.

This press release does not constitute an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to buy the securities in this offering, nor shall there be any sale of these securities in any state in which such an offer, solicitation or sale would be unlawful prior to registration or qualification under the securities laws of any such state.

Investors are advised to carefully consider the investment objectives, risks and charges and expenses of the Company before investing. The prospectus supplement, dated November 28, 2007, and prospectus, dated August 23, 2007, contains this and other information about Allied Capital Corporation and should be read carefully before investing.
